

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at <http://books.google.com/>

"Almighty and ever-living God, we yield unto Thee most high praise and hearty thanks for the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all Thy saints, who have been the choice vessels of Thy grace and the lights of the world in their several generations; most humbly beseeching Thee to give us grace so to follow the example of their steadfastness in Thy faith, and obedience to Thy holy commandments, that at the day of the general Resurrection, we, with all those who are of the mystical body of Thy Son, may be set on His right hand, and hear that His most joyful voice: Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. Grant this, O Father, for Thy Son Jesus Christ's sake, our only Mediator and Advocate. Amen."

The Thirty-fourth Annual Convention of the Diocese met on Wednesday, the 12th of November, in the Cathedral. I celebrated the Holy Communion and delivered the homiletic portion of my Annual Address. I was assisted in the celebration by the Archdeacons of Albany, Troy and the Susquehanna, and by the Rev. Dr. Griswold and Canon Fulcher. The routine business of the Convention occupied the afternoon session, and in the evening, at our Annual Missionary Meeting, the Bishop of New Mexico and Arizona, in a very strong and stirring address, brought the fresh air and stir of work outside of our own immediate boundaries into the discussion of our Diocesan work.

On Thursday, November 13th, at the early celebration, I ordered Priest the Rev. Frank William Kirwan, presented by the Archdeacon of the Susquehanna, who, with the Chancellor, Canon Fulcher and Mr. Marvin, joined in the laying on of hands. I celebrated the Holy Communion, and after a busy day, at which much satisfactory work was done, and much kindly sympathy and interest shown to me, the Convention adjourned at half-past three.

We have no need, I think, to review the action which, after earnest and intelligent debate, accepted the very temperate and judicious report of the Committee on the Change of Name. I cannot help hoping that the only suggestion which the Committee made as to immediate legislation may commend itself to the General Convention in October. It is quite plain from the actions of the various Conventions since ours, that the time is not ripe now at any rate for anything more.

In the afternoon, in St. Paul's Church, I made the closing address at the meeting of the Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, and later in the afternoon I was with the Board of Missions at their first meeting for the year.

On Tuesday, November 18th, in the Senate Chamber, I made one of the addresses at the State Charities Convention.

Saturday, November 29th, in the Cathedral, I confirmed one person for St. John's Church, Stockport.

Wednesday, December 3d, I confirmed in private two persons from the Cathedral; and in the afternoon, I blessed the restored building of Zion Church, Sandy Hill, with a sense of great satisfaction in the improvement of the Church, which was already very beautiful.

Thursday, December 4th, at the meeting of the Regents of the University, I was elected Chancellor of the University.

Tuesday, December 9th, I presided at a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society in New York.

Saturday, December 20th, in the Cathedral, I ordered Deacon Mr. Arthur M. Griffin, presented by the Rev. Dr. Griswold. I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion.

On Thursday, January 1st, I made the prayer at the inauguration of the Governor in the Senate Chamber of the Capitol.

Sunday, January 4th, I preached in St. George's Church, New York.

Wednesday, January 7th, I opened the first session of the Senate with prayer.

Thursday, January 8th, in the Cathedral, I consecrated the Rev. Sheldon Munson Griswold, Bishop-elect of the Missionary District of Salina, to the office of a Bishop in the Church of God. The Bishop of Long Island and the Coadjutor Bishop of Central New York were the presenters, and the Bishops of Western New York and Western Massachusetts assisted in the consecration. It was naturally a service full of very divided feeling. Speaking from my position as a diocesan Bishop, the sending away of a man who has been through his whole ministry both son and brother to me, was a very serious pain and loss; but speaking from the larger relation of a Bishop in the Church of God, I was thankful to welcome into the House of Bishops and to the Missionary force of the Church, a man so proved and tested by the many years of faithful and successful service with me.

On Sunday, January 11th, I preached in the morning in St. James' Church, Philadelphia; and, in the afternoon, baptized my dear great-granddaughter.

On Monday, January 12th, I presided at a sub-committee meeting of the Commission on Canons.

Tuesday, January 13th, in New York, I presided at a meeting of the Board of Managers.

Wednesday, January 14th, I was present at a meeting of Missionary Boards in the Bible House.

Thursday, January 15th, I was present at, and was elected Chairman of, the Committee of Conference with representatives from other churches as well as our own, on Marriage, which began its work with much unity of feeling and hopefulness.

Monday, January 26th, I took part in the burial service of the Rev. William Foster Bielby. The large representation, both of the clergy of the neighborhood and of the parishoners of the Church of the Messiah, bore well deserved witness to the great respect and affection which Mr. Bielby's faithful service there had won.

Thursday, January 29th, I was present at a meeting of the Trustees of the Peabody Fund in Washington.

Sunday, February 1st, in the Cathedral, in the afternoon, I preached a sermon to the Knights Templar, gathered in goodly numbers at a most interesting service.

Monday, February 2d, I kept the thirty-fourth anniversary of my consecration, many friends gathering, both old and new, with many tokens of affectionate remembrance. In the morning, in the Cathedral, I ordered Deacon Mr. John William Foster, presented by the Rev. Mr. Hatheway. In the afternoon, in the Guild House, I made an address to the Cathedral Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary.

Tuesday, February 10th, in New York, I presided at a meeting of the Board of Managers; and on Wednesday, at a meeting of the Commission on Provinces, at which, I am glad to say, the report of the committee was accepted without dissenting voice. And in the afternoon, I presided at a meeting of the Committee on the Canon of Marriage and Divorce.

Sunday, February 22d, in the most attractive little chapel at Jekyl Island, I baptized four children, and afterwards preached and celebrated the Holy Communion.

Wednesday, February 25th, being Ash Wednesday, I preached in the same church.

On Friday, March 6th, being the fiftieth anniversary of my ordination to the Diaconate, I celebrated the Holy Communion in the Oratory of the Sisters' House, two of those who were with me at the time of my ordination being present at the service. Many kindly tokens came by letter and telegram, among them a beautiful gift, which the clergy are familiar with, of a book containing most gracious words — "apples of gold in baskets of silver" they might well be called — from the clergy of the Diocese; prepared by the Rev. Mr. Marvin, and presented by the Rev. Dr. Battershall.

Tuesday, March 10th, I presided at a meeting of the Board of Managers; and in the evening, presided over the meeting of the committees on conference on the subject of marriage, or rather, of marriage after divorce.

On Monday, March 16th, in my library, I confirmed one person from St. Luke's Church, Mechanicville.

Sunday, March 22d, in the morning, in St. Andrew's Church, Albany, I preached.

Wednesday, March 25th, in the evening, in the Cathedral, I confirmed 67 persons and preached.

Sunday, March 29th, in the morning, in St. Peter's Church, Albany, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and confirmed 30 persons.

Monday, March 30th, in the evening, in All Saints, Hoosac, I preached and confirmed 16 persons, at a typically beautiful service, after which, an evening in the rector's study gave me new and deeper impressions of the increasing power of the work that is so well done there.

Tuesday, March 31st, in the evening, in Trinity Church, Albany, I confirmed 19 persons.

Thursday, April 2d, in the chapel of the Church Home in Troy, I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion.

Sunday, April 5th, in the afternoon, in St. George's Church, Schenectady, I preached and confirmed 30 persons, of whom 15 were presented by the rector of Christ Church.

Tuesday, April 7th, in the Church of the Holy Innocents, Albany, I preached and confirmed 17 persons.

Thursday, April 9th, in the evening, in Grace Church, Albany, I preached and confirmed 17 persons.

Sunday, April 12th, in the afternoon, in St. Paul's Church, Albany, I confirmed 24 persons and made an address.

Tuesday, April 14th, I presided at a meeting of the Board of Managers in New York.

Thursday, April 16th, I presided at a meeting of the Committee of the House on the subject of the recognition of the Polish Bishop Kozlowski. In the afternoon, I presided at a meeting of the Trustees of the General Theological Seminary, at which Dr. Robbins was elected Dean. I do not trust myself to speak of what this means to me. I am thankful to say that the Dean's going is perhaps an equal and mutual sorrow to both of us, but of course the great loss is mine. There seemed no question of his duty when the election was consummated, and there is of course no question but that this position, because it is a place of service to the whole church in one of its very highest functions, took precedence in the way of duty over even the important position of the Deanship of our Cathedral. He carries, I am sure, with him, not only from the Cathedral congregation, but from the Diocese which he has served in so many prominent and important ways, a loving God speed in his new work.

To my great disappointment, because of the entire loss of my voice, I had to give up the visitations which were arranged just at that time. I cannot be grateful enough to the Bishop of Michigan City who came providentially to my relief, and who since has done much acceptable and helpful service in the Diocese, very helpful to me and most grateful to the Parishes to which he went. Nor can I omit from this mention of my gratitude and of their most acceptable services the Bishops of Delaware, Salina, New York, and the Bishop Coadjutor of Central New York.

On Saturday, April 18th, in the afternoon, in the Church of the Memorial, Middleville, the Bishop of Michigan City acting for me confirmed 9 persons; and in the evening, at St. Augustine's Church, Ilion, 26 persons.

On Sunday, April 19th, in the morning, in Emmanuel Church,

Little Falls, he confirmed 24 persons; and in the evening, in St. Ann's Church, Amsterdam, 31 persons.

On Wednesday, April 22d, in the evening, in St. Paul's Church, Sidney, the Coadjutor Bishop of Central New York acting for me confirmed 12 persons.

Thursday, April 23d, in the St. Matthew's Church, Unadilla, he confirmed 12 persons; and in the evening, in St. Paul's Church, Franklin, 7 persons.

Friday, April 24th, in Christ Church, Deposit, he confirmed 16 persons.

Saturday, April 25th, in the evening, in Green Island, the Bishop of Michigan City confirmed 9 persons.

Sunday, April 26th, in the morning, in St. Paul's Church, Troy, he confirmed 29 persons; and in the afternoon, in the Church of the Holy Cross, he confirmed 22 persons.

Thursday, April 30th, in the Church of the Incarnation, New York, I married Heron Charles Goodhart and Marian Hopkinson-Smith.

Saturday, May 2d, in the Cathedral, I confirmed 3 persons from the Church of the Holy Cross in Troy.

Sunday, May 3d, in the afternoon, in Trinity Church, Lansingburg, I confirmed 21 persons, 8 of whom were presented from Grace Church, Waterford.

Thursday, May 7th, in St. John's Church, Cohoes, the Bishop of Michigan City being with me and preaching, I confirmed 24 persons, one of whom was presented from Christ Church, Schenectady.

Saturday, May 9th, in St. Peter's Church, I took part in the marriage service of George Crawford Clarke, Jr., and Gertrude Sard.

Sunday, May 10th, in St. John's Church, Troy, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and confirmed 12 persons. In the afternoon, in St. Barnabas' Church, I preached and confirmed 16 persons; and later, in Christ Church, I confirmed 7 persons.

Tuesday, May 12th, I presided at a meeting of the Board of Managers in New York.

Thursday, May 14th, I preached the sermon and celebrated the Holy Communion in St. Mary's Church, Burlington, in connection with the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the old church. It was a day of deep and tender memories, and of most gracious welcome from the few still remaining to whom I ministered in the earlier days. It was refreshing to find here still fresh and living, as the flowers which are always renewed upon my dear father's grave, the loving recollections of his ministry and of himself. I had the comfort of very gracious entertainment at the Rectory, of loving welcome from the Bishop and the people of the congregation, of the opportunity of standing outside the door of the dear old closed and deserted Riverside, of being at a generous luncheon in a room which has been added to the old parsonage in which the very first years of my life were spent, of a most cheering and satisfactory glimpse of the good work at St. Mary's Hall and of a sight of the dear old chapel of St. Barnabas, growing and flourishing under the ministrations of the Priest who is there now.

Sunday, May 17th, in the morning, in Bethesda Church, Saratoga, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and confirmed 45 persons; in the afternoon, in St. Luke's Church, Mechanicville, I preached and confirmed 18 persons.

Tuesday, May 19th, in the evening, in St. Paul's Church, Salem, I preached and confirmed 3 persons.

Wednesday, May 20th, in St. Luke's Church, Cambridge, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and confirmed 6 persons; in the evening, in St. Mark's Church, Hoosick Falls, I preached and confirmed 21 persons.

Friday, May 22d, in the morning, in St. John's Church, Johnstown, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion, and confirmed 12 persons, one of whom was presented from Zion Church, Fonda.

Sunday, May 24th, in the afternoon, in St. Luke's Church, Troy, I preached and confirmed 6 persons.

Monday, May 25th, in the afternoon, in Trinity Church, Sharon Springs, I preached and confirmed 8 persons; in the evening, in Christ Church, Cooperstown, I preached and confirmed 24 persons.

Tuesday, May 26th, in Cooperstown, I presided at the meeting of the Trustees of the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour. I find that both the convenience and safety of the work here have been greatly enlarged by the additional buildings which have been put here since my last visit. In the afternoon I blessed the new Rectory of St. Mary's Church, Springfield Centre, built in loving and filial memory of Mrs. Duncan Pell. And later in the afternoon, in the Church, I preached and confirmed 4 persons.

Wednesday, May 27th, in the afternoon, in St. James' Church, Oneonta, I preached and confirmed 37 persons. The Coadjutor Bishop of Central New York, on the same day, confirmed 2 deaf mutes presented by the Rev. Mr. Van Allen.

Sunday, May 31, in the evening, in the Church of the Ascension, Troy, I preached and confirmed 9 persons.

Monday, June 1st, in the Cathedral, I preached and confirmed 7 persons, two from St. Agnes School and 5 from the Church of the Messiah, Rensselaer.

Tuesday, June 2, in St. John's Church, East Line, the Bishop of Michigan City confirmed 13 persons. In the afternoon, in the Church of the Messiah, Glens Falls, he confirmed 14 persons; and in the evening, in St. James', Fort Edward, he confirmed 4 persons.

June 3d, in the Cathedral, I married James Pacificus Ord and Susan Vanderpoel. The Bishop of Michigan City confirmed, in St. James', Caldwell, 2 persons, and in St. Sacrament Church, Bolton, 16 persons.

June 4th, I gave the prizes, with the diplomas to the graduating class of St. Agnes, in the great school room, and afterward made an address and gave my benediction in the Cathedral. The Bishop of Michigan City confirmed, in the Church of the Cross, Ticonderoga, 26 persons; and in the evening, in Port Henry, 4 persons.

Friday, June 5th, I consecrated Trinity Church, Watervliet, the Rector reading the Instrument of Donation, the Rev. Mr. Prout, the Sentence of Consecration, the Rev. Mr. Abbott reading the Epistle, and the Archdeacon the Gospel. I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion. In the afternoon, in the Cathedral, I confirmed one person for St. Luke's Church, Troy, and presided at a meeting of the Chapter, at which the Rev. Henry Russell Talbot was unanimously elected to take charge of the pastoral work of the Cathedral. The Bishop of Michigan City consecrated St. Mary's Church, Willsborough, and confirmed 13 persons. I had been looking forward for a long while to the pleasure of this service and was greatly grieved to have to delegate it to another person. It is a great step in advance both for the mission itself and for the missionary work in the Diocese on its northern border.

Saturday, June 6th, in St. Peter's Church, Albany, I married Joseph Hodges Choate and Cora Lyman Oliver.

Sunday, June 7th, in the Cathedral, the Dean preaching the sermon, I ordered Priests the Rev. Lloyd Raeburn Benson and the Rev. William Henry Payne Hatch, presented by the Chancellor; and ordered Deacons Mr. Charles Lewis Gomph, Mr. Ernest Alfred Smith, Mr. James Robert Lacey, and Mr. Harry Landon Rice, presented by the Dean. The Bishop of Michigan City was present and read the Epistle. Canon Fulcher and Canon Hunt joined with the presenters in the laying on of hands.

On the 18th of June, the Bishop of Delaware acting for me consecrated St. Paul's Church, Fort Covington, and confirmed 3 persons.

Friday, June 19th, at Christ Church, Morristown, he confirmed 4 persons; and at St. John's Church, Ogdensburg, 21 persons.

Saturday, June 20th, in Trinity Church, Gouverneur, he confirmed 10 persons; and in Grace Church, Canton, 11 persons, and laid the cornerstone of the new church.

On Sunday, June 21st, in Zion Church, Colton, he confirmed 16 persons; and in the evening, in Trinity Church, Potsdam, 10 persons.

Monday, June 22d, in St. John's Church, Massena, he confirmed 29 persons.

Tuesday, June 23d, at Norwood, he confirmed 8 persons and received 2 from the Roman Communion; and in St. Thomas' Church, Lawrenceville, he confirmed 2 persons.

Monday, June 29th, I presided at a meeting of the University Convocation in the Senate Chamber of the Capitol in Albany.

On Sunday, July 12th, in Gloria Dei Church, Palenville, the Bishop of Michigan City acting for me confirmed 4 persons; and in Calvary Church, Cairo, 3 persons.

On Sunday, July 26th, in Zion Church, Sandy Hill, the Bishop of Salina acting for me confirmed 15 persons.

Monday, July 27th, in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Elizabethtown, he confirmed 4 persons.

Sunday, August 2d, in St. John's Church, Delhi, he confirmed 8 persons.

Sunday, August 2d, at St. Mary's Church, Springfield Centre, the Bishop of New York confirmed 3 persons.

Monday, August 3d, in Christ Church, Walton, he confirmed 8 persons.

Wednesday, August 5, in Christ Church, Greenville, he confirmed 4 persons.

Thursday, August 6th, in St. Paul's Church, Oak Hill, he confirmed 2 persons.

Friday, August 7th, in Christ Church, Hudson, he confirmed 1 person.

Sunday, August 16th, the Bishop of New York, acting for me, consecrated St. Hubert's Church, Newman, and confirmed 3 persons.

August 23d, the Bishop of Salina confirmed, at Blue Mountain Lake, 2 persons.

September 1st, he confirmed at Racquette Lake, 1 person.

September 15th, he confirmed at Grace Church, Albany, 6 persons.

During the Summer in the church at North East Harbor, I baptized one adult, confirmed five persons, buried one man, and preached and celebrated the Holy Communion on Sundays and Holy Days. It was a summer of much illness and grave anxieties, with abundant mercies consoling and crowning all.

September 22d, in the Church of the Messiah, Glens Falls, he blessed the Altar, preached, and celebrated the Holy Communion.

Sunday, October 4th, the Bishop Coadjutor of Central New York, in Zion Church, Morris, confirmed 17 persons.

October 6th, the Bishop of Salina consecrated the Church at North Granville.

October 6th, in the evening, in Granville, he confirmed 1 person.

October 8th, I was present at the annual meeting of the trustees of the Peabody Fund in New York.

October 13th, I presided at the meeting of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society of New York.

October 14th, in Christ Church, Hudson, the Bishop of Salina confirmed 2 persons.

October 16th, in St. George's Church, Schenectady, he confirmed 9 persons.

Tuesday, October 20th, in the pro-Cathedral Church in Washington, I preached the sermon before the All-American Conference of Bishops.

Friday, October 23d, I read a paper on Remarriage after Divorce before the Conference.

Sunday, October 25th, I took part in a most impressive out-door service on the Cathedral Heights. Nothing could have been more inspiring than this great gathering of perhaps fifteen thousand people, with the very long procession of vested Bishops, clergy and choristers, the hymns sung as with one voice by the great congregation, and the address by the President, full of strong and stirring thoughts, and embodying what I think will come to be an epigram, the urgency to "militant honesty." My heart goes out to the earnest energy with which the Bishop of Washington is pushing slowly but surely to accomplishment the building of the National Cathedral.

Tuesday, October 27th, in the Church of the Epiphany, Washington, I preached the sermon before the Missionary Council.

Saturday, October 31st, I lighted the thirty-first Halloween fire on the hearth of the school-room of St. Agnes School.

Sunday, November 1st, the Bishop of Salina confirmed 36 persons in Christ Church, Hudson, and Monday, November 2d, 4 persons in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Stockport.

Tuesday, November 3d, in Trinity Church, Pittsburg, I celebrated the Holy Communion at the opening service of the Church Congress; and in the evening, in Carnegie Hall, I read a paper on Christian marriage and divorce.

Thursday and Friday, November 5th and 6th, I delivered the Bedell Lectures in the Chapel of Kenyon College, Gambier. This beautiful place revealed itself to me not only as a centre of most gracious and delightful hospitality, but as a noble and most commanding situation, with buildings admirably adapted for their various purposes, and with a revived life in them which has come during the last fourteen years. Reaching back to the days of Bishop Philander Chase, pioneer and patriarch, and covering the episcopates of Bishop McIlvaine and Bishop Bedell, it has an historic record of results most remarkable, not only in the great memory of its founders, but in its distinguished roll of graduates, and it has a future which promises to be abundantly worthy of its past.

On Sunday, November 8th, in the Cathedral, I confirmed two persons, deaf mutes, one from St. Paul's, Albany, and one from St. Paul's, Troy, presented by the Rev. Harry Van Allen.

Tuesday, November 10th, I attended the meeting of the Board of Managers in New York.

In presenting the result of this year's work in the Diocese, I am divided between the sense of very grateful recognition of the kindly and acceptable service which has been given to the Diocese and to me by the Bishops who have done so much of the work, and the sense of my very great regret that I have been unable to do the work myself. Looking back at the experiences of my episcopate, I have come to feel that perhaps I have been Bishop long enough to be able to say, at least with the authority of experience, a word about the relations that are, and the relations that ought to be, between a Bishop and the Clergy and people. I hold and have always held higher ideals of the Bishop's relation than I have ever been able to exemplify. There is given to him in my judgment, by his office, the chief pastoral relation to every Parish and every Mission and every individual in the Parish. Really, so far as anything is permanent in life, the only two permanent constituents in the Diocese are the Bishop and the Parishes. The Clergy come and go. For instance, the number, received and removed, in this Diocese since November 15th, 1868, has been 439. To make good our present number of 142 clergymen, there have been, during these thirty-five years, 650 clergymen connected with the Diocese, of whom 78 were in it at its formation; and 158 came through ordination to the Diaconate by me. We lost three by their elevation to the Episcopate, 56 by death, and 7 by deposition. So that the great element of change has been the transfer to and fro. How grave a loss this is to unity and continuity of work and spirit can be better imagined than measured. I suppose it is unusually large in such a Diocese as ours, where the rule is hard work and small pay. Meanwhile I speak of it to prove what is true, that the permanent Diocesan elements are the episcopate and the laity. And I argue from this that there ought to be, more than there is, co-operation between these two elements in the formation of the third, namely, the clerical element; most important but most changeful. I am not advocating any arbitrary power to be vested in the episcopate in the matter of filling vacancies. The responsibility which rests upon me of finding and nominating for appointment missionaries to the different stations is overwhelmingly difficult and anxious. But where there are two responsible parties, neither one ought to be invested with the sole exercise of the right of choice. And just because vestries ought to have part and lot in this matter, the Bishop also ought to have; and just because a Bishop ought not to have exclusive control, the vestries ought not to have it. I believe that few Bishops have as little reason to complain as I have of hindrance in the discharge of my responsibility, but it has been always discharged, not by a recognized right, but by an accepted influence. I think the only safety of the Church, the best interests of the Parishes and the self respect and comfort of the Clergy lie in the enactment of some canonical provision, which shall give co-ordinate authority to the two responsible parties. I have my own idea as to the best method of its arrangement, which, in briefest and simplest terms is this: that on the notification, which the canon now requires, to the Bishop, of a vacant rectorship, he may be allowed if he will to send three names from which the vestry may select one, and failing this, that the vestry shall send three names to the Bishop, from which he must select one. But whether in this way or in some other, surely something needs to be done to avoid the present condition of things: trial sermon application by clergymen to vestries, nomination by their friends the constant besieging of the Bishop with letters of application from within and without, prolonged vacancies ending not seldom in a perfectly independent election of some one quite unknown to the Bishop, who has been, he is informed, "called by the vestry." I am pleading, not for any power to force an unwelcome pastor on an unwilling people. I recognize the very serious anxiety which surrounds the choice of a new rector, to the vestry and people of a Parish, and I feel the hampering of the Bishop's oversight in the shaping of Diocesan work when his advice in the choice of the Clergy, is neither sought nor followed. I am only now commending to this Diocese, met here in its representative and three-fold character, Bishop, Priests and Laymen, the consideration of the evils of the present system and of some method of curing them.

I am moved also to say a word to the Clergy and people about carefulness of teaching and about considerateness in the conduct of worship. We have been mercifully free in this Diocese from doctrinal extremes or ritual extravagances. No earnest-minded Priest has ever had his liberty of prophesying, or his liberty of ministering in the conduct of the service interfered with by me. And so far as I know, with free and full acknowledgment of varieties of ritual and of difference of opinion within the limits of loyalty to the faith and obedience to the rubrics, we have been largely free from frictions and contentions and controversies. So I may speak with no appearance of local or personal reference, when I say that everywhere I believe the Clergy are bound to sink their individual notions and opinions about undecided and indifferent things, and preach fully and faithfully and only "as necessary to salvation that which they are persuaded may be concluded and proved by the Scripture;" and that the laity are bound to accept as prima facie loyal and true, the teaching of those who are at once trained and vowed to careful accuracy in the presentation of the truth. On the one hand, the Priest should avoid the use of terms which are suspicious if not erroneous in their suggestion; and on the other, the people should not confuse the plain presentation of catholic truth with their impression about the errors which simulate it. I have grave doubts about the wisdom or necessity, in public teaching, of dwelling upon the subtle distinctions of sacramental mysteries, which might better be reserved for the more private instruction of catechumens and candidates for confirmation, but I have no doubt whatever that the people, not theologically trained to distinguish and discriminate should not either resent or resist dogmatic teaching; and should not think themselves competent to condemn the teaching which they do not understand, as heretical. Sermon-tasting is a delicate, difficult, undesirable habit, but the best flavor of a sermon is the pure Gospel in its bearing upon human life.

And I also have no doubt that whatever questions in critical study may need to be thought out, by the teacher, about matters of authorship and date and authenticity, they need not and they ought not to be made part of his teaching to the people. There is much soundness and sanity in what Mr. Moody said to Dr. Adam Smith, that "it was folly to preach about two Isaiahs to people who had not found out that there was one." Constructive teaching and not destructive criticism should be the tone of the preacher of the Gospel. Clearing and not confusing the mind of the hearers should be the purpose of his preaching. And the searching of the Scriptures in the preparation of a sermon should be in order to bring home to the people our Lord's own statement, "These are they which testify of Me." Let us help men to find "Him of whom Moses in the law and the prophets did write," rather than occupy their thoughts with the question as to just what and just when the prophets did write.

I have spoken of what should be the characteristic of preaching everywhere. In the matter of ritual it is, I think, plainly true that distinctions and differences may be and ought to be made. In a city where there are many churches, so that people can be governed and guided in their selection of a church home by their own training and taste, there is a certain freedom about the method of conducting divine service, which does not exist and ought not to be attempted in a town or village where there is but one church of our communion. And in a Diocese like ours, where so many congregations are in places of summer resort, consideration should be due first, to the fact that in summer they are composed of people not used to any peculiar ceremonial, but entirely content with the conduct of the service as the rubrics of the Prayer Book direct it; and who are constantly led into the Church by the education of their use of the Prayer Book in these very places. At the same time, the all-year-round congregation ought not to be distracted from their ordinary habits of worship by changes made to suit the visitors. It has been my aim and effort to keep the same and conduct of worship in the Cathedral to set a standard by which, in its distinctive features, the clergy should be wise for them to order their services; and beyond which they should feel, that they had had and should expect no support from the Bishop, in cases of complaint. Let me say just here, that I do not include in this description the more elaborate music and the choral rendering of the worship. Suited for the size and dignity of a Cathedral, and warranted by ages of English use, these are often most unsuitable to smaller buildings; and the failure to render them fitly and attractively conduces in no sense either to the glory of God or to the edification of the people. But in the matter of ritual I believe that the worship of our Cathedral sets forth an ideal for the reverent rendering of the worship of the Church, in the spirit of the Book of Common Prayer and in a recognition of that kind of catholicity which is Anglican and American and not Roman or Latin in its expression. The absolute racial difference needs to be recognized, if the forms of expression are to be real. What is instinctively natural to the warmer temperament is exotic and unnatural, studied and affected in our less exuberant natures. I honestly do not think, for instance, that colored vestments and incense, while perhaps they cannot be forbidden, are to the manner born with an Englishman or an American of to-day. And as a matter of general and characteristic habit, it seems to me that, except during prayers where kneeling is of course ordered, the bowed head, while it is just as reverent, is more natural and real than the bended knee. Nor have I ever been able to see why deeper reverence should be made to the human nature of Christ in the mention of the mystery of the Incarnation in the Creed, than to the assertion of His eternal Sonship of God when we repeat the name of Jesus Christ His only Son our Lord. The one plainly prohibited intrusion into our Church, which as a Bishop I cannot tolerate or allow, is the reservation of one of the consecrated elements of the Holy Eucharist. Absolutely needless so far as the communicating of the sick is concerned, unless possibly in some extreme epidemic, and more than ever needless now since the rubrical provision for shortening the office of the Communion of the Sick has been made, it has no proper place either on the Altar with the sanctuary lamp burning before it; or in that most objectionable function called the benediction of the blessed Sacrament, to which both in its terminology which singles out one Sacrament as more blessed than the other, and as it distorts the object for which the Holy Eucharist was instituted by our Lord, there is no place and no pretense of a reason in our Reformed Catholic Church.

The aim, it seems to me, of loyal and reverent Priests is to illustrate and dignify the spirit and plain teaching of the Book of Common Prayer. And to this end, because the officiating Priest is the representative of the Church, he is bound to refrain from mere individualities which bring into prominence his personal feelings and views. Hurry and carelessness of manner or utterance on the one hand grate upon the instincts of the congregation, while the prolonging of the service, for personal acts of devotion wearies them into impatience.

It is neither true that everything not forbidden is permitted, nor that everything not permitted is forbidden, in the rubrics of the Book of Common Prayer, but the tone and temper of our appointed services is so unmistakeable, that if we steep ourselves in their spirit, there will be neither tendency nor temptation to disturb the unity of purpose which the preface so well describes as "the procuring of reverence and the exciting of piety and devotion in the worship of God," "the endeavor to promulgate the truths of the Gospel in the clearest, plainest, most affecting and majestic manner."

I am struck since this address was written, with two paragraphs in a little publication which I cordially commend to the members of the Convention as well worth reading and studying, "The Church of England, An Appeal to Facts and Principles," by the Rev. Canon Newbolt and the Rev. Darwell Stone:

"The English Church voices to us the Catholic Church, appeals to us in clear tones, emphasizing a definite position, claims to have made such alterations, as were made, with a certain end in view, with her eye on the Primitive Church, and with a determination to preserve all laudable practices of the whole Catholic Church. It can hardly be disputed that this represented not only the teaching of the great Caroline divines, but also of the Tractarian leaders of the last century. Our difficulties arise now from the fact that this attitude is not accepted, and that in its place has arisen the dangerous and anomalous contention that the English Church, or rather the Church in England, is committed to an untenable position; that she only represents so many dioceses of the Western Church, and may well be arraigned on the charge of schism; that she parted with certain things at the Reformation which she had no right to part with, and betrays generally a stiffness in accepting certain foreign developments which are of a missionary value, and branded with a Catholic stamp; and therefore it is the duty of all those who own allegiance to the Catholic Church, to ignore all the peculiarities and crochets of a pseudo-Anglicanism, and to take advantage of troublous times to make a series of expeditions into the regions of pure Catholicism, and annex privately such portion of the heritage as those who live in England seem to have been deprived of, to dwell in them, to obtain squatters' rights, and then at last, by persistence and threats, to obtain Episcopal recognition and public toleration for their annexations. The result of this policy has been and must be disastrous; in grasping at the shadow of 'Catholic privileges,' we have lost the essential principle of Catholicism, 'obedience to authority.'

"So, if we could but recognize the fact, the Church of England has a character of her own, in parting with which she parts with a valuable possession. A Liturgy in the vernacular, popularized choir offices, a copious use of the Bible, an appeal to the intellectual rather than to the emotional side of man — to mention only a few obvious things — if frankly accepted, would be found to be features full of significance, and wholly excellent; while if, on the other hand, they are slurred over and scraped into a Roman fashion, they will be found to lose all their own excellence, and remain to the end only bad imitations. The use of Latin in the public service, or of English made unintelligible, only renders the English rite ridiculous; and an embroidery of emotional devotion thrown over the stern outline of the Anglican formularies only renders the one more contemptible and the other grotesque. A bad Anglican does not make a good Roman, nor will a mutilated or farced rite ever exhibit anything but a hybrid incongruity."

I must lay emphasis especially upon what seems to me the most important part of our daily offices, namely, the reading of the Holy Scriptures. For the younger men, not so familiar by long use, it would be a most wise rule to read the lessons over before reading them in public, and they need to be read clearly, carefully intelligently. The edition of the Holy Scriptures, published under the direction of the General Convention, The Holy Bible with Marginal Readings, will, I hope, commend itself to the use of the clergy, not necessarily in the use of every suggested change, but certainly in the use of those new translations which bring out a meaning that was either concealed or distorted in the earlier translation. Its use, it seems to me, will secure what certainly is our bounden duty, the gift to the people of the truest meaning of the original revelation, without marring what is so dear to use, the more musical and rhythmical rendering of the text.

Turning from the clergy to the laity, I am constrained to say one word about the forgotten fact, namely, the consecration of time and pains and power among our laymen in the careful and faithful administration of the financial and business affairs of the Church. We have had in this diocese, and the names will rise to your memories as they do to mine, and we have, thank God, in their successors, noble illustrations and examples of this, for which we may well thank God. But I must add a word of common urgency both to the men and the women of the diocese, that they will more and more take their part, in spiritual ways, in the various organizations for the lay work of men and women. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the Girls' Friendly Society, and the Society of the Daughters of the King, — this last especially needing more interest than it has yet received, — afford a sphere of service, and call for enlarged membership and increased devotion; while every clergyman feels all the more the need of men and women trained and ready to help them in the Sunday Schools, and in their catechetical teaching of the children of the Church.

Passing to personal things, I can hardly voice the disappointment of our inability to make this Convention welcome, as we had hoped to do, into the completed choir of the Cathedral. Needless and trying as the delay has been, it has been due to no negligence or failure on the part of those to whom the work was entrusted, and we are trying to learn God's "lesson of delays." Meanwhile, through the Rector's courtesy, we are met where, thirty-five years ago, when I was Rector of St. Peter's, we gathered for the opening service of the primary convention, and where I was elected and consecrated your Bishop. I am compelled to-day to recognize the fact that I am no longer physically equal to discharge the entire duty, as I understand it and as I have tried to exercise it, of your Bishop. There are two ways of relief, one of which I have resorted to more or less during the last two years in substituting other Bishops, who have most graciously undertaken my duty; and the other, the election of a Bishop Coadjutor. I have so far regained my health that I hope to be able, perhaps at longer intervals, to undertake the visitation work of even the remoter places. I am bound under medical advice to say that any fully restored health or prolonged life for me depends not only upon freedom from the necessity of work and travel, whether I am equal to it or not; but also upon freedom from the anxiety and difficulty of having to make arrangements in spasmodic and uncertain ways and often suddenly for visitations which I find myself unable to make. I am perfectly content to leave the decision of this question to the Convention. I am most unwilling to press, and yet I feel compelled to present the personal side of it. And while I am not constrained to ask it, I am ready to consent when the Convention wills, to the election of a Bishop Coadjutor on the canonical ground of infirmity, which means, I take it, not broken-downness, but lack of strength to do all the work alone.

I am inclined also to take up two questions of immediate and practical interest and importance. I have no desire to reduce the amount of our expenditure for Diocesan Missions, but I am very anxious to deal with it more proportionately, and to make possible the development of new work. I believe that the time has come when we must provide for some of the smaller stations services at regular intervals, instead of by the sole care of a resident missionary. And without the surrender of any place where there are still people to be cared for, I believe that the Board of Missions would be wise to use the services of the Diocesan Missionary to do this work. I shall urge the Board to ask for certain reductions in its stipends to missions, in places where there is strength and ability to make good, by an increase in salary, the diminution of the stipends. After consultation with the Diocesan Missionary I have prepared a list of these proposed changes along the lines of new groupings with regular and less frequent services in some places by the Diocesan Missionary, and with reduced stipends in some places, which I shall ask the Board to deal with at its first meeting.

The pressing demand in this Diocese must always be the missionary demand. Whether one considers the number of stations and missionaries, or the amount needed for their support, this is, to our honour be it said, a missionary Diocese. And I have been always thankful to realize that as a rule, especially of late years, the Parishes have risen to a recognition of this fact. There is no need for me to argue this or to urge it upon any ground of principle. It is the "articulus viventis aut morituræ ecclesiæ," whether or not, through its veins is coursing the very life blood of its Head, whether or not it is inbreathed and quickened by the Holy Ghost into what is the only purpose of the Church's existence, growth, expansiveness. extension. The only real question is the method of apportionment and the manner of its application. I have no need, either, to argue the method adopted by the general Church, which is our own Diocesan machinery, chosen years ago and working well. Where it has failed, "the failure has been due to the great difficulty of any continuance of systematic work," because of incessant clerical change. But I appeal to the men and women of the parishes and stations to see that they are not deprived of the privilege of this duty by reason of these changes. Whatever else changes in the organization, and something of course must be disarranged by changes, let the system of gathering and giving money for Missions go on as part of the breath of its life.

Proportionate application of the apportionment plan is always difficult. I wish there might be rather a feeling of desire to exceed it than to escape it. It is easy, but it is inexcusable to sit down supinely and say that the sum asked cannot be given. Let the effort be made, and it will stir every other department of the Parish into a new energy. It is easy, but it is inexcusable to oppose the one apportionment to the other or to diminish the one in order to make up the other. Different locally, there is no difference and no opposition among missions. Only I honestly believe that the wise course is to face and attempt the larger and the remoter duty first, because the impulse and the impetus will sweep in with it the nearer and smaller need. Of course there are different treasurers to whom the money must be sent, but it seems to me it would be easier if we said the Diocese must raise say $27,000 this year for Missions, of which $15,000 goes to the Board in New York and $12,000 to the Board in Albany, and then let every one of us ask and try how much each ought to give, how much each can give to secure this end. And may God so enlarge our hearts that the Diocese may come up to its full measure of service for this work.

REPRINTED MEMORIALS.

THE HON. ROBERT EARL.

There are now and then men to whom office cannot bring honour nor official titles dignity, because the honour and the title belong to them by their natural endowments and by the common consent of men. Judge Earl, who has just ended a long and distinguished life, was one of these. He was throughout all his life the honourable Robert Earl, before his appointment and then his election, twice successively, to the Court of Appeals. The story of his public life at the bar and on the bench is better known and will be better told by others. My knowledge of him lies chiefly along other lines. A member of the Primary Convention of the Diocese of Albany, at which I was elected Bishop, he has been continuously and constantly a member of that body, and the Diocese was honoured by his presence in the General Conventions of 1895 and 1898 as one of its lay deputies. He served there with Judge Andrews on the committee that reported the canon for the establishment of courts of appeal. It was characteristic of him that he used his first leisure from the pressing demands of his official duties to give himself in this way to the service of the Church. And there, as often elsewhere, he consecrated to church work his fine attainments and the rare endowments of his well furnished and truly judicial mind. It is a striking and a very touching fact that Judge Earl should have kept in his heart and as his home the village of Herkimer, which was his birthplace and which he adorned by his life and by his generous and gracious gifts. There was something in the whole effect and appearance of Robert Earl which instinctively inspired confidence — quietness, composure, steadiness, with the sort of equipoise throughout, which carried into all the relations of his life the judicial temperament. Quite apart from his professional training, he had a wide range of general knowledge, a true literary taste and a broad intellectual cultivation. His citizenship was public-spirited, loyal and generous in every range of its responsibility. He was a Churchman by conviction, based and built upon a thorough study and knowledge of the Church. He was a consistent Christian man, not only in the outward conformity, but in the inner spirituality of his life, and he was the very ideal of constancy in his affections and friendships to the end. Rounded and completed here as his earthly life was, leaving behind a memory of universal love and honour, he has passed through a peaceful ending into a fulness of life and service for which God had prepared him here and with which we believe God will reward him hereafter.

THE REV. MR. BIELBY.

The death of the Rev. W. F. Bielby, of Rensselaer, has whatever such a sorrow can have in the way of increase, namely, the added pain of suddenness and unexpectedness. So that beside the shadow of his loss to the Church and to his family, there is the darkness of the mystery that one so needful and important to his family and the Church should be taken away so young: "dead in his prime." But no one who looked upon his face as he lay dead in his Rectory could fail to feel that, whatever pain there is in it is for those who are left behind, for him already there was peace. I am glad to emphasize the feeling of his people, and of the clergy who gathered with me at his funeral, of reverence for a very earnest and devoted life, filling a difficult place with much courage and patience, reaching out to the regions beyond in the charge of the mission at Castleton, and struggling with unabated determination and hope against many hindrances and with many trials. He has left behind him the memory of a devoted and successful priest.

W. C. D.

STEPHEN D. DERBY.

From the other end of the Diocese comes to me the news of the equally unexpected death of a man who had filled out the fulness of his years and had been, in every way of influence and example and service and generous support, a typical layman. I remember Mr. Derby from the very first of my work in the Diocese, and it is one of the added reminders of the length of my own service here, that another of the old friends and fellow-helpers in the Diocese has gone to his reward. He has been for many years Warden of St. John's Church, Essex. From a parish small and weak, the taking away of such a strong support is a most serious loss, but I am quite sure that the memory and the power of his character and his devotion will remain, both as a blessing to the parish, and an inspiration to those who are left behind to carry on his work.

W. C. D.

WILLIAM A. THOMPSON.

The testimony that is borne by his immediate associates in St. John's Parish, Troy, to the value of Mr. William A. Thompson's life-long service to the Church, warm and earnest as it is, is no overdrawn picture of the life of an earnest and consistent Churchman and no overstatement of the great loss which comes to the parish in his death. The Church and the Diocese are the poorer, and the Bishop feels that he has lost, too, a friend of constant kindness and sympathy and of constant helpfulness in his work. For what he stood in the city and in the social life of his friends and for the consistent example of his Christian life one can only thank God, while grieving that the end should have come to a life which seemed to have in it the promise of many more years of usefulness and service.

W. C. D.

JOHN W. WAIT.

The death of Mr. John W. Wait, of Sandy Hill, removes from that parish one of its most influential and valuable members, and takes out of the Diocese a man who, for many years, has been interested in all its affairs. The suddenness and sadness of the ending adds to the shock and sorrow of his death. In his best self Mr. Wait was an earnest Churchman, a kindly and genial friend, a most cordial host, and a man whose business integrity and ability made him a valuable citizen, and he has left behind the influence of an example of honour and integrity and faithfulness to duty. None of us who knew him can fail to realize the very intense earnestness of his personal religious life.

W. C. D.

THE BISHOP OF NEWARK.

On Friday, May 22nd, I had the sad privilege of saying the office for the burial of the dead over all that was mortal of Thomas Alfred Starkey. It was one of those days in spring full of the signs of peace and full of the promise of life. There were not many gathered round the grave, but these were representatives of the clergy who loved him best in his own Diocese, and of people who were connected with him by marriage, and of people who remembered his long-ago faithful ministry in the Church in Albany. The Archdeacon of Newark sprinkled the dust upon the coffin, and I was assisted in the service by one of his own priests, the Rev. Mr. Mortimer, of Jersey City, and by the Rev. Dr. Prall, the Rector of his old Church of St. Paul here, and almost all the Clergy of the City of Albany were with me. He had well earned his rest. Living with undimmed vigour of intellect and spirit long past the allotted time of man's life, he had, with a heroic courage, not only kept in close touch with his people and his Clergy and his work in the Diocese, but in living and earnest interest in all matters that concerned the Church at large. None of us who were present can forget the power of his presence and his speech, at the last meeting of the Trustees of the General Theological Seminary. And none of us who knew him as a courtly gentleman, a devout Christian, a strong defender of the faith, a devoted servant of the Church, and a most faithful and beloved Bishop, can fail to feel how completely he had fulfilled the apostolic utterance. "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith." And no one can fail, with the utmost assurance of belief, to pray that he may receive "the crown of righteousness which the Lord, the righteous Judge, shall give him at that day." W. C. D.

SILAS M. ROGERS.

One of God's most faithful servants and choice saints has entered into rest in the death of the Rev. Silas M. Rogers, Priest. Endowed with a nature gentle and gracious, with intellectual gifts of marked attractiveness, he was in every fibre of his character consecrated to the service of God. The little Mission at Ellenburgh Corners, built under the missionary energy of the elder Dr. Coit, and served for a while by his distinguished son, the late Rector of St. Paul's School, Concord, had been cared for from time to time by visiting clergymen, until Mr. Rogers, who owned a little house and farm there, came there to live, and to him "to live was Christ." He took the work up with devoted interest and energy, and in spite of serious physical disability, he ministered to the people in season and out of season. He reached out to the adjoining hamlet of Ellenburgh Centre, where he built another Church, and for years he served them both with patient and untiring zeal. Just his mere life in its guilelessness and sincerity was a leaven in the community. No man can measure the time and toil and pains of his constant pastoral service to the whole country side. To me he has been the most loving and loyal brother and friend. His kindness, his cordial hospitality, his genial companionship have been a refreshment to me in my constant visitations, and his pure and holy life, his personal consecration, his joy in the service of his Master have been my admiration and inspiration through all these years. My heart goes out in very earnest sympathy to his devoted wife and to the people who have loved him and looked up to him so long, and I remember him before God with thankfulness for his ministry and with full assurance that God will give him the blessed reward of one of those "who turn many to righteousness" when he shall wake to everlasting life. W. C. D.

JAMES RUTHERFORD MORRIS.

James Rutherford Morris died in the same place where he was born, seventy-five years ago. Such a record is rare and is characteristic of the man. Of the very noblest sort of American descent, he bore his name as honourably as he bore his honours simply. He counted in his ancestry not only the first settlers in the town of Morris, but among them one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. And I never knew when one said "Morris, of Morris," whether they spoke of the man of the place, or of the place of the man. He was a fine type of a country gentleman, of the very best sort of an American citizen. He was a lover of the country in its interests and occupations, a lover of hospitality, a lover of his home. One by one, as children married and went away, the old house grew emptier and emptier, until the shadow of the great emptiness came to it in Mrs. Morris's death. Still he lived on there in patient dignity, with children and grandchildren with him from time to time, until they bore him out of his old home last Tuesday to rest in the beautiful churchyard, where so many of his kindred lie, and which he himself had really created, building for its completeness the little All Saints' Memorial Chapel, which consecrates it all. There is no one left in the Diocese longer or more affectionately bound up with the memories of my official life. He was the most loyal of friends, the most exemplary of citizens, ready to promote everything that could be of advantage to his neighborhood, and keenly alive, as an intelligent and well instructed Churchman, to every interest of the Church at home and abroad. Generous and devoted to the old Parish, faithful and true to all that concerned the Diocese from the very beginning, a constant member of the Diocesan Convention, and everywhere and always my dear and kind friend. The place which he has left empty can only be filled by the gracious influence of his example and the loving reverence of his name.

W. C. D.

GEORGE GRANVILLE WRIGHT.

The Church in Cambridge, the Diocese of Albany and the Bishop are bereaved in the death of George Granville Wright. Quiet and retiring in many ways, he was a most attractive and cultivated gentleman, a cordial and earnest supporter of the Church, a warm friend to all who knew him and a sharer in all the generous interests and gracious beneficence which have come in so many ways to Church interests in the Diocese of Albany. The personal sorrow comes most closely to those who are nearest allies to him by kinship or by marriage, but none of us who ever knew him will fail to feel that they have lost a genial and generous and kindly friend, who filled in his own sphere the dignified and attractive position of a courteous Christian gentleman.

W. C. D.

THE REV. CHARLES PELLETREAU. L. H. D.

Charles Pelletreau, whose ministry almost began in the Diocese of Albany, in his rectorship of Unadilla, and ended in Ballston Spa, has been so long and closely associated with me that I feel as if he had never been anything but one of the clergy of this Diocese. The impression which he left in Ballston must live in the Church building which he so loved and so greatly improved and adorned. And among his own people and his brother clergy the memory remains of a life full of brightness, with a great love of beauty, full of all kindest and most gracious thoughts and spent with entire devotion in the service of his Master. And no parsonage that I know anywhere more thoroughly illustrated the ideal of the homelife of a parish priest. He had very real literary taste and a very true literary instinct. He kept so really the freshness of his youth that it is hard to realise that he has laid his service down so soon. He had borne with the patience of a true courage many months of what was a great trial to him, namely, his inability for work, and while we had all hoped and prayed that that power might have been given back to him, none of those who knew and loved him can fail to feel that if that was to be denied, the greater gift of the closer service in the life that is nearer to God must have been welcome to his soul. I must hold him always in most affectionate memory, both for his character, his genial and gracious personality, his most kindly relations to me and his long and faithful service in the Diocese. And I can only pray that part of the peace which has been given to him may be shed upon those who are most nearly grieved in this bereavement.

W. C. D.

THE RT. REV. THOMAS MARCH CLARK, D. D., LL. D.
BISHOP OF RHODE ISLAND AND PRESIDING BISHOP.

This paper cannot go to press without a word of tribute to the Presiding Bishop, news of whose death has just reached me here at such a time and in such a way, that it is impossible for me to do, what every instinct of my nature prompts me to do, to go at once to his burial. I can remember among the early memories of my boyhood my first attraction to the dear old man, when he was good enough to take me fishing in Newport Harbor, and made himself, as he did to everybody with whom he came in contact, so gracious and so attractive as to win my boyish admiration. As the years went on, I have been thrown with him somewhat closely in more ways than one; and during the period of my occupancy of the office of Assessor to the Presiding Bishop we were much in touch with each other, both by correspondence and in conversation, and I came in this way more and more to love him and admire him for the very strong and striking characteristics of his nature. The impression which was sedulously circulated, at one time, of his inability to think out and decide important questions, was absolutely false. He was at all times, when any subject came to be presented to him, quick and keen to look into it and to see through it; and however much he may have been ready graciously to counsel with those who were associated with him, his own mind was definitely and positively decided on the merits of every question that was presented to him. I can honestly say of the Bishop of Rhode Island that in my judgment he was far and away the broadest Churchman, in the best sense of the word, almost the only broad one, that I have ever known, among those who either accept or fall heir to that distinction of Churchmanship; because he had absolutely his own clear and positive convictions, and as absolutely His recognition of the liberty of other people's convictions, not in the rather contemptuous tolerance of the broad Churchman, so-called, but in an honest acknowledgment of the fact that there were "differences of administrations," and differences of doctrinal positions, within the big, broad lines of the Church; and that every other man had the same right to his own convictions that he had himself.

The personality of Bishop Clark was most attractive and striking. Out from the darkness of great sorrow, and out from the shadow that for a time, some years ago, almost darkened his mind, he emerged, in the later days of his life, upon what I think was a very high place of spiritual earnestness and power. And it is delightful to realise that, withdrawn as he was by physical disability from contact with the outside world, he nevertheless, from his own quiet homes in Providence and Newport, administered with dignity and distinct ability the office of the Presiding Bishop. And now that he has been permitted to depart in peace in the simple and peaceful dignity in which he had lived, one feels that there has passed away a man who, through an unusual length of life, has exercised a benign and blessed influence upon the Church and the world.

WM. CROSWELL DOANE.

SARAH WALSH BARNARD.

Quietly and peacefully, in the fear and favour of God, Sarah Walsh Barnard has closed her earthly life, in the old city where she was born, and where for many years the name of Barnard stood for most distinguished things in social place, in public service at home and abroad, in refined dignity, in gracious hospitality. Into her old Elk street home I went, as her mother's guest, thirty-five years ago. And the tie, begun then and there in a time of grave anxiety and tender kindness, knitted together by the sharing of many common interests and sorrows and joys, has been among the closest of my life. As I recall the shrinking modesty of her quiet and retired nature, I almost hesitate to put her name in print. She will awake with the glad surprise of those whom the Lord shall place upon His right hand, in the great day of discrimination — "Lord, when saw I Thee an hungred and fed Thee?" Her whole life flowed out, during all the years of her independent living, by instinct, to whatever offered the opportunity of service. All that she had of the pent-up love of a woman's heart poured itself out to minister to others, not merely in generous gifts of money, but in the gifts of personal sympathy and care. I have never known a more conscientious and careful steward of that which God had put in her trust. When she had just given generously there would be always something in reserve for the next need that came to her knowledge. Underneath the inherited dignity of her nature, which came through both the strains of her ancestry, was the deep religious foundation of her life. The Church and its services satisfied her absolutely. She was like Anna the prophetess in her constant presence in God's House, and her thankfulness to find her Lord there. The appeal of the little children in the Child's Hospital and St. Margaret's House was very real and very close to her, and she spared nothing of personal interest or generous giving to relieve their suffering. And while her woman's heart was so large and true and full that she embraced a host of people in her warm and faithful love, she had always to the very end the soul of a little child in purity and simplicity. Patient to the end, with unflinching trust, through many months of great suffering, and keenly alive to all her personal interests and affections, she was permitted to bear the last test of faith and to endure the discipline of pain. And she bore it with the same childlike confidence which had marked the whole development of her spiritual life. As the name passes, with her, from Albany, which has been among its most honoured names, it is not too much to say that no one, in the consistent practice of the best virtues of a Christian lady and in the maintenance of the best standards of the Christian life, no one honoured it more than she. W. C. D.

MR. JOHN H. GARDNER.

One of the oldest Churchmen in the Diocese has passed to his rest. Mr. John H. Gardner, of Sharon Springs, full of years and of service, died in Sharon Springs, after an illness which had been more or less disabling for a time, but which to the very latest left his faculties unimpaired. He was, if not the discoverer, at least the developer of Sharon Springs, and with continuous enthusiasm he went on from step to step, with the counsel and co-operation of his sons, to make the place at once attractive and more able to do its gracious work of healing. The Church, there, also owes, if not its existence, at least its continuance, to him as its constant benefactor and friend. Gathering to him a body of trustees like-minded with himself, he was the leader in every movement for the upbuilding of the parish, and to the very last for the adornment and improvement of the Church. Whatever other memorials of the of Gardner have been placed in it by him or by members of his family, the building itself must be his own memorial first and longest. Mr. Gardner is perhaps the last survivor, so far as I know, of the old-fashioned host, to whom the welcoming of his guests and the care for their comfort were a personal pleasure and concern. As he greeted them with his kindly smile they felt as though they really were his own invited guests; and to those of us who had the enjoyment of the hospitality of his own home and knew the man himself, with all the high-bred courtesy of the gentleman that he was, there must come a real sense of one gone out of their lives, the like of whom they are not likely to see again. He had lived out a long and useful life beyond the allotted span, with singular immunity from the disabilities of age, and "like a shock of corn, fully ripe," one feels that in this case the Master only "put in the sickle when the harvest was ripe."

JAMES AMORY MOORE.

More than almost any of the readers of this paper know, the Diocese of Albany has lost in the death of Mr. James Amory Moore, and the reason why it is not known is because of the quiet and unostentatious manner of Mr. Moore's great benefactions and the dignified simplicity and retirement of his character and life. Born with every advantage of position, and liberally educated, not only in his profession of the law, but by his previous academic training, his general reading and his widely extended travel,—which broadened and brightened his mind,—he had devoted himself during the later years of his life, when I came to know him, to the amenities of friendship, the happiness of his home and the duties of a loyal citizen of his country and a devout servant of Christ. He was keenly interested in all public movements in the political world, and ingeniously interested to devise liberal things for the Church. In his summer Parish of Bethesda, Saratoga, he has left lasting and noble monuments of his liberality, and it was so much the instinct of his nature to find and to minister to whatever was worthy of help, that even these are no measure of his giving. I hold him in grateful and faithful remembrance for his kindly courtesy and generous interest in matters very dear to me, and for the graciousness of his bearing, the refined simplicity of his character and the example of his faithfulness and patience up to the very end.

CALVIN SKINNER, M. D.

Calvin Skinner died in Malone on the 24th of September. He had practised medicine there for sixty years. He had been connected with St. Mark's Parish for most, if not all, this time, and he had been a man conspicuous in personality of character and appearance, whom the whole town and county recognized and revered. Disabled by lameness from leaving his room, I went always on my visitations to his bedside, and never came away without a sense of his manliness, his dignity, his keen intelligence and interest in all live issues and all best things. It is an old landmark gone out of my life. I shall miss his cordial and courteous greeting, and the cheer of his courage and patience under the enforced inactivity of his later life, and I am glad to make record here of my affection for the man, and my respect for his memory.

The Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes' School,
2 p. m., November 11, 1903.

After the Service, the Convention was called to order by the Bishop of the Diocese, in the Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes' School.

In accordance with Section 1, Canon I, of the Diocese, the Bishop presented a List of Clergy canonically resident in the Diocese.

The Secretary called the roll of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention, and one hundred and one were found to be present.*

The roll of Churches in union with the Convention was called and certificates of Lay Deputies were presented. The Right Rev. President appointed as Committee on Credentials of Lay Deputies, the Rev. James E. Hall and Mr. T. Floyd Woodworth, of St. Paul's Church, Kinderhook, with the Secretary.

The Committee on Credentials of Lay Deputies reported the certificates from seventy-nine Parishes as correct.

The Secretary called the names of Deputies entitled to seats in the Convention, and one hundred and ten Deputies were found to be present, representing fifty Parishes.†

A constitutional quorum being present, the Right Rev. President declared the Convention organized and ready for business.

The election of officers being in order, on motion of the Rev. Joseph Carey, D. D., the Assistant Secretary was instructed to cast one ballot for the Rev. William C. Prout for Secretary. The ballot was so cast, and the Right Rev. President declared the Rev. Mr. Prout elected Secretary.

On motion of the Secretary the ballot was unanimously dispensed with and Col. Selden E. Marvin was elected Treasurer, and the Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., Registrar.

The Secretary appointed the Rev. Canon Fulcher as the Assistant Secretary.

On motion of the Secretary it was

Resolved, That Clergymen of other Dioceses, Professors and Students of Theology in this Church, and all persons holding any office or trust under the Convention, if not members thereof, being present, be invited to seats in the Convention.

The Right Rev. President having announced the invitation, the Rev. Charles L. Gomph, Deacon, the Rev. Frank J. Knapp, Curate of Bethesda Church, Saratoga Springs, the Rev. F. H. Church, Rector of Grace Church, Prattsville, not entitled to seats in the Convention, Mr. Hobart W. Thompson, Secretary of the Committee on the Salary of the Bishop, and Mr. Lewis R. Parker, Treasurer of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, took seats in the Convention.

On motion of the Rev. John F. Nichols, it was Resolved, That the Missionary Bishops of Duluth and Salina be invited to seats at the side of the President.

The Right Rev. James Dow Morrison, D. D., Missionary Bishop of Duluth, and the Right Rev. Sheldon Munson Griswold, D. D., Missionary Bishop of Salina, were received and seated at the side of the President, the members of the Convention rising to greet them.

On motion of the Secretary of the Convention, it was

Resolved, That the order of services and sessions for this Convention be as follows: A recess shall be taken from five to eight o'clock this evening; at eight o'clock the Convention shall assemble in the Cathedral for the annual Missionary service and meeting; to-morrow the Holy Communion shall be celebrated at seven o'clock in the morning in the Cathedral, and the Morning Prayer said at ten o'clock, in the Guild House; the business session shall be resumed in this place at half-past ten with the usual recesses from one to two and from five to eight o'clock.

Resolved, That the election of the Board of Missions shall be held at the same hour with other annual elections to-morrow, and that other business connected with the work of the Board of Missions shall be postponed from this evening, to come before the Convention at the call of the President to-morrow.

The Rev. Paul H. Birdsall offered the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The Bishop of the Diocese, in his Address to the Convention this morning, suggested that he is willing, by reason of the cause assigned by the Canon, to have the aid of a Bishop Coadjutor in his many and arduous labours, and in view of the universal desire of the Clergy and Laity alike as far as possible to relieve the Bishop of excessive labour;

Resolved, That a Committee of five Clergymen and five laymen be appointed to take into consideration the election of a Bishop Coadjutor, and more especially the question of his support; and that their report be made the order of the day at eleven o'clock to-morrow, Thursday, Nov. 12th.

The following resolution, offered as a substitute by the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D., failed to pass:

Resolved, That the portion of the Bishop's Address relating to the matter of relief from some portion of the cares and responsibilities of his office be referred to a Committee of four Clergymen and four Laymen, to report to this Convention such action as they may deem advisable, said report to be the order of the day for to-morrow morning at eleven o'clock.

The resolution offered by the Rev. Mr. Birdsall was then adopted by the Convention, and the Right Rev. President appointed as such Committee, the Rev. Walton W. Battershall, D. D., the Rev. James Caird, the Rev. R. M. Kirby, D. D., the Rev. Paul H. Birdsall, the Rev. Ralph Birdsall, Mr. Spencer Trask, Mr. George Foster Peabody, Mr. G. Pomeroy Keese, Mr. Robert C. Pruyn, and Mr. Walter A. Wood, Jr.

The Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., gave notice of a proposed new Canon on the Examination of Securities, which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on the Constitution and Canons.*

The Rev. William C. Prout gave notice of a proposed amendment to Canon IV, which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on the Constitution and Canons.†

The Secretary of the Convention presented and read

THE REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 11, 1903

To the Convention:

The Secretary of the Convention respectfully reports that he has tried to do the duties assigned to him by the Convention.

One thousand copies of the Bishop's Address were printed and distributed to the Clergy; twelve hundred and fifty copies of the Journal of the Convention were also printed and distributed.

Letters were sent to three clergymen and three parishes that failed to report to the Convention of 1901. One reply has been received.

Applications for admission to union with the Convention have been received from the Church of St. Luke the Beloved Physician, Saranac Lake, Franklin county, and Christ Church, Gloversville, Fulton county, both of which were duly forwarded to the Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches.

The Convention will need to elect this year the Standing Committee, Deputies and Provisional Deputies to the General Convention, one clerical and one lay Deputy to the Federate Council, the Board of Missions, Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, of the Fund for Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen, two Trustees of the Diocese of Albany, three for the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour.

Nominations for the Board of Missions have been received; for the Archdeaconry of Albany, the Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., and Mr. John Horrocks; for the Archdeaconry of Troy, the Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., and Mr. George A. Wells; for the Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna, the Rev. James E. Hall, and Mr. James Stewart; for the Archdeaconry of Ogdensburgh, the Rev. Walter H. Larom, and Mr. Levi Hasbrouck.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM C. PROUT,

Secretary.

The Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D., read the REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE.

The Standing Committee respectfully report to the Convention that, immediately after their election, they organized by the choice of the Rev. Wilford L. Robbins, D. D., as President, and of the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D., as Secretary. During the year they have held twelve meetings.

They have recommended for admission as Candidates for Holy Orders: David Bennett Patterson, Floyd Steele Kenyon, Clinton Durant Drumm.

They have recommended for admission to the Sacred Order of Deacons: John William Foster, Ernest Alfred Smith, Harry Landon Rice, Charles Lewis Gompf, James Robert Lacey.

They have recommended for admission to the Sacred Order of Priests: Rev. Lloyd R. Benson, Rev. William Henry Paine Hatch.

They have given consent to the consecration of the Rev. Sheldon Munson Griswold, D. D., as Bishop of the Missionary District of Salina, of the Rev. Theodore Du Bose Bratton, D. D., as Bishop of Mississippi, of the Rev. M. Edward Fawcett, Ph. D., as Bishop of Quincy, of the Rev. Edwin Stevens Lines, D. D., as Bishop of Newark, and of the Rev. David Hummell Greer, D. D., as Bishop Coadjutor of New York.

They have given consent to the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of the Church of the Messiah, Glens Falls, N. Y., to make application to the court for permission to convey to the heirs of the late John J. Harris the title of the property at Harrisena, N. Y.

They have given consent to the Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of Grace Church, Mohawk, N. Y., to place a mortgage of two thousand dollars upon the Rectory of that Parish and upon the lot on which it stands, the proceeds from said mortgage to be used to secure, to that amount, the existing indebtedness of the Parish.

They have acted on one occasion during the year, at the request of the Bishop, as a Council of Advice to him.

They have received and accepted with much regret the resignation of the President of the Committee, the Rev. Wilford L. Robbins, D. D., on account of his removal from the Diocese.

J. PHILIP B. PENDLETON,

Secretary.

The Rev. Walton W. Battershall, D. D., made a verbal report for the Committee on the Change of the Name of the Church, affirming the position of the Report of the same Committee at the last Convention; and at his request the Committee was directed

The Rev. A. Randolph B. Hegeman presented and read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE APPORTIONMENT FOR GENERAL MISSIONS.

The Committee on the Apportionment for General Missions reports that it has held several meetings during the year, and that, pursuant to the resolution by which it was created, it apportioned the sum of $15,400 among the Parishes and Mission Stations of the Diocese, and made known the total amounts that would be expected from the Sunday Schools and branches of the Woman's Auxiliary.

The Committee, pursuant to resolution, sent to the Clergy a list of suggested apportionments, asking for advice and criticism, in reply to which they received forty-eight (48) letters, and by twenty-eight (28) of these the apportionment of the Parishes represented by the letters was decreased to the figure named by the Clergy in charge, save in one case, where an increase was requested.

The other sums apportioned, in accordance with the letter of the Committee, were permitted to stand.

After the corrections desired had been made, a circular letter was sent to the Clergy of the Diocese setting forth the sum necessary from each to meet the total apportionment for the Diocese of $15,400.

Up to the close of the fiscal year, August 31st, 1903, there was contributed from Parishes, Mission Stations and individuals the sum of $8,447.16; from the Sunday Schools, $2,239.06; from the Woman's Auxiliary, $1,343.92.

Your Committee regrets exceedingly the inability of the Diocese to raise the sum expected by the Board of Managers, to wit, $15,400, and that the deficit therein is $6,952.84, but it is a difficulty to be dealt with by the Convention and not by the Committee.

Your Committee suggests that this Convention determines what sum it believes the Diocese can raise for the work of the General Board, and offers the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the sum of $15,900, that being the sum apportioned to this Diocese for the ensuing year, be accepted by the Diocese; and

Resolved, further, That the basis of apportionment be the current expenses of each Parish and Mission Station.

The Committee begs to submit, as part of this report, copies of the letters and the lists of apportionment sent to the Clergy.

Signed and respectfully submitted,

A. RANDOLPH B. HEGEMAN,
WILLIAM PRALL,
PAUL H. BIRDSALL,

R. M. TOWNSEND,
SIDNEY G. ASHMORE.

The resolution offered by the Committee being under discussion, a motion to amend by inserting $13,900 in place of $15,900, offered by the Rev. Dr. Pendleton, failed to pass, and, on motion, the Report of the Committee was referred to a special Committee to report to this Convention. The Right Rev. President appointed as such Committee, the Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., the Rev. A. Randolph B. Hegeman, Mr. George Foster Peabody, and Mr. Sidney G. Ashmore.*

Mr. George Pomeroy Keese presented and read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE INCREASE OF THE EPISCOPAL FUND.

The Committee appointed at the last Convention on the increase of the Episcopal Endowment Fund beg leave to respectfully report:

That, in accordance with a resolution passed, an appeal was sent to all Parishes and Mission Stations asking for an offering on the first Sunday after Trinity, or some other convenient day. To this eleven Parishes responded with an aggregate contribution of $144.66.

Your Committee confess to a disappointment that only one in thirteen of the Parishes and Mission Stations of the Diocese has exhibited sufficient interest in the increase of this important fund to make a contribution to the same. Had the Diocese at large responded in the same proportion as the eleven Parishes, the fund would have gained in one year $2,350; and had contributions to the object been systematic and general from the organization of the Diocese, we should not now be making annual assessments for the support of the Episcopate.

Your Committee would renew and urge that an annual increase of this Fund be assumed as an obligation on the part of the Parishes of the Diocese, and to this end would again ask that an offering be made for the object on the first Sunday after Trinity.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

G. POMEROY KEESE,
HOBART W. THOMPSON,
GEO. P. HILTON,

A. W. HASLEHURST,
A. DUNCAN MOIR,

Committee.

Mr. John Horrocks presented the

JOHN HORROCKS,
ROBERT G. SMITH,
R. M. TOWNSEND,
Committee.

The following resolution, offered by the Rev. Hobart B. Whitney, failed to pass:

Resolved, That the blank form for Parochial Reports to the Convention be amended by substituting for the present item, "Number of Communicants," two items, (1st) "the number of Confirmed Persons;" (2d) "the number who have actually received the Communion during the year."

The Rev. Hubert P. Le F. Grabau presented and read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The Committee on Unfinished Business respectfully reports that the only business left unfinished by the Convention of 1902 was an amendment of Art. II of the Constitution, to wit:

ARTICLE II.

Of the Annual Meetings of the Convention.

The Convention shall assemble on the third Tuesday in November, in each year, in such place as the Bishop shall appoint, giving fifteen days' notice thereof. In case of his inability to act, the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, shall appoint the place; and, if there be no Bishop, the Standing Committee shall appoint. The place of meeting may be changed for sufficient reason after having been appointed, provided that ten days' notice of such change shall be given.

For urgent reasons, the time of meeting may be changed by the Bishop, acting with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee, and giving twenty days' notice of said change.

Every Convention shall be opened with a Sermon and the Holy Communion; and the Preacher shall be appointed by the Bishop, or in case of his inability to act, or if there be no Bishop, by the Standing Committee.

Your Committee moves its final adoption.

H. P. LE F. GRABAU,
Chairman.

The resolution offered by the Committee was passed and the amendment to Article II of the Constitution was adopted by the Convention by the following vote, with the concurrence of the Bishop of the Diocese:

AFFIRMATIVE VOTE — Clergy — The Rev. Messrs. Adam, Armstrong, Ashley, Babcock, Balsley, Blacklock, Boone, Borden-Smith, Carey, D. D., Carroll, Carter, S. T. D., Cobb, W. M. Cook, H. Cooke, Fulcher, Grabau, Grout, Hall, Hatch, Hegeman, Holbrook, Kingham, Kroll, Lacey, Langdon, Larom, Lyman-Wheaton, D. D., Macdonald, McLean, Marvin, G. W. Mead, Moran, Newell, Nickerson, D. D., Parsons, Plum, Prall, D. D., W. C. Prout, Purdy, Pyle, Rasay, Silliman, D. D., Sleight, E. A. Smith, Snow, Stockton, and Whitney — 47.

Lay Delegations — Cathedral of All Saints, Albany; St. Peter's Church, Albany; Grace, Albany; Holy Innocents, Albany; St. John's, Cohoes; All Saints, Hudson; St. John's, Stockport; St. Paul's, Kinderhook; St. Barnabas', Stottville; Emmanuel, Little Falls; Christ, Herkimer; Grace, Cherry Valley; St. James', Oneonta; St. Mary's, Springfield Centre; St. John's, Troy; Christ, Troy; Free Church of the Ascension, Troy; St. George's, Schenectady; Christ, Schenectady; Church of the Messiah, Glens Falls; St. James', Fort Edward — 21.

NEGATIVE VOTE — Clergy — The Rev. Messrs. Blanchet and Pittman.

Lay Delegations — None.

The Rev. Charles L. Sleight presented and read the following Report and, on his motion, the resolution recommended in it was adopted:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON NON-REPORTING CLERGY AND PARISHES.

Your Committee respectfully reports that there were three Clergymen and three Parishes that failed to report to the Convention of 1901. The Secretary of the Convention wrote letters of inquiry to the same, and received a reply from only one Clergyman.

Your Committee would recommend the continuance in force of the resolution adopted at the last Convention, which reads as follows:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Convention be and is hereby directed to ask of the Parishes from which no report was received at the last Convention and the Clergy still canonically resident in the Diocese, who failed to report at the last Convention, their reasons for not complying with the requirements of the Canon; and that a minute of the same be entered in the Appendix to the Journal against their names under the head of Non-reporting Clergy and Parishes; and in any case where the request is not complied with, the fact be recorded.

C. L. SLEIGHT,
W. C. PRESCOTT.

The Convention took a recess.

HALF-PAST FIVE O'CLOCK IN THE AFTERNOON.

The Evening Prayer was said in the Cathedral, the Bishop and the Precentor officiating.

EIGHT O'CLOCK IN THE EVENING.

The Convention reassembled in the Cathedral.

A special Missionary Service, set forth by the Bishop, was said, the Rev. the Precentor of the Cathedral and the Rev. Philip G. Snow officiating.

After the service the Right Rev. President took the chair and called the Convention to order.

Col. W. G. Rice, Treasurer, read the

REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS
FOR THE YEAR ENDING NOVEMBER 13, 1903.

The annual report of the Treasurer of the Board of Missions is presented herewith: During the year all stipends have been paid on the quarter days and other charges have been promptly met. The system of quarterly payment to the Treasurer of accepted apportionments has continued to show excellent results, and the thanks of the Board of Missions are due to the Clergy and Treasurers of those Parishes which have adopted and continued this method. Regular remittance of these contributions before the fifteenth days of January, April, July and October is of great benefit to the economical operation of the funds of the Board and conduces also to make these payments by the various Parishes a matter of greater ease.

It is important, however, that attention should be given to the fact that the failure of some Parishes to maintain and fulfil their former voluntarily assumed pledges of support, results in a deficiency in the operations for this year, notwithstanding a material decrease in the amount paid out for stipends. Generous special gifts in this and the four previous years have prevented an actual deficit, but Parishes cannot, and should not, depend upon the continuance of such gifts in the future.

Only a systematic and regularly organized support among the members of each Parish can keep the mission work of the Diocese on its present basis, and thus can afford hope for that enlargement which so strongly appeals to all those who acquaint themselves with the devoted and unselfish work that is done in this field.

The Treasurer desires to express anew his indebtedness to the Diocesan Missionary for general assistance in the work of the year, especially during the Treasurer's absence, and for valuable special aid in many exacting details of securing and keeping the record of contributions.

The Board has received information from the executors of the estate of Miss Sarah W. Barnard that it will in due time receive $10,000 from her estate, that amount being a specific bequest from Miss Barnard, the Board of Missions being also made one of the residuary heirs of the estate. Thus forever will be perpetuated the association of Miss Barnard with the mission work of the Diocese of Albany, an association that always was manifested in her life by a deep personal interest and by generous and constant support through many past years.

The Board of Missions holds invested as a Permanent Fund $43,037.86, representing amounts received from the following: The Misses Austin, Miss Elizabeth Sheerer, Mrs. DeWitt, Diocese of New York, Diocese of New York Parochial Fund, Dr. William Tibbits, Mr. L. S. Sears, Mrs. Hannibal Green, Miss Charlotte Austin, Mrs. Mary D. Adams and Miss Helen E. Brooks.

The annual income of $1,500 of this fund, received in 1881 from the Misses Austin, is paid towards the stipend for Oak Hill.

This fund, it will be observed, has been slightly increased by the amount of $382, being part of the proceeds of the sale of the old Rectory of East Line Parish. The Board of Missions, by action taken at its last meeting, intends annually to appropriate for that Parish the income derived from the sum thus added to the permanent fund.

The Permanent Fund is invested as follows:

Troy City R'y, 5%.....	$5,000 00
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 5%.....	7,000 00
Chesapeake & Ohio R'y, 6%.....	3,000 00

The Board also holds invested the Marvin Memorial Mission Fund, to which an addition of $200 in the name of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Pell-Clarke has been made during the past year. The entire amount is now $5,003.37, and it is to be hoped that the future will see this fund, bearing the name of one always gratefully to be remembered throughout the Diocese, reach its originally proposed amount of $10,000. The usefulness of this fund is shown by the fact that by the temporary use of about $1,000 on February 1, and of about $1,500 on November 1, it enabled the prompt payment of stipends.

The Marvin Memorial Mission Fund is invested as follows:

Edison Illuminating Co., Brooklyn ($4,000), 4%.....(cost)	$3,985 00
J. O. Tillery, Colo. Springs, Mortgage Note, 5%.....	800 00
National Savings Bank, 3½%.....	218 37

The Board also holds in trust $20,829.05, representing amount received from the executors of Miss Charlotte Austin, the income from which is to be paid one-third each to Calvary Church, Cairo; St. Paul's Church, Oak Hill; and Christ Church, Greenville.

The Cairo, Oak Hill and Greenville Austin Fund is invested as follows:

Northern Pacific R'y Prior Lien, 4%.....	$3,000 00
Chicago, St. P. & Minneapolis R. R., 6%.....	1,000 00
Cleveland, Colo., Cinn. & I. R. R., 7%.....	3,000 00

Mechanics & Farmers' Savings Bank, Albany, 3½%.....	79 05
National Savings Bank, Albany, 3½%.....	650 00

The Board also holds in trust $2,000, invested in two 7% bonds of $1,000 each of the Rensselaer & Saratoga Railroad Company, the income from which is to be paid one-half each to St. Luke's Church, Mechanicville, and St. John's Church, Stillwater.

Premiums on bonds redeemed, sold or acquired have been added to or deducted from the principal as respectively required in calculating at par all securities held. No stocks are now owned by the Board of Missions, all its securities being mortgage bonds or loans secured by mortgage upon improved real estate, with the exception of a note, representing a loan for a small amount, made by the Treasurer in 1895, which note is gradually being reduced in amount. All securities were examined and handled in detail by the Committee, of which Mr. John Horrocks, of Cohoes, is Chairman, appointed pursuant to a resolution of the last Convention, and were found to be as stated in the Treasurer's report. All securities so far as possible are registered in name of "Treasurer of the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Diocese of Albany."

AUDITING COMMITTEE CERTIFICATE.

The Committee appointed to audit the accounts of the Treasurer of the Board of Missions report that the statement and vouchers of the Treasurer have been examined and found correct.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 10. 1903.

C. M. NICKERSON,
WILLIAM KEMP,
Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. G. RICE,
Treasurer.

The Rev. John N. Marvin read the following Reports:

REPORT OF DIOCESAN MISSIONARY NOV. 1, 1902, TO OCT. 31,

It does not need a great mass of words to tell you that the Diocesan Missionary has had a busy year. Those of you who know the extent of the Diocese and its missionary character know that there is plenty to do. Still, as in other years, you want facts to illustrate both the missionary work and the need of a General Missionary in the Diocese. It is hard to condense the experience of my year, and I will not try to, so I will simply give you a passing sketch of my work.

First, I have done what I could to supply the vacant stations. I have celebrated Holy Communion for the Deacons and have assisted them in various ways. I have attempted no new work, except to hold services in a few out of the way places. I have to confess another failure at Cobleskill. Only a resident Missionary ably supported can do anything there. I care for, or minister to, our people there individually, though, and hold cottage services as often as I can. Last year, for good and sufficient reasons, the Board of Missions withdrew the stipend from Fine. The Warden asked consent of the Bishop to sell the Church to the Masonic Lodge of the village. I went there to look into the matter. I found the women of the Mission very much opposed to any sale or abandonment of the Mission. I promised them a monthly service, which I have kept up through the help of a friend, and the work of the Women's Guild of the Church. I have secured for them needed vestments for the Altar and a fairly good organ. In connection with Fine, I have held service in the Union Meeting House at South Edwards. One person was presented for Confirmation and I expect to baptize several in the near future. With the help of our most efficient Lay Reader, Mr. A. B. Conklin, regular services have been kept up at Santa Clara. A good organ has been purchased, and needed improvements have been made in the Church. I secured for them, from the Clinton Meneely Bell Co. of Troy, a bell wheel, and now their sweet-toned bell is again making music among the mountains and hills. I have held services in "Uplands," the sanatorium for girls. This year many of the inmates were Communicants of the Church. I have secured vestments and furniture for many of the Missions and cheered the workers in these feeble stations, some of them having a bare existence.

Through my work, greatly aided by the Rev. Mr. McLean, Rector of Trinity, Albany, Grace Church, Stamford, has become an independent Mission. The Ladies' Guild, the only Church organization there, were led to see that the future hope of the work lay in raising enough funds for at least a year's salary in advance. This they did, and more. They have a resident Missionary, money in bank for at least eighteen months' salary, and the offerings continue good notwithstanding the departure of the summer guests.

Through the kindness of the Rev. Dr. Carter, Chancellor of the Cathedral, the Rev. Ralph Birdsall, Rector of Christ Church, Cooperstown, and other Clergymen, the Church at Portlandville was supplied with services during the summer.

I must pass by many things of interest among the Missions of the Diocese to tell you something of the individual work. A layman suggested that I write a book of experiences. If I were to comply it could be a year book, for there are enough things of interest in this missionary work to fill a volume yearly. I could tell of hearts and homes made happy by gifts of clothing, fruit and money given by friends of the work, through me; celebrating for the sick and dying; a word of encouragement to those sick and lonely people who are filling the mountains seeking health and a continuance of life. Not long ago I was called to visit an old man who was not of our faith. He was on what was thought his dying bed. Over 75 years old and not baptized, all the Clergy of the little village had tried to win him to Christ, even as he lay there with his life ebbing away. It was my privilege, under God, to make him see light, and I baptized him. He died soon after, happy in his faith.

I am not obliged to seek out missionary work; I find it in the way. In June I was in a terrible wreck, where many were killed and wounded. I was saved that I might exercise my ministry among those who were in need of it. But passing through fire and water, braving the cold and storms of winter, is a part of the work which has fallen to my lot, and I thank God for the privilege to be of such service. I have been of service to those who come to our city hospitals from the interior of the Diocese. I acted as Chaplain to the visiting Bishops. I have acted as Assistant Treasurer of the Board of Missions, Secretary of the Board of Missions, Chaplain to the Diocesan and local Council of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, Treasurer of the Commission for Deaf Mute Work. I have preached on Missions in various Churches of the Diocese and attended meetings of the four Archdeaconries. I have edited and managed the Diocese of Albany, making appeals therein for mission work, which in one case brought to the Bishop and myself over six hundred dollars. Last, but not least, I have been of whatever service I could be to our own Bishop. So I have gone about my work almost constantly, moving always with the consciousness that I am not doing all that I would or that should be done.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS, 1903.

A report of the Board of Missions should deal with two phases of the work: First, the work accomplished, and second, the necessity for enlargement or improvement. The Board of Missions began the year with no great enthusiasm, for there came the warning of an apparent deficit, occasioned, first, by the death of a generous layman, and second, by the necessary withdrawing of portions of their pledges by several Parishes and Missions. Yet there was no weakening on the part of the Bishop and the Board. The usual amount was apportioned to the stations, and two old stations were assisted anew by stipends. Much substantial work has been done. The vacancies have been fewer than in many years, and a study of the Convention Journal will show good and lasting results in building up and strengthening all along the line.

A few details may be of interest. A beautiful Church building, St. Hubert's, at Newman (Lake Placid), a memorial to the late loved Priest and Missionary, the Rev. William Wilmerding Moir, has been built and consecrated. North Granville and Willsboro have also built substantial Churches and furnished them completely. They have also been consecrated. The Church at Fort Covington was consecrated in June. The old stone Church at Norfolk has been put in good repair and reopened for regular services. Grace Church, Stamford, N. Y., has become independent of the Board. They have a resident Missionary. They are paying the entire salary, and have funds in bank for more than the year's salary and other expenses. The Missionary at Castleton has greatly reduced the debt, and is building up a successful Mission. St. Andrew's Church, Schroon Lake, is out of debt, and has improved its property. Christ Church, Rouse's Point, has paid all outstanding debt, and has beautified its Church. This also is paid for. St. John's, Essex, has made quite extensive repairs. The same may be said of Trinity, Schaghticoke. The report from Massena is encouraging. They have paid all debts, made improvements on the Church, and increased the Rector's salary. St. Luke's, Saranac Lake, and Christ Church, Gloversville, have become Parishes. The Bishop has been asked for his consent to the building of a summer Church on Indian Lake in the Adirondacks.

These few facts show that our Missionary work is progressing. The reports made by the Missionaries at the meetings of their respective Archdeaconries are more encouraging. The despondent tone has given place to rejoicing and more words of contentment.

If our report could end with this bright condition of things, it would be well. But no! the other phase must uncover darker prospects, and be a reminder of duty undone. To-day more than ever there is a crying need for, not alone the strengthening of things which remain, but for an increase in our work. Last year you were told of closed Churches. The list has increased, and more must follow unless Churchmen recognize their duty. Time and space forbid details, yet one instance may be pointed out: Since our last meeting a Priest and Saint of God, Silas M. Rogers, has gone to his rest. For more than twenty-five years he served faithfully and well the Missions at Ellenburgh, toiling day and night, till from old age and its accompanying weakness he fell amidst his Father's work. In these years he denied himself almost the necessities of life that he might save for the future safety of the work he loved so much, and when he died everything was given to the Diocese in trust for those two little stations. A few hundred dollars will carry out his dying wish. But where is it to come from? The only way under present circumstances will be to reduce the stipends of some of the present stations. Our present funds are not adequate. The Miss Barnard legacy, when in hand, will be of some assistance, but we must not forget that she was for many years a generous supporter of Diocesan Missions.

The deficit this year is not a large one as we count money to-day: yet it is a deficit, where for several years we have marked a surplus. The Board thinks it will be pardoned for saying it would have been much larger were it not for the painstaking efforts of our Treasurer in using his able business principles for the good of the work. Let us be reminded that the problem which lies before us is not merely one of interest; it is one of personal duty to our own neighbourhood. In the sight of God there should be no such thing as distinction in Missionary work; yet let us remember that our Commission was to proceed from the centre to the circumference, from the little upper room at Jerusalem to the utmost parts of the earth. Therefore let us not neglect this, our Diocesan Missionary Work, but come forward with our prayers and our means, and lift it up to its proper place in the great Missionary field of the world. The ability is ours, dear friends, and may we so prove our worth and our love that we may rejoice the heart of our beloved Bishop as he rounds out the years of a grand and stirring Episcopate.

At the last meeting of the Board the following resolution, offered by the Rev. Dr. Battershall, was adopted:

Resolved, That this Board of Missions commend to the representatives of the Parishes and Mission Stations of the Diocese assembled in the Missionary meeting of the Convention the passage of the following preamble and resolutions:*

Inasmuch as several Parishes in the Diocese have adopted the plan of definite annual subscriptions by members of said Parishes for the prompt quarterly payment of the apportionment for the Mission Work of the Diocese, and inasmuch as the plan has worked with comparative ease and eminent success; therefore,

Resolved, That the Rectors and Missionaries of the Diocese are strongly recommended and urged to adopt the plan of securing from the members of the Parish or Mission Station definite annual subscriptions for Diocesan Missions, which shall be paid in advance or quarterly.

A list of Stations, Missionaries and Stipends is appended to this report.

Respectfully submitted for the Board of Missions,

JOHN N. MARVIN,
Secretary.

The Rev. Ralph Birdsall read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

The Committee to whom has been referred the report of the Board of Missions hesitates to begin by laying stress upon the apparent deficit of some $600 which remains at the end of the current year, for the various Missionary reports indicate a degree of activity and interest whose significance is not impaired by the announcement of a deficit. It has been a year of large activity in Missionary work, and it would be unfair to the many Parishes which have strongly supported the Missions to read the reports except in the light of encouragement.

But hardly have the reports been received and placed on file when they cease to be matters of interest except for comparison. We look forward now to the opportunities that lie before us.

One problem there is, belonging to the whole Church, which especially concerns us in the Diocese of Albany—our mission to the scattered populations of the rural districts. It is no longer necessary to emphasize the fact that the moral tone of communities does not improve in the ratio of their distance from the cities, so commonly regarded as the centres of vice; nor does it startle the well informed to say that immorality in the country byways is a more deadly enemy than the vice of city slums, since it has fewer counter-vailing activities and interests.

It should be noted as a sign of the times bearing upon Missionary methods that a country Parish Church cannot reach so far afield as formerly in its hold upon the people. Modern facilities for travel, with the growing network of railways and trolleys, have, as we say, diminished distances. But in another sense it is quite as true to say that they have increased distances. A ten-mile drive, once regarded in the country as a short distance, is now looked upon as a great journey, unless it be on the line of a railway, to be covered in a few minutes amid the luxurious appointments of a palace car. Newspapers, mails, provisions are near at hand for the people from whom they were once remote. There is a change in the manner of life. People will not go so far for anything, not even for religion.

These changed conditions demand a development of rural Missionary work along lines which shall regard the country Parishes as centres from which outlying Missionary Stations can be worked, abandoning the attempt to carry on regular parochial life, at constant financial loss, in the weaker outposts, but so concentrating forces as to touch rural communities at more frequent points with the same expenditure of time and labor.

There are many indications that the American Church is to find, contrary to the popular impression, a peculiar opportunity in the mission to rural life. The movement towards more dignity and beauty in public worship has not left the remotest regions untouched. Modern culture reaches the people in the country as well as in the city. They become dissatisfied with the barren worship of their fathers. The drift is toward more form and color, and what is of more import, toward a worship which centres in an altar rather than in the coming and going of a man, a worship more independent, too, of the intellectual attainments of ministers.

Such are the peculiar circumstances of the land and time, which offer to the Church new difficulties and new opportunities.

Something remains to be said of the opportunities that lie before the Diocese in the new Church year which is soon to begin, to realize more worthily the breadth and height of the Missionary demand. The Committee begs that, in whatever weight may be given to its words, the Convention will not regard it as a commission of individuals clothed with a little brief authority to scold the reverend Clergy and to belabor them with resounding phrases. There is not a Priest in this Diocese who, if he should stand in the place of this Committee, would not devote his most fervid words to the cause of the Missions of the Diocese and of the world, or who would hesitate to present this cause to the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese as representing the supremest obligation of churchmanship. It is not necessarily the Priest of most blameless life who conducts a Retreat. It is not necessarily a committee composed of those whose Parishes have risen highest in Missionary zeal that speaks to the Convention of Missionary obligation. But with the one as with the other it is the impersonal voice which strives to give clearer and louder utterance to the conscience of the many, that each may go back to his Altar strong in the exaltation of new resolution for the future.

The fact that weighs most heavily upon the soul of a conscientious Priest is that he is responsible not only for himself, but also he is not free from responsibility in the moral shortcomings of his Parish. If there is spiritual deadness in his flock, if his parishioners are easily satisfied with a low average of morality, if the Ten Commandments and the law of love are commonly disregarded, great are the searchings of heart which invade the pastor's quiet hour. How then if he must admit to himself that a commandment of equal obligation in another sphere is being disregarded both in letter and in spirit, or kept but grudgingly by way of routine: "Go ye therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost," a command declared by the authority of Him who said, "All power is given unto Me in heaven and in earth!"

None will question that, if we are all really determined to make good our words and our genuine belief, the Missionary responsibility and opportunity can be brought home to the Parishes of the Diocese. This is the place and time for the searching of heart and the strengthening of faith and the renewal of determination with regard to Missions. If only we will make the inspiration of it last through twelve months, if we will not dare to fall back into the old routine of forwarding to the Board of Missions the loose change of the congregation on stated Sundays, a higher level of responsibility can be set for the years to come. Not merely to reach apportionments, but to reach the utmost. There is no dead limit of satisfaction in a moral claim. No one can tell you how strict an observance of the commandment to love your neighbour will be a sufficient discharge of your obligation. No one can tell you how strict an observance of the commandment to extend Christ's Kingdom will be a sufficient discharge of your obligation.

All of which means, some one may say, that we go home from the Convention to dun the people for an unlimited amount of money. We shall hear complaints about the sordidness of this incessant cry for money. For it is easy to forget that money is only a medium of exchange. It is an algebraic symbol, necessary for the working out of problems. When a man works hard enough with hand or brain to earn a dollar, is it necessarily a sordid dollar? Does it not rather represent in compact, marketable form, so much of the effort and service of a man's life? If a man takes this symbol of his honest toil and places it upon the Altar, and it goes to relieve the suffering of some poor Chinese in Wuchang, is that sordid? Let us not be shamefaced in our appeals for money. The cry of sordidness is based upon neither sound economics nor sound Christianity. The appeal for money is simply the appeal for personal service, in the ordinary medium of exchange for personal service.

Therefore the apportionment for the Missions of the Diocese, as well as the apportionment for the Missions of the world, is, if you will, the least possible amount of personal service in the ranks of each congregation that will carry out the work of the Church that has been planned and promised for the coming year. The work of the Church in the Diocese of Albany and the work of the Church throughout the world represent a united responsibility and privilege. Without the larger sense of moral obligation to the whole Church neither of these duties is likely to be fulfilled. But to set our faces toward the world-wide task which Christ commands his followers to fulfil is to deepen our desire to serve the rural districts and the remote Missionary Stations of this Diocese among regions and people perhaps to us always to be unknown.

For the Committee,

RALPH BIRDSALL,
Chairman.

Missionary addresses were made by the Right Rev. Sheldon Munson Griswold, D. D., Missionary Bishop of Salina, and the Right Rev. James Dow Morrison, D. D., LL. D., Missionary Bishop of Duluth.

The Convention adjourned to Thursday morning.

SECOND DAY.

THURSDAY MORNING, November 12, 1903.
7:00 O'CLOCK.

In the Cathedral the Holy Communion was administered, the Very Rev. Dean officiating, assisted by the Precentor.

TEN O'CLOCK.

Morning Prayer was said in the Guild House by the Precentor.

The Right Rev. President took the chair and called the Convention to order in the Graduates Hall of St. Agnes School.

The minutes of the previous day were read and adopted.

The names of the Clergy and Lay Deputies not present on the first day were called by the Secretary, and six Clergymen* and six Lay Deputies,† three representing one Church not represented yesterday, were found to be present.

The Rev. Wolcott W. Ellsworth read the following Reports:

The Trustees, in presenting this report, would call attention to the fact that of the over 160 Parishes and Missions in the Diocese only 38 have responded and sent offerings during the past year, a decrease of 14 in number from previous year and $206.90 in amount, leaving, as compared with last year, over $200 less on hand to commence with and increasing demands upon the fund. The offerings from the Parishes that have responded have been liberal. To meet the increasing demands we need to have a more general response from the Parishes, else the small stipends will have to be reduced.

WM. CROSWELL DOANE,
President.

ANDREW B. JONES,
Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE FUND FOR THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED CLERGYMEN.

Your Committee have examined the report of the Treasurer of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen and find it correct.

We are deeply impressed with the diminished interest which has been taken in this fund. In view of the small number of Parishes which responded to the appeal of last year, this Committee hope that more will be done the coming year. From the fact that there will soon be larger demands made upon this fund, and that there is a balance on hand of a little over one-third that of a year ago, the Convention is urged to take the subject seriously to heart. An urgent recommendation is made that every Parish make an earnest effort to contribute to this fund.

WOLCOTT W. ELLSWORTH,
WILLIAM HOLLANDS,
CHARLES F. BURHANS.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION

The Report of the Treasurer on the Theological Education Fund has been examined by your Committee and found correct. During the current $440.07 has been contributed for this fund, an increase of $107.57 over year. As one Parish alone sent $225, attention is called to the fact that would have been a notable falling off from the receipts except for this contribution.

Your Committee recommend that the various Parishes of the Diocese tribute more generally and generously to this important fund. Five students were helped from this fund during the past year in their theological studies.

Respectfully submitted,

H. L. GILBERT,
HENRY RUSSELL TALBOT,
GEORGE LYNDE RICHARDSON

The Rev. James Alnutt Smith presented the Report of the Registrar and that of the Committee on the same; and, on his motion, the recommendation of the Committee making an appropriation of $1000.00 for the Registrar's expenses, was adopted by the Convention.

THE REGISTRAR'S REPORT.

The Registrar would respectfully report that, owing to the enlargement of the Choir of the Cathedral and the changes in the Crypt, it was necessary to remove all the contents of his cases and store them, for safekeeping, in the closets of the new Clergy rooms. The Registrar understands that a convenient place and space will be provided for the Diocesan archives in the building on the northeast end of the Cathedral, where he hopes that the thing will shortly be in accessible order again. No Journals have been received this year, nor any new material put in the library cases.

The usual number of Diocesan Journals for 1903, and reports of Missions and Jurisdictions, have been received and retained for the present at the Registrar's office in Cohoes. Several lost Journals have been replaced, notably that of Louisiana for 1893, which completes the thirteen Journals of that year which were taken out and not returned. Several Journals of the last two or three years are still lacking, never having been received. The Registrar has been in communication with other Registrars and Secretaries about them. In order to be of any permanent value, our files should be complete and in order. A missing Journal prevents the binding of others. The Registrar has purchased Mr. Arthur J. Weisse's "Troy's One Hundred Years," published in 1891, and now become very scarce. This contains an account of the early history of all the Troy Churches. Subsequently, Mr. Weisse presented a copy of his history of the City of Troy and its vicinity, published in 1886, which contains cuts of old St. Paul's and St. John's Churches, besides brief historical notes on their origin.

Mr. William H. Scovill, of Hudson, has contributed two bound copies of the History of Christ Church, Hudson, one of them for supplying cuts of the old and the present Christ Church. These three named books contribute considerably to our collection of Parish histories. The Diocese is indebted to Mr. G. Pomeroy Keese, of Cooperstown, for his interesting series of historical sketches of the ten Churches of the Diocese which were founded over one hundred years ago. At his request the Registrar wrote up, from notes of personal research, the history of St. John's, Stillwater, one of the ten, of which no printed sketch in full had been published. It may here be noted that St. Paul's, Troy, and Trinity, Lansingburgh, will be added to our centennial Parishes next year. Twenty-eight of our other Parishes are over 50 years old, eight over 70, eight over 75, and eight over 90. The collections of prints and photographs of the Church buildings of the Diocese is steadily growing. It now contains no less than 160 pictures of the Church property of 45 Parishes. In several cases it has been necessary to buy these pictures, as plates and negatives were owned by publishers and photographers, and could not be furnished by the Clergy or members of their congregations. The Registrar renews his plea for gifts to this collection. The Rev. George B. Johnson, Registrar of Vermont, has lately sent your Registrar a number of our own Journals, including years from 1870 to 1901. Through the Secretary we have completed a set of our Journals for the Drew Theological Seminary at Madison, N. J. The State Library at Albany has a complete set of our Journals to date, which the Registrar supplies from year to year.

The Jarvis Centenary Committee of Connecticut, through the Rev. Dr. Hart, has presented a handsome copy of the accounts of the Bishop Jarvis Centenary and of Bishop Brewster's Consecration in 1897. The books and pamphlets presented by the Bishop, and the Church Eclectic, continued by Canon Fulcher, await filing in our new room. Dr. Carey has given us a copy of his book on the Golden Gate.

The financial statement is as follows: Received from Treasurer of the Diocesan Fund, $10. Expenses: Repaid Registrar for cash overdrawn, $1.27; History of Troy, $2.50; expressage, $1.20; postage, $1.08; fares, $1.39; supplies, $1.10; photograph, .40; moving library, $1. Total, $8.90. Balance on hand, .04.

The Registrar did not draw upon the Treasurer of the Diocesan Fund for the full amount, $20, voted last year, as $10 was all that was required. He would respectfully request that the sum of $10 from the Diocesan Fund be granted for the expenses of the Registrar for the coming year.

FREDERICK S. SILL,
Registrar.

COHOES, N. Y., Nov. 10, 1903.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REGISTRAR'S REPORT

Your Committee have examined the Registrar's report, and wish to express their appreciation of the somewhat thankless labors imposed upon him. Attention is called by the Registrar to the fact that next year $20

Church, Troy, and Trinity, Lansingburgh, will be added to the centennial Parishes, and also that there are eight Parishes over 90 years old and 16 over 70 years old in the Diocese. In accordance with the request of the Registrar your Committee recommend that the sum of $10 be granted to the Registrar for expenses during the coming year.

The Rev. George D. Silliman, D. D., read the Report of the Bible and Prayer Book Society and that of the Committee on the same.

REPORT OF THE BIBLE AND COMMON PRAYER BOOK SOCIETY OF ALBANY AND ITS VICINITY.

The Society, in making its report to the Convention, respectfully submits the following summary of its work for the year:

Receipts.

Balance on hand Nov. 1, 1902.....	$357 87
Income from Permanent Fund.....	$916 00
Contributions from 19 Parishes.....	172 05
	<hr/>
	1,088 05
	$1,445 92

Payments.

Amount added to Permanent Fund.....	$100 00
For books distributed.....	821 85

	<hr/>
Balance on hand Nov. 7, 1903.....	$497 67
	<hr/> <hr/>

In addition to the above, the "Mann Bequest," of St. John's Church, Troy, has expended $92 for books distributed in the Diocese and outside of the Diocese.

The Society has distributed through 95 grants the following books: 451 Bibles; 27 New Testaments; 12 Greek Testaments; 1,438 Prayer Books; 3 Altar service books; 1,276 Hymnals; 15 Psalter and service books; 168 theological works; making a total of 4,081 volumes.

The Society desires to make special mention of the severe loss it has sustained in the death of Mr. Harry B. Dauchy, of Troy, who has been a valued member of the Board of Managers for many years.

Respectfully submitted,

A. RANDOLPH B. HEGEMAN,
Recording Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE BIBLE AND COMMON PRAYER BOOK SOCIETY OF ALBANY AND ITS VICINITY.

The Committee appointed to examine the report of the Bible and Prayer Book Society of Albany and Its Vicinity would report that they have examined the report, and from the data presented believe the same to be correct. The affairs of the Society are so well known and administered that comment seems hardly necessary. The loss to the Society of its long-time Treasurer, Mr. Harry B. Dauchy, takes away one of the landmarks of the Society, as he had been connected with the same since the foundation of the Diocese. If reports be correct, the foundation of the Bible and Prayer Book Society was the first nucleus of the present Diocese of Albany. The good that it has done and the work it has accomplished ought to impel every Parish to make a contribution.

For the Committee,

GEO. D. SILLIMAN,
G. H. PURDY.

The Rev. Calbraith B. Perry, D. D., read the Report of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, and that of the Clergy Reserve Fund and that of the Committee on the same, the resolution contained in which was adopted.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE AGED AND INFIRM CLERGY FUND.

The Trustees of the Fund for the Support of Aged and Infirm Clergy in the Diocese of Albany respectfully report that the receipts and disbursements for the year have been as reported in detail by the Treasurer, of which the following is a summary:

Receipts.

Balance on hand as reported at the last Convention.....	$118 80
From interest on investments.....	1,158 59
From contributions from Parishes.....	614 47
	$1,891 86

Disbursements.

For stipends.....	$1,247 50
For rent safe deposit box.....	10 00
	<hr/>
	1,257 50
Cash on hand in National Commercial Bank, Albany, N. Y.....	<hr/>
	$634 36

The item "Contributions from Parishes, $614.47." contains $22.24 of the contributions of last year which came to hand too late to be included in the last annual report. The net amount of this item, therefore, for the current year, is $592.23, as against the corresponding item for 1901-1902 of $700. This is a decrease of $111.65.

90 Report of the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund.

The item, "Interest on investments, $1,158.59," shows an apparent increase over the corresponding item, $1,087.64, for last year, of $70.95. This increase consists for the most part of past-due interest paid this year. Interest on all the securities composing the permanent fund is now paid up to date.

The Trustees hold the following securities, which constitute the Permanent Fund:

Bond and Mortgage on Bishop's House, 4%.....	$3,600 0
Perry Judgment on Bishop's House, 4%.....	6,315 8
One Troy City Railway Bond, 5%.....	1,000 0
One U. S. Registered Bond, 4%.....	1,000 0
One Erie R. R. Gen. Lien Gold Bond, 4%.....	1,000 0
Three Wabash R. R. 2d Mtg. Bonds, 5%.....	3,000 0
Three Knoxville, Atlanta & Northern R. R. 1st Mtg. Bonds, 5%...	3,000 0
Stolp Bond and Mortgage, 5%.....	800 0
Croissant Bond and Mortgage, 5%.....	500 0
One People's Gas Light & Coke Co., Chicago, Gold Bond, 6%.....	500 0
Kerwin Bond and Mortgage, 5%.....	1,400 0
Hogan Bond and Mortgage, 6%.....	250 0
Cash Albany Savings Bank, 3½%.....	293 2
Cash Albany City Savings Institution, 3½%.....	511 2
Cash National Commercial Bank, Albany.....	1,500 0

It will be noticed, comparing the above with the corresponding statement for last year, that there has been paid during the past year upon the Stolp bond and mortgage the sum of $100, and that the Southwick bond and mortgage of $1,400 has been paid in full — a total of $1,500. The latter mortgage was paid just prior to the date of this report. The Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund have, however, arranged for the purchase, with these moneys and those in the savings banks, of first-class bonds, which at the present time can be bought at such a price as will net the fund over 4½%.

Dated ALBANY, N. Y., November 9th, 1903.

WM. CROSWELL DOANE,
President.
LEWIS R. PARKER,
Treasurer.

Your Treasurer is pleased to report that during the last week of October 1903, he was visited by a Committee of the Diocese, consisting of John Horrocks, Esq., of Cohoes, and Robert G. Smith, Esq., of Troy, who examined with care the securities in which this fund is invested. This was certainly a most proper and business-like action on the part of the Diocese, and such an investigation will undoubtedly be welcomed by every Diocesan Treasurer.

It is to be hoped that a full investigation of this sort will be made every year on behalf of the Diocese, of the funds of the several Diocesan Treasurers.

It is respectfully submitted that it would be wise to include in this investigation a full examination and audit of the books of the several Treasurers.

As requested by the last Annual Convention, the Treasurer respectfully presents the list of Parishes contributing to the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund during the past year: Holy Innocents, Albany; St. Paul's, Albany; St. Peter's, Albany; St. Ann's, Amsterdam; Trinity, Athens; Calvary, Burnt Hills; Christ, Ballston Spa; Christ, Cooperstown; St. Luke's, Cambridge; Grace, Cherry Valley; St. John's, Champlain; Christ, Coxsackie; St. John's, Delhi; St. John's, Essex; St. John's, East Line; St. Paul's, Franklin; Of the Messiah, Glens Falls; St. Paul's, Greenwich; St. Mark's, Green Island; Christ, Gilbertsville; Christ, Herkimer; Christ, Hudson; St. Mark's, Hoosick Falls; St. Augustine's, Ilion; St. John's, Johnstown; St. Paul's, Kinderhook; Trinity, Lansingburgh; Of the Memorial, Middleville; Zion, Morris; St. Mark's, Malone; St. Luke's, Mechanicville; Grace, Mohawk; St. John's, Ogdensburg; St. James', Oneonta; Trinity, Plattsburgh; Trinity, Potsdam; All Saints', Round Lake; Christ, Schenectady; St. Stephen's, Schuylerville; St. Paul's, Salem; Zion, Sandy Hill; St. John the Evangelist, Stockport; St. John's, Stillwater; St. Paul's, Troy; St. Barnabas', Troy; Christ, Troy; St. John's, Troy; Of the Cross, Ticonderoga; St. Matthew's, Unadilla; St. Mary's, Willsboro.

The following Parish has contributed to the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund during the last year, but its contribution reached the Treasurer too late to be included in the annual report: St. Luke's, Catskill.

In connection with the question of investment for this fund, your Treasurer can only repeat in substance what he reported last year. A portion of this fund is needed to loan to the Diocesan Fund and the Theological Education Fund, and consequently it is as yet impossible to put any large part of it into a permanent investment. Your Treasurer has kept as much of the money as possible deposited in the savings bank. He regrets to say that he has been obliged to use so much of the fund in loans during the year that he has at present on deposit in the savings bank only the sum of $1,248 86.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE DIOCESAN FUND.

The Committee on the Diocesan Fund approve the recommendations of the Treasurer and offer the following resolutions:

1st. Resolved, That an assessment be laid upon the Parishes and Mission Stations of four per cent. (4%) upon the salaries paid or pledged the Clergy for the purposes of the Diocesan Fund, one-half payable April 1st, 1904, and one-half payable October 1st, 1904.

2d. Resolved, That the Treasurer be authorized to pay to the Clergy in attendance upon this Convention, and belonging to the Diocese, residing a distance of 20 miles from Albany or more, their actual traveling expenses, provided that in no case shall he pay to exceed seven cents per mile one way.

For the Committee,

OLIVER SHAW NEWELL,
SIDNEY G. ASHMORE.

The resolutions recommended by the Committee being under discussion, Mr. George Foster Peabody, of St. James' Church, Caldwell, moved to amend the first resolution by inserting 3½% in place of 4%; and the second by the addition of the words "except the Rectors of Parishes which have not paid their assessments." Both amendments having failed to pass, the resolutions were adopted as reported by the Committee.

Mr. Hobart W. Thompson, Secretary of the Committee, presented and read the

* For Assessments for the Salary of the Bishop, see Appendix D.

The fact that the total salary has been paid this year is due to $3,200 income being received from the Episcopal Endowment Fund ($200 in excess of the usual $3,000), rather than to the action of the Parishes. We regret to report that there is due from Parishes $544.10, $176.25 greater than the indebtedness of last year. Of this amount $100 will probably be paid, but the balance cannot be collected, and is due from Parishes who either refuse to pay their full assessment or do not respond to their obligations in any way.

One notable case has occurred this year, and the first one, we believe, where one of the large Parishes declines to pay its full assessment, reducing the amount formerly paid to less than one-half. This is a very material loss.

The Committee desire to place on record their appreciation of the voluntary contribution made by St. Luke's Church, Cambridge, who again, as in a number of years past, have assisted this work so generously.

The Committee wish most earnestly to call the attention of this Convention to their resolution for an increase in the Episcopal Endowment Fund, offered at the last Convention, and trusts that this important matter may have the consideration it deserves.

The Committee ask the Convention to renew these resolutions from the last Journal:

Resolved, That an appeal be made to individuals in the several Parishes of the Diocese to contribute towards the increase of the Episcopal Endowment Fund, and that the Convention appoint a Committee to take this matter in hand.

Resolved, That the Parishes which are delinquent be requested, as a matter of duty, to make up the arrearages of their assessments.

For the Committee,

HOBART W. THOMPSON,

Secretary.

The resolutions recommended in the Report were adopted by the Convention, and the Right Rev. President appointed as the Committee on the Increase of the Episcopal Fund, the Rev. Joseph Carey, S. T. D., Mr. G. Pomeroy Keese, and Mr. Hobart W. Thompson.

On motion the resolutions recommended by the Board of Missions * were adopted:

Inasmuch as several Parishes in the Diocese have adopted the plan of definite annual subscriptions by members of said Parishes for the prompt quarterly payment of the apportionment for the Mission Work of the Diocese, and inasmuch as the plan has worked with comparative ease and eminent success; therefore,

Resolved, That the Rectors and Missionaries of the Diocese are strongly recommended and urged to adopt the plan of securing from the members of the Parish or Mission Station definite annual subscriptions for Diocesan Missions, which shall be paid in advance or quarterly.

The Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., presented

* See Report of the Board of Missions, p. 78.

REPORT NUMBER I OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

The Committee on Canons, to whom it was referred,* recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That Canon I be amended by adding to section 2 the following words: "He shall continue this list up to the first day of the next succeeding Convention, by making entry therein of all additions, removals, deaths, and changes of work or residence of Clergy within the Diocese as they occur," so that the amended Canon shall read as follows:

CANON I.

Of the List of Clergymen in the Diocese.

SECTION 1. On the first day of each Convention, regular or special, the Ecclesiastical Authority shall present to the Convention a List of the Clergy canonically resident in the Diocese, annexing the names of their respective Parishes, Offices and residences, and the dates of their becoming resident in the Diocese.

SEC. 2. The Secretary shall record this list of names in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. He shall continue this record up to the date of the next succeeding Convention, by making entry therein of all additions, removals, deaths, and changes of work or residence of Clergy within the Diocese as they occur.

SEC. 3. From this record shall be made up by the Secretary the list of the Clergymen entitled, according to the Constitution, to seats in the Convention; which list may at any time be revised and corrected by the Convention.

For the Committee,

C. M. NICKERSON,

Chairman.

On motion, the amendment to Canon I was adopted by the Convention, and the Bishop of the Diocese announced his concurrence in the change.

The Rev. Dr. Nickerson presented and read

REPORT NUMBER II OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

The Committee on Canons, to whom was referred a proposed new Canon,† to be entitled Canon XX, respectfully report that they have considered the same and recommend its adoption.

The proposed new Canon is as follows:

CANON XX.

Of the Examination of Securities, &c.

SECTION 1. A Committee of three Laymen shall be appointed at each Annual Convention to examine the securities of the several funds held by The Board of Missions, The Trustees of the Diocese, The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, The Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, The Trustees of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergy, The Trustees of the Clergy Reserve Fund and the Trustees of all other trust funds, and to report at the next Convention.

* See page 57.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of such Committee to meet in each year at some time between the first day of November and the date of the meeting of the Annual Convention, at the place or places where the Treasurers of the above named funds reside, or where the securities in their keeping are deposited, and make an examination of such securities and of all books, papers, vouchers, etc., relating to them, and prepare a report to be presented to the Annual Convention next ensuing.

They also recommend the passage of the following:

Resolved, That the Canon now entitled Canon XX be renumbered Canon X XI and the Canons following be renumbered accordingly.

For the Committee,

C. M. NICKERSON,

Chairman.

On motion; the recommendation of the Committee was passed, and the proposed new Canon XX was adopted by the Convention with the change of numbering of the following Canons; and the Bishop of the Diocese announced his concurrence in the change.

The Right Rev. President appointed as the Committee on Securities of Funds, Mr. Arthur Duncan Moir, Mr. Herbert O. Bailey, and Mr. Robert E. Stute.

The Rev. Dr. Nickerson presented and read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE APPORTIONMENT FOR GENERAL MISSIONS.

The Committee to whom was referred the report of the Committee appointed at the last meeting of the Convention to consider the Diocesan apportionment for General Missions respectfully report that in their opinion this Diocese should in some way express to the Board of Managers its disapproval of the scheme of apportionment by which the Diocese of Albany is apportioned fifteen thousand and nine hundred dollars. Your Committee are further of the opinion that, pending action on the above named expression of disapproval, the Diocese should undertake to raise ten thousand dollars for General Missions during the ensuing year; the basis for the apportionment on the Parishes of the Diocese to be the item in last year's parochial reports known as "Current expenses, including salaries."

Your Committee therefore offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to formulate the forementioned expression of disapproval, and that the Committee be instructed to apportion ten thousand dollars for General Missions, as the lowest amount, among the Parishes and Mission Stations of the Diocese on the basis of "Current expenses, including salaries," with the assurance that the Diocese will make every effort to secure the largest gifts for General Missions.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

For the Committee,

C. M. NICKERSON,

Chairman.

The Right Rev. President appointed as the Committee on the Apportionment for General Missions, the Rev. Charles M. Nickerson D. D., the Rev. William Prall, D. D., the Rev. Paul H. Birdsall, Mr. Herbert O. Bailey, and Mr. Henry Griffing.

At five minutes before 12 o'clock, noon, the Right Rev. President led the Convention in prayers for Missions and Christian Unity.

At noon the Convention proceeded to the regular order of the day, the Annual Election.

The Right Rev. President appointed the

On motion of Mr. Charles E. Patterson, of St. Paul's Church, Troy, it was Resolved, That the secretary of the Convention be directed to cast one ballot for the members of the Standing Committee and Deputies to the General Convention as nominated on yesterday.

The Secretary cast the ballot as instructed and reported the result, and the Right Rev. President declared elected as the Standing Committee, the Rev. James Caird, the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D., the Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., the Rev. Henry R. Freeman, Mr. Norman B. Squires, Mr. John T. Joyce, Mr. Hobart W. Thompson, and Mr. Charles L. Pruyn; and for Deputies to the General Convention, the Rev. Walton W. Battershall, D. D., the Rev. Joseph Carey, S. T. D., the Rev. Edgar A. Enos, D. D., the Rev. Reynold M. Kirby, D. D., Mr. Leslie Pell-Clarke, Mr. Spencer Trask, Mr. Louis Hasbrouck, and Mr. G. Pomeroy Keese.

The roll of the Clergy was called by the Secretary, and that of the Parishes by the Assistant Secretary.

Ballots were received for Provisional Deputies to the General Convention, and the tellers withdrew to count the votes.

On motion of the Secretary of the Convention, the ballot was unanimously dispensed with and the following elections were made:

NINTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON CHURCH WORK AMONG THE DEAF AND DUMB.

The Commission on Church Work Among the Deaf and Dumb, in presenting this, their Ninth Annual Report, desire to emphasize the importance of this Mission to the particular portion of our brethren among whom it is carried on, and to call the attention of the Church people of the Diocese to the unusual opportunities enjoyed by our Missionary to the deaf, the Rev. Harry Van Allen, for reaching and influencing the deaf people of a very large portion of the State of New York.

Residing as he does, in Utica, and having access, through his connection with the Dioceses of Central New York and Albany, to the schools for the deaf at Rome and Malone, he comes readily into contact with both adults and children, and is exerting a most salutary and helpful influence upon all those to whom he ministers. In his periodical visits to the Parishes which have been taken as the centres of his labours in their respective districts, he not only provides the deaf with public spiritual ministrations, but also comes into close personal relations with them as individuals, and is thus able to give them valuable counsel and advice.

Public and private interest in the secular education of the deaf and dumb in the United States is making many improvements in the methods and facilities of carrying on this work, and in a visit which the President of the Commission recently made to the Clarke Institution, at Northampton, Mass., he was surprised to learn that a number of its students were the sons of Englishmen who had been brought over to this country for the purpose of obtaining the superior advantages that are offered to the deaf in the United States. When the progress of secular education is so marked, the Church must certainly not lag behind, but must continue to maintain the honourable and enviable position that she has gained for herself in this country as being foremost in the movement of providing religious services and spiritual ministrations for the deaf and dumb.

The death last year of the Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, D. D., of New York City, removed a veteran from the ranks of the workers in this particular field, and placed additional responsibilities upon the younger men who are charged with this sacred trust. We are glad to believe, however, that all of them are nobly responding to these increased responsibilities, and are courageously and successfully carrying their additional burdens, and in no part of the land is this fact more noticeable than in the district over which our own Missionary extends his labours.

Because the Commission is unable to provide him with an adequate support, he is endeavoring to spread himself over an area of 42,701 miles, his territorial limits embracing the Dioceses of Central New York, Vermont and Albany. The past year is a repetition of preceding ones in showing a constant and gradual increase of interest in the work on the part of the deaf, and the report of the Missionary records the largest number of services in the history of the Mission, the largest amount of offerings from the deaf, and the largest number of Confirmations.

The coming year will complete a decade of Mr. Van Allen's service in the Diocese as Lay Reader, Deacon and Priest, and we ask for a general and generous response towards carrying on the work from the Parishes of the Diocese.

The report of the Treasurer shows the following receipts and disbursements:

ALBANY, November 12, 1903.

REPORT OF THE MISSIONARY TO THE DEAF AND DUMB.

To the Commission on Church Work Among the Deaf and Dumb in the Diocese of Albany:

GENTLEMEN. — The record of my work as Missionary to the Deaf and Dumb of the Diocese during the past year differs only in detail from that of former years. Services have been maintained regularly in all the larger cities and towns where the deaf can conveniently be gathered; numerous calls have been made upon isolated families and individuals; much personal missionary work not easily summarized has been done, and, in general, the Missionary has given advice, encouragement and assistance wherever opportunity offered. I am glad to report a continuance of the encouraging features which have marked former years—an increase in the number of services held and a gradual and gratifying growth in the amount of the offerings of the deaf. For the first time in the history of the mission their contributions have been more than sufficient to cover the traveling and incidental expenses of the Missionary. With the exception of two places where local conditions are especially unfavorable, interest in the services is steadily maintained, the attendance is excellent and the outlook for the future is most hopeful.

The general material prosperity of the country is reflected in the condition of the deaf and dumb. At present, all who desire it can find employment with little difficulty and at good wages, and beyond assisting a few young men to make their first start in life, I have been called upon to do very little in the way of helping my people to find work. Really deserving appeals for financial assistance have also been much fewer than in former years. I am hopeful that this state of affairs will continue indefinitely, for the deaf are among the very first to be affected by industrial depression, and the inevitable drifting of population following the closing of factories and shops is one of the commonest and most annoying hindrances to the steady progress of our mission.

I have held services as follows: At Troy, 23 (of which 10 were Celebrations of the Holy Communion); at Albany, 13; at Amsterdam, 12; at Schenectady, 11; at Herkimer, 11; at Johnstown, 11 (of which 3 were Celebrations); at Little Falls, 4; at Hoosick Falls, 2; at Malone, 1; at Glens Falls, 1. Baptismal services: Johnstown, 1; Hoosick Falls, 1. Confirmation services: Johnstown, 1; Albany, 1; Rome, 1. Burial service: Johnstown, 1. Marriage service: Herkimer, 1. Visitation service: Johnstown, 1. Appointment kept, but no service held: Amsterdam, 1. Services at Gallaudet Home, 2. Total, 100.

In addition to the above, I have given lectures or talks to the deaf people in Albany twice, in Amsterdam twice, and in Troy once. I have attended four social or business meetings in Troy and two in Albany. In June a festival was held in Troy which was pleasant and successful in spite of a heavy rain storm. The annual picnic of the people of Albany and Troy was held at Kinderhook Lake in July, and was fairly well attended. In addition to the residents of the two cities named, visitors were present from New York City and Western Massachusetts. In August I attended the picnic of the graduates of the school at Rome, held near Utica, at which many deaf people of this Diocese were present. These annual gatherings of the deaf are growing in popularity and importance, and the fact that they are held at a distance from the large cities is strongly in their favor.

At the request of the Rev. Dr. Chamberlain, in August I visited the Gallaudet Home for Blind, Aged and Infirm Deaf Mutes at Wappinger's Falls and celebrated the Holy Communion and read Evening Prayer for the inmates. This noble institution, a lasting monument to the zeal and devotion of the late Dr. Gallaudet, is doing a most useful and necessary work. It is a matter of regret that lack of means prevents the admission of beneficiaries to the full capacity of its fine new building. There are now in the poorhouses of the various counties of the State quite a number of worthy deaf people who would be much happier and better cared for at the Home, and I hope that at no distant time the necessary legislation will be secured to enable the counties to board their deaf charges at the Home. Provided the cost did not exceed that of maintaining poor persons at the county farm, the arrangement would be distinctly advantageous to the counties, and it would also solve one of the problems of the Home, and result in placing many aged people in much more congenial and healthful surroundings.

There have been two Baptisms during the year, one adult at Johnstown and one infant at Hoosick Falls. At the Cathedral at Albany Bishop Doane has confirmed two persons, one for St. Paul's, Troy, and one for St. Paul's, Albany. There has also been one Confirmation at St. John's, Johnstown, and in June I presented two young men to Bishop Olmsted at Rome, they being pupils at the school for the deaf there, and being confirmed for Trinity, Schaghticoke, and Christ, Gloversville, respectively. There has been one marriage at which I officiated, and one burial.

I am deeply grateful to the Womans' Auxiliary Branch of St. Paul's, Troy, for a most generous missionary box sent me last winter. I am also most thankful for a number of valuable theological books given me by St. John's Church, Troy, from the Mann Bequest, which have been a most useful addition to my slender library.

With grateful acknowledgments of the kindness and consideration shown me by Clergy and Laity alike, and especially by the Bishop and the members of the Commission, I am,

Very respectfully yours,

H. VAN ALLEN.

The Rev. Edgar L. Sanford presented and read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

The Committee to which has been assigned the duty of reporting upon the General Theological Seminary find the ordinary details of the workings of that institution and the ordinary notes of encouragement eclipsed in importance by three matters of unusual moment in the life of the Seminary.

The first is the accession to the Deanship of the Very Rev. Wilford L. Robbins, D. D., whose fitness for the exceptional duties assigned him is unquestioned, and whose assumption of the duties of his office may well be said to mark an era in the life of the Seminary. The second is the increased opportunity to be granted to Seminary students owing to an arrangement between the Seminary and Columbia University; and the third is the increased knowledge of, and interest in, the Seminary that has come from the constant publicity that has been given to its principles and mission in connection with the question of the Deanship. And now that this representative institution of the Church has begun a new era on broad lines of policy, with enlarged opportunities, with the eyes of the whole Church upon it, and a man at the head of affairs of whom we have a right to hope great things, your Committee are glad to be allowed to commend the Seminary once more to the prayers of this Diocese, and to predict for it an even greater measure of usefulness than it has yet achieved.

Respectfully submitted,

E. L. SANFORD,

The Trustees of the Diocese of Albany report as follows:

A meeting of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany was held in the Bishop's house, Albany, on the morning of Saturday, December 19, 1903, at half-past ten, pursuant to a call by the Bishop.

Present, the Bishop, presiding, Rev. Drs. Carey and Battershall, Messrs. Peck, Livingston and Cox, Secretary.

Prayer was made by the Bishop.

The reading of the minutes of the last meeting was dispensed with.

It was moved that the Trustees accept the two trusts of Miss Clarkson. One was for $2,000, and bound the Trustees to use the income for the purpose of keeping Zion Church, Colton, insured and repaired. The other was for $4,000, with like conditions with respect to Trinity Church, Potsdam.

The Treasurer read a list of the Trust Funds held by the Trustees and stated the securities in which they were invested temporarily.

On motion the action of the Treasurer was approved and at his suggestion he was directed in future to invest the trust funds in such securities as are specified by law for savings banks.

The Treasurer was instructed to pay the income of the Bryson trust fund to Mother Eliza, at the Sisters' House, Albany, and on her receipt therefor, shall be released. She to make annual report.

The Trustees declined to give a power of attorney to George P. Lee to transfer the real estate left to them by the will of Rebecca V. V. Perry.

The following was passed:

Resolved, That the Treasurer be and he is hereby authorized to draw for or accept, collect and receive all dividends and interest declared on any corporate stocks or bonds or bonds and mortgages held in the name of this Board and, with the Bishop of the Diocese, is authorized to discharge all mortgages and, for that purpose, to sign proper instruments and to affix thereto the corporate seal of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany.

The Treasurer presented a deed of the Church and Rectory and certain lots of land belonging to the Free Church of the Epiphany, Greenbush, Rensselaer county, N. Y., to the Trustees of the Diocese by the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund. On this property there is at present a mortgage.

It was moved that the Trustees take and accept the property represented by this deed.

The Trustees declined to accept any responsibility for any obligations incurred by the members of the vestry of St. Mark's Church, Philmont, without their knowledge or consent, and further declared that they are not and cannot be held responsible for any indebtedness incurred by occupants of property which they hold as trustees.

In the matter of the trust fund left by Miss Treadwell to Grace Chapel of Stamford, N. Y., it was moved that the Bishop and the Treasurer be authorized to confer with Mr. Jas. McLean, who understood Miss Treadwell's wishes, and that they have power to act.

The deed of Wm. Seward Webb and wife to the Trustees of the Diocese of a lot of land in the town of Webb, with the condition that the Trustees build a church to be built on it within three years, was presented by the Treasurer and the following was passed:

Resolved, That while recognizing the generous intention of the giver, the Trustees of the Diocese are unable to accept the property with the conditions attached requiring them to build a church on it. property shall be deeded to the Trustees witho authorized their officers to accept the property and will do what in their power lies to promote the erection of a church building on the lot.

It was moved, that the matter of the property left by the will of the Rev. Mr. Rogers to the Trustees be referred to Mr. Levi Hasbrouck with directions to examine into it and report to the Board.

The President, the Treasurer and the Secretary were elected an Executive Committee with power to act during the recess of the Board.

It was moved that the President be authorized to apply to the court for permission and that, upon authority being so given for such conveyance, he be and is hereby authorized to execute, on behalf of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany, to the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of St. Mary's Church, Springfield Center, N. Y., a conveyance of the Parish House and lot on which it stands, described in a certain deed of Mrs. Anna Pell to the Trustees, dated August 3, 1894.

It was resolved to accept the trust fund given by Mary L. Thurman for the benefit of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Chestertown, N. Y., and that the Treasurer be directed to pay the income to the missionary in charge on the first days of November and May.

The deed of Mary Hall Tanner of property at North Granville in the town of Granville, Washington county, was presented by the Treasurer. The deed was dated April 25, 1903, and was recorded in Washington county clerk's office September 28, 1903, in book 134 at page 157.

On motion it was resolved that the Trustees take and accept the property represented by this deed.

It was explained to the Trustees that a change was to be made in the location of Waddell avenue, Fort Plain, N. Y., by which a portion of the land now owned by the Trustees was desired for the avenue, and that other land would be given in exchange for it, and, on motion, it was resolved that the President be authorized to execute the required deed by signing his name as President and affixing the seal of the Board to the same.

The deed of a lot in Twilight Park, Greene county, on which the Church of All Angels stands, was presented by the Treasurer. This deed contained numerous restrictions in regard to occupation of the lot common to all deeds from the Twilight Park Association.

On motion it was resolved to take and accept the property represented by this deed.

The condition of St. John's Church, at Tannersville, in regard to keeping the church edifice insured was explained to the Board, and it was resolved to take no action in the matter.

It was resolved that the Treasurer be authorized to hold as custodian securities and a note on behalf of the Rector and Vestry of St. Peter's Church, Hobart, with no obligation to be responsible for the collection of the note.

The deed of Arthur Duncan Moir and wife, dated September 26, 1903, of a building and the lot on which it stands, used for various purposes in connection with St. Eustace's Church and memorial of his brother in the village of Lake Placid, Essex county, N. Y., was presented to the Trustees by the Treasurer.

On motion it was resolved to take and accept the property represented by this deed.

The Secretary was directed to write to the various parties whom the action of the trustees to-day affected.

On motion, adjourned.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. B. Cox,
Secretary

The Right Rev. President declared elected as Provisional Deputies to the General Convention, the Rev. George D. Silliman, D. D., the Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D., the Rev. George L. Richardson, Mr. Francis N. Mann, Mr. John D. Henderson, Mr. William G. Rice, and Mr. Herbert O. Bailey.

On motion of the Rev. William M. Cook, the following memorial was adopted:

MEMORIAL TO THE GENERAL CONVENTION.

WHEREAS, Much uncertainty exists as to the exact meaning of the word "Communicant" as that is used in the reports of Parishes and Dioceses; and WHEREAS, It is important that this item in the statistics of the Church should be obtained with the utmost possible accuracy and uniformity; therefore, Resolved, That this Convention of the Diocese of Albany memorialize the General Convention to give to the Church a definition of the term "Communicant" as that is to be understood in making returns of the statistics of the Church.

On motion of the Rev. Ralph Birdsall, permission was given to have printed in the Journal without being read to the Convention the following Reports in regard to the Orphan House at Cooperstown:

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE ORPHAN HOUSE OF THE HOLY SAVIOUR AT COOPERSTOWN.

The record of the year at the Orphan House presents in some respects a cheerful contrast to the rather doleful report which the Committee was obliged to offer to the last Convention. At that time the institution had passed through a season marked by many illnesses, mostly of a serious nature, some fatal. During the last year there has been but one death in the institution, and that from incurable constitutional causes. Aside from this, the Orphan House has enjoyed a freedom from sickness quite noteworthy in so large a family. This happy state of affairs must be attributed in large measure to the improved sanitary arrangements made possible by the addition of the fine new building which has come into use since the last report was made. This building means a notable advance in the equipment of the Orphan House. It contains on the first floor a reading room and school room, while above stairs are the much needed apartments for workers, and a hospital ward which may be effectively quarantined in case of necessity.

The Superintendent, Miss Eleanor S. Hart, is loyally devoted to the work, and has given to it the impulse of unselfish and painstaking management. Among the promising features of the year's progress may be mentioned the introduction in the class room of modern primary department methods for the little ones, occasional military drill for the boys, regular instruction in sewing and cooking for the girls, and industrial work in basketry for both boys and girls.

As for the mental and social atmosphere of the Orphan House, it may be said that it has none of the gloom which the popular imagination associates with a charitable institution. The children have as many pleasures as most boys and girls; many more than they would have had in the homes from which they came. An incident of recent occurrence is worth relating in this connection. For one of the most promising boys in the Orphan House a good home was found in a family of excellent reputation, which offered exceptional opportunities for the boy to be well educated and surrounded with the best influences. At the end of five days the boy ran away from this home, which was situated at some distance from Cooperstown, and appeared late at night at the Orphan House, footsore with the journey, but happy in his return to the place which had for him all the charm of home. He had no fault to find with the new home. It was only that he was homesick for the Orphan House. Thus he trampled ruthlessly upon the traditions laid down by many generations of orphans and orphans' homes.

There are now 48 children in the Orphan House. Of these 32 are county charges placed in our institution by the Overseer of the Poor at the expense of Otsego county. The number of children in this Diocesan Institution from the whole of the Diocese of Albany is seven. It would be impossible to conduct the Orphan House on the present basis except for the support given by the civil authorities of Otsego county in assigning us the care of their destitute children. While much work is done for the Church by the opportunity thus given to mould children in the ways of the Church at the plastic period of life, it can hardly be said that the Orphan House, having but seven children from the Diocese, is fulfilling its function as a Diocesan Institution. Nor is it reasonable to suppose that nearly all the orphans in the Diocese of Albany reside in Otsego county. It must be that there are fatherless children reached by the many Parishes of the Diocese who would be glad of the home and opportunities for mental and moral training which the Diocese has for more than thirty years been building up at Cooperstown. Never in its history has the Orphan House been so well equipped for doing the work for which it was designed. Never in its history has it been so poorly supported by the Diocese as during the year just closed. It is because of this lack of support that it has practically ceased to be a charitable institution. It cannot throw open its doors to destitute children as an Orphan House bearing the name of the Saviour ought to do.

In 1879 this Convention was very keen to build up this work. Now it has been built up. What will the Diocese do with it? That Convention of twenty four years ago unanimously passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Sunday next after the Feast of the Presentation of Christ in the Temple, in each year, is hereby recommended as the day on which to present the claims of the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour to the hearts and consciences of the faithful of this Diocese, children as well as adults."

The offering recommended for this purpose is now, as it was then, one of the annual offerings enjoined by the Canons of the Diocese of Albany.

If the resolution quoted was good in 1879, why not in 1903?

For the Executive Committee.

RALPH BIRDSALL,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE ORPHAN HOUSE OF THE HOLY SAVIOUR AT COOPERSTOWN.

Your Committee have read the report of the Executive Committee and examined that of the Treasurer of the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour. We commend these reports to the earnest consideration of the Clergy and Laity of the Diocese. The report of the Executive Committee, by the Secretary, the Rev'd Rector of Christ Church, Cooperstown, who touches nothing that he does not adorn, is at once gratifying and saddening. On the one side increased accommodation, increased equipment, increased efficiency, increased healthfulness, increased homelikeness; and on the other a decrease in numbers, a decrease in income, and a decreasing interest in the Diocese at large.

That there should be only seven inmates from the whole Diocese of Albany might be a matter of congratulation were it not that the single county of Otsego furnishes 32 out of the present 48 children cared for. It is impossible that the needs of this county should be so largely in excess of those of the other counties of the Diocese. The inference is plain — its interest is larger than in the rest of the Diocese.

But whatever we may say as to that, this certainly is a shameful fact — that an institution called Diocesan, bearing the name of our Holy Saviour, ready at all times to receive, care for and train His little ones, receives for its nearly $10,000 of expenditures a beggarly $600 from the Parishes of the Diocese. It is the shameful fact that we are by our neglect fast allowing this splendid monument to a splendid Churchwoman — Susan Fenimore Cooper — to drift away from its position as a Children's Church Home and become little more than a county poor house.

We commend most heartily to the Diocese the resolution appended to the report of the Executive Committee.

For the Committee,
CHARLES TEMPLE.

On motion of the Rev. Oliver S. Newell, it was

Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed by the Chair to consider the advisability of merging the Diocesan funds for the "Relief of the Aged and Infirm Clergy" and the fund for the "Relief of the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergy" with the General Fund of the Church for these same objects, said Committee to report at the Diocesan Annual Convention of 1904.

The Right Rev. President appointed as such Committee, the Rev. Oliver S. Newell, Mr. Andrew B. Jones, and Mr. Norman B. Squires.

On motion of the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D., it was Resolved, That the thanks of the Convention be extended to the Rector, Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Peter's Church for the use of that Church at the opening service of this Convention, and to the members of the Choir for adding so largely to the beauty and solemnity of the service.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That after the hearing of the minutes and the usual devotions, the Convention adjourn sine die.

The minutes of the day's session were read and adopted.

Remarks.

The new Grace Church, built of Canton marble, of which the corner-stone was laid by Bishop Coleman in June, is completed all but the interior. It is a handsome structure with square tower 50 feet high. The building is 102 feet long, and Gothic throughout. The interior will be finished in cherry, and open to the rafters. We have the promise of several memorial windows, as well as the large west window. The east window, the Resurrection, is already provided for. When complete it will have cost $20,000, and will compare favorably with any Church in Northern New York. We hope to occupy it in the summer, and further hope to have it consecrated then.

Remarks.

Considering the small membership and limited resources of the Mission, the people here deserve much credit for keeping the buildings insured and in good repair, besides other regular incidental expenses. Owing to the fact that most of the children connected with the Mission live at some distance from the village, it has not been possible to have a Sunday School with any regularity. Some, however, attend the services with their parents and others even without their parents, and a small class for confirmation is being prepared among the older ones.

Remarks.

The Warden, Mr. William Morgan, died last February, and the Missionary, the Rev. Arthur M. Griffing, resigned at the end of the same month. The Rev.

Clement T. Blanchet, of Philmont, was appointed Missionary March 27, 1903. The Rev. Dr. Morgan, Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, New York, also provided one service each Sunday for the months of June, July, August and September, including one celebration of the Holy Communion in each month, at his own personal expense, and besides his personal influence and good will, has made large contributions in money to the work during the last Convention year. He has also kindly volunteered to send a Clergyman from the city to hold a celebration of the Holy Communion once a month until and including Easter, at his own expense, and to assist, if need be, in the expense of two Sunday evening services in each month till Easter. Mr. Vacheron has been appointed as Warden for the coming year, and thus adds much strength to the Mission.

Remarks.

The new St. Mary's Church, Willsboro, was completed, free from all indebtedness, and consecrated on June 5th, 1903, by the Rt. Rev. John Hazen White, D., Bishop of Michigan City, acting for our own Diocesan.

In addition to the gifts of the beautiful oak Altar and Reredos, brass Altar cross, candlesticks and alms basin, the oak Glastonbury sedile, eagle lectern and litany desk, a complete set of seats from the old building of Christ Church, Edgewood, New Jersey, elegant damask cushions for the chancel rail, a full set of vestments both for choir and eucharistic offices, a large vocalion organ and handsome oak was presented to St. Mary's by Christ Church, Port Henry (reused by them through the instalment of their present pipe organ).

A beautiful memorial window (by Booth & Hegeman) has been placed in St. John's Church, Essex, to Mr. William Belden Noble, by his widow.

A fund of $318.35 has been raised during the past summer through the efforts of the women of St. John's, Essex, and their friends, for the repair and improvement of the old Parish Church, which is now in process of thorough renovation, calculated to bring it up to date and ensure its preservation for a generation to come.

Remarks.

The present Missionary took charge March 1st, 1903. The Rev. L. T. Schofield resigned January 7th, 1903.

Since March a vested choir of 28 voices has been introduced, and choir stalls built in the chancel.

In order to do any aggressive work, a Parish Hall of some sort is a necessity. About $500 was pledged for this purpose in October, but owing to the present indebtedness of the Parish it was found inexpedient at this time to attempt to carry any more financial burden.

The increased seating capacity is explained by the addition of 30 sittings in the chancel for the choir.

Remarks.

This little Church of All Angels has been called upon to mourn the loss of Colonel Richards Lathers, who died on September 16th, 1903. He had been its Warden from the very beginning, and although of late years had been prevented, by bodily infirmities, from regular attendance at the services, yet he had never lost his interest in the Church, and was always happy to know of its welfare and to assist it by word and deed. May his soul rest in peace.

The Rev. Dr. Alfred Harding, of Washington, D. C., officiated during July and August, the Right Reverend the Bishop of Washington during a portion of September. Occasional services were held by other Clergymen.

The Church is open daily for private devotions, and is much used for this purpose.

Remarks.

This report is for nine months only, the Church having been closed previously. To secure against encroachment, a suitable fence has been placed around the Rectory lot. A bath-room has been added to the Rectory and the property otherwise improved. A set of stoles was bought, and the Altar linen is being renewed. In spite of the discouragement of a constantly lessening congregation, this old Parish deserves credit for its loyalty and effort.

Remarks.

The Rev. William Sturtevant Rafter is assisting the Rector in the associate mission work, which includes Trinity Church, Schaghticoke; St. John's Church, Stillwater; All Saints' Church, Round Lake, and St. John's Church, East Line. Mr. Rafter's stipend of $800 is met by the salary paid to the Rector by these different Parishes and by an appropriation from the Diocesan Board of Missions. I feel that I must place on record my appreciation of the kindness of Chancellor Carter, who on numerous occasions has given his services at Schaghticoke, Mechanicville and Round Lake.

Mr. H. O. Bailey and Mr. John I. Andrews, Lay Readers of St. Luke's, have done splendid work both in their home Parish and in the associated Parishes. It will not be too much to say that without their assistance the associate mission work could not have been successfully carried on.

Condition of Property, very good.

Amount of salary pledged Rector, $600.

Remarks.

On April 24th, at 3:40 A. M., the beautiful Rectory was found to be on fire, caused by the crossing of the village plant wires and the high voltage wire of the Utica & Mohawk Railway. Total damage, $1,164, happily covered by insurance.

The Rector has been enabled, free from expense to the congregation, to entirely reshingle the Church and paint the whole of the interior, and make necessary repairs, thus putting all the property in most excellent condition.

On Septuagesima Sunday, February 8th, 1903, a men's surpliced choir of 10 voices was inaugurated. Good progress has been made, the year closing with a membership of 15 men.

The Parish has suffered the severe loss of Mr. A. W. Haslehurst, one of the founders of Grace Church and Senior Warden and Lay Delegate since its foundation in 1883, by his removal to Christ Church, Herkimer.

Remarks.

St. John's Church has no regular Clergyman, but is in charge of the Rev. J. N. Marvin, Albany. There have been services during summer of 1901 on Monday evenings during July and August, and on Sundays during those months in 1902.

There are no resident Vestrymen or Wardens. The building is in good general repair, repairs costing $120 having been made in 1901, the funds being donated by former members and friends, present residents of the village and the Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna.

There are about six families represented in Milford (a town five miles distant having no Church services), who attend frequently.

The offerings amounted to $11 more than expenses during the year, and have been deposited in the Milford Bank.

Remarks.

The year now closed has been one of the most prosperous in the history of the Woman's Auxiliary. In addition to moneys contributed for various missionary works, the members have sent out into distant parts of the country five boxes for Missionaries, aggregating in value $127.10.

The Rev. Frank J. Knapp, of the Diocese of Pittsburgh, entered on his duties as Curate on July 1st.

The death of Mrs. Matilda Lancaster, widow of the Rev. Charles H. Lancaster, takes an earnest worker from us.

The Parish has sustained a grievous loss by the death of James Amory Moore in May last. Mr. Moore was a Vestryman for several years. He had been connected with the Parish for over fifty years. His contributions were liberal, and his interest in the Church very great. He was a man of high ideals and of saintly life.

Seating capacity of Church, 650; free seats, 100.

Condition of Property, fair.

Amount of salary pledged Rector, $2,400.

Remarks.

Services have been started in the southwestern part of the city, which is known as Bellevue. A flat has been rented in a favorable location, and thus far the outlook is encouraging. The Sunday School numbers forty children, and the Industrial School contains about the same number. A guild for women has also been organized.

The Parish has received during the year a bequest of $2,500 to be added to its Endowment Fund, and has paid $1,000 on a Church note of $1,800, thus reducing its indebtedness to the small sum of $800.

Indebtedness, on other Property, $540.

Seating capacity of Church, 150; all free.

Condition of Property, Rectory is in good condition; Church needs painting.

Remarks.

Through the kind efforts of Miss Alletta L. Clarke, of New York City, the floating debt (which had been accumulating since 1889) of $459.50 has been wiped out, and $175.34 paid for painting the Rectory and towards current expenses for the present year. A class of eight candidates is prepared and awaiting a visit from the Bishop to administer the Rite of Confirmation.

Total for all Objects, $74.68.

Property.

Description and Valuation: Endowments, about $8,000.

Seating capacity of Church, 240; all free.

Condition of Property, excellent.

Remarks.

Besides the remittance of $9.50 stated for the Orphan House, there was a box of clothing and supplies sent that institution at Easter-tide.

Mr. John H. Gardner, the last of the founders of the Church in this village, and who throughout the subsequent fifty years watched over its interests with a loving care, wisdom and devotion seldom met, has recently been taken to his rest, and the Parish mourns its loss thereby as, human speaking, irreparable.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, TANNERSVILLE.

(Greene County.)

Priest in Charge. The Rev. C. Brassington Mee, M. A.

This Mission has become a Summer Church only. The absence of the two Church families, living in the Park, in summer, made the congregation during the season a very small one. Visiting Clergy, especially the Rev. A. L. Wood, of St. Paul's Church, Tompkinsville, Staten Island, and the Rev. F. E. Mortimer, have officiated at times, without compensation. The number of Communicants is 10.

The valuation of the property would be between $3,000 and $4,000.

The Church building is in fairly good repair.

Contributions for current expenses, inconsiderable.

 PERSONAL REPORTS.

ELLSWORTH, KAN., Nov. 7, 1903.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — From January to June I was in charge of the work at St. Andrew's Church, Yaphank, Long Island; during August locum tenens at Christ Church, Hudson, and since September 20 have been in charge of the Church of the Holy Apostles, Ellsworth, Missionary Jurisdiction of Salina, Kansas, performing such duties as the needs of my office require.

LLOYD R. BENSON.

533 W. 124TH ST., NEW YORK, Nov. 11TH, 1903.

To the Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE, D. D.:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — During the past convention year I have officiated as Priest in charge of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Raquette Lake. The services were well attended. I baptized two adults at Forked Lake and presented one person for confirmation, Bishop Griswold officiating. The offerings at the morning services amounted to $192. Expenses on the church property, etc., have been met by donations of labor, material, etc. My official acts in Trinity Parish, New York, various churches in the city and elsewhere have been: Public services, Sundays, 70, week days, 24; Holy Communion, public, 36, private, 3; Baptisms, 13; Marriages, 3; Burials, 4. The acts recorded at Raquette Lake are all that come under Diocesan statistics. I am,

Faithfully and obediently yours,

W. BROWN-SERMAN,
Priest in Charge, Raquette Lake.

FOURTH LAKE.

(Herkimer County.)

During August, whilst camping on Fourth Lake, I held services every Sunday after the first, as follows: Holy Communion, four times, with an attendance of from six to ten communicants; Morning Prayer and Pro-Anaphora, with sermon, four times, with an attendance which taxed the accommodations of "Camp Ogden;" and Evening Prayer once, at the Eagle Bay Hotel. Besides these services, the Rev. David C. Huntington, of All Saints' Church, Syracuse, held an evening service at a camp at the lower end of the lake. The offerings, which were all devoted to the building fund, amounted to $30.48. Much interest was manifested in the project to build a Chapel on the lot already donated, and the subscriptions and offerings for this purpose now amount to $610. The Rev. E. R. Armstrong, of Sharon Springs, is most kindly preparing plans for a small but suitable Chapel, which it is hoped may be built in the summer of 1904. For the present it is intended only for summer use.

WM. M. COOK.

ILION, N. Y., Dec. 4, 1903.

To the Rt. Rev. WILLIAM CROSWELL DOANE, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Albany:

MY VERY DEAR BISHOP. — I left Schuylerville June 9th. Sunday, June 14th, I had a service and sermon on the train. Sundays, June 28th and July 5th, preached in Redlands, California. Sundays, July 19th and 26th, supplied the Parish at Santa Barbara, Cal. August 2d and 23d had service and preached in Redlands again; also assisted at laying of corner-stone there on the 20th. September 6th celebrated Holy Communion in St. John's, Los Angeles, Cal. Wednesday, September 9th, arrived here, accepted position of Priest in Charge until Easter, and have been fully occupied since. Very grateful for work and that the health of all the family is gradually improving. My loving remembrance and prayers for you and the Diocese have been constant.

Faithfully yours,

E. JAY COOKE.

GLOVERSVILLE, Nov. 9th, 1903.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — My health obliges me to report a year of idleness.

Very respectfully and sincerely,

FENWICK M. COOKSON.

To the Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE, D. D., Bishop of Albany:

The undersigned respectfully reports that he officiated at Sabael, in Hamilton county, every Sunday from the third Sunday in July to the first Sunday in September; on seven Sundays in the school house, on one Sunday in the Indian Lake House.

The Holy Communion was administered every Sunday at an early hour, fifteen persons in all receiving the Sacrament. Morning Prayer was said and a sermon delivered each Sunday at a later hour.

The Communion alms amounted to $2.95; the offerings at the other services amounted to $21.31. The expense amounted to $20.23. The money was expended for the purpose of purchasing a copy of the Teachers' Bible, for Prayer Books, Hymnals, for camp chairs to be used at the services, for express charges, and for postage.

HENRY A. DOWS.

To the Right Reverend, the Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I have performed the duties of assistant to the Rector of St. James' Church, Fordham, New York, during part of the last year, and am still thus engaged.

Most faithfully yours,

J. O. DRUMM.

FORDHAM, Nov. 30th, 1903.

ESSEX, ESSEX CO., N. Y.

The Rt. Rev. WM. C. DOANE, Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I herewith present to you, respectfully, the report of my missionary work for the current conventional year.

I have held services at the "Felsenheim Chapel," Keene Heights, Essex county, from Whitsunday, May 31, 1903, to the Eighteenth Sunday after Trinity, October 11, 1903.

At the weekly celebrations of the Holy Communion there were at times as many as 30 persons receiving, and as many as 150 present and assisting.

I received at the offertory the sum of $231.32, which amount has been devoted to missionary and benevolent purposes.

Very respectfully yours,

GEO. W. DU BOIS.

CHELSEA SQUARE, NEW YORK, Dec. 10, 1903.

RIGHT REV'D DEAR SIR. — I respectfully submit the following report: That I am doing post-graduate study on a Mayo Fellowship at the General Theological Seminary, and also that I am the assistant deacon on the staff of St. Agnes' Chapel, New York.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES L. GOMPH.

The Right Rev'd WM. C. DOANE, D. D., LL. D.

LAWRENCEVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 10, 1903.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — The continued unsettled state of Mrs. Goss' health and my own half crippled condition from rhenmatism have prevented me from taking part in any public service or performing any official acts during the past year. I regret to say this, because it is the first time in my ministerial life that I have been obliged to make such a report.

Ever faithfully,

JOSHUA N. T. GOSS.

The Rt. Rev. WM. CROSWELL DOANE, S. T. D., Bishop of Albany.

468 BOYLSTON ST., BOSTON, MASS., Nov. 1, 1903.

To the Rt. Rev., the Bishop of Albany:

The Rev. Frederick M. Gray reports that, during the past conventional year, he has officiated whenever the opportunity has been offered, in a number of Parishes in the Diocese of Massachusetts.

STAMFORD, NEW YORK.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — During the past year I have been unable on account of ill health to officiate at all.

Sincerely yours,

OLIN HALLOCK,

per C. B. H.

November the tenth.

SOUTH HARTFORD, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1903.

The Rt. Rev. WM. C. DOANE, D. D., LL. D.:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I desire to report to you that I am at present living at South Hartford, N. Y., occupying no ecclesiastical position. As opportunity is offered, I assist the neighboring clergy in their duties.

Ever faithfully yours,

WM. HENRY PAINE HATCH.

COLUMBIAVILLE, COLUMBIA CO., N. Y., Nov. 4, 1903.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — During the past year I have assisted the Rev. Dr. Silliman every Sunday when at home. I have also taken several services for the "Brethren" of the Diocese in their absence from their Parishes or in cases of sickness.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES H. HATHEWAY.

COOPERSTOWN, Nov. 2d, 1903.

To the Right Reverend, the Bishop of Albany:

For non-attendance at the Diocesan Convention, now for some years past, I must plead my age and infirmities. I have entered my eighty-fifth year. "I have finished my course." I can also with all humility say, "I have fought the good fight." Whether well fought or ill, it was still "the good fight." I can at least say "I have kept the faith."

W. W. LORD.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Nov. 1, 1903.

RT. REV. AND DEAR BISHOP. — In accordance with Canonical requirement. I hereby report that during the past conventional year, from November the first to May the first, I gave Sunday services at Ausable Forks. During the summer and until October I officiated on eleven Sundays at the Ellenburgh Mission.

Yours very sincerely and respectfully,

J. W. McILWAINE.

21 IRVING PLACE, NEW YORK, Nov. 6th, 1903.

To the Right Reverend, the Bishop of Albany:

I beg to report that I have had seven celebrations of the Holy Communion and 20 other services during the convention year.

Respectfully submitted,

L. C. MORGAN.

PALM BEACH, FLA., Nov. 22d, 1903.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — During the past year I have performed occasional official acts in the Diocese of Albany and in the Missionary Jurisdiction of Southern Florida, but I have no parochial connection.

Yours faithfully,

J. N. MULFORD.

To the Rt. Rev. WILLIAM CROSWELL DOANE, D. D., LL. D.:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I beg to report that during the convention year just ended I have officiated regularly every Sunday.

Faithfully yours,

LEONARD W. RICHARDSON.

November 11th, 1903.

THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY,

CHELSEA SQUARE, NEW YORK, Oct 16th, 1903.

The Rt. Rev., the Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — In compliance with the Canonical requirement, as a priest connected with the Diocese of Albany, I would report that since August 1st, the date of my resignation as Dean of the Cathedral of All Saints, I have been occupied with the duties of Dean of the General Theological Seminary.

With great respect, most faithfully,

WILFORD L. ROBBINS.

HOLY CROSS HOUSE, WESTMINSTER, IND., Dec. 11th, 1903.

Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE, D. D., Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — During the past year, in which I have been on leave of absence from regular duty, I have officiated outside of the Diocese at thirteen public services of the Church; have said the service of the Holy Communion in public five times and several times in private.

Faithfully yours,

JAMES B. SILL.

PARIS, FRANCE, Oct. 6, 1903.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I have the honor to report that during the last year for nine months it was my privilege to assist almost constantly in the American Church of St. John in Dresden, Germany.

Yours very respectfully,
E. BAYARD SMITH.

68 DWIGHT PLACE, ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Nov. 9, 1903.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — During the past year I have resided in Englewood, New Jersey, where I have given occasional ministrations, but owing to uncertain health have engaged in no regular work.

Sincerely yours,
HENRY M. SMYTH.

The Rt. Rev., the Bishop of Albany, D. D., LL. D.

The Rev. E. S. De G. Tompkins begs to report that for the past year he has resided at Coxsackie, and assisted his clerical brethren as occasion offered.

COXSACKIE, Nov. 3d, 1903.

To the Bishop of Albany.

TRINITY CHAPEL, NEW YORK CITY.

MY DEAR BISHOP DOANE. — For the past ten months, since my resignation from St. Mark's, Hoosick Falls, I have been acting as Curate at Trinity Chapel, New York City.

Your obedient servant in Christ,
GEO. A. WARNER.

Dec. 13, 1903.

31 GROVE PLACE, UTICA, N. Y., Dec. 23, 1903.

The Rt. Rev. WILLIAM CROSWELL DOANE, Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I have the honor to report that during the past year I have acted as the Missionary of the Commission on Church Work among the Deaf and Dumb in the Diocese of Albany, and in a similar capacity in the Dioceses of Central New York and Vermont.

Very respectfully yours,
H. VAN ALLEN.

SALAMANCA, N. Y., Dec. 11, 1903.

To the Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I hereby report that during the past year I have continued to officiate as Minister in Charge of St. Mary's Church, Salamanca, by permission of the Bishop of Western New York.

Very respectfully yours,
WM. R. WOODBRIDGE.

NON-REPORTING CLERGY AND PARISHES FROM THE JOURNAL
OF 1901.

Letters having been written by the Secretary in obedience to the instructions of the Convention to the clergy who did not report at the Convention of 1900, viz., the Rev. Messrs. Hawkesworth, Tibbits and M. E. Wilson, and to the authorities of the churches which did not report to that Convention, viz., St. Luke's, Lisbon; St. Paul's, Keeseville, and St. John's, Portlandville, asking their reasons for not complying with the requirements of the Canon, only one reply was received, from the Rev. Mr. Tibbits, assigning the exaction of other duties as the reason for his failure to report.

NON-REPORTING CLERGY, 1903.

REPORTS OF INSTITUTIONS.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE CORNING FOUNDATION
FOR CHRISTIAN WORK IN THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

The Trustees have held seven meetings of the Board during the year ending November 1, 1903.

At the meeting held April 6, 1903, Mr. George P. Hilton was elected a member of the Board in place of Mr. Horace S. Bull, resigned. At the same meeting Mr. Hilton was elected Treasurer of the Foundation in place of Mr. Brooks, who resigned as Treasurer owing to his going abroad.

At the closing exercises of the School, June 4, 1903, ten pupils were graduated and the usual diplomas granted them.

Number of officers and teachers in the School, November 1, 1903, 22; number of pupils, 98.

THOMAS B. FULCHER,
Secretary of the Board,

ALBANY, N. Y., November 1, 1903.

REPORT OF THE CHILD'S HOSPITAL.

ALBANY, N. Y., September 30, 1903.

The Managers of The Child's Hospital present their annual report with renewed thankfulness for the blessing of God, which has rested upon their work for another year. There is still the record of devoted service, of ministries of healing and comfort to the sick children, of disease arrested and lives restored to health and power of service. And there is still the record of continued interest and generous support.

But there is still the need of larger gifts for the maintenance of the work. And the Managers commend the institution with more than usual confidence to the sympathy and support of those who are willing and able to minister to little children in the Master's name.

This report cannot fail to mention, with reverent affection, the name of Miss Sarah Walsh Barnard, whose gracious gifts, continued by her bequest, large as they were, were but a small part of the services which by her personal ministries of service she gave, not only to the other Managers, but to the Sisters and the children in the Hospital.

The building itself has been greatly improved during the year by having complete new bath-rooms, and in its interior fittings it is thoroughly equipped for the best service. New blankets have also been received. The Managers again acknowledge the constant attendance and devotion of the Medical Staff, and the faithful nursing, and the painstaking carefulness of the Treasurer and his assistant.

CATHARINE B. W. PELTZ,
Secretary.

DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

Of the Members of the Convention.

The Diocese of Albany entrusts its legislation to a Convention, to consist as follows: First, of the Bishop, when there is one; of the Bishop Coadjutor, when there is one; Secondly, of all Clergymen canonically resident in the Diocese for six months previous to the Convention, the restriction of time not to apply to Rectors duly elected or Missionaries duly appointed (provided that no Clergyman suspended from the Ministry shall have a seat); and, Thirdly, of the Lay Delegation from the Cathedral, and of Lay Delegations, consisting of not more than three Deputies from each other Church in union with the Convention, who shall be communicants, and shall have been chosen by the Vestry or Congregation of the same.

ARTICLE II.

Of the Annual Meetings of the Convention.

The Convention shall assemble on the third Tuesday in November, in each year, in such place as the Bishop shall appoint, giving fifteen days' notice thereof. In case of his inability to act, the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, shall appoint the place; and, if there be no Bishop, the Standing Committee shall appoint. The place of meeting may be changed for sufficient reason after having been appointed, provided that ten days' notice of such change shall be given.

For urgent reasons, the time of meeting may be changed by the Bishop, acting with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee, and giving twenty days' notice of said change.

Every Convention shall be opened with a Sermon and the Holy Communion; and the Preacher shall be appointed by the Bishop, or in case of his inability to act, or if there be no Bishop, by the Standing Committee.

ARTICLE III.

Of Special Conventions.

The Bishop shall have power to call Special Conventions, giving thirty days' notice thereof, and shall do so when requested by a vote of three-fourths of the Standing Committee. When there is no Bishop, the Standing Committee shall have power to call a Special Convention, giving ninety days' notice thereof.

Constitution and Canons.

ARTICLE IV.

Of the Cathedral.

"The Cathedral of All Saints in the City and Diocese of Albany" shall be the Cathedral Church of this Diocese. Three Lay Communicants shall be chosen by the Chapter as the Delegation from the Cathedral to the Convention.

ARTICLE V.

Of the Permanent Officers of the Diocese.

The permanent officers of the Diocese shall be: the Bishop of the Diocese (with right to preside, when present in Convention; and when there is a Bishop Coadjutor, he shall have right to preside in the absence of the Bishop), a Standing Committee, a Secretary, a Treasurer and a Registrar.

ARTICLE VI.

Of the Election of a Bishop.

When a Bishop or a Bishop Coadjutor is to be elected, the election shall be at the regular Annual Convention, or at a Special Convention duly called for that purpose; and such election shall require a majority of the votes of each order voting separately.

ARTICLE VII.

Of the President of the Convention.

If there be no Bishop of the Diocese, or its ex-officio presiding officer be absent, the Convention shall elect a President from among the Clergy, by ballot (unless the ballot be dispensed with by unanimous vote.)

ARTICLE VIII.

Of the Standing Committee.

The Standing Committee shall consist of four Clergymen and four Laymen, to be elected by ballot at each Annual Convention, by a majority of the Clergy and Lay Delegations present, and shall serve until the next Annual Convention and until a new election is made, the functions of which Committee, besides those provided for in the Canons of the General Convention, and in this Constitution, shall be determined by Canon or Resolution of the Convention. But vacancies in the Standing Committee may be filled by a majority of the votes of the remaining members until the next meeting of the Convention.

ARTICLE IX.

Of the Secretary, Treasurer and Registrar.

The Secretary shall be elected at each Annual Convention from the members thereof, by ballot, after nominations (unless the ballot be dispensed with by unanimous vote), and by a majority of the Clergy and Lay Delegations present; and he shall remain in office until his successor shall be elected. His duties shall be those required by the Canons, Resolutions and Rules of Order of the Convention.

The Treasurer and the Registrar shall be elected in a similar manner, and are not required to be members of the Convention. They shall remain in office until the next Annual Convention, and until their successors are elected.

ARTICLE X.

Of the Deliberations of the Convention and of Votes.

The Clergymen and Laymen constituting the Convention shall deliberate in one body, and each Clergyman shall have one vote, and each Lay Delegation one vote, and a majority of the aggregate votes shall be decisive except in the cases provided for in Articles VI, IX and XI.

If five votes require a division, then the voting shall be by orders separately, and the concurrence of a majority of each order shall be necessary to make a decision. But no alteration of the Constitution or Canons shall be valid without the concurrence of the Bishop and of a majority of the Clergy and of a majority of the Lay Delegations; and the Bishop's concurrence shall be presumed unless the contrary be openly expressed by him to the Convention after the vote of the Clergy and Laity and before the adjournment sine die.

ARTICLE XI.

Of Altering the Constitution.

The mode of altering the Constitution shall be as follows: A proposition for an amendment shall be introduced in writing and considered in the Convention; and, if approved by a majority, shall lie over till the next Convention, and, if then approved by a two-thirds vote of the Clergy and Lay Delegations present, with the Bishop's concurrence, the Constitution shall be changed accordingly.

CANONS.

CANON I.

Of the List of Clergymen in the Diocese.

SECTION 1. On the first day of each Convention, regular or special, the Ecclesiastical Authority shall present to the Convention a List of the Clergy canonically resident in the Diocese, annexing the names of their respective Parishes, Offices and residences, and the dates of their becoming resident in the Diocese.

SEC. 2. The Secretary shall record this list of names in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. He shall continue this record up to the date of the next succeeding Convention, by making entry therein of all additions, removals, deaths, and changes of work or residence of Clergy within the Diocese as they occur.

SEC. 3. From this record shall be made up by the Secretary the list of the Clergymen entitled, according to the Constitution, to seats in the Convention; which list may at any time be revised and corrected by the Convention.

CANON II.

Of the Lay Delegations.

SECTION 1. When the Lay Delegations are chosen by the Vestry, it shall be at a meeting held according to law. In case the Vestry shall not choose Deputies they may be chosen by the congregation in the manner hereinafter prescribed for Churches having no Vestries.

SEC. 2. Deputies from Churches having no Vestries shall be chosen by the Congregation at a meeting of which notice shall have been given during Divine Service on the two Sundays next previous thereto. And at such meeting the Rector or Minister shall preside, and the qualifications for voting shall be the same as those required by law for voting at an election of Churchwardens and Vestrymen.

Constitution and Canons.

SEC. 3. When Deputies are chosen by a Vestry, the evidence of their appointment shall be a certificate, signed by the Rector of the Church they are chosen to represent and by the Clerk of the Vestry; and if there be no Rector, then the certificate shall state that fact, and shall be signed by the Churchwarden presiding and by the Clerk of the Vestry. The certificate must state the time and place of the election, must show upon its face that the appointment has been made in accordance with all the requirements of the Canons, and shall certify that each Deputy chosen is a Communicant of the Church and entitled to vote for Churchwardens and Vestrymen of the Church he is chosen to represent.

SEC. 4. When Deputies are chosen by the Congregation of any Church, the evidence of their appointment shall be a certificate, signed by the Rector or Minister having charge of the said Church and by the Secretary of the meeting; or if there be no such Rector or Minister, then the certificate shall state that fact, and shall be signed by the officer presiding at the meeting and by the Secretary of the same. The certificate must state the time and place of the election, must show upon its face that the appointment has been made in accordance with all the requirements of the Canons, and shall certify that each Deputy chosen is a Communicant of the Church, and, in the case of the Church having a Vestry, that he is entitled to vote for Churchwardens and Vestrymen of such Church, or, in the case of a Church having no Vestry, that he has belonged for twelve months to the Congregation he is chosen to represent. No other evidence of the appointment of Lay Deputies than such as is specified in this and the preceding section shall be received by the Convention.

SEC. 5. Whenever a Special Convention shall be called, Lay Delegations shall be specially chosen for it in the manner prescribed in this Canon.

SEC. 6. The Secretary of the Convention, when he shall send to any Church or Parish the required notice of the time and place of meeting of any Convention to be held, shall transmit with the same a copy of this Canon and blank printed forms of certificates of appointment of Deputies.

CANON III.

Of the Organization of the Convention.

SECTION 1. If the ex-officio presiding officer be not present at the opening of the Convention, the Secretary shall call the members present to order; and the senior Presbyter present, who is a member of the Convention, shall take the chair, and preside until a President is elected, as provided by Article VII of the Constitution.

SEC. 2. The Secretary shall then call the names of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention. He shall then call the names of the Churches in union with the Convention, when the Lay Deputies shall present their certificates, which shall be examined by the Secretary, and a committee of two members appointed by the presiding officer. Irregular or defective certificates, and certificates and documents referring to contested seats, shall be temporarily laid aside. The names of the Lay Deputies duly appointed shall then be called, after which the certificates and documents laid aside shall be reported to the Convention, which shall decide upon the admission of the Deputies named therein.

SEC. 3. If twenty Clergymen entitled to vote, and twenty Lay Delegations be present, they shall constitute a quorum; and the presiding officer ex officio shall declare the Convention duly organized. The same number of Clergymen and Lay Delegations shall, at any time, be necessary for the transaction of business, except that a smaller number may adjourn from time to time.

SEC. 4. If the presiding officer ex officio be not present before the convention is declared to be organized, the temporary Chairman shall direct that the members proceed to elect a President, according to Article VII of the Constitution, who, when elected, shall take the Chair and declare the Convention organized for business.

SEC. 5 The Convention shall then proceed to the election of a Secretary, a Treasurer and a Registrar, according to the Constitution. The Secretary may appoint an Assistant Secretary, also any other assistants he may require, announcing their names to the Convention.

SEC. 6. Any Rules of Order which shall have been previously adopted or sanctioned in the Convention, except such as prescribe the mode of altering the same, shall be in force until changed by the Convention, after having been duly organized.

CANON IV.

Of the Admission of a Church into Union with the Church in this Diocese, and Maintaining such Union.

SECTION 1. Every Church or Congregation desiring admission into union with the Church in this Diocese, shall present a written application therefor to the Convention, together with a copy of the resolution of the Vestry, or of the Congregation, authorizing such application; in which resolution the said Church, by its Vestry or Congregation, shall agree to abide by, and conform to, and observe, all the Canons of the Church, and all the rules, orders and regulations of the Convention; which copy shall be duly certified by the presiding officer of the Vestry, or of the meeting of the Congregation at which the resolution was adopted, and also by the Clerk of the Vestry or Secretary of the meeting; and shall be authenticated by the seal of the Corporation. The said application shall also be accompanied by the Certificate of Incorporation of the Church, duly recorded, or a copy thereof certified by the officer, whose duty it may be to record or file the same; and also, by a Certificate of the Ecclesiastical Authority, to the effect that he or they approve of the incorporation of such Church, and that such Church, in his or their judgment, is duly and satisfactorily established; and every Church or Congregation applying for admission shall produce satisfactory evidence that not less than twenty-five persons, members of such Church, have habitually, for at least one year preceding such application, attended Divine Service in such Church or Congregation.

SEC. 2. No application for the admission of a Church into union with the Church in this Diocese shall be considered or acted upon, at any meeting of the Convention, unless the same shall have been transmitted to the Secretary of the Convention at least thirty days before the meeting of the Convention. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Convention, at least twenty days before the meeting of the Convention, to deliver to a Committee, to be annually appointed (to be called the Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches), all applications for admission into union which shall have been received by him, to be by such Committee examined, considered and reported upon to the Convention.

SEC. 3. Whenever hereafter any Church in union with this Convention shall neglect, for three years in succession, to make a Parochial Report, no Missionary Report being made on its behalf, and shall not, during the same period, have employed a Clergyman as its Parish Minister, nor requested of the Ecclesiastical Authority to have the services of a Missionary, such Church shall be regarded as having forfeited its connection with the Convention, and shall no longer have a right to send a Delegation to the same. The Bishop shall report such Church to the Convention in his Annual Address. Such Church, however, may be re-admitted, upon application to the Convention, accompanied by a report of its condition, and on such terms as shall appear just; such re-admission to take effect from and after the rising of the Convention consenting to such admission.

Constitution and Canons.

CANON V.

Of Elections.

All elections by the Convention shall be by ballot, except when the ballot is dispensed with by unanimous consent. And when an election is by ballot, a majority of the votes in each order shall be necessary to a choice. Should more of either order than the number required to be elected for any committee, board or delegation, receive a majority of votes in each order, those persons shall be declared elected who have received respectively the largest aggregate vote.

CANON VI.

Of the Secretary of the Convention.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to take and keep the Minutes of the proceedings of the Convention, to attest its public acts, and faithfully to deliver into the hands of his successor all books and papers relating to the business and concerns of the Convention which may be in his possession or under his control. It shall also be his duty to send a printed notice to each Minister, and to each Vestry or Congregation, of the time and place appointed for the meetings of each Convention, and to publish a notice of the meeting in three of the public papers published in the Diocese of Albany, and to perform such other duties as may be required of him by the Convention.

SEC. 2. He shall transmit annually a copy of the Journal of the Convention to each of the Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, to the Secretary of the House of Deputies of the General Convention, and to the Secretaries of the Diocesan Conventions; and shall ask, on behalf of the Diocese, for copies of the Diocesan Journals in exchange.

SEC. 3. He shall also transmit to every General Convention, in addition to the documents required by the Canons of the General Convention,* a certificate, signed by himself, containing a list of the Clergymen in this Diocese, and the amount of funds paid or secured to be paid (distinguishing them) to the General Theological Seminary, and also a certificate of the appointment of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

SEC. 4. Any expense incurred by a compliance with this Canon shall be paid out of the Diocesan Fund.

SEC. 5. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of Secretary of the Convention, the duties thereof shall devolve upon the Assistant Secretary, if there be one; if not, upon the Secretary of the Standing Committee.

SEC. 6. Whenever, under the provisions of the Constitution, a Special Convention is called for any particular purpose, it shall be the duty of the Secretary, in the notice thereof, to specify such purpose.

CANON VII.

Of the Treasurer of the Diocese.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer of the Diocese to receive and disburse all moneys collected under the authority of the Convention, and of which the collection and distribution shall not be otherwise regulated. He shall report, at each annual meeting of the Convention, the names of the Parishes which have failed to make the required contributions to any of the Diocesan Funds, specifying the funds to which they have failed to contribute and the amount of such deficiency.

SEC. 2. His accounts shall be rendered annually to the Convention, and shall be examined by a Committee acting under its authority

* Title I, Canon 20, Secs. III and IV.

SEC. 3. If the Treasurer of the Convention shall die or resign his office, the Standing Committee shall appoint a Treasurer ad interim; to continue in office until an election be made by the Convention.

CANON VIII.

Of the Registrar.

It shall be the duty of the Registrar to collect and preserve, as the property of the Diocese, all documents and papers pertaining to the Diocese, and not in the custody of any other officer; and also the Journals and public documents of other Diocesan Conventions and of the General Convention, and other pamphlets and publications connected with the Church at large.

CANON IX.

Of Deputies to the General Convention and to the Federate Council.

SECTION 1. The Convention shall, at each regular annual meeting next preceding a stated meeting of the General Convention, elect, by the concurrent ballot of the Clerical and Lay Members, four Clergymen and four Laymen, to act as Deputies from this Diocese to the General Convention. It shall also, in like manner, elect four Clergymen and four Laymen as Provisional Deputies, to act in the case hereinafter mentioned; which Deputies and Provisional Deputies shall hold their respective offices until their successors are elected, and shall be Deputies, or Provisional Deputies, for any General Convention which may be held during their continuance in office.

SEC. 2. Should a vacancy occur by resignation, removal from the Diocese, death, or otherwise, among the Deputies or Provisional Deputies, between the stated times of election, the vacancy shall be supplied by any Convention during or prior to which such vacancy shall occur.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the Deputies elect to signify to the Ecclesiastical Authority, at least ten days before the meeting of the General Convention, their acceptance of the appointment and their intention to perform its duties; in default of which the Ecclesiastical Authority shall designate, from the list of Provisional Deputies, so many as may be necessary to ensure, as far as practicable, a full representation of the Diocese. And the Ecclesiastical Authority shall, in like manner, designate from the same list of Provisional Deputies, one or more, as the case may be, to supply any deficiency in the representation of this Diocese which may in any way occur. And the person or persons so designated by the Bishop, being furnished with a certificate thereof, shall have all the power and authority of Deputies duly elected by the Convention.

SEC. 4. The Convention shall, at each regular annual meeting next succeeding a stated meeting of the General Convention, elect eight Clergymen and eight Laymen, to act as Deputies from this Diocese to the Federate Council of the several Dioceses in the State of New York, which Deputies shall hold their respective offices until their successors are elected, and shall be Deputies for any meeting of the Federate Council which may be held during their continuance in office. Should a vacancy occur by resignation, removal from the Diocese, death, or otherwise, among the Deputies to the Federate Council, between the stated times of election, the vacancy shall be supplied by any Convention during or prior to which such vacancy shall occur.

CANON X.

Of the Standing Committee.

The powers and duties of the Standing Committee over and above those given and prescribed by the Canons of the General Convention and by the Constitution of the Diocese of Albany, are further defined as follows:

SECTION 1. If there be no Bishop, or if he be unable to perform his duties, the Standing Committee shall be the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese, provided that whenever any duty is specially imposed upon the Clerical Members of the Committee, such duty shall be performed by them only.

SEC. 2. The record of all proceedings upon a presentment of a Clergyman shall be preserved by the Standing Committee.

SEC. 3. The Standing Committee shall make a full report of all their proceedings at every Annual Convention.

CANON XI.

Of Parish Registers and Parochial Reports.

WHEREAS, by the Canons of the General Convention,* it is made the duty of each Clergyman of this Church to "keep a Register of Baptisms, Confirmations, Communicants, Marriages, and Funerals within his Cure, agreeably to such rules as may be provided by the Convention of the Diocese where his Cure lies;" it is hereby ordered that,

SECTION 1. The Record shall specify the name and the time of the birth of the child or adult baptized, with the names of the parents, sponsors or witnesses; the names of the persons confirmed; the names of the persons married, their ages and residences, also the names and residences of at least two witnesses of each marriage; the names of the persons buried, their ages, and the place of burial; and also the time when and the Minister by whom each rite was performed. The list of Communicants shall contain the names of all connected with the Parish or Mission as nearly as can be ascertained. These records shall be made by the Minister in a book provided for that purpose, belonging to each Church; which book shall be the Parish Register, and shall be preserved as a part of the records of the Church.

SEC. 2. AND WHEREAS, by the Canons of the General Convention,† it is "ordered that every Minister of this Church, or, if the Parish be vacant, the Warden shall present, or cause to be delivered, on or before the first day of every Annual Convention, to the Bishop of the Diocese, or, where there is no Bishop, to the President of the Convention, a statement of the number of Baptisms, Confirmations, Marriages and Funerals, and of the number of Communicants in his Parish or Church; also the state and condition of the Sunday Schools in his Parish; also of the amount of the Communion alms, the contributions for Missions, Diocesan, Domestic and Foreign, for Parochial Schools, for Church purposes in general, and of all other matters that may throw light on the state of the same;" it is hereby further ordered that, in reporting the number of Communicants, he shall distinguish the additions, removals and deaths since the last report, and that, in reporting the contributions for Church purposes in general, he shall include the amount received for sittings in the Church and moneys raised for all Church and Parish purposes, other than those enumerated in this section.

SEC. 3. In every case where a Parish is without a Minister, the Parish Register shall be kept by some person appointed by the Vestry or Trustees; and the annual Parochial report shall be presented or forwarded to the Bishop by the Churchwardens or Trustees of the Parish.

CANON XII.

Of Vacant Parishes.

SECTION 1. Whenever a Parish becomes vacant, it shall be the duty of the Vestry or Trustees to give immediate notice thereof to the Bishop.

SEC. 2. The Bishop shall appoint those of the Clergy in the Diocese who can with most convenience discharge the duty, to supply such vacant Parishes as have been reported to him, at such times as may be deemed convenient and proper. And the Clergy so appointed, shall make a full report to the Bishop concerning the state of the Parishes which they have visited. It shall be the duty of the Parishes thus supplied to defray all the expenses incident to such occasional services.

CANON XIII.

Of Offerings.

SECTION 1. Whereas it is the duty of all Christians, as faithful stewards of God, to set apart regularly a portion of their income as God's portion, "every one as God hath prospered him," to be used for the maintenance and extension of His kingdom, and the relief of His poor; this Church enjoins this duty upon all her members.

SEC. 2 It shall be the duty of every Congregation of this Diocese to contribute, at least once in each year, by weekly or monthly offerings, or in some other systematic way, to the Missions of the Diocese; the Domestic and Foreign Missions and other departments of Missionary work under the control of the General Convention; the support of the Episcopate; the expenses of the Convention; the education of young men for the Holy Ministry; the support of aged and infirm Clergymen; the relief of the widows and orphans of deceased Clergymen; and the support and education of orphan children; the offerings to be sent to the Treasurers of the funds for which they are made, and the amounts of all such contributions to form distinct items in the Annual Parochial Report.

SEC. 3. The Fund for Theological Education, provided for in section 2 of this Canon, shall be applied as directed by the Bishop of the Diocese.

SEC. 4. "The Bible and Common Prayer Book Society of Albany and its Vicinity" shall be the agent of this Diocese for the Distribution of the Bible and the Book of Common Prayer, and shall present a full report of its proceedings to each Annual Convention.

SEC. 5. The Orphan House of the Holy Saviour, at or near Cooperstown, shall be the Diocesan Orphanage, and shall make a report of its proceedings and condition to each Annual Convention.

CANON XIV.

Of the Missions of the Diocese and of Archdeaconries.

The Church in this Diocese, acknowledging her responsibility, in common with the whole Church, for the fulfilment of the charge of our Lord to preach the Gospel to every creature, and especially for the extension of the Church throughout the Diocese, declares that it is the duty of the Convention, as her representative body, to care for the Missionary work, and that every baptized Member of the Church is bound, according to his ability, to assist in carrying it on. To this end it is hereby enacted as follows:

SECTION 1. "The Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed February 16, 1870, shall be entrusted with the general charge and direction of the work of Missions within the Diocese, and particularly with the custody and management of all money or property given or acquired for that object, subject to the provisions of this Canon and to such written instructions as may from time to time be given to them by the Convention and entered upon the Journal thereof.

SEC. 2. The said Board of Missions shall consist of the Bishop, who shall be ex officio the President thereof; and of ten other members, one Clergyman and one Layman resident within the limits of each of the Archdeaconries hereinafter provided for, and nominated by said Archdeaconry, and one Clergyman and one Layman who may be resident anywhere within the Diocese, and shall be nominated in open Convention, all of whom shall be annually chosen by the Convention, and by ballot unless the same be unanimously dispensed with. All vacancies occurring in the Board during the recess of the Convention, may be filled by the Board.

SEC. 3. The evening session of the Convention on the first day of each Annual Meeting shall be devoted to the reception and consideration of the Report of the Board of Missions and of its Treasurer, the election of the Board, and other business connected with the subject; provided that said election and other business connected with the subject may be deferred to the second day.

SEC. 4. The Board of Missions shall meet within one day after the adjournment of the Convention in each year, and elect a Secretary and a Treasurer. The Board may hold other meetings during the year, according to its own rules, and shall meet on the day preceding the Annual Convention, to audit the accounts of the Treasurer, and to adopt a report to the Convention.

SEC. 5. The Diocese shall be divided into districts called Archdeacons, the titles and limits of which shall be as follows: The Archdeaconry of Albany shall comprise the counties of Albany, Greene, Columbia, Schenectady, Montgomery, and Fulton, all of Hamilton, except the township of Long Lake, and all of Herkimer, except the townships of Wilmurt and Webb. The Archdeaconry of Troy shall comprise the counties of Rensselaer, Saratoga, Washington, and Warren, the townships of Mooers, Champlain, Altona, Chazy, Beekmantown, Plattsburgh, Schuyler Falls, Peru, and Ausable in Clinton county, and all of Essex county, except the townships of St. Armand, North Elba and Newcomb. The Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna shall comprise the counties of Delaware, Otsego and Schoharie. The Archdeaconry of Ogdensburgh shall comprise the counties of St. Lawrence and Franklin, the townships of Clinton, Ellenburgh, Dannemora, Saranac and Black Brook in Clinton county, the townships of St. Armand, North Elba and Newcomb in Essex county, the township of Long Lake in Hamilton county, and the townships of Wilmurt and Webb in Herkimer county.

SEC. 6. The Bishop shall be ex officio the head of each Archdeaconry. He shall, however, annually appoint an Archdeacon on the nomination of each Archdeaconry, from among the Clergy thereof, who shall be the Executive Officer of the Archdeaconry. Each Archdeaconry, moreover, shall annually elect a Secretary and Treasurer. The Archdeacon in the absence of the Bishop shall preside at all the meetings of the Archdeaconry, and may also be present without a vote at the meetings of the Board of Missions. He shall be charged with the duty of visiting the Mission Stations and vacant Parishes, and, with the consent of the Clergy in charge, the other Parishes receiving Missionary aid within the limits of his Archdeaconry, to ascertain their condition, and to give such advice as may be required, reporting the result of his inquiries and observations to the Bishop. It shall also be his duty to stir up an increased Missionary interest and zeal, and to urge more liberal offerings for the work of Church extension. And furthermore the Archdeacon and the Clerical and Lay Members of the Board of Missions from each Archdeaconry shall be an Advisory Committee of the Board, whose duty it shall be to counsel the Board as to the amount which should be expended in, and the amount which should be raised by the Archdeaconry which they represent, and to use their best efforts to secure the required amount of Missionary offerings from their Archdeaconry.

SEC. 7. Each Archdeaconry shall hold two meetings a year at such places within its boundaries as it may designate. Other meetings may be held as the Archdeaconry may order. At all meetings of the Archdeaconry every Clergyman canonically resident within its boundaries shall be entitled to a seat; also three Laymen from each Parish or Mission Station within the limits of the Archdeaconry. Each Clergyman and each Lay Delegation shall have one vote. Any number of members present at a meeting duly called shall be competent to transact business. The meetings of Archdeaconry shall have for their main purpose the presentation of the claims of the Mission work of the Diocese and the Church. Such Missionaries as may be members shall report concerning their work, and provision may be made for especial needs of the Missionary work within the boundaries of the Archdeaconry. Contributions to local work shall not interfere with the claims of the Diocesan Board of Missions, and shall be reported to the Treasurer thereof, and included in his Annual Report to the Convention. It shall also be the object of these Archidiaconal meetings to bring the Clergy together in fraternal intercourse and to promote their spiritual and intellectual life. Each Archdeaconry shall make its own rules as to the arrangement of services.

SEC. 8. All Missionaries shall be appointed by the Board of Missions on the nomination of the Bishop, and may be removed with his approval. But in case of a vacancy in the Episcopate, or of the absence of the Bishop from the Diocese, or of his being otherwise unable to perform his duties, the Board of Missions shall have the power of appointing and removing Missionaries.

SEC. 9. It shall be the duty of every member of the Church in the Diocese to contribute as God hath prospered him, to the funds of the Board of Missions; and every Clergyman having Parochial or Missionary charge shall impress this duty upon his people, and cause one or more Offertories to be made annually for that object.

SEC. 10. The Treasurer of the Board of Missions shall include in his Annual Report all sums certified to him as expended in local Missionary work. He shall also receive, report and pay over any special contributions from Parishes or individuals in accordance with the instructions of the contributors.

SEC. 11. The travelling expenses of the members of the Board of Missions and of the Archdeacons, attending the meetings of the Board, shall be paid out of its treasury.

SEC. 12. Any Mission Station designated by the Board of Missions may be organized by the Bishop on the application of any residents in its neighbourhood. But such station shall not be established within the Parochial Cure of any other Minister or Ministers, without the consent of such Minister or of a majority of such Ministers, except on the advice and by the consent of the Standing Committee of the Diocese. The Bishop may appoint, upon the organization of the Mission, a Church warden, a Clerk, and a Treasurer, which officers shall thereafter be elected by the Congregation annually in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, in the same manner as provided for the choice of Deputies to Convention by section 2, of Canon II, of this Diocese. They shall, as far as possible, discharge the duties which belong to their respective offices in incorporated Parishes.

SEC. 13. The title of all property, real or personal, given or purchased for the use of any Mission Station, shall be vested in "The Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the Diocese of Albany," or in "The Trustees of the Diocese of Albany."

CANON XV.

Of the Episcopal Fund.

SECTION 1. The fund for the support of the Episcopate in this Diocese, now provided, together with that which may be hereafter contributed or acquired, and any accumulation accruing from the investment thereof, shall be entrusted to the Corporation, entitled "The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed April 28, 1869. The Trustees composing said Corporation shall be five in number, who shall be appointed by the Convention, and shall hold their offices during the pleasure thereof.

SEC. 2. All moneys belonging to the said fund shall be loaned by the said Trustees upon security of real estate, or invested in stock of the United States, or of this State, or of the city of New York, at their discretion; and all securities and investments shall be taken or made in their corporate name above mentioned; and they shall have power, from time to time, to change such investments. A statement, signed by the Trustees or a majority of them, exhibiting the condition of said fund and securities, together with the receipts and disbursements during the year, shall be reported to the Convention at every annual meeting thereof.

CANON XVI.

Of the Diocesan Fund.

SECTION 1. WHEREAS it is indispensable to provide a fund for defraying the necessary expenses of the Convention, including the expenses of those of the Clergy who may have to travel from a distance to the Convention, and also the cost of maintaining a suitable residence for the Bishop; it is hereby required of every Congregation in this Diocese to pay to the Treasurer of the Convention on or before the day of its annual meeting, a contribution at such a rate per cent upon the salary of its Clergyman as shall have been determined by the previous Convention to be required for the purposes above-mentioned.

SEC. 2. AND WHEREAS, by the Canons of the General Convention,* it is made "the duty of the several Diocesan Conventions to forward to the Treasurer of the General Convention, at or before any meeting of the General Convention, three dollars for each Clergyman within such Diocese;" therefore, it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to retain annually out of the Diocesan Fund, one dollar for each Clergyman in this Diocese, as a special fund, to be paid over to the Treasurer of the General Convention at each meeting of the same.

CANON XVII.

Of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund.

SECTION 1. The fund now existing, together with all contributions hereafter received for the support of Aged and Infirm Clergymen, shall be entrusted to the Corporation entitled "The Trustees of the Fund for the support of the Aged and Infirm Clergy of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed February 16, 1870. The said Trustees shall consist of the Bishop and the Treasurer of the Diocese, together with three Lay Trustees, who shall be appointed annually by the Convention. Vacancies occurring in the number of the Lay Trustees during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the remaining Trustees.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to receive applications for relief, and to administer it in accordance with such rules and regulations as they, with the approbation of the Convention, may from time to time adopt.

SEC. 3. The Trustees shall present a detailed report of their proceedings and of the condition of the fund to every Annual Convention.

CANON XVIII.

Of the Clergy Reserve Fund.

SECTION 1. A fund shall be established to be known as the Clergy Reserve Fund of the Diocese of Albany.

SEC. 2. The fund thus formed shall be permitted to accumulate until it shall amount to $20,000, and the income shall then be divided into annuities of $300, which shall be paid to the beneficiaries of the fund.

SEC. 3. The beneficiaries of the fund shall be the Clergy of the Diocese according to the seniority of their canonical residence.

* Title III, Canon 1, Sec. 5.

SEC. 4. No Clergyman shall be a beneficiary of the fund whose salary or stipend exceeds $1,000 per annum. Nor shall any Clergyman receive the annuity who has allowed the Parish or Mission under his charge to neglect its annual contribution to the fund.

SEC. 5. The principal of the fund shall not be impaired.

SEC. 6. The trustees of the fund shall be the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rector of St. Peter's Church, Albany, the Rector of St. Paul's Church, Troy, the Archdeacons of the Diocese, and the Treasurer of the Diocese, who shall be the treasurer of the fund. And they are hereby authorized to form a corporation under the laws of the State of New York, whose object shall be to carry into effect the provisions of this Canon, and to provide for the receipt by the corporation so to be formed, of real and personal estate by gifts, purchase, devise, bequest or otherwise, for the purposes of said corporation.

CANON XIX.

Of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen.

SECTION 1. The fund now existing, together with all contributions hereafter received for the relief of widows and orphans of Deceased Clergymen shall be entrusted to the Corporation entitled "The Trustees of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed February 16, 1870. The said Trustees shall consist of the Bishop and the Treasurer of the Diocese, together with three Lay Trustees, who shall be appointed annually by the Convention. Vacancies occurring in the number of the Lay Trustees during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the remaining Trustees.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to receive applications for relief, and to administer it in accordance with such rules and regulations as they, with the approbation of the Convention, may from time to time adopt.

SEC. 3. The Trustees shall present a detailed report of their proceedings and of the condition of the fund to every Annual Convention.

CANON XX.

Of the Examination of Securities, &c.

SECTION 1. A Committee of three Laymen shall be appointed at each Annual Convention to examine the securities of the several funds held by The Board of Missions, The Trustees of the Diocese, The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, The Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, The Trustees of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergy, The Trustees of the Clergy Reserve Fund and the Trustees of all other trust funds, and to report at the next Convention.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of such Committee to meet in each year at some time between the first day of November and the date of the meeting of the Annual Convention, at the place or places where the Treasurers of the above named funds reside, or where the securities in their keeping are deposited, and make an examination of such securities and of all books, papers, vouchers, etc., relating to them, and prepare a report to be presented to the Annual Convention next ensuing.

CANON XXI.

Of the Trial of a Clergyman not being a Bishop.

Whenever any Minister of this Diocese, not being a Bishop thereof, shall become "liable to presentment and trial" under the provisions of any Canon of the General or Diocesan Convention, the mode of proceeding in this Diocese shall be as follows:

SECTION 1. The trial shall be on a presentment in writing, addressed to the Bishop of the Diocese, specifying the offences of which the accused is alleged to be guilty, with reasonable certainty as to time, place and circumstances. Such presentment may be made by the major part in number of the members of the Vestry of any Church of which the accused is Minister, or by any three Presbyters of this Diocese entitled to seats in the Convention, or as hereinafter mentioned. Whenever, from public rumor or otherwise, the Bishop shall have reason to believe that any Clergyman is under the imputation of having been guilty of any offence or misconduct for which he is liable to be tried, and that the interest of the Church requires an investigation, it shall be his duty to appoint five persons, of whom three at least shall be Presbyters, to examine the case; a majority of whom may make such examination, and if there is, in their opinion, sufficient ground for presentment, they shall present the Clergyman accordingly.

SEC. 2. A presentment being made in any one of the modes above prescribed, the Bishop, if the facts charged shall not appear to him to be such as constitute an offence, may dismiss it; or if it allege facts, some of which do and some of which do not constitute an offence, he may allow it in part and dismiss the residue, or he may permit it to be amended. When it shall be allowed in whole or in part, the Bishop shall cause a copy of it to be served on the accused; and shall also nominate twelve Presbyters of this Diocese entitled to seats in the Convention, and not being parties to the presentment, and cause a list of their names to be served on the accused, who shall, within thirty days after such service, select five of them, and notify their names in writing to the Bishop; and if he shall not give such notification to the Bishop within the said thirty days, the Bishop shall select five; and the Presbyters so selected shall form a Board for the trial of the accused, and shall meet at such time and place as the Bishop shall direct, and shall have power to adjourn from time to time, and from place to place (but always within the Diocese), as they shall think proper.

SEC. 3. A written notice of the time and place of their first meeting shall be served, at least thirty days before such meeting, on the accused, and also on one of the persons making the presentment.

SEC. 4. If, at the time appointed for the first meeting of the Board of Presbyters, the whole number of five shall not attend, then those who do attend may adjourn from time to time; and if, after one adjournment or more, it shall appear to them improbable that the whole number will attend within a reasonable time, then those who do attend, not being less than three, shall constitute the board, and proceed to the trial, and a majority of them shall decide all questions.

SEC. 5. If a Clergyman presented shall confess the truth of the facts alleged in the presentment, and shall not demur thereto, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to proceed to pass sentence; and if he shall not confess them before the appointment of a Board for his trial, as before mentioned, he shall be considered as denying them.

SEC. 6. If a Clergyman presented, after having had due notice, shall not appear before the Board of Presbyters appointed for his trial, the Board may, nevertheless, proceed as if he were present, unless for good cause they shall see fit to adjourn to another day.

SEC. 7. When the Board proceed to the trial, they shall hear such evidence as shall be produced, which evidence shall be reduced to writing and signed by the witnesses, respectively; and some officer authorized by law to administer oaths may, at the desire of either party, be requested to administer an oath or affirmation to the witnesses, that they will testify the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, concerning the facts charged in the presentment. If, on or during the trial, the accused shall confess the truth of the charges, as stated in the presentment, the Board may dispense with hearing further evidence, and may proceed at once to state their opinion to the Bishop as to the sentence that ought to be pronounced.

SEC. 8. Upon the application of either party to the Bishop, and it being made satisfactorily to appear to him that any material witness cannot be procured upon the trial, the Bishop may appoint a Commissary to take the testimony of such witness. Such Commissary may be either a Clergyman or a Layman, and the party so applying shall give to the other at least six days' notice of the time and place of taking the testimony. If the person on whom the notice shall be served shall reside more than forty miles from the place of examination, notice of an additional day shall be given for every additional twenty miles of the said distance. Both parties may attend and examine the witness; and the questions and answers shall be reduced to writing and signed by the witness, and shall be certified by the Commissary, and enclosed under his seal, and transmitted to the Board, and shall be received by them as evidence. A witness examined before such Commissary may be sworn or affirmed in manner aforesaid.

SEC. 9. The Board, having deliberately considered the evidence, shall declare in a writing signed by them, or a majority of them, their decision on the charges contained in the presentment, distinctly stating whether the accused be guilty or not guilty of such charges, respectively, and also stating the sentence (if any) which, in their opinion, should be pronounced; and a copy of such decision shall be, without delay, communicated to the accused; and the original decision, together with the evidence, shall be delivered to the Bishop, who shall pronounce such canonical sentence as shall appear to him to be proper, provided the same shall not exceed in severity the sentence recommended by the Board; and such sentence shall be final. Before pronouncing any sentence, the Bishop shall summon the accused, and any three or more of the Clergy, to meet him at such time as may, in his opinion, be most convenient, in some Church to be designated by him, which shall, for that purpose, be open at the time to all persons who may choose to attend; and the sentence shall then and there be publicly pronounced by the Bishop. But the Bishop, if he shall be satisfied that justice requires it, may grant a new trial to the accused, in which case a new Board of Presbyters shall be appointed, the proceedings before whom shall be conducted as above mentioned.

SEC. 10. All notices and papers contemplated in this Canon may be served by a summoner or summoners, to be appointed for the purpose by the Bishop, and whose certificate of such service shall be evidence thereof. In case of service by any other person, the facts shall be proved by the affidavit of such person. A written notice or paper delivered to a party, or left at his last place of residence, shall be deemed a sufficient service of such notice or paper.

SEC. 11. The defendant may have the privilege of appearing by counsel; in case of the exercise of which privilege, and not otherwise, those who present shall also have the like privilege.

SEC. 12. If the Ecclesiastical Authority of any other Diocese shall, under the provisions of the Canons of the General Convention, or otherwise, make known to the Ecclesiastical Authority of this Diocese, charges against a Presbyter or Deacon thereof, such communication shall be a sufficient presentation of him for trial; and the trial shall take place as above provided. The Bishop shall appoint some competent person as Prosecutor, who shall be considered as the party making the presentment.

CANON XXII.

Of Differences between Ministers and their Congregations.

SECTION 1. Whenever there shall be any serious difference between the Rector of any Church in this Diocese and the Congregation thereof, it shall be lawful for a majority of the Vestry or Trustees to make a representation to the Bishop, stating the facts in the case and agreeing, for themselves and for the Congregation which they represent, to submit to his decision in the matter, and to perform whatever he may require of them by any order which he may make under the provisions of this Canon, and shall at the same time serve a copy of the representation on the Rector.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Bishop, at all stages of the proceeding, to seek to bring them to an amicable conclusion; and in such case the agreement between the parties, signed by them and attested by the Bishop, shall have the same force as an order made under section 4 of this Canon.

SEC. 3. If the matter shall not be amicably settled within a reasonable time, the Bishop shall convene the Clerical Members of the Standing Committee and shall give notice to the parties to appear before him and present their proofs and arguments at such time and place as he may appoint; and he may adjourn and continue the hearing in the matter in his discretion.

SEC. 4. When the hearing is concluded, the Bishop shall make such an order in regard to the matter as he may think to be just and for the true interests of the Church; and such order may require the Rector to resign his Rectorship, and may require the Church to pay a sum of money to the Rector; and it shall be the duty of the Rector and of the Church and every member thereof to submit to and abide by such order as the final and conclusive determination of all matters of difference between them. Provided, that no order shall be made under this or the next succeeding section of this Canon, unless with the advice and concurrence of at least two Clerical Members of the Standing Committee, who shall have been present at the hearing.

SEC. 5. If it shall be made to appear to the Bishop that any agreement made under section 2 of this Canon, or any order made under section 4 of this Canon, or of this section, shall have been disregarded by any of the parties concerned, or if an application be made to him to modify such order, he may convene the Clerical Members of the Standing Committee, and after hearing such further proofs and arguments as may be presented to him, make such further order in the matter as he may think proper with the same effect as an order made under section 4 of this Canon.

SEC. 6. If any Church or Congregation shall persistently neglect or refuse to obey any order made under this Canon, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to exhort the members of such Congregation to submit to the authority and discipline of the Church; and if they will not do so, the Convention may proceed to dissolve the union between the Church so offending and the Convention of this Diocese, and may take such other action in the matter as it may think expedient. Provided, that no such action shall be held or taken to be a surrender of any right which either the Church in this Diocese, or such members of such Congregation as submit to the authority and discipline of the Church may have in the corporation of such Church, or in any property belonging thereto.

SEC. 7. Whenever the Standing Committee shall be acting as the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese, the Clerical Members thereof shall perform the duties herein required of the Bishop; and they shall request the Bishop of some other Diocese to attend the hearing of the case, and shall make no order therein but with his advice and assistance.

CANON XXIII.

Of Amendments of the Canons.

No new Canon or amendment of a Canon shall hereafter be adopted by the Convention, unless at least one day's previous notice thereof shall have been given in open Convention; nor, unless by unanimous consent, until the same shall have been referred to, and reported upon by a Committee of at least two Presbyters and two Laymen. All propositions to amend the Canons shall be in the form of a Canon, and such sections as shall be amended shall be re-enacted in full in their amended form.

DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

RULES OF ORDER.

1. After the administration of the Holy Communion, the President shall take the chair, and call the Convention to order.
2. If the President ex officio is not present at the opening of the Convention, the Secretary of the last Convention shall call the Convention to order, when the Presbyter, senior by ordination, present, shall take the chair; and in such case, immediately after the organization of the Convention, a President shall be elected from among the clergy.
3. When the President takes the chair, no member shall continue standing, or shall afterward stand, unless to address the Chair.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

FIRST DAY.

4. After the Convention is called to order, the roll of the clergy and of the parishes entitled to representation shall be called by the Secretary of the last Convention; the certificates of the lay deputies, as presented, being referred to a committee consisting of the Secretary and two members appointed by the President. If a quorum of twenty clergy and a representation of twenty parishes be present, the President shall declare the Convention duly organized.
5. The first business shall be the election of a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Registrar. The Secretary may appoint one or more Assistant Secretaries, announcing their names to the Convention.
6. Notices, resolutions, motions and other miscellaneous business shall then be in order.
7. The following committees shall be appointed by the President:
 - A. On the Admission of Parishes into Union with the Convention.
 - B. On the Constitution and Canons.
 - C. On the Treasurer's Accounts.
 - D. On the Diocesan Fund and Mileage of the Clergy.
 - E. On Diocesan Missions.
 - F. On the Bishop's Salary and the Episcopal Fund.
 - G. On the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen.
 - H. On the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund.
 - I. On the General Theological Seminary.
 - J. On Theological Education.
 - K. On unfinished business.
 - L. On non-reporting Clergy and Parishes.
8. Business for these committees shall be received in the following order:
 - A. Report of the Treasurer.
 - B. Report of the Board of Diocesan Missions.
 - C. Report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund and of the Bishop's Salary

STANDING ORDER.OF THE CONDUCT OF ELECTIONS.

WHEREAS, it is expedient to provide by a standing order, for the manner of conducting all elections by ballot in the Convention of the Diocese of Albany, it is hereby ordered as follows :

1. The President of the Convention shall appoint one clergyman and one layman to be tellers of the clerical vote, and one clergyman and one layman to be tellers of the lay vote, and as many clergymen and as many laymen as he shall deem necessary to assist the tellers of each vote. Vacancies, arising from temporary absence or otherwise, shall be supplied by the President.

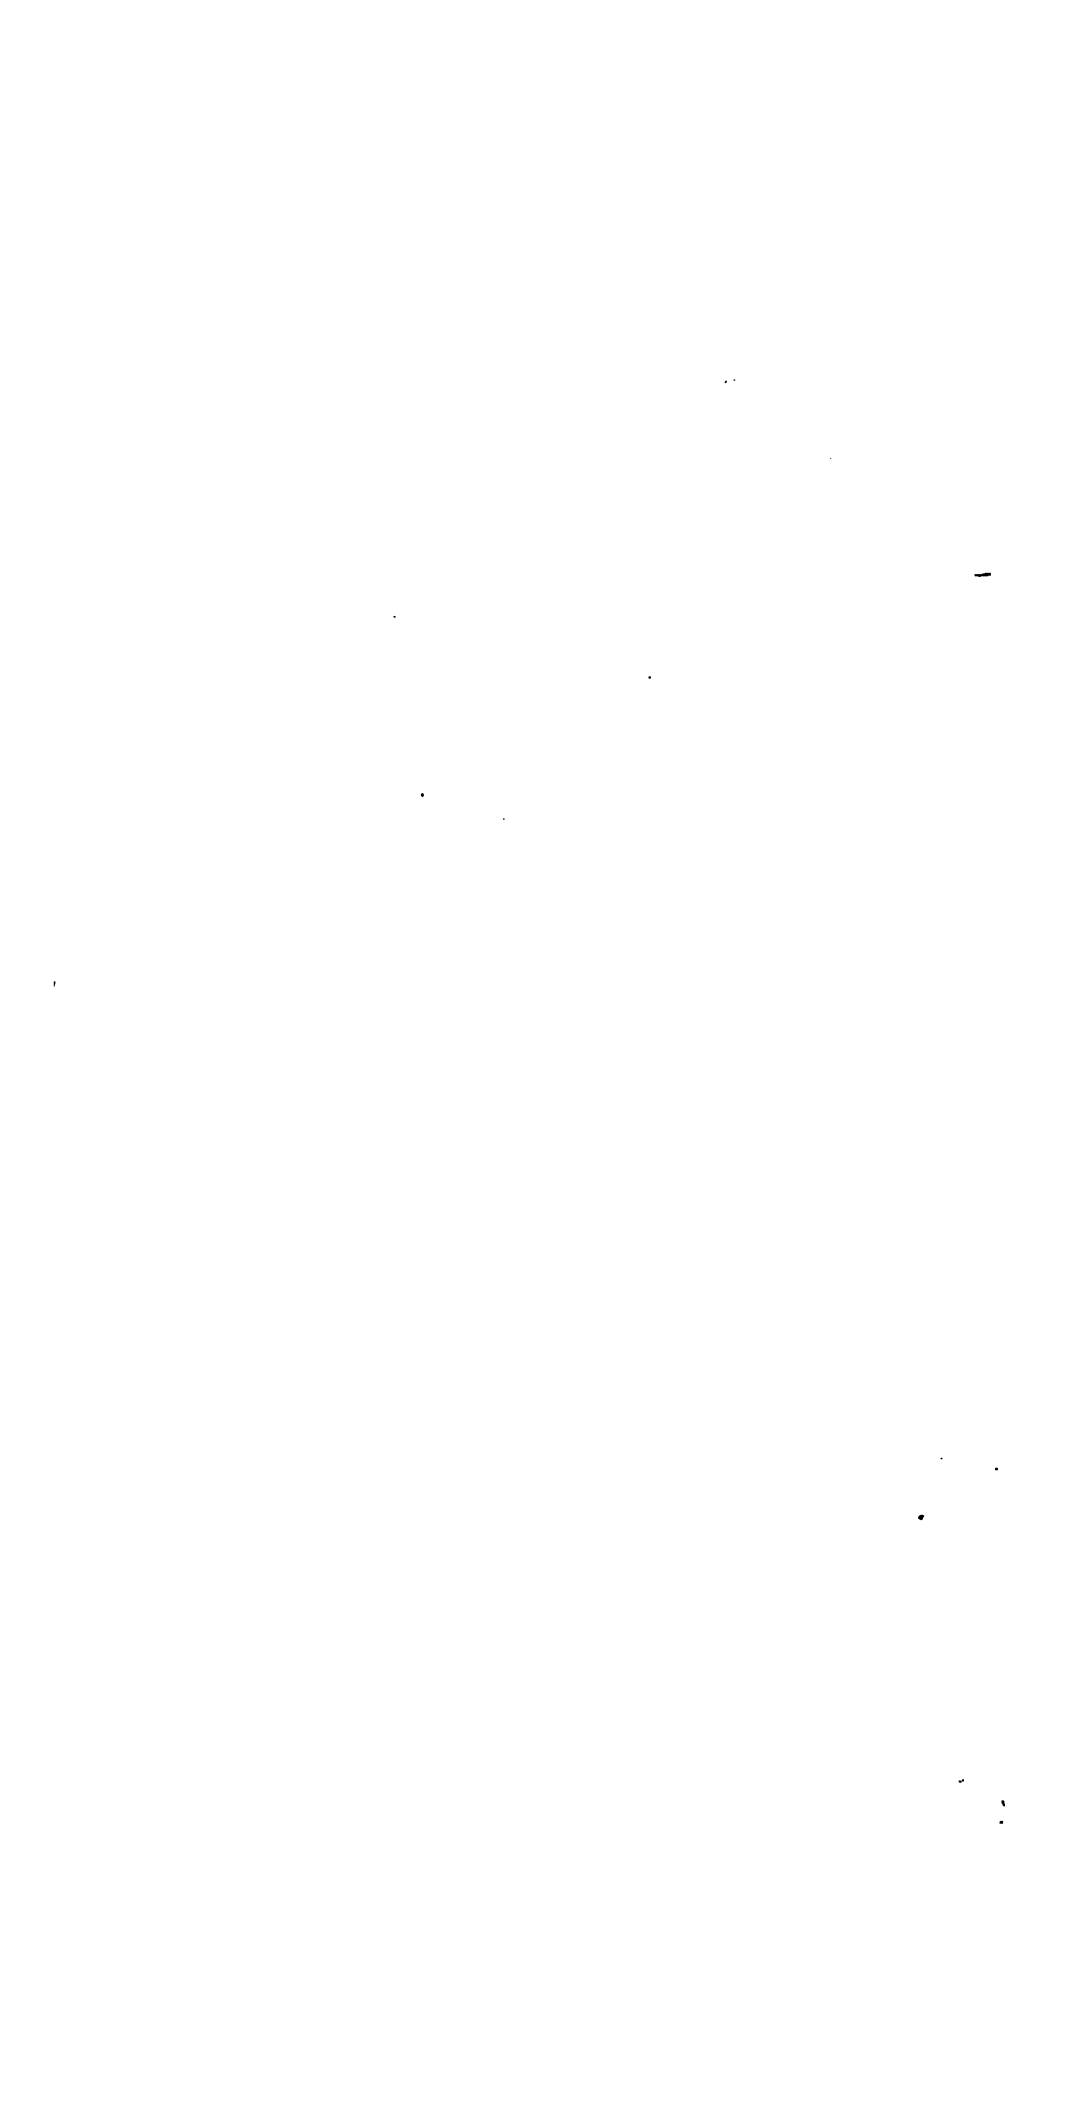

2. When the election is to be held, the tellers for the clerical vote shall take their places, together, on one side of the house or place of meeting, and the tellers for the lay vote, together, upon the other side; and the Secretary shall supply them with the necessary boxes, and also with lists of the clergy entitled to seats in the Convention, and of the parishes entitled to representation, on which lists, as each vote is deposited, they shall make a mark against the name of the clergyman or parish voting; and these lists, signed by the tellers, shall be returned with their reports to the Convention. The names of the clergy and of the parishes shall be called by the Secretaries, and the votes shall be received by the tellers.

3. So soon as voting shall appear to have ceased, the President shall announce that the polls are about to be closed, and not less than five minutes after such announcement, he may direct the tellers to count the votes, for which purpose they shall have leave to retire. The tellers shall then proceed to count the votes, and shall make written reports, stating the whole number of votes cast, and the number cast for each person, except that when less than five votes are cast for any one person, it shall suffice to include all such votes under the head of scattering. These reports shall be signed by the tellers respectively, and shall be entered upon the Journal, and the President shall announce the result.

4. In case of any contest arising as to the right of any person to cast a vote, the tellers shall submit the question to the Convention, and such question shall be determined by the Convention, before the closing of the polls.

5. If in regard to any office there shall not be a majority of votes, either in the clerical or in the lay order, for any one person, or if there shall not be a concurrence of the two orders, the Convention shall forthwith proceed to another ballot, for such and so many offices as have not been filled at the first ballot; and such second and all other ballots shall be conducted in the same manner as above provided. In case there shall still remain any vacancy to be supplied after such second ballot, further ballots may be held at the order of the Convention.

6. Nominations for members of the Standing Committee and for Deputies and Provisional Deputies to the General Convention shall be made on the first day of the Convention at the call of the President, under the order of "Miscellaneous Business;" and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Convention to prepare, for the use of the Convention on the second day, ballots containing the names of all persons so nominated for these several offices, with notes indicating the whole number to be chosen for each office respectively. But in case of vacancies occurring in such offices during the Convention, at any time after such nominations shall have so been made upon the first day of the Convention, nominations for persons to fill such vacancies, as also for all other offices to be filled at the Convention, shall be in order immediately before any ballot for such election shall be taken. No speech or debate shall be allowed upon any such nomination or while the Convention is holding an election nor shall any nomination be considered as before the house until it shall have been duly seconded.

JOURNAL.

All Saints' Cathedral Church, Albany, N. Y.
Tuesday, November 15, A. D., 1904.

This being the day appointed by the Constitution for the meeting of the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the Diocese of Albany, and the Bishop of the Diocese having designated the Cathedral Church of All Saints, Albany, as the place of its meeting, the Bishop, and a number of Clergy and Lay Deputies assembled in the Cathedral at half-past ten o'clock in the morning.

A Service of Benediction of the completed Choir of the Cathedral was held, the request for the blessing being presented by the Very Rev. the Dean of the Cathedral, and the Service of Benediction being said by the Bishop of the Diocese.

The Holy Communion was administered, the Bishop of the Diocese being the Celebrant, the Bishop Coadjutor of New York reading the Epistle and the Bishop of Massachusetts the Gospel, the Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese, the Dean of the Cathedral, and Archdeacons Battershall and Carey assisting at the Communion of the people.

The sermon was preached by the Missionary Bishop of the Philippine Islands.

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS.*

We are to remember this morning among the faithful departed whom God has taken to Himself since the meeting of the last Convention,

The Rt. Rev. Abiel Leonard, Bishop of Salt Lake.

The Rt. Rev. James Addison Ingle, Bishop of Hankow, China.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas Underwood Dudley, Bishop of Kentucky and Chairman of the House of Bishops.

The Rt. Rev. Frederick Dan Huntington, Bishop of Central New York.

The Rev. Theodore A. Snyder,

The Rev. Henry Kingham,

The Rev. Henry L. Gilbert,

The Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D.,

} Priests of the Diocese of Albany.

*The Bishop's Address is printed here, although it was not read at the opening service, in order that readers of the Journal may find it in the place in the Journal where they have been used to finding it. Except the Journal portion, it was read in the Cathedral at half-past four in the afternoon.

Miss Augusta Porter Wiggins, Bethesda Church, Saratoga Springs.

Mr. Leslie Pell-Clarke, of Springfield Centre.

Mr. John H. Van Antwerp, of St. Paul's, Albany.

Mr. John Greig Ogden, of the Cathedral.

Mr. Francis Sylvester, of St. Paul's, Kinderhook.

The Hon. S. A. Kellogg, of Plattsburgh.

Mr. John DeWitt Peltz, of St. Peter's, Albany.

Miss Jane Stott, of St. Barnabas, Stottville.

Mr. William Hatlee, Warden of Grace Mission, Jonesville.

Mrs. Katharine North Carey, of Bethesda, Saratoga.

Miss Sarah Meads, of the Cathedral.

Miss Mary Wilkins, of Grace Church, Cherry Valley.

Mrs. Samuel E. Smith, of the Cathedral.

Mrs. Minerva Hyde Hayes, of St. Matthew's Church, Unadilla -
E. L. Trudeau, Jr., M. D.

William P. Wagstaff, of Holy Cross, Troy.

John S. Kelso, Vestryman of Grace Church, Waterford.

Margaret Wright, a faithful servant in St. Agnes School.

"Almighty and ever-living God, we yield unto Thee most high praise and hearty thanks for the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all Thy saints, who have been the choice vessels of Thy grace and the lights of the world in their several generations; most humbly beseeching Thee to give us grace so to follow the example of their steadfastness in Thy faith, and obedience to Thy holy commandments, that at the day of the general resurrection, we with all those who are of the mystical body of Thy Son, may be seated on His right hand, and hear that His most joyful voice: Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. Grant this, O Father, for Thy Son Jesus Christ's sake, our only Mediator and Advocate. Amen."

On Wednesday, November 11, the Thirty-fifth Annual Convention of the Diocese met, by the courteous invitation of the rector, in St. Peter's Church, Albany, the Cathedral being in so unfinished a condition as not to be suitable for the service. I celebrated the Holy Communion, the Bishop of Salina reading the Epistle and the Bishop of Duluth the Gospel, and, delivered in place of a sermon, my Annual Address. We were occupied with a good deal of business during the afternoon, in Graduates Hall. At a meeting of the General Chapter of the Cathedral, held after Evensong in the choir room, the Rev. Henry Russell Talbot was elected Dean of the Cathedral. At night, in the Cathedral building, we met to consult about the mission work of the Diocese, and had thrown into our discussion and consideration, I am glad to say, the Church's missions outside of the Diocese, by addresses from the Bishop of Salina and the Bishop of Duluth, much to the advantage and edification of the congregation.

Thursday, November 12, in the morning, in Graduates Hall, the Convention continued its sessions, receiving and acting upon the report of the committee on my suggestion of the necessity of electing a Bishop Coadjutor. The report was unanimous and was adopted by a rising vote, with the kindest and most generous feeling. The Convention adjourned after the morning session. In the afternoon the Board of Missions held its meeting, and discharged its business.

Friday, November 13, in St. Peter's Church, Albany, I celebrated the Holy Communion at the meeting of the Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, and in the afternoon the Dean and I made addresses at the close of the session.

Tuesday, November 17, I made an address at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce in New York.

Wednesday, November 18, in Grace Church, Newark, I preached the sermon at the consecration of the Rev. Edwin Stevens Lines as Bishop of Newark, the Presiding Bishop and the Bishops of New York and New Jersey being the consecrators, the Bishops of Delaware, Central Pennsylvania, Pittsburg and I assisting. In the afternoon I baptized two infants.

Thursday, November 19, I presided at a very interesting meeting of the Conference on Marriage, at which large and hopeful progress was made, and at which twelve religious bodies were represented.

Saturday, November 21, I confirmed, in the Cathedral, one person for the Holy Innocents parish.

Sunday, November 22, in the afternoon, I confirmed one person; and later, in St. Andrew's, Albany, I preached and confirmed eight persons.

Tuesday, November 24, I celebrated the Holy Communion in the Oratory of the Sisters' House, the Dean and Canon Fulcher assisting me, and began in this way the grateful keeping of the fiftieth anniversary of my marriage.

Thursday, November 26, being Thanksgiving Day, in the morning, I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion in the Cathedral.

Saturday, November 28, in the evening, in Philadelphia, I was present at the memorial service of my old college society, and read the prayers and made an address.

Sunday, November 29, in the Church of the Holy Apostles, Philadelphia, I preached a missionary sermon.

Monday, November 30, in Rouses Point, the Bishop of Vermont acting for me, confirmed eight persons, four from Rouses Point and four from Champlain.

Tuesday, December 8, in New York, I presided at a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society.

Sunday, December 13, in the afternoon, in St. Giles' Church, Castleton, I preached and confirmed fourteen persons.

Friday, December 18, in the Cathedral, I ordered Priest the Rev. John William Foster, the Rev. Dr. Silliman presenting him, and Canons Fulcher and Carter and the Rev. Mr. Snow joining in the laying on of hands.

Saturday, December 19, I presided at a meeting of the Trustees of the Diocese in the library of the Bishop's House.

Tuesday, December 22, I admitted Ellen Mason a postulant for the Sisterhood of the Holy Child.

Friday, December 25, in the Child's Hospital, I made welcome the Knights Templar, who came with their generous and most acceptable gifts to the children.

Sunday, January 3, I was prevented by the extreme cold from going myself to preach the anniversary sermon on the hundredth anniversary of the Lansingburgh parish, and was obliged to send the sermon, which the Rector kindly read in my place.

Monday, January 4, I was made Chairman of a committee of citizens to consider the subject of making better provision for the safety of the theatres and public buildings in Albany. After several sessions and much careful examination, the committee reported to the Mayor certain measures in their judgment necessary to be taken, and the report was afterward accepted and its suggestions put into effect.

Wednesday, January 6, I said the prayer at the opening of the Senate.

Monday, January 11, I was present at the dinner given to the Southern Education Society, in New York.

Tuesday, January 12, I presided at a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society.

Thursday, January 14, in New York, I gave the Holy Communion in private to a sick friend.

Tuesday, January 26, in St. Bartholomew's Church, New York,

I preached the sermon at the consecration of the Rev. David H. Greer. The Bishops of New York and Pennsylvania with myself were the consecrators, and the Bishops of Nebraska and (Coadjutor) of Pennsylvania the presenters.

Thursday, January 28, I was present at the Annual Meeting of the Peabody Trustees in Washington.

Tuesday, February 2, the thirty-fifth anniversary of my consecration, I celebrated the Holy Communion in the Oratory of the Sisters' House, with many loving people about me and many gracious greetings in the house.

Wednesday, February 3, I presided at a meeting of our Committee on the Canon of Remarriage, at the Missions House in New York.

Thursday, February 4, I presided at a full and good meeting of the Commission on the Revision of Canons, at which we completed our work.

Friday, February 5, in Grace Church, New York, I took part in the burial service of Mr. William C. Whitney.

Sunday, February 7, in St. Mark's, Green Island, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and blessed the new altar, which is a memorial to dear Adler, including in the service the new memorial windows and some new furnishings for the Altar.

Thursday, February 11, at a meeting of the Special Convention called for the election of a Bishop Coadjutor, I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion, the Archdeacons of Albany and Troy reading the Epistle and Gospel, and the Archdeacon of the Susquehanna, with the Dean and the Secretary of the Convention, assisting in the administration. The Convention was organized at noon, and on the fifth ballot the Rev. Richard Henry Nelson, of Philadelphia, was elected. Our prayer had been that the choice should fall upon "him whom the Lord had chosen," and I have had every reason most thankfully to recognize how graciously God has dealt not only with the Diocese but with me, in giving us a fellow-worker unto the Kingdom of God who is and will be, not only a comfort to me, but a strong and most acceptable worker in the Diocese.

From Tuesday, February 16, until Tuesday, March 8, I was, with my family, the guest of my dear friend Mr. Jesup at Jekyl Island, renewing and increasing my impressions of the restfulness and beauty of the life there and meeting many old friends.

Wednesday, February 17, in the Union Church there, being Ash Wednesday, I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion.

Sunday, February 21, at ten o'clock, I celebrated the Holy Communion in the Church and baptized a little baby; and later in the morning I preached the sermon at the dedication service, which was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Schauffler.

Sunday, February 28, in Faith Chapel, as the church is called, I celebrated the Holy Communion at ten o'clock, and said Morning Prayer and the Litany at eleven, Rev. Mr. Schauffler preaching.

Wednesday, March 2, I kept my seventy-second birthday with many tokens of home love and of the kindness of friends both old and new.

Sunday, March 6, in Faith Chapel, I celebrated the Holy Communion at ten and preached at the morning service at eleven, and again at a short service in the Chapel at four in the afternoon.

Monday, March 14, in the presence of the Rev. Canons Carter and Fulcher, I deposed from the ministry of the Church the Rev. Arthur Beaumont, on his own renunciation of the ministry.

Wednesday, March 16, I made one of the addresses on Missions which the Dean has very wisely inaugurated in private houses. I dealt with the subject of Diocesan Missions, running over an experience of thirty-five years, rich in many delightful memories, with a tinge of sadness that that work is over for me.

Friday, March 18, I preached one of the course of Friday evening sermons in the Cathedral.

Tuesday, March 22, I presided at a meeting of the Committee of the Inter-Church Conference on Marriage and Divorce, and on Wednesday, March 23, in the afternoon, at a most excellent and interesting meeting of the Conference itself, at which many important points were secured, and at which the address, which has since been published, to the Church, was delivered. I should be glad if this paper could be communicated to the congregations of the Diocese, and shall be very glad to furnish copies of it for that purpose.

Thursday, March 24, I celebrated the Holy Communion and preached in the Oratory of the Sisters' House, and ordered Priests the Rev. J. Robert Lacey, presented by Mr. McLean, and the Rev. Ernest A. Smith, presented by Dr. Carter, the Rev. Canon Fulcher and the Rev. Mr. Marvin assisting in the laying on of hands. At night, in the Cathedral, I preached and confirmed forty-two persons, two of whom were presented by the rector of St. Andrew's, Albany.

Friday, March 25, in All Saints', Hoosac, in the afternoon, I preached and confirmed ten persons.

Sunday, March 27, in the morning, in St. Peter's Church, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and confirmed twenty-three persons.

Wednesday, March 30, in Grace Church, Albany, in the evening, I preached and confirmed forty-one persons.

Thursday, March 31, I made my visitation in the Church Home in Troy and preached and celebrated the Holy Communion in the Chapel.

Saturday, April 2, Easter Even, in the afternoon, in St. Paul's Church, Albany, I preached and confirmed fourteen persons.

Sunday, April 3, Easter Day, at 10:30, I said an office of Thanksgiving for the partial completion of the new choir, preaching the sermon and celebrating the Holy Communion. Imperfect and incomplete, it had in it the full promise of its great beauty, and abundant reason for intense and infinite thankfulness for so great and blessed a gift.

Wednesday, April 6, I installed the Very Rev. Henry Russell Talbot as Dean of the Cathedral. I preached in the absence of the Bishop of Vermont, which we all greatly regretted, and the Dean celebrated the Holy Communion.

Sunday, April 10, in St. Paul's Church, Troy, in the morning, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and confirmed forty-two persons. And in the afternoon, in the Church of the Holy Cross, in Troy, I preached and confirmed three persons.

Tuesday, April 12, in New York, I presided at the meeting of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society.

Thursday, April 14, in Grace Church, Newark, I solemnized a marriage.

Sunday, April 17, in the morning, at St. George's, Schenectady, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and confirmed twenty-one persons. In the afternoon, in St. Ann's Church, Amsterdam, I preached and confirmed thirty-six persons.

Monday, April 25, in St. Mark's Church, Green Island, I preached and confirmed eleven persons.

Sunday, May 1, in the morning, in St. John's Church, Troy, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and confirmed sixteen persons. In the afternoon I took part in the burial office of Miss Sarah Meads in the Cathedral, and later in the afternoon, in St. Barnabas, Troy, I preached and confirmed seventeen persons.

Sunday, May 8, in the afternoon, in the Church of the Messiah, Rensselaer, I preached and confirmed thirty persons.

Tuesday, May 10, in New York, I presided at the meeting of the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society.

Wednesday, May 11, in the Cathedral, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion and ordered Priest the Rev. Charles Lewis fruit of which we know nothing in various and divergent directions; but some results, material and visible, I think it wise to note, because I am sure it means that in these places of summer resort much more might be done than is done in the way of securing generous gifts for Church work. The offerings in the Church, for its support the year around, amounted to about $1,600, and nearly as much was given to pay up some indebtedness of last year's expenses and the insurance on the building. Five hundred dollars were given for diocesan missions, $1,500 for domestic and foreign missions, and $500 for the Church Missionary Society, with special reference to the Church in Brazil, and more than $1,000 was sent when terrible news came of the outbreak of diphtheria in Alaska, to relieve that present need. Making a total of gifts during the summer of nearly $7,000.

On the 18th of August I presided at the meeting in the interest of the work at Tuskegee, at which Mr. Booker Washington spoke with others, and the result was the gift of more than $500 for the support of his work.

On the 10th of August we had the great pleasure and honor of welcoming the Archbishop of Canterbury and Mrs. Davidson, with the Rev. Mr. Ellison and the Rev. Mr. Holden, his Chaplains. They were at the early celebration in the Church on the 11th. The Archbishop preached a very impressive sermon, the Church being crowded to its utmost capacity, and in the afternoon, at a gathering of the people who live in North East Harbor all the year round, I presented him, in my own home, as a friend of twenty-seven years, to those who had been neighbors and friends to me for nearly twenty-five years.

On Tuesday, the 20th of September, in the cemetery at Rhinecliffe, I said the office for the burial of the dead over the body of Miss Lena Morton.

On Friday, the 23d of September, the Archbishop came with his party to Albany for a very brief visit, but long enough for him to see the Cathedral and the institutions that gather about it, about all of which he was most graciously expressive.

On Sunday, September 25, in the Cathedral close in Washington, with an audience estimated from twenty-five to thirty-five thousand people, I preached the sermon, and the Archbishop made an address in response to the salutation of the Bishop of Washington. The whole service, both from the number of Bishops and Clergy and the number of Choristers, the full singing of the hymns, was inspiring and impressive beyond words.

On Wednesday, October 5, I preached the sermon in Trinity Church, Boston, at the opening service of the General Convention.

On Sunday, October 9, I presided at a meeting in the Church of the Advent, Boston, and made an address on the subject of the legislation asked for on the marriage of divorced persons. The other addresses were made by the Bishop Coadjutor of New York, the President of Nashotah and Judge Stiness.

On Monday, October 10, I presided at an overflow meeting in the interest of Missions in St. Paul's Church, at which the Archbishop of Canterbury spoke. The "overflow" idea is surely the great argument for missionary extension, and the need, twice, of such meetings, when Symphony Hall and Trinity Church were packed full, bore testimony to the interest of people in the great work.

On Sunday, October 16, I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion in St. Paul's Church, Boston.

On Sunday, October 23, I preached in St. Paul's Church, Brookline.

On Sunday, October 30, in the Gymnasium, I preached the university sermon at the sesquicentennial service of praise and thanksgiving of Columbia University in the city of New York.

Monday, October 31, for the thirty-third time I lighted the All Halloween fire on the hearth of the great school room in St. Agnes School.

Tuesday, November 1, I preached the annual sermon on our dedication festival and celebrated the Holy Communion in the Cathedral Church of All Saints.

Wednesday, November 2, I was present in New York at the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Peabody Education Fund.

Thursday, November 10, I preached at the meeting of the Board of Missions in New York.

Chiefly because the sessions of our Diocesan Convention follow so closely, every three years, the meeting of the General Convention of the Church, it has been my habit always to give to the clergy and lay people of this Diocese my own impression of the character and work of that great gathering of Bishops and Deputies; and though it seems less needful year by year, since the newspapers report the proceedings so much more at length, I am inclined to follow my old habit, because I think the total result of the Convention can be better realized by a condensed and collected resumé, than by the daily conventional reports.

First of all, this Convention was made memorable by the coming to it of His Grace, the Archbishop of Canterbury. Present, at the opening service, and received by each of the two Houses, he was a constant and careful observer, especially in the House of Deputies, of the conduct of business in that assembly, where clergymen and laymen sat and voted in equal numbers and with equal influence. Whatever impression he has taken away, he has left behind him a memory that never can fade, of the simplicity of true dignity, of active and alert comprehension and adaptability, of large minded and liberal sympathies, of an appreciation of our peculiar American needs and character of work, in which, all that carried with it the conviction of his own deep sense of official responsibility, was blended with the charm of personal graciousness and courtesy. He has done much to make good his own words, that "the relations between the two Churches are not filial or fraternal, but identical." We all felt sure of the welcome which, as Churchmen, we should extend to him, but I was, I confess, quite unprepared for the way in which he was received generally wherever he went; — in Washington, at the great open air service; in Faneuil Hall, by citizens of Boston, with Henry Higginson, Charles Eliot, and Richard Olney at their head; in the Park Street Church, by ministers of the Evangelical Alliance; and in Harvard University. He seemed equally at home in every place, whether in the great missionary meetings, in the House of Bishops, in the House of Deputies, and in all outside gatherings, saying always the wise and kindly thing, his mouth speaking "out of the abundance of his heart," attuned by a sort of natural instinct to every varying occasion.

Notable and memorable next to this, thank God, was the exceeding fulness of interest in the Church's missionary work. Crowding congregations which compelled overflow meetings, came to every one of the appointed services, and the Board of Missions afternoons this year, as never before, filled Emmanuel Church, very largely with the members of the two Houses. If, as we hope and pray, this shall be known as the great Missionary Convention of the Church, it means that we are wakening more and more to our duties, and their demands. The great gift from the Woman's Auxiliary, the increased offering of the Sunday Schools, the inspiration from the voices of our missionary leaders, from the home field, from abroad, from the Philippine Islands and Brazil, make an impulse for the coming year which ought to carry the Church on the current of a rising tide toward larger appropriations, larger expenditures, larger achievements than we have hitherto dared to hope. It was no small part of the influence of this spirit which, beside filling the episcopates in Salt Lake and Hankow, also elected Bishops for Cuba and Mexico; and by an act, which please God will prolong the life of the beloved Bishop of South Dakota, made special canonical provision to choose a Bishop Coadjutor to assist and relieve him. By the confirmation of the Bishop Coadjutor-elect of Springfield and his consecration, and after the consecrations of the Bishop Coadjutor of East Carolina and of the newly elected Bishops, the number of living Bishops in this Church will be exactly one hundred.

The Convention also adopted a new Missionary Canon, many of whose features I think are of very great value and importance. What has been known as the Board of Managers will hereafter be known as the Board of Missions. So that the confusion which has hitherto existed between the General Convention as a legislative body, and the members of the General Convention meeting, with others, as a Board of Missions, will be done away with. But the General Convention in its two Houses will sit in joint session at every triennial meeting to receive the report of the Board of Missions and take action thereon by concurrent vote of the two Houses. Instead of the Missionary Council, it is understood that the Board of Missions will from time to time arrange for holding missionary conferences in various parts of the country, for the systematic study of missions, and for the arousing among the people of greater missionary zeal. And I think added dignity is given by the fact that now the General Secretary, who is the executive officer of the Board, and the Treasurer, are to be elected, not by the Board of Managers, but by each General Convention.

The Convention also adopted, with some amendments, a large body of canons, which has made its formal appearance twice before and been discussed and postponed and deferred. Not meaning to dwell on personal things, I may be allowed to say that this brings an infinite relief to me, ending the anxious labour of twelve years in which, as Chairman of the Commission, I have taken my part. It is needless to speak in detail of the new arrangement which does away with the old titles and groups the canons in a simpler and more harmonious way, but I am quite sure it will be found more convenient and more easily intelligible. Quite apart from the adoption of these canons, the Convention took a long, indeed a most important step in the creation of Courts of Review, in which appeals may be heard from the determinations of Diocesan Courts. Almost more than the fact that this secures to our clergy the common right of appeal against possible injustice, it carries with it an infinite relief from responsibility to every Bishop.

The Joint Commission on Marginal Readings was not only honoured in the vote to discharge them on the reception of their final report, but still more I think by the wise determination not to lay aside all the result of their valuable labours, by authorizing the revised version to be read in our churches. I am more and more satisfied, as I use the Marginal Readings Bible, that it contains all that there is of the essence of a clear conveying in English of the meaning of the original, and that it saves us from having to speak, and the people from having to hear, much of the jarring crudities of speech in the needlessly innumerable instances of verbal change which the revisers made. If the clergy object to the difficulty of finding the word in the margin, it is only an added reason for doing what Mr. Thomas, of Philadelphia, told the Deputies he always did as a lay reader, namely, reading the lessons over before he read them in the Church. Much painful and irreverent slovenliness and much unpardonable and cloudy carelessness would be avoided if this were done.

Not unnaturally, the most intense interest centered in the marriage discussion, whose issue is, I profoundly believe, a disappointment to the country, a misrepresentation of the real hopes and expectations of the Church, and a failure to rise in response to the exigencies of the occasion. I have no mind to weary you with any restatement now of the position which I have held for many years; but for the clearer understanding of those here and elsewhere who are not familiar as many of you are with all the facts, I wish to say distinctly that my position has from the first been unchanged, namely, that this Church ought not to dare to base its legislation on this critical and fundamental matter, upon any single passage of the Word of God, — even if its authenticity were certain and its meaning clear, — against the whole drift of the teaching of our Lord and of His Apostles, and in hopeless inconsistency with its own marriage Office from beginning to end. It must be plain to any thoughtful reader of the debates and the votes of the Convention, as it was to those who watched them or had part in them, that only two really significant and decisive votes were taken on this subject. The first was the vote of the Bishops on their proposed canon which forbade any of our clergy to marry any divorced person divorced for cause arising after marriage, and at the same time provided that the Sacraments should in no case be refused to the innocent party in a divorce granted for the cause of adultery.

This canon, which I reproduce here, was carried in the House of Bishops by a vote of 51 to 23 in its section as to marriage, and of 56 to 19 in its section as to discipline.

OF MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE.

§ i. No Minister shall solemnize a marriage between any two persons unless by inquiry he shall have satisfied himself that neither person has been, or is, the husband or the wife of any other person then living, from whom he or she has been divorced for any cause arising after marriage.

§ ii. If any Minister of this Church shall have reasonable cause to believe that a person desirous of being admitted to Confirmation, or to the Holy Communion, has been married otherwise than the discipline of this Church doth allow, such Minister, before receiving such person to these ordinances, shall refer the case to the Bishop for his godly judgment thereupon: Provided, however, that no Minister shall, in any case, refuse the Sacraments to a penitent person in imminent danger of death, nor to the innocent party in a divorce granted for the cause of adultery.

The other significant vote was the vote of the House of Deputies, by which the final legislation was enacted, which was a vote by Dioceses in the order of the clergy, of 52 to 7, and in the order of the laity of 46 to 5. All other votes before and after this were too close and narrow to mean very much. It would have been almost as marked a misfortune if the canon which was defeated by so close and narrow a vote, had been passed by a vote as close and narrow, except for the great value of the Bishops' vote. It will be noted that the minority report left the old canon as it was, with a simple change in the fourth section:

"Questions touching the facts of any case arising under Section 2 of this canon shall be determined by the record of the civil court which judged or decreed the divorce, copy of which under the seal of said court shall be furnished the minister requested to solemnize the marriage."

This was cleverly withdrawn and never came to a vote. The majority of the Committee on Canons of the House of Deputies reported the canon which follows:

COMMITTEE ON CANONS.

Report No. 5.

The Committee on Canons, to which were referred various resolutions proposing to amend Title II, Canon 13, respectfully offers the following:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That Title II, Canon 13, § iii, be amended so as to read as follows:

§ iii. If any Minister of this Church shall have reasonable cause to doubt whether a person desirous of being admitted to Holy Baptism, or to Confirmation, or to the Holy Communion, has been married otherwise than as the Word of God and discipline of this Church allow, such Minister, before receiving such person to these ordinances, shall refer the case to the Bishop for his godly judgment thereupon: Provided, however, that no Minister shall, in any case, refuse the Sacraments to a penitent person in imminent danger of death, nor to any person who shall solemnly aver that he, or she, was the innocent party in a divorce for the cause of adultery.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That Title II, Canon 13, § ii, be amended so as to read as follows:

§ ii. No Minister shall solemnize a marriage between any two persons, unless by inquiry, he shall have satisfied himself that neither person has been or is, the husband or the wife of any other person then living, from whom he or she has been divorced for any cause arising after marriage.

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That Title II, Canon 13, § iv, be amended so as to read as follows:

§ iv. If any question shall arise under § iii of this canon in a Diocese or Missionary jurisdiction in which there is no Bishop, such question shall be referred to some Bishop to be designated by the Standing Committee; and the Bishop to whom such question has been so referred shall thereupon make inquiry in such manner as he shall deem expedient, and shall deliver his judgment in the premises:

Resolved, the House of Bishops concurring, That Title II, Canon 13, § v, be and the same is hereby repealed.

After long debate, this canon was lost by a narrow constitutional vote. The popular vote by count carried it in the House of Deputies by a majority of 23, and although it had 30 affirmative votes in the clerical order by Dioceses against 21, and 25 lay votes against 24, it was lost because the divided votes of course counted in the negative. The canon as it was finally adopted in the House of Deputies, ~~after some amendments~~ by the Bishops, is as follows:

"3. No Minister, knowingly after due inquiry, shall solemnize the marriage of any person who has been or is the husband or wife of any other person then living, from whom he or she has been divorced for any cause arising after marriage. But this canon shall not be held to apply to the innocent party in a divorce for adultery; provided, that before the application for such remarriage a period of not less than one year shall have elapsed after the granting of such divorce; and that satisfactory evidence touching the fact in the case, including a copy of the court decree, and record if practicable, with proof that the defendant was personally served or appeared in the action, be laid before the ecclesiastical authority, and such ecclesiastical authority, having taken legal advice thereon, shall have declared in writing that in his judgment the case of the applicant conforms to the requirements of this canon; and provided further, That it be within the discretion of any Minister to decline to solemnize such marriage.

"4. If any Minister of this Church shall have reasonable cause to doubt whether a person desirous of being admitted to Holy Baptism or to Confirmation, or to the Holy Communion, has been married otherwise than as the Word of God and discipline of this Church allow, such Minister, before receiving such person to these ordinances, shall refer the case to the Bishop for his godly judgment thereupon: provided, however, that no Minister shall in any case refuse these ordinances to a penitent person in imminent danger of death.

I think it is wise and right to stop and think just what these significant votes signify. In the House of Bishops, for instance, I know that the majority did not and does not mean so much a consensus of conviction as to the indissolubility of marriage as it seems to imply. That entered largely into the vote, but the motive and meaning of it, taken as a whole, was, that the Bishops in overwhelming numbers felt that a strong and clear utterance was needed in the present distress and exigency, to protest against the prevalence and progress of free and easy divorce. More as leaders and teachers entrusted with the responsibilities of leading and teaching than as co-ordinate legislators, they spoke plainly and strongly. The question before them was not of interpolation, nor of interpretation, of Holy Scripture. All reference to the Word of God was intentionally omitted, while at the same time the canon was constructed upon the consistent line of refusing to marry because the single exception might not be intended; and at the same time of admitting to the Sacraments because it might be our Lord's mind. Thank God that utterance has gone out with an increased volume of clearness and strength, to have its weight more and more, and I believe, in the future, to have its way. I was one of not a few who felt and urged that it would have been wiser to stand steadily and silently by that utterance, and take the risk of leaving our present canon as it is, trusting the final result to the not far off future; but the Bishops, by a small majority, decided that it was wiser to accept the gain which was offered, and so, with two not unimportant amendments, they concurred. So far the Bishops.

The other vote of which I have spoken as significant was the vote to ratify the compromise canon, which finally passed.

That certainly did not signify a change of mind on the part of those who, by a majority of votes by voice, and by a large number of votes by Dioceses and orders, had accepted the canon prohibiting the clergy from remarrying. It was presented by the same Deputies who introduced the majority report of their Canons Committee; and was urged avowedly on the ground that since the House of Deputies would not enact a law that should make remarriage impossible by our clergy, it was better to make it so difficult as to be next door to impossible. Nothing is idler than to speculate upon the things that might have been; if the Bishops' canon had gone earlier to the House of Deputies; if the representatives of the majority report of the House of Deputies had been able to secure the time that had been allotted to them to argue their case, etc. But it is not idle, it seems to me, to realize that the contentions of the last twelve years have not been unfruitful; that progress has been made toward more stringent legislation; that the advance made in the past warrants hope for the future; that education by agitation must be the watchword of those who believe that only the severe treatment of absolute refusal to allow our marriage service to be used in these cases, will heal and arrest the social disease. An attitude not of discouraged but of disappointed expectation; an attitude not of acquiescence but of expectant determination, is the lesson from this year's result. And unless somehow "the moral sewers which we call divorce courts are flushed with the tide of a purifying and cleansing public sentiment" (see Bishops' Pastoral Letter), three years from now will find the demand still stronger for the Church to rid herself from all responsibility for any remarriage after divorce. It is perhaps too strong a word to use, which someone has used, that "instead of the Church regenerating society, society is degenerating the Church." But really I believe, and I believe it with much sense of shame, that when the time comes we shall be forced to our true position by a public opinion which we have failed to lead and only feebly helped to form. When sound and sane public opinion is outraged to a point of intolerableness, when what is called society comes more and more to feel that dignity and decency alike demand the protection of the children, of the home, of womanhood, yes, of manhood too, against the disintegration of this increasing laxity, then I believe we, who might have been healers, shall become helpers by clear and strong and final action along the lines of the Bishops' utterance this year. Think what it means as a token of the steady downward result of the relaxation of the old English law, that after fifty years of its operation in the civil courts of England, a writer of much the higher class of modern novels, like George Meredith, should advocate "terminable marriages," and urge that marriage be "only a temporary contract, say for ten years;" to which a woman novelist adds, "If the life sentence is to be abolished, why substitute a sentence of ten years?" Surely, brethren and friends, the time for half-measures has gone by if we are to be subjected to suggestions like these. The London Guardian, in a late issue, says of this, "The recognition of divorce a vinculo and the legalization of remarriage can have only one result, that is, to weaken the Christian idea of the indissolubility of marriage and to strengthen the non-Christian idea of a contract terminable under given circumstances." "In some States in America divorce has become a fine art, a local industry. When things have reached this pass the idea not unnaturally occurs that it would be simpler and more effective to make the bond a temporary one at first, rather than to provide elaborate legal machinery for dissolving it."

I shall be glad if the hopes of others are better founded than my fears. I am most free to recognize that the change in the votes which adopted this last canon in both Houses was brought about on the grounds of opinion and expediency, as it was resisted in both Houses on the grounds of conviction and principle. The first, of course, could be changed by circumstances; the second must in the nature of things be unyielding; but under all, my lasting regret is, that the Church has postponed, please God not lost, her leadership in this great contest.

In the uncertainty of scriptural argument and scriptural agreement, and because of the pressing necessity of positive action, it is quite a mistake to speak of the canon of the Bishops as virtually identical with that which the Deputies were considering. It differed in this radical way intentionally, namely, that omitting all mention of the Word of God, it lifted the subject out of and away from critical and exegetical questions. In the discussion of the House of Deputies much stress was laid on this. A sort of cuttle-fish clouding of the discussion from the very beginning sought to distract the minds of Deputies from fair and square reference to the canon which dealt only with sin committed after marriage; by a sweeping application quite unintended and unimplied to the effect of sin before marriage in both man and woman. The attitude of the Bishops, if I read it rightly, was this: They were facing not "a theory but a condition," not a piece of textual criticism or of exegesis but a hideous fact. The previous canon, and so far as its essential principle goes the present canon, allowing a clergyman to use the marriage service in the one case, has been in operation perhaps for half a century. It has absolutely failed to impress the Church or the world. Divorces procured by collusion; the sin which would allow remarriage absolutely committed in order to obtain it; divorce secured on other grounds, claimed and allowed upon the assurance that the true cause was concealed although it existed; and failure by reason of impossibility in innumerable cases, to distinguish between the guilty and the innocent — all this has been going on and spreading. Meanwhile the Roman Church, refusing divorce, but multiplying possibilities of remarriage by innumerable grounds of dispensation and countless definitions of pre-nuptial sin; the Presbyterians adding the ground of cruelty to that of unfaithfulness; the Methodists and Lutherans standing with us in their written law; and all of us powerless to arrest the steady downward progress of feeling and practice which has dishonoured marriage, disgraced society, degraded womanhood, destroyed homes, and confused the relations of parent and child, until in every country in the world the American divorce habit is a by-word and a reproach. "Quousque tandem abutere patientia nostra," one is tempted to cry out to the man, who, in the face of facts like these, is content to apply the mild remedy mitigating this, rather than the drastic and caustic treatment, if you so call it, of positive refusal. Supposing that our Lord did prohibit all exceptions but one in the application of the law of that time to the people of that time, surely there may have, surely there have come conditions when the Christian religion and the decencies of society and the dignities of home demand that the Church shall withhold that concession; and supposing that our Lord did not allow it, then the Church is particeps criminis with the adulterers and adulteresses in allowing this one opening in the barrier between marriage and concubinage to have spread out into a very floodgate, through which the vile current of multiplied divorces is pouring in such an increasing stream, as to threaten not the sanctity only but the security of the marriage relation. There is something almost like effrontery in the persistent reiteration, like that of the mob of the Ephesian worshippers of Diana, that Christ unquestionably sanctions the remarriage of what is called the innocent party. Critical scholarship has been and is divided upon the question. But more and more the best critical scholarship disputes and denies either the rightfulness of the text in the passage at all, or its interpretation. At any rate it has gone so far that in our Marginal Readings Bible the text is changed in the margin to omit the reference to remarriage. And in what is perhaps the latest and most careful critical edition, "The Synopsis of the Gospels in Greek, after the Westcott and Hort Text by Dr. Arthur Wright, the vice-president of Queens College, Cambridge," this conclusion is reached: "Our contention is that the Church, perhaps of Alexandria, introduced these two clauses into the Gospel in accordance with the permission to legislate, which our Lord gave to all churches. (Matt. 18:18.) There is good reason for our contention that the exception in St. Matthew is in both cases a later interpolation." It certainly is presumptuous to claim the monopoly of certainty or of scholarship on either side of this question. I may be, indeed I am, absolutely persuaded in my own mind that the teaching of our Lord and of His Apostles is that marriage is indissoluble except by death. Other people are absolutely persuaded in their minds that it is dissoluble by unfaithfulness; and alas, other people are persuaded, if not in their minds at least in their wills, that marriage is a contract dissoluble at the pleasure of one or other of the parties to the contract. I cannot but think that in facing this last theory the two other convictions ought to unite and say that the time has come when, acknowledging the difficulties both of interpretation and of authority, Christian men should insist that because of the exigency, the necessity, the hideousness, the horror of American conditions, this American Church should lift up her voice to warn, and hold up her hands to stop, if possible, all further downward progress in this matter of divorce. I believe the time is coming when more general acknowledgment of critical results, and new light through critical study, will compel the convictions of both clergy and laity to recognize, as the real interpretation of our Lord's mind, the whole tone of the New Testament scriptures as teaching that the marriage bond holds until death. Perhaps Almighty God is waiting for that time, when upon the immutable ground of conviction, quite apart from and beside the growing feeling of necessity, the Church shall conform her canon-law to the plain teaching of her Book of Common Prayer, and legislate as she blesses, pronounces, and prays.

It is impossible for me, I am sure it would seem unnatural to you, if I should speak my first word in the Cathedral after this morning's service without some expression of the infinite satisfaction and pleasure which comes to me with this morning's service of dedication. Unasked of man, and unexpected, almost beyond my dreams, has come to me the intense joy of the exquisite beauty of this choir. You will share the joy with me, brethren and friends, on this dedication day, which brings the beautiful crown and the blessed consummation of hopes that I hardly dared to form, and of prayers that I hardly dared to phrase. Nor can I find the fitting and adequate word to tell my thankfulness to God. Sometimes out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh; but sometimes just because of the abundance there is silence instead of speech; the sort of silence that fell upon the patriarch of old when he woke from the celestial dream to realize that "this is none other than the House of God, this is the gate of Heaven." Growing, as the Cathedral has, almost like a live thing, there comes to it, as there comes to live things, in this last act of growth, the developed beauty of bloom and fruitage. Like that strange increment which invested money gets by interest, almost as if it was alive, so this building has grown from corner-stone to the cross that caps its eastern end; and every step of growth has led on to something more. Out of the munificent gift which built the choir have come, in natural progress, the completed east window, the seven new windows in the transepts, the great rose window with its exquisite tracery in the north transept wall, the carving of every uncarved arch, the enlargement of the organ, and now, only a day or two ago, the gift of another rose window for the south transept wall. I have no doubt that it will go on to grow, until by and by the stone reredos with its sculpture, and some day the nave and the lantern and the towers and spires finished will crown the work "with the beauty of holiness." Better even than this is the growth and development more and more of the working power of the Cathedral, and the realization, growing and sure to go on to grow, of its relation to the diocese; not merely as the great central church, which, because it is the Bishop's, belongs therefore to every churchman in the diocese, but also as the place from which—as Dean Talbot develops into practical activity what has long been my ideal of the purpose of a cathedral—a spiritual force shall go out into the smaller parishes and the weaker mission stations, and through the whole diocese, so that it shall become not merely a centripetal attraction, but a centrifugal power of spiritual energy. And all the while, as the diocese, thank God, has come to realize and know, instead of demanding from the diocese support, or diminishing the gifts of the parishes for their own work and for mission work, it has simply added all that there is in it of material and spiritual value to the invested capital for diocesan and ecclesiastical life.

REPRINTED MEMORIALS.

MRS. CHARLES E. PERRY.

Mrs. Perry, who for sixty years resided in Delhi, in a most refined and charming home, has passed away in her eighty-seventh year. Always a devout Christian and most devoted to the Church, she never failed to give her service, her attendance at its worship and her loving help to the Parish. Tied by kinship and marriage to distinguished names, she was the fine representative of all that is best from blood and breeding, not least in the humbleness and simplicity which graced the dignity of her life and character; and for years she has been, through her relation with my dearest friends in Albany, my warm and loyal friend. Her death leaves another empty place among the old Delhi homes that made me welcome in the earlier years. But her name will be always fresh in my loving memories, and the turn from the earthly communion to the communion in Paradise is not hard to make, as I remember her, in our eucharistic commemorations, among the faithful, waiting in rest for her reward.

W. C. D.

HENRY B. DAUCHY.

The Bible and Prayer Book Society of Albany and vicinity, through its directors, paid a tribute to the memory of Mr. Henry B. Dauchy, whose death occurred at the time of its annual meeting. It could not be couched in too strong terms. I only add my personal word of grateful recognition of years of most earnest and painstaking devotion, given quietly and most faithfully, to the care of the funds and the promotion of the best interests of the Society. Mr. Dauchy was a fellow-worker with whom association was most attractive, and a friend whose cordial courtesy and sympathy I often sought and always found.

W. C. DOANE.

JOHN H. VAN ANTWERP.

A distinguished citizen has gone from Albany in the death of Mr. John H. Van Antwerp. It is said to be the habit of the noblest of animals, when the sense of approaching death possesses them, to withdraw into the loneliness of some secluded place and die in the dignity of solitude. Unconsciously, this has come to pass in the case of my friend, whom broken health has withdrawn for years into the sacred privacy of his home, and away from the haunts of men. We miss him not newly, therefore, now, but the old prominence and power of his life come back to our memories, and we do sorely miss the wise head, the true heart and the strong hand which were given so freely to the best interests of the State, the city and the Church during the many years of long and active service. When I came to Albany thirty-six years ago, I was almost immediately brought in personal relation with him, as the friend of my friends, and as a conspicuous layman of the Church, and the relation deepened and strengthened as the years went on. He was prominent in the organization of the new Diocese, in the securing of the episcopal fund and in the various details connected with the beginning of such a work. He was placed almost instinctively upon every committee, in every trusteeship, on every ecclesiastical board, and he gave himself with ardent energy to all these duties. His financial ability, which was so often attested in his administration of moneyed institutions in the city, was equally recognized in the Church, and the same spirit of wisdom and energy with which ~~he~~ ~~threw~~ himself into the State Board of Charities and the park commission were freely at our command. His deep love for his own Parish Church of St. Paul and its successive Rectors, manifested not only by generous giving, but by constant personal attendance on its services, and care for its advancement, never prevented him from full participation in the affairs of the Diocese, and to me for years and years he was always a wise and courteous counsellor and friend. I must remember him always as one of the builders of the Diocese of Albany, and recall his name among the first of my personal friends here.

W. C. D.

FRANCIS SYLVESTER.

The vestry of St. Paul's, Kinderhook, have paid just and due tribute to the memory of my old friend Mr. Francis Sylvester. To me he is associated with the very first beginnings of everything in my relations to the Diocese of Albany. His courteous kindness as he made me welcome to his charming old home, his constant companionship in the drives when I made my visitations, his kindly interest in all that concerned the work in the Diocese,—all are very gracious memories. And while of late years I had seen very little of him, there are not many of the older laymen whom I remember more distinctly or more delightfully, and I am glad of the opportunity of putting on record my recognition of his character as an interested Churchman, an attractive gentleman and a most kindly and courteous friend.

W. C. D.

THE RIGHT REV. THOMAS U. DUDLEY, D. D., LL. D.

No more conspicuous figure than Bishop Dudley's ever stood before the American Church, and he did stand both before and for the whole Church. His outward semblance, manly, dignified, graceful, was the outward and visible sign of the inward and spiritual grace of his nature. And that nature was beautiful with manliness, tenderness, affection. His temperament lent itself easily and readily to the service he was called to render. His voice had all the southern charm of sweetness and the subtle power which rang out in vibrating force or melted into softest melody. His personality, rising at times to the height of genius, gave impressiveness and emphasis to his speech. He was a born orator and held and swayed his hearers, when he was on fire with his subject, as the wind sways trees. I have heard him on many occasions, in the General Convention, in our great missionary meetings, in the Missionary Council. His whole soul was wrapped up in the care of our Negro people, and he was, perhaps, at his best when he was pleading their cause, for which, not with his utterances only, but with the lavish devotion of his life, he gave himself. He went with me at the invitation of the Archbishop of Canterbury to the Bi-centenary of the Venerable Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts. He preached the afternoon sermon in St. Paul's Cathedral on the Sunday of the celebration, which I did not hear, but I did hear his noble speech in Exeter Hall, when he carried away the great body of his audience in admiration of his utterance and in sympathy with his arguments. I was proud of him and proud to share as an American Bishop the representation of our Church in such a gathering. This, of course, deals only with a single phase of his composite and many-sided nature. He was so loving a man that he won love from all who came in contact with him. He was so strong a man that he wielded a commanding influence in the Church, not only in his own Diocese, but in the House of Bishops and wherever he was. Most charming and attractive in social life, with a fund of humour and an inexhaustible memory, he has left behind him the deepest of impressions on the life of the Church and on the hearts of his friends and in the undying remembrance of his brethren.

W. C. D.

LESLIE PELL-CLARKE.

"Leslie Pell-Clarke died quietly this afternoon" (Thursday in the Easter Octave). So the sad message comes to me that tells of his release and of our bereavement. His life, rounded and ripened so early, was a rich and beautiful life, which had every reason and promise of a "longer continuance amongst us." As we measure men; his splendid strength of physical manhood which made him conspicuous wherever he was, and his manner of life, active, outdoors and temperate in all things, marked him, as we thought, for a long life on earth. But God had provided better things for him; and after months of courageous struggle and brave endurance of pain, he has been allowed to depart in peace into the long life that is forever and ever. The Church in America loses by his death, from her missionary councils and her general legislative body, a son trained in her ways, true to her teachings, and devoted to her service. This Diocese, which has been honoured always by every honour that it gave to him; the Orphan House at Cooperstown whose interest he advanced with loving and lavish service, and the parish which owes almost its life to him, are all bereaved by his death. And for myself, both as a man and as the Bishop, I cannot measure in feeling, nor put in adequate words, my sense of the personal loss of a loyal, loving, genial, generous, sympathetic friend. He was the most "wholesome" man I almost ever knew; in his love of nature, in his pleasure in outdoor life, in the joy of his physical vigour, in the simplicity and largeness of his hospitality, in the cordial frankness of his high-bred courtesy, in the tender beauty of his home life, in the scholarly taste and cultivation of his mind, in his quick and genial humour, in his deep and devout religious convictions, in his strong, sane, sound Churchmanship. Into the innermost shrine of the sorrow which his death brings, one enters with the silence of an intense pity, praying God to comfort it with the blessedness of its memories and the joy of its immortal hope; and to shed upon its desolation some ray of the light and some portion of the peace into which we believe his soul has passed; where may God make perpetual light to shine upon him and refresh him with the multitude of peace.

W. C. D.

Two deaths compel notice in two very different estates of life. Miss Meads in the ripeness of a very old age has departed to her rest, a most devout and continuous attendant upon the services at the Cathedral, and generously interested in all its works of mercy. The older members of the Diocese will associate her at once with her most beloved brother, Orlando Meads, who was one of the first laymen of the Diocese during his long life.

And a great sorrow has come into the life of a man whom all who know him delight to honour, and all who know him are constrained to love, the beloved physician of Saranac Lake, in the death of his son, in the very prime and promise of manhood, treading in his father's footsteps, but passing suddenly and soon, with only a short test of service, into rest and reward.

W. C. D.

MISS JANE C. STOTT.

Miss Jane C. Stott, daughter of Jonathan and Julia C. Stott, of Stottville, N. Y., passed from this life to life eternal on Saturday, April 16, 1904. She was born in Hudson, N. Y., September 19, 1820. Subsequently removing to Stottville, she, with her devoted mother, began a small Sunday school, which afterward developed into the now flourishing parish of St. Barnabas.

Her life work was at Stockport. After the building of the church by Mr. Joseph Marshall, she organized and was superintendent of the Sunday school and choir. She was in the fore of every parish undertaking. Possessing a strong personality, she made her influence felt in every detail. She was a generous giver, liberal to the poor, most careful in selecting books for the library, which is remarkable in its varied character. Her Christmas tree was a wonder, in its wealth of presents. Her life is as a thread of gold running through the warp and woof of parish life here and in Stottville.

She was a self-sacrificing, devoted mother in Israel. Any word of praise seems inadequate and out of place, for she shunned all parade and expression of thanks.

We, the rector, wardens and vestrymen, would put on record our high appreciation of her holy, blameless life.

St. John the Evangelist Church.

This notice of the life and character of Miss Jane Stott so fully expresses my appreciation of her that I am glad to add to it my recognition of its most just and fair delineation of a rare character.

REVEREND HENRY KINGHAM.

I must make note of the loss to this Diocese by the death of the Rev. Henry Kingham, to whom the end came suddenly and most unexpectedly and away from home. Mr. Kingham had been in this Diocese in one of the remote and difficult places of work at Schroon Lake. He had in him both the spiritual and the physical strength of a true missionary; undaunted by distances and difficulties, and thoroughly devoted to his work. He had just exchanged the harder for the somewhat easier place, where he was beginning a most acceptable work, and the parish at Schuylerville really mourns his loss. "A strong man," as the clerk of the vestry writes me, "discreet, deliberate, of excellent education and attainments and a preacher of unusual ability." One can only feel that the service of his ministry, short as it was, has been so earnest as to have won an early rest and reward.

W. C. D.

WILLIAM HATLEE.

I must make note here of the death, at the ripe age of eighty-two years, of William Hatlee, warden and some time lay-reader of Grace Church, Jonesville.

He was the oldest and perhaps the foremost of a body of men whom I had come to hold in most affectionate respect for their devotion and faithfulness to the upbuilding and maintenance of the Church in this small community. He was truly a venerable figure, and a striking instance of what a faithful layman ought to be, and can accomplish for the Church.

W. C. D.

THE REV. DR. GILBERT.

The death of the Rev. Dr. Gilbert, Rector of the Church at Lake George, comes to me with a sense of sorrow, enhanced by its great suddenness, and by what seems to our short sight its prematurity. A man of the most modest and retiring nature, he was not known for his full worth, except by the few who came into close contact with him, and his earthly work is over when he had just come to the beginning of his maturity — “dead ere his prime.”

He filled the Rectorship of the Lake George Parish with equal acceptance to the differing elements of its summer and winter congregations, because he combined with the habits and attainments of a rare scholar the earnest simplicity of a faithful follower of Jesus Christ. Together with a deep sympathy with his immediate family and their irreparable loss, I have a keen sense of the bereavement of his congregation which he served so faithfully, and of his loss to the Diocese.

W. C. D.

JOHN PRIEST.

This faithful old layman, just past his seventieth year, died in West Burlington on the second of July. He had been for a great many years Vestryman and for many years Warden of the Mission. He was a man to be classed with Mr. Hatlee as among the simple, old-fashioned, devoted laymen, who really loved the Church and was largely instrumental in maintaining the services through many vicissitudes and changes, and he has left behind him in the community in which he lived the fragrant memory of a faithful life.

W. C. D.

MRS. NEWELL.

There has gone out from the Parsonage at Mechanicville a very rare and beautiful life in the death of Mrs. Newell. It was my pleasure to know her first in Paris, when she was heart and soul absorbed with her husband, in a very admirable work across the Seine, for the American students living in the Latin Quarter. Entering, as she did, with all her own artistic taste and feeling, into their pursuits and interests, she was able to give them the kind of sympathy which was so valuable and important to young American men and women away from the influences of home. And when later on, through the ordination of her husband and her son, I was thrown into nearer relations with her, I came more and more to recognize the beauty of her Christian life. It would be hard to say what was the dominating attraction, because there was such perfect symmetry in her nature. But as I see her and think of her now in her exquisite refinement, her unusual intelligence, her true spirituality, the gracious expressiveness of her manner and her speech, her cheerful courage under the hindrances and limitations of illness, and the self-forgetting sacrifice with which she gave herself to whatever service of the Master came to hand, I realize what a power her life has been, and what a blessed and beautiful memory it leaves behind. She had certainly chosen here upon the earth "the better part," and as we believe and pray, has passed into the fruition and realization of the better life.

W. C. D.

WILLIAM F. WAGSTAFF.

I write with most cordial emphasis to endorse all that was said in the resolutions adopted by St. Stephen's Guild about William Fletcher Wagstaff. To me he is identified almost inseparably with dear Dr. Tucker and Dr. Warren and with the whole of my long relation with the Church of the Holy Cross. A record of so long and so faithful a service is remarkable and rare. The attractiveness of his loving welcome remains fresh in my memory. He loved to be "a door-keeper in the House of the Lord," and one feels infinite assurance that he has passed through the doorway of death into the nearer presence and the more beautiful house of Him Whom he served so lovingly on earth.

The Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes' School,
2 p. m., November 15, 1904.

After the Service, the Convention was called to order by the Bishop of the Diocese, in the Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes' School.

In accordance with Section I, Canon I, of the Diocese, the Bishop presented a List of Clergy canonically resident in the Diocese.

The Secretary called the roll of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention, and ninety-eight were found to be present.*

The roll of Churches in union with the Convention was called and certificates of Lay Deputies were presented. The Right Rev. President appointed as Committee on Credentials of Lay Deputies, the Rev. O. S. Newell and Mr. Edward B. Cushney, of Zion Church, Fonda, with the Secretary.

The Committee on Credentials of Lay Deputies reported the certificates from seventy-six Parishes as correct.

The Secretary called the names of Deputies entitled to seats in the Convention, and ninety-two Deputies were found to be present, representing fifty-two Parishes.†

A constitutional quorum being present, the Right Rev. President declared the Convention organized and ready for business.

The election of officers being in order, on motion of the Rev. Joseph Carey, D. D., the Assistant Secretary was instructed to cast one ballot for the Rev. William C. Prout for Secretary. The ballot was so cast, and the Right Rev. President declared the Rev. Mr. Prout elected Secretary.

* See List of Clergy, pages 6-10.

The Secretary nominated the Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., for Registrar and Mr. Selden E. Marvin for Treasurer.

On motion, the Secretary was instructed to cast one ballot for the Rev. Dr. Sill as Registrar, and one ballot for Mr. Marvin as Treasurer. The Secretary cast the ballot as instructed, and the Right Rev. President declared them elected respectively Registrar and Treasurer as nominated.

The Secretary appointed the Rev. Canon Fulcher as the Assistant Secretary.

By unanimous consent the Right Rev. President suspended the regular order for a few moments, and made a presentation of a silver inkstand to the Secretary and a silver candlestick to the Assistant Secretary in recognition of their having served together as Secretary and Assistant Secretary for an unbroken term of twenty-five years.

On motion of the Rev. Edgar A. Enos, D. D., the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

WHEREAS, Our beloved brother, the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, priest and doctor, has been, by the providence of God, suddenly removed from our midst by death; therefore,

Resolved, That a Committee, consisting of the Rev. James Caird, the Rev. George D. Silliman, D. D., and the Rev. Edward T. Carroll, be appointed to prepare and present to this Convention a suitable minute expressive of our profound grief and sense of loss, and of our heartfelt sympathy with Dr. Pendleton's bereaved family and Parish.

On motion of the Rev. Joseph Carey, D. D., it was Resolved, That we, the members of this Diocesan Convention, express our thankfulness and sense of deep obligation to the Right Rev. Dr. Lawrence, Bishop of Massachusetts; the Right Rev. Dr. Greer, Bishop Coadjutor of New York, and the Right Rev. Dr. Brent, Bishop of the Philippines, for their presence this morning at the service in All Saints' Cathedral, showing their interest in the work of our beloved Bishop and rejoicing with him in the accomplishment of his heart's desire in setting apart such a glorious habitation, as the completed choir and sanctuary of the Cathedral, to the mighty God of Jacob.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That Clergymen of other Dioceses, Professors and Students of Theology in this Church, and all persons holding any office or trust under the Convention, if not members thereof, being present, be invited to seats in the Convention.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the order of services and sessions for this Convention be as follows: A recess shall be taken from five to eight o'clock this evening; at eight o'clock the Convention shall assemble in the Cathedral for the annual Missionary service and meeting; to-morrow the Holy Communion shall be celebrated at seven o'clock in the morning, and the Morning Prayer and Litany said at ten o'clock, in the Cathedral; the business session shall be resumed in this place at half-past ten with the usual recesses from one to two and from five to eight o'clock.

Resolved, That the election of the Board of Missions shall be held at the same hour with other annual elections to-morrow, and that other business connected with the work of the Board of Missions shall be postponed from this evening to come before the Convention at the call of the President to-morrow.

The Rev. George L. Richardson gave notice of the following proposed amendment to Canon XII, which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on the Constitution and Canons: *

Amendment to Canon XII (of Vacant Parishes):

Add a new section to be numbered Sec. 3:

Within fifteen days after the receipt of the notice of vacancy required by Section 1 of this Canon, the Bishop shall nominate to the Vestry of the vacant Parish three priests, from whom the Vestry may select one for election to the Rectorship.

The Vestry must return answer to the Bishop, not later than thirty days after such nominations have been received, as to their action thereon; and if none of the three nominees has been elected, the Bishop may, at his discretion, submit three more names for their consideration.

No person other than the Bishop's nominees shall be elected to the Rectorship of a vacant Parish until every one of the said nominees (six at the most) has been voted upon in a legal meeting of the Vestry, and due notice of such action has been given to the Bishop.

The Rev. Edgar A. Enos, D. D., gave notice of the following proposed amendment to article III of the Constitution, which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on the Constitution and Canons: †

Resolved, That Article III of the Constitution, titled "Of Special Conventions," be amended to read as follows, viz.:

ARTICLE III.

Of Special Conventions.

The Bishop may call a Special Convention at any time; but when requested to do so by a three-fourths' vote of the Standing Committee, he shall call such Convention; in each case he shall give thirty days' notice thereof. When there is no Bishop, the Standing Committee shall have power to call a Special Convention, giving ninety days' notice thereof.

* For the Report of the Committee and the action of the Convention, see page 100.

CHARLES E. S. RASAY,
ARTHUR D. MOIR,
FRANK S. HARDER.

The Secretary of the Convention presented and read
THE REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 15, 1904.

To the Convention:

The Secretary of the Convention respectfully reports:

Five hundred copies of the Bishop's Address were printed and distributed to the Clergy, twelve hundred and fifty copies of the Journal of the Convention were also printed and distributed.

Letters were sent to two clergymen and three parishes that failed to report to the Convention of 1902. One clergyman and one parish replied.

The Convention will need to elect this year the Standing Committee, one Lay Deputy to the General Convention, eight clerical and eight lay Deputies to the Federate Council, the Board of Missions, Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, of the Fund for Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen, two Trustees of the Diocese of Albany, three for the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour.

Nominations for the Board of Missions have been received: for the Archdeaconry of Albany, the Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., and Mr. John Horrocks; for the Archdeaconry of Troy, the Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., and Mr. George A. Wells; for the Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna, the Rev. Ralph Birdsall, and Mr. James Stewart; for the Archdeaconry of Ogdensburg, the Rev. Walter H. Larom, and Mr. Levi Hasbrouck.

The memorial adopted by the last Convention asking for a definition of the word "Communicant" was duly presented to the General Convention and referred to the Committee on the State of the Church. That Committee reported a resolution asking that the matter be referred to a Committee to report to the next General Convention; and that is the present disposition of the question.

Appended to this Report is a formal memorial from the Convention of the Diocese of California in regard to the permissive use of the Revised Version of the Holy Scriptures.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM C. PROUT,
Secretary.

DIOCESE OF CALIFORNIA,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY.

DIOCESAN HOUSE,
731 California Street,
San Francisco.

The Secretary of the Diocese of Albany:

I desire to inform you officially that at the recent Convention of the Diocese of California holden in Grace Church, San Francisco, January 28, 1904, the following preamble and resolution were unanimously adopted:

PREAMBLE AND RESOLUTION.

WHEREAS, There is a growing sentiment throughout the Church in favor of the use of the Revised Version of the Bible in public worship; and

WHEREAS, The Marginal Readings Bible authorized by the General Convention in 1901 has emphasized but not fully satisfied this sentiment; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Convention of the Diocese of California hereby petitions the General Convention to take such action as may be necessary to permit the use of the Revised Version in the lessons in Morning and Evening Prayer.

I respectfully request you to bring this communication to the attention of your Diocese (or Missionary District), at its next conciliar meeting, and will greatly appreciate the courtesy if you will inform me what action, if any, is taken in respect thereto, and under this invitation.

Very sincerely,

MARDON D. WILSON,
Secretary Convention,
Diocese of California.

The Rev. James Caird read the

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE.

The Standing Committee respectfully report to the Convention that they have held thirteen meetings during the past year, and have performed the following official acts:

They organized on November 12th, 1903, by the election of the Rev. James Caird as President, and of the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D., as Secretary.

They have recommended for admission as candidates for Holy Orders: Harvey Boardman Vanderbogart, George M. Galarneau, Walter Scott Cleland, Edgar Hunt Goold, Charles Adolphe Livingston.

They have recommended for admission to the Sacred Order of Deacons: Oscar F. R. Treder, David Bennett Patterson.

They have recommended for admission to the Sacred Order of Priests: Rev. John W. Foster, Rev. J. Robert Lacey, Rev. Ernest A. Smith, Rev. Charles L. Gomph.

They have given consent to the Consecration of the Rev. Richard Henry Nelson, D. D., as Bishop Coadjutor of Albany, and of the Rev. Robert Strange, D. D., as Bishop Coadjutor of East Carolina.

They have given their approval to the granting of a dispensation from the knowledge of the Latin and Greek languages to the Rev. Frederick Schneider, Deacon.

They have given consent to the Rector, Wardens and Vestry of Christ Church, in the village of Rouses Point, N. Y., to sell a portion of the Parish lot of said Church.

They have given consent to the Rector, Church Wardens and Vestrymen of St. Paul's Church, in the village of Kinderhook, N. Y., to place a mortgage of six hundred dollars upon certain real property in Kinderhook, N. Y., recently purchased by them, and adjoining the lot upon which the Church edifice is located.

In accordance with the provisions of Title I, Canon 19, Section III, of the Digest of Canons, the Committee, by their President and their Secretary, immediately after the acceptance by the Rev. Dr. Richard H. Nelson of his election as Bishop Coadjutor, communicated the desire of the Church in this Diocese for his Consecration to that office to the Standing Committees of the Church in the different Dioceses, together with copies of the necessary testimonials.

A major number of the Standing Committees having consented to the proposed Consecration, the Committee, through the same officers, forwarded the evidence of such consent, together with other canonical testimonials, to the Presiding Bishop, who communicated the same to the several Bishops of the Church.

A majority of the Bishops having consented to the Consecration, and the Presiding Bishop having taken order for the same, the Standing Committee associated with themselves various Clergy and laity of the Diocese for the purpose of making suitable arrangements for this occasion. The sum of seven hundred and eight dollars and fifty cents ($708.50) was raised for the expenses incident to the occasion, of which amount six hundred and four dollars and forty cents ($604.40) were expended, and the balance of one hundred and four dollars and ten cents ($104.10) was handed over to the Treasurer of the Diocesan Fund.

J. PHILIP B. PENDLETON,
Secretary,

The Secretary read the Report of the Registrar and that of the Committee on the same, and on his motion, the recommendation of the Committee that an appropriation of $5 from the Diocesan Fund for the expenses of the Registrar be made was adopted.

REPORT OF THE REGISTRAR, 1904.

There is nothing special for the Registrar to report this year. The new library room in the crypt has been only lately vacated by workmen, and the property of the Diocese is still in confusion. The new Journals have been cared for as they came to hand.

Received from Diocesan Fund, $10; balance from last year, .06 = $10.06. Expenses for postage, expressage, supplies and fares, $3.36. Balance, $6.70.

An appropriation of $5 from the Diocesan Fund would be acceptable.

FREDERICK S. SILL,
Registrar

TROY, N. Y., Nov. 15, 1904.

The Rev. E. A. Enos, D. D., offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the "Committee on the Salary of the Bishop Coadjutor" be discontinued, and that a new and larger Committee be appointed, having for its object the increase of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese.

On motion of Mr. J. D. Henderson, of Christ Church, Herkimer, the resolution was amended and adopted as follows:

Resolved, That the Committee on the Salary of the Bishop Coadjutor be continued, and that additional power be given to such Committee to solicit subscriptions to increase the Episcopal Fund.

The Secretary read the Committee.

The Rev. C. M. Nickerson, D. D., presented and read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON APPORTIONMENT FOR GENERAL MISSIONS.

Your Committee met shortly after the adjournment of the last Convention and carried out the instructions embodied in a resolution of the Convention by apportioning ten thousand dollars among the Parishes and Mission Stations of the Diocese, on the basis of "current expenses, including salaries," as reported in the Journal of 1902.

Though the sum thus apportioned was a third less than the sum apportioned the year previous, the change in the basis of apportionment brought it about that an increased instead of a diminished apportionment fell to the lot of a certain number of the smaller Parishes and Mission Stations. This not unnaturally evoked more or less emphatic letters of disapproval and remonstrance from the Rectors of some of the Parishes thus affected, to which your Committee could give only one reply, viz., that they had acted according to their instructions.

According to the "Annual Tables of Contributions" published by the Board of Missions, the offerings for General Missions received from Parishes and individuals in the Diocese of Albany during the year ending Sept. 1st, 1904, were $7,634.62 (a decrease of $812.54 from the offerings of the year ending Sept. 1st, 1903). Seven Parishes gave considerably more than their apportionment, viz.: All Saints' Cathedral; Trinity, Ashland; Christ Church, Coopers-town; St. John's, Essex; All Angels, Haines Falls; Trinity, Potsdam, and Holy Cross, Troy.

Thirty Parishes and Mission Stations met their apportionment in full. Fifty-five Parishes and Mission Stations gave nothing whatever. Twelve of these non-contributing Parishes are Parishes each of which reports more than one hundred and fifty Communicants. Forty-seven Parishes and Mission Stations increased their offerings. Forty-six Parishes and Mission Stations gave less than in 1903. In fact, the offerings from Parishes and Mission Stations in 1904 about equalled the contributions from the same source in 1903. In 1903 the Diocese of Albany was credited with contributions of $616.50 under the head of "Miscellaneous." In 1904 the entry is: "Miscellaneous, $100.00." So the difference in the contributions from miscellaneous sources accounts or nearly accounts for the decrease of $812.54 mentioned above. However accounted for, the decrease, or rather the non-existence of an increase, is most regrettable.

It hardly falls within the province of your Committee to criticise, but they do feel it incumbent upon them to point out that if the fifty-five Parishes and Mission Stations that gave absolutely nothing to General Missions last year had given each of them only a small sum; if the twelve Parishes claiming a membership of over an hundred and fifty, which failed to contribute, had done as well on the average as other Parishes having no larger resources did do, the sum contributed by the Diocese for General Missions, while it would not have met the expectations and demands of the Board of Missions, would at any rate have come measurably near to the ten thousand dollars which the Convention, at its last session, in a certain sense pledged itself to raise.

The method of apportionment directed by the Convention, and followed by your committee, is not an ideal method. It comes somewhat short of securing an equitable adjustment of the burden to be borne. No rough and ready method of apportionment will prove wholly equitable. But your Committee can think of nothing better to offer in its place. When this subject was under discussion at the last Convention the fear was expressed that some of the larger Parishes, finding their apportionment reduced, would relax their efforts, to the great detriment of the sum total of contributions. The fear has hardly been justified. With only two exceptions, the large Parishes of the Diocese, or rather the Parishes wont to give most largely whose apportionments have been reduced, have increased their contributions. Therefore your Committee recommend the passage of the following:

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to apportion ten thousand dollars for General Missions on the Parishes and Mission Stations of the Diocese, taking as the basis of said apportionment "Current expenses, including salaries," as reported in the Journal of the Convention for 1903.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE TRANSFER OF THE EPISCOPAL FUND TO A TRUST COMPANY.

To the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany:

The undersigned, Committee appointed at the last Annual Convention to secure the desired legislation relating to the management and investment of the Episcopal Fund, respectfully report:

At the request of your Committee bills were introduced in the Senate and Assembly by Senator James B. McEwan and Assemblyman Abram B. Steele, the bills passing both houses without objection. The bill was approved by Governor Odell, April 8th, 1904, and became Chapter 244 of the Laws of 1904. A copy of that law is hereto attached and made a part of this report.

To carry this legislation into effect it is necessary, in the judgment of your

Mr. Selden E. Marvin read the Report of the Theological Education Fund, and the Rev. H. P. LeF. Grabau that of the Committee on the same.

REPORT OF THE THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION FUND, 1903-1904

Nov. 12, 1903. To balance on hand as reported to last Convention	$112 85	By stipends paid	$250
To received from 38 Churches.	379 70	Balance on hand	249
To two special thank offerings	7 00
	$499 55		$499

Although the amount received from various Parishes during the current year is $60.37 less than that received the year previous, it must be remembered that no one unit has been as large as that given by one Church a year ago, and that 38 Churches have contributed this year, as compared with 26 in the year 1902-3.

Five different students have been aided, the same number as for the year previous. This number would have been increased had some of the subscriptions come in earlier in the fall. There are now four students whose applications for aid have been approved. All of these can be paid from the balance now on hand.

The increasing number of subscribing Parishes is a sure indication that the value of this fund is being better appreciated, and that its work has the approval of the Clergy throughout the Diocese.

SELDEN E. MARVIN,
Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THEOLOGICAL EDUCATION.

The Report of the Treasurer on the Theological Education Fund has been examined by your Committee and found correct. During the current year 38 Parishes have contributed to this fund, as against 26 Parishes last year, an increase of 12. The amount contributed by Parishes was $379.70, in sums ranging from $1.33 to $100, there being but one gift of that amount, as against a single gift last year of $225.

In addition to the above, the "Mann Bequest," of St. John's Church, Troy, has expended one hundred and fifty-eight dollars and forty-two cents for books within and without the Diocese.

The Society has distributed the past year: Bibles, 527; Prayer Books, 1,514; Altar service book, 1; Hymnals, 1,312; Psalters and service books, 58; library books, 107; total books distributed, 3,519, through 104 "grants." The Society elected Mr. Andrew B. Jones to the Board of Managers, vice Mr. John H. Van Antwerp, deceased; also elected Rev. F. St. George McLean Recording Secretary, vice Rev. A. R. B. Hegeman, resigned.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Rev. Ralph Birdsall read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE BIBLE AND COMMON PRAYER BOOK SOCIETY.

Your Committee on the Report of the Bible and Common Prayer Book Society have examined the same and have found it to be correct.

The large excess of receipts over expenditures would be a matter of congratulation, except that it seems to indicate that the assistance offered by the Society is not so widely appreciated as it should be. We recommend an enlargement of the work, and beg to call the attention of Mission priests to the fact that the Society stands ready to help them with grants of Bibles, Prayer Books, Altar books, Hymnals, Psalters, service books and library books for the Sunday School. The Society desires it to be known that in making grants of Bibles the edition containing the marginal readings authorized by the General Convention will be supplied on request.

The Trustees of this fund call the attention of the Convention specially to this report, from which you will see we are confronted with a condition.

We commence this year with a balance of $52.44. Included in this amount is an item of $25 for interest past due and belonging in last year's report. Had it then been paid, the balance reported to last Convention would have been $159.26, instead of $134.26. Two years ago we had a balance at the beginning of the year of $326.71, from which you will see we begin this year with $107 less than last and $275 less than two years ago, and with largely increased demands upon the fund.

To meet the present stipends we require an income of $1,000. We have from invested funds an income of $280; the balance must come from the Parishes. We have had offerings from 43 Parishes during the past year, which have been liberal, but this represents only about one-third of the Parishes that ought to give to this fund. We say ought to give, for we consider this one of the canonical offerings—not a charity, but a duty, which should have the attention of every clergyman in the Diocese. We can only add that unless we can have a more general response from the Parishes the small stipends which we are now paying will have to be reduced. It has been the custom of the Treasurer to pay semi-annual stipends; and if offerings can be sent in early, say by or before March 1st, 1905, it will enable him to conform to his usual custom.

The Convention will be required at this session to provide for the following purposes: Mileage of Clergy in attendance upon Convention; the entertainment of such Clergy while the Convention is in session; printing the Journal of the Convention, and other necessary printing; taxes, repairs and insurance on the Bishop's House; one-third dues to the General Convention; salary of the Secretary; traveling expenses of the Bishop Coadjutor; one-third of any allowance which may be made to Deputies from this Diocese to the next General Convention; the expenses of the Registrar; the interest on the mortgage on the Bishop's House; the deficit as shown in statement for current year, and sundry current expenses.

For the above I submit the following estimate of the sums that will be required:

Mileage.....	$325 00
Printing.....	750 00
Taxes, insurance and repairs on Bishop's House.....	800 00

Sundry current expenses	$150 00
One-third dues to General Convention.....	140 00
Salary of the Secretary.....	250 00
Bishop Coadjutor's traveling expenses.....	300 00
One-third allowance to Deputies to next General Convention.....	100 00
Entertainment of Clergy	400 00
Interest on mortgage on Bishop's House.....	400 00
Present deficit	562 91
	<hr/>

Owing to the existing deficit of $562.91, an increase of $276.10 over that of last year, this estimate is but little lower than that of November, 1903. I do not feel justified, therefore, in recommending a reduction of the present rate. To provide for the above expenses, I therefore recommend that the Convention order an assessment of (4%) four per centum upon the salaries paid or pledged the clergymen by the Parishes and Mission Stations, one-half payable April 1, 1905, and one-half payable October 1, 1905.

I further recommend that the Treasurer be directed to pay to each clergyman in attendance upon the Convention, and belonging to the Diocese, residing a distance of twenty miles from Albany or more, his actual traveling expenses, provided that in no case shall he pay to exceed seven cents a mile one way.

SELDEN E. MARVIN,
Treasurer.

The Committee appointed by the Diocesan Convention for that purpose has examined the accounts of the Treasurer and found them correct.

The Rev. E. T. Carroll read the following Report, and, on his motion, the resolution recommended therein was adopted:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE DIOCESAN FUND.

The Committee on the Diocesan Fund approve the recommendations of the Treasurer, and offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the assessment upon the Parishes and Mission Stations of four per cent. (4%) upon the salaries paid or pledged the Clergy for the purposes of the Diocesan Fund be continued for the present year, one-half payable April 1, 1905, and one-half October 1, 1905.

Resolved, That the Treasurer be authorized to pay the Clergy in attendance upon the Convention, and belonging to the Diocese, residing a distance of twenty miles from Albany or more, their actual traveling expenses, provided that in no case shall he pay to exceed seven cents per mile one way.

E. T. CARROLL,
for the Committee.

At half-past four the Convention adjourned to the Cathedral to hear the Bishop's Address.

In the Cathedral the Bishop of the Diocese read his Annual Address,* except the Journal portion and the statistics.

HALF-PAST FIVE O'CLOCK IN THE AFTERNOON.

The Evening Prayer was said in the Cathedral, the Bishop and the Precentor officiating.

EIGHT O'CLOCK IN THE EVENING.

The Convention reassembled in the Cathedral.

A special Missionary Service, set forth by the Bishop, was said, the Rev. the Precentor of the Cathedral and the Rev. David B. Patterson officiating.

After the service the Right Rev. President took the chair and called the Convention to order.

The Rev. Mr. Marvin read the

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The Board of Missions submits the following report: Work has been carried on in the usual way during the past year. There have been eighteen (18) resignations and fourteen (14) appointments. Several Mission Stations have remained vacant the whole year because of the lack of financial means to pay salaries and stipends. This is one of the unfortunate problems of the missionary work; for added to the sad fact of these vacancies is the further fact that only through them is the Treasurer of the Board able to meet the stipends of those who remain in the field. The record of one station illustrates this constant change. Established thirty-eight years, it has had thirty-three missionaries. The cause for the change was not on the part of the missionary nor with the people; the relationship was always pleasant. The sole cause was lack of financial support. With all the discouragements coming from this condition of things, the Board of Missions has some new work to report. The missionary at Tupper Lake has established services at Long Lake West, an important station in the Adirondacks. Under the direction of the Rector at Delhi, the Rev. G. H. P. Grout, the building of the Church at Bloomville is assured. A site has been procured and paid for, and about two thousand dollars ($2,000) are in hand, while a prominent Churchman has offered to furnish the entire Chancel furniture and vestments, and has also given five hundred dollars ($500) toward the building fund.

The faithful missionary at Castleton, the Rev. Frederick Schneider, is reviving interest in the work there. He reports over two hundred dollars ($200) paid on the Church debt during the past year.

The Diocesan Missionary has kept up a missionary circuit in St. Lawrence county between Edwards and Oswegatchie. This work is of much promise.

* For the Bishop's Address, see page 23.

Many Mission Churches in the Diocese have been repaired, and there has been a progressive spirit shown at every point. Two missionaries have died during the year, one after a long and faithful work in the Diocese, the Rev. Theodore A. Snyder, missionary at Oak Hill and Greenville, and the Rev. Henry Kingham, missionary at Schuylerville.

The Board calls the attention of the friends of the missions to the growth of the Diocese, and it earnestly appeals for more aid to meet the need. The population of the Diocese in 1900 was one million twenty-four thousand and six. At least a hundred thousand have been added since that time. This increase has come from a revival in the mining, lumbering and other industrial works. It is plainly seen how the Bishop and the Board of Missions must take account of these things, and how Churchmen must aid by their larger offerings in meeting the necessity. We read with pleasure that the chief success of the late General Convention was in its work and interest on behalf of foreign and domestic missions. That same spirit of missions should actuate us in our home work. No greater needs or possibilities for missionary work can be shown in the domestic field to-day than in our own Diocese of Albany.

The Treasurer of the Board has given you in his report much to consider. A number of Parishes and Missions have failed to send in their apportionments. Diminished income is a warning. It means cutting down stipends. Shall this be done? Or, will you increase your offerings? Perhaps there is a lack of knowledge as to the real facts of our missionary work and needs. In one instance the Secretary told the story in a Parish Church. The response was an increase of over a third. This same knowledge is at the disposal of those who ask it. The Bishop Coadjutor, to whom has been given the care of the Missions, has heartily and enthusiastically entered upon his work. He is a Missionary, and if the people will only respond to his enthusiasm another year will show an advance to be thankful for.

A list of Stations, Missionaries and Stipends is appended to this report.

Secretary,

Col. W. G. Rice, Treasurer, read the

REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS
FOR THE YEAR ENDING NOVEMBER 14, 1904.

The annual report of the Treasurer of the Board of Missions is presented herewith: During the year all stipends have been paid on the quarter days and other charges have been promptly met. The system of quarterly payment to the Treasurer of accepted apportionments continues to show good results, and the thanks of the Board of Missions are due to the Clergy and Treasurers of those Parishes which have adopted and carried out this method. Regular remittance of these contributions before the fifteenth days of January, April, July and October is of great benefit to the economical operation of the funds of the Board, and conduces also to make these payments by the various Parishes a matter of greater ease.

It is important, however, to give weight to the fact that the failure of some Parishes to maintain and fulfil their former voluntarily assumed pledges has resulted in a gradual lessening of the receipts — a lessening now amounting to about $1,000 annually. But notwithstanding this decrease in receipts, no deficiency in the operations of this year has followed. This apparent contradiction is explained by the fact that there has been a material decrease in the amount paid out for stipends, a decrease now of nearly $2,000 from the total of some years in the past. This decrease arises not so much from reduced stipends allowed individual missionaries as from the unoccupied or vacant stations.

In the consideration of the question of the maintenance of Diocesan Missions, it should be realized that it would require a permanent invested fund of about $250,000 to produce an amount equal to the contributions this year received from Parishes. Or, to put it in another form, it would require about $30,000 of invested funds to make up for each $1,000 decrease in voluntary Parish payments.

Only a systematic and regularly organized support among the members of each Parish can keep the mission work of the Diocese on its present basis, and thus can afford hope, in the use of possible bequests, for that enlargement which so strongly appeals to all those who acquaint themselves with the devoted and unselfish work that is done in this field.

The Treasurer desires to express anew his indebtedness to the Diocesan Missionary for general assistance in the work of the year, and for valuable special aid in many exacting details of securing and keeping the record of contributions.

The Board has received information from the executors of the estate of Miss Sarah W. Barnard that probably during the next year it will receive the Barnard bequest. Thus will be perpetuated the association of Miss Barnard with the mission work of the Diocese of Albany, an association that always was manifested in her life by a deep personal interest and by generous and constant support through many years.

The annual income of $1,500 of this fund, received in 1881 from the Misses Austin, is paid as part of the stipend for Oak Hill.

The Permanent Fund is invested as follows:

Troy City R'y, 5%.....	$5,000 00
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 5%.....	7,000 00
Chesapeake & Ohio R'y, 6%.....	3,000 00

National Savings Bank, Albany, 3½%.....	445 86
Mechanics & Farmers' Bank, Albany (uninvested), 2%.....	2,282 00

The Board also holds invested the Marvin Memorial Mission Fund, to which no additions have been made during the past year. The amount is now $5,003.37, and it is to be hoped that the future may see this fund, bearing the name of one always gratefully to be remembered throughout the Diocese, reach its originally proposed amount of $10,000.

The Marvin Memorial Mission Fund is invested as follows:

Edison Illuminating Co., Brooklyn ($4,000), 4%.....(cost)	$3,985 00
J. O. Tillery, Colo. Springs, Mortgage Note, 5%.....	800 00
National Savings Bank, 3½%.....	218 37

The Board also holds in trust $20,829.05, representing amount received from the executors of Miss Charlotte Austin, the income from which is to be paid one-third each to Calvary Church, Cairo; St. Paul's Church, Oak Hill; and Christ Church, Greenville.

The Cairo, Oak Hill and Greenville Austin Fund is invested as follows:

Northern Pacific R'y Prior Lien, 4%.....	$3,000 00
Chicago, St. P. & Minneapolis R. R., 6%.....	1,000 00
Cleveland, Colo., Cinn. & I. R. R., 7%.....	3,000 00
Wabash R. R. (Des Moines Div'n), 4%.....	5,000 00
Rio Grande Western R'y ($5,000), 4%.....(cost)	4,056 25
J. Byrne, Colo. Springs, Mortgage Note, 6%.....	500 00

G. T. Barnard, Colo. Springs, Mortgage Note, 5%.....	$1,250 00
G. H. Sleator, Colo. Springs, Mortgage Note, 5%.....	1,600 00
National Savings Bank, Albany, 3½%.....	22 80
Mechanics & Farmers' Bank, Albany (uninvested), 2%.....	500 00

The Board also holds in trust $2,000, invested in two 7% bonds of $1,000 each of the Rensselaer & Saratoga Railroad Company, the income from which is to be paid one-half each to St. Luke's Church, Mechanicville, and St. John's Church, Stillwater.

Premiums on bonds redeemed, sold or acquired have been added to and deducted from the principal, as respectively required, in calculating at par the securities held, as stated in the report for year 1901-2. Since that time no securities have been entered at actual cost. No stocks are now owned by the Board of Missions, all its securities being mortgage bonds or loans secured by mortgage upon improved real estate, with the exception of a note, representing a loan for a small amount, made by the Treasurer in 1895. All securities were examined and handled in detail by the Committee, of which Mr. Arthur D. Moir, of Saranac Lake, is Chairman, appointed pursuant to a resolution of the last Convention, and were found to be as stated in the Treasurer's report. All securities so far as possible are registered in name of "Treasurer of the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany."

Receipts in detail are as follows:

The Rev. J. N. Marvin read the REPORT OF THE DIOCESAN MISSIONARY.

This tenth annual report of the Diocesan Missionary marks a new stage in the missionary work. The detail of the work of the past year shows a steady increase all along the line. Many calls from every corner of the Diocese have been answered so far as possible. Under existing circumstances no new work could be accomplished, but much has been done to pave the way for future foundations. The story of the year's work is much the same as in the past. Space will only allow a brief statement of what has been accomplished. I have held services and have done pastoral work in many of the vacant Mission Stations, hospitals and institutions of the Diocese, but, as in the past, my chief missionary work has been among the scattered communicants. This latter work is one of increasing importance. Among the mountains of the Adirondacks and the Catskills, and in the rural districts of the Diocese, many communicants are being found. This is largely true of the Adirondacks, where the necessity for ministrations among the sick cannot be overlooked. Pathetic instances are many. Had I the time I might tell you of the baptism of dying infants, administration of the Holy Communion to those in the last stages of "the great white plague," the comfort, advice and substantial aid given to the mourner and the poor, of the cheer brought to isolated people, and, with all and above all, the spiritual comfort and direction which many of this class are in need of. Let me here state one instance of the illness and death of a young girl whom I have visited frequently, who told me that the Church had taught her how to die as well as how to live. She was not afraid to go, but it would be such a comfort to her that as the end drew near she could have a minister to take her by the hand, leading her on. It was my privilege to carry out, in a measure, her wish, presenting her to Bishop Nelson for confirmation, administering Holy Communion, and to lay her to rest with the echo of her last words: "I have suffered and shall not regret to enter into that happiness promised."

One more instance of suffering humanity administered to by the Diocesan Missionary: The sanatoriums at Lake Kushaqua and Santa Clara. At the former I have made visitations and administered not alone to our own communicants (an average of twenty-five), but to all denominations, numbering about a hundred. This is a work that appeals to one's deepest sympathy. I cannot select any single case, but could tell you of many. At Uplands and Hill Crest at Santa Clara, I have been able to visit and to be of comfort to the many who are there for the summer. I might multiply such instances, and tell you of interesting experiences in the work, but I pass on to a more general statement. I have acted as Secretary of the Board of Missions, as Assistant Treasurer to the Board of Missions, as Treasurer of the Deaf Mute Fund, as editor and manager of the Diocese of Albany, as Chaplain of the Diocesan Council of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, as general Secretary of the Committee for raising the Bishop Coadjutor's salary; I have spoken in various Churches on the missionary work, and have assisted the Bishop and the Bishop Coadjutor in various ways. I have met with the Archdeacons as usual; have acted as a Commissary for the Clergy of the Diocese.

The work last winter was accomplished under most trying circumstances. The extreme cold weather made many of my visits most difficult, but the pleasure of administering to grateful people fully compensated me. I take this occasion to offer my sincere thanks to those who have aided me in the work: to the lay-readers in several instances, who have been the means of keeping up the work in their home Missions; to my friends, who have, through their contributions to the salary, made it possible for me to go on; to several Guilds (especially St. Margaret's Guild of Christ Church, Troy, and the Missionary Guild of Children of Grace Church, Cherry Valley); to the Woman's Auxiliary (Diocesan Branch), and to the Parish Branch of Christ Church, Hudson, the latter for a generous box of clothing for the poor of the missionary field. The Rev. Dr. Carter, Chancellor of the Cathedral, has been of great service to the work in supplying vacancies in the Mission Stations.

The Prayer Book has its continual influence in my work through distribution among those who value its constant aid in their suffering and trials. In conclusion, let me say that the advent of the Bishop Coadjutor has given great encouragement to the missionary work. Not that our beloved Bishop has taken less interest or will take less interest in the future, but that through the new assistance additional effort will be made. The summary of my work is as follows:

The Rev. J. F. Nichols read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

The Committee venture to emphasize how impossible it is for mere statistics and reports, eloquent as they are of endeavor and achievement, to convey an adequate conception of what your industrious and valiant missionaries have wrought for God and humanity. The Kingdom of God cometh not by observation. It is the unwritten and unacknowledged half of what most men do that counts most.

Thanking God for the things done, for the generous offerings which made them possible, and for the fine spirit animating the workers, let us consider some of the things not done, to the end that nothing of the good accomplished may be lost, none of the acquired momentum escape, and that our successes and failures alike may serve as stepping-stones to better results hereafter. For this is an age of progress. Stagnation means death. It is not enough that we hold our own. The world is to be won for Christ.

What is needed for the process?

The question suggests many answers. Foremost among the practical needs are these: Live men and — living salaries. This is no time to beat about the bush. During the last twelve months eighteen missionaries have resigned. Why? Speaking generally, because the least that a skilled laborer has the right to expect is a living wage. Several Mission Stations have remained vacant the whole year because of lack of money to pay salaries and stipends. Whose fault is it? It is our fault. What a rebuke to our self-fed spirit and parochial absorbedness! What a stinging commentary upon our easy complacency and somnolent conscience! Sweet is the odor of that sanctity which, through the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, has become the greatest possession of this Diocese; but when we look for its natural outcome, namely, a passion for missions, do we find it commensurate? Every one of God's manifold blessings bestowed upon us is for a larger purpose than the mere benefit of the recipient. God's blessing is duplex — one part for us, the other part to be passed on. This is the perpetual law of the divine giving. Hence, it is not enough to sing missionary hymns. There are men who will strain vocal chords singing at a missionary service,

"Love so amazing, so divine,

Demands my soul, my life, my ALL."

who will then put a nickel in the offertory and tranquilly walk home smoking a ten-cent cigar.

It is not enough to lavish magnificence of equipment and beauty of adornment upon our city churches. To worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness is as much as anything to feed His sheep.

It is not enough even (we say it reverently) to pray for missions.

It is not enough to be sorry for the unchurched, and to sympathize with the aims of the Board of Missions.

We may assume that the Priest and the Levite did all these things in their own way. The good Samaritan did something more; he exemplified religion in action. He not only felt sorry, but he put his enthusiasm and sympathy upon a basis of self-sacrifice and cash; he set the helpless and neglected victim upon his own beast and he himself walked. He ministered to the other man's need at the cost of his own personal comfort. As Christians we cannot get away from the vital relation between dollar and duty. Thus, religion is not a profession, it is a life, and personal religion is seen to consist not only in deep inward experiences and sincere outward confessions, but also in burden-bearing for others, and in carrying the ministry of reconciliation to those whom Jesus loves. Patriotism gets into a fine frenzy over conditions which it regards as menacing the integrity and welfare of the nation, and the legislative mills work overtime in consequence. But we believe the Gospel of the risen Christ to be the true solvent for the mental discrepancies, economic turbulence and moral disorders of the time. Our chief fear should be lest we be recreant to our duty. The crisis of to-day calls for a sturdier and more serviceable life in every disciple of Christ. We should work off an untold amount of spiritual dyspepsia, and send the red blood of health through many a depleted and despairing heart, did we but awaken to the needs of Diocesan Missions and supply them. With holy enthusiasm for Christ and His Church, let us look at the situation resolutely in the face and pledge greater aid to the cause. Your Committee venture to suggest that, in its opinion, larger offerings for Diocesan Missions would be forthcoming if systematic pledges were made in every Parish of the Diocese. In a number of Parishes no offerings are taken for Diocesan Missions and no systematic efforts are made to collect the money, and your Committee feel that, in large measure, the failure each year to raise the necessary amount is due to lack of system more than to any other cause. All these suggestions are in line with the awakened conscience of the Church, in its larger grasp of the idea that its financial obligations must be met with due regard to business-like methods, and therefore it is the hope of your Committee that every Parish in this great Missionary Diocese will endeavor to collect the assessments systematically, so that quarterly payments will be sent to the Treasurer, and every missionary receive promptly the modest salary he has so faithfully earned. It is still pioneer work, much of it, but all the preparatory toil and equipment, like Longfellow's submerged piers of the bridge, are indispensable to the superstructure; and that superstructure, when it appears, will be worth vastly more than all it has cost. Our uplifted eyes catch a glimpse of its grand proportions and its wondrous beauty whenever we pray "Thy Kingdom come!" Emerson says, "No man can do anything well who does not think that what he does is the centre of the universe."

To us Christ the Lord is the centre of the universe. "Feed my sheep," he says. Shall we not do His bidding for His dear sake? We are to make His interests our interests and His loves our loves. The world is to be saved, and it is to be saved in this way of personal loving, because this is the divine way. What Christ began with self-giving will be maintained by self-giving. It is love that redeems.

Your Committee realize that they are presenting no new considerations, but they feel that these old things do not get enough thinking over. Our Blessed Lord was always compelling men to think. When enthusiastic people came to Him with professions of faith He promptly set them tests. For example:

"He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou Me? Peter was grieved because He said unto him the third time 'Lovest thou Me?' And he said unto Him, Lord, Thou knowest all things; Thou knowest that I love Thee.

"Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep."

Respectfully submitted,

On Sunday, November 13th, I celebrated the Holy Communion and preached in the morning at St. John's Church, Johnstown, and confirmed five persons. In the afternoon I preached at Zion Church, Fonda. In the evening I preached at Christ Church, Gloversville.

The summary of my acts is as follows:

Confirmations (in the Diocese, 454; in Philadelphia, 32), 486; Celebrations of Holy Communion, 22; Baptisms, 3; Sermons, 75; Ordinations, 1 (Deacon).

I am very far from assuming that the experience of six months in the Diocese entitles me to give information or to make suggestions to those who have been familiar with the work for many years.

I may, however, set forth the impressions which I have received from my visitations to those Parishes and Missions which have been more especially committed to my care.

These may be conveniently described under three heads, according to the local conditions under which they exist.

First, there are Parishes or Missions in large or growing towns, where there is every reason to expect that they will become not only self-supporting, but also centres of further missionary activity. In such cases the only problem is to secure and to keep the priest of blameless life, of energy, capacity and devotion, who will seize present opportunities and build wisely for the future. We have many such, and I trust that in the years to come their number will increase.

Before leaving the consideration of this sufficiently obvious matter, I would call attention to the fact that there are within the borders of the Diocese growing towns in which the Church has as yet no real foothold. There are towns containing several thousand people in which members of the Church have no regular provision for their spiritual needs, and where failure to take prompt action will result in a present loss for which future labor will be unable to atone.

Secondly, I find the Church established in many places which are best known as summer resorts. In some of these the Church owes its organization and support very largely to one or more families who for generations have passed their summers in the beautiful spots with which our part of the State has been so bountifully blessed; in others, hotels are built in answer to popular demand, and the many guests who occupy them enjoy the ministrations of the Church during a season in which rest from labor often leads to spiritual indolence and loss. I am disposed to set a high value on the work which is thus done in summer for our visitors from great cities, and I do not doubt that their winter duties are better performed because of the religious influence with which they are surrounded in vacation time.

But it would be a serious mistake to suppose that spiritual ministrations to summer visitors is the sole or the chief reason for the existence of the Church in such places. These Parishes have their permanent element in a population reaps its harvest in the summer and lives thereupon in winter. For the Church must care during the long months of cold weather, when the folk take their enforced vacation with its inevitable temptations. It is a time that our Clergy accomplish a work which must be known experientially in order to be appreciated. However much he may long for escape from winter climes, the country priest must face the merciless demands which a stern winter makes upon his body and his spirit, meeting them with unflinching courage and patient endurance.

altogether unique kind of Church work has grown up in the Adirondack region, that great sanitarium of the State. In visiting this country I was glad to note the changes which have been wrought there within the past few years.

where I had known a little village, reached by stage and containing a few hundred inhabitants, there is now a town, the population of which is counted by thousands; while lakes which a few years ago were unknown, save to the silent lover of the woods, have now their railroad stations and their throngs of summer and winter visitors. In these places there is a two-fold reason for the Church's existence. First, because a large proportion of those who go there for their health are members of the Church, and secondly, because the presence of so many invalids gives occasion for the gathering of a permanent element, which shares with them the need of Christian nursing and privilege.

I cannot leave this part of my subject without laying special emphasis upon the importance of this mission of the Church to the sick, who are coming in increasing numbers to the places for which we are responsible. Stories might be told to an unlimited extent of families who are obliged, by reason of the physical or threatened health of one beloved member, to live in that severe climate year after year, only to find that all of their self-sacrifice has but postponed the day of dreaded sorrow. To hearts heavy with anxiety or torn by the Church ministers comfort and strength, and they who are so well qualified for this duty of the Christian ministry will not fail to receive their appropriate reward when their Lord shall declare to them, "I was sick and ye visited Me."

Finally, I must speak of Parishes which have lost the prosperity which they enjoyed, and for various reasons are tending toward the sad state of what is athetically called "silent Churches." It may be that such an end is inevitable. Parishes which owed their existence to a single family cannot long survive when such a family has moved away. Parishes which flourished on successful farms were owned by Churchmen, or when successful institutions gathered to themselves the sons and daughters of Church people, must decline when the farms pass into other hands and when the institutions are closed. Then comes the heart-rending problem: How long can the Church persist open? How can we best minister to the faithful few who remain? It is necessary that Churches hallowed by years of worship and by sacred memories of saintly characters should come to abandonment and ruin?

I do not feel competent to answer these questions, but I am confident that I express the sentiment of all when I say that the Church must care for the aged and the aged, and never abandon those who have served faithfully through sunshine and storm, through youth to old age. Perhaps, in the future, it will be possible for the Board of Missions to maintain a sufficient number of Clergy to give occasional ministrations in places which can no longer support a resident priest; perhaps the places in which there is prospect of loss can be associated with those in which there is hope of gain. All this must be thought out and worked out with patience, but I submit that it must be both thought out and worked out with deep sympathy, and not in that harshness of spirit which denies responsibility for those who have come to helplessness. Here I may venture to say a few words about the value of small things. The tendency of our age toward centralization, industrially and otherwise, carries with it the danger of forgetting the value of the individual, and in our larger conceptions of the mission of the Church we may be tempted to forget that many lives which, for good or for ill, are making their way toward the great cities receive their training in those very places which we have been considering, places which are decreasing in population because the sons and daughters are moving toward larger centres. When we consider, further, that the same temptations which beset the young in a city are found also in the country, and that rural immorality has little to learn from urban vice, then motives of self-preservation should lead us to realize the necessity of sending the message of salvation to these smaller places, even though we may fail to do so for higher reasons.

I am inclined to think that the responsibility for rural work is likely to be more and more left to our Church. Other religious bodies, which lack the administrative head provided by our Episcopal order, are finding difficulty in ministering to scattered groups and individuals. We, to whom the Diocese and not the Parish is the unit for Church work, ought to find the way to accomplish our duty, which is to minister the things of God to every soul within our borders. Such is at least the ideal toward which our thoughts and our efforts should be directed.

I have spoken of the impressions which I have received from visiting the Parishes and Missions. Let me now say a few words of appreciation concerning the Parish Clergy and Missionaries. I have been deeply impressed by their faithfulness, efficiency and uncomplaining devotion, and I believe that no part of the Church at home or abroad is better served. There is very little in the work of our Clergy that appeals to the popular taste for dramatic and sensational incidents, and to describe it in lengthened detail would not interest the people who go by thousands to listen to tales of novel experience. I am reminded of a saying attributed to one of our soldiers in the Spanish war. When the troops arrived home much praise was bestowed, and very justly, upon the volunteer regiments and their officers, and cities vied with one another in doing them honor. On one such public occasion a man wearing the army uniform was asked, "Are you one of the heroes?" and he replied, "No, I am only a regular." So, I am inclined to think, many of our Clergy might speak to those who are looking for heroes. They are only the regulars, but they are serving in the army of the living God with heroic faithfulness, in the face of loneliness, discouragement, and, in many cases, with scant provision for their material needs. I should be glad if I could see a way to lessen these three burdens which weigh so heavily upon my brethren in the ministry. Isolation is hard to endure; but it seems, for the present, at least, that it must be borne by those who serve their Lord in remote places. I should hope that in the future a more general application of the principle of associate work might afford some remedy for this, but in the mean time it will be one of my most highly esteemed privileges to visit as often as I can those who are for so long a time without opportunity to meet their fellow-workers in the ministry. Discouragement comes to all workers, and not infrequently it oppresses most heavily those who are doing the best work, and laying the foundations on which others will build. For the discouraged there is no remedy that can take the place of simple faith in God; but may we not aid the work of God's grace in these patient hearts by showing them that the Church is enthusiastic in their support? I trust that the coming year will prove to our missionaries that they are parts of a living whole, in which no member can suffer without causing pain in the hearts of his brethren, nor rejoice without sending a thrill of happiness through all the Diocese.

I feel justified in saying something about the stipends paid to our Clergy in the smaller towns, and I should like to preface this by saying that I have not yet heard a single word of complaint from those who are suffering from insufficient support. The constant changes and the frequent vacancies tell the story. It is well that men can be found willing to live upon an annual income of $600 or less, and to attempt with this to support and educate their children; but it is not well that this should be required of them, nor is it to the best interests of the Church which permits it.

The cost of living increases year by year, and labor is organized to secure a proportionate increase in wages. But the stipends of the Clergy are generally the last to be increased. In my opinion no man ought to be asked to do the work of the ministry for less than $800 a year and the provision of a house to live in. This to be the minimum. To bring about such a condition of affairs two things are needed.

First, the people to whom they minister must learn to assume a larger share of responsibility for their support. This I believe to be absolutely necessary, and chiefly for the sake of the people themselves. Even if it were possible to establish and maintain Churches out of a central fund, such a course would work grievous wrong to the community in which it was done. The realization of the privilege and duty of giving is generally an index to the soundness of parochial life. To teach this belongs to the work of the Parish Priest, and it is doubtful if any other can persuade the people where he has failed to do so. I speak of it, therefore, not as expecting to solve by a word all the problems incidental to parish support, but as preliminary to and as qualifying another matter in which I hold firm convictions. I believe that the work of this Diocese requires a large central missionary fund, of which that already in hand is but the beginning. Successful work always opens the way to more work, and I can see no limit to the amount which might be used in developing the possibilities of this Diocese. I should hope that gifts and bequests might be made to the General Fund with no idea of ever reaching a sum which might be regarded as final. I would not have such a fund remove the necessity of regular offerings from Parishes. This will always be needed, and will always be a privilege which no Parish should willingly resign. But I trust that the need of constantly enlarging the General Fund will be borne in mind, and that the good examples already set will be followed until it shall be recognized as a common duty to make provision in wills and testaments for the missionary work of the Church.

I take this opportunity to express my appreciation of the self-denying work and devoted service of the General Missionary, as well as the invaluable help which he has given to me. To understand his work it is necessary to know the whole story of missions to which he alone ministers, and of individuals who but for him would have lived and died without the privileges of the Church.

I am strongly impressed with the value of his service, and I am deeply grateful for his help.

In closing I cannot refrain from testifying to the unvarying consideration and the affectionate treatment which I have received from the Bishop of the Diocese, with whom it has been a pleasure to work, and under whom it is an honor to serve. I have begun my work with the earnest desire to be to him in fact what I am in name, and it is my hope that for many years to come I may enjoy the benefit of his counsel and the inspiration of his zeal for all that is pure and true and of eternal worth.

The Convention adjourned to Wednesday morning.

SECOND DAY.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, November 16, 190~~4~~
7:00 O'CLOCK.

In the Cathedral the Holy Communion was administered, ~~the~~ Rev. Canon Blodgett officiating, assisted by the Precentor.

TEN O'CLOCK.

Morning Prayer and the Litany were said in the Cathedral by ~~the~~ Dean.

The Right Rev. President took the chair and called the Convention to order in the Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes School.

The minutes of the previous day were read and adopted.

The names of the Clergy and Lay Deputies not present on the first day were called by the Secretary, and six Clergymen* and six Lay Deputies,† one representing one Church not represented on the first day, were found to be present.

The Rev. James Caird, for the Committee appointed yesterday, read the following memorial, which, on his motion, was unanimously adopted by the Convention by a rising vote:

Under resolution, the Committee appointed to prepare and present to this Convention a suitable minute expressive of our profound grief and sense of loss, and of our heartfelt sympathy with Dr. Pendleton's bereaved family and Parish, beg leave to offer the following:

MINUTE IN REGARD TO THE REV. J. PHILIP B. PENDLETON, D. D.

In the early morning of the fifteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and four, it also being the opening day of the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany, there passed from the Church on Earth to the Church in Paradise the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, Doctor of Sacred Theology.

* See List of Clergy, pages 6-10.

Succeeding the gentle, saintly and learned Payne as Rector of the old and important Parish of St. George's, Schenectady, N. Y., more than nineteen years ago, Dr. Pendleton at once became interested in the work of this Diocese. As the years came and went, his interest continued to increase, until his counsel and help were important factors in the majority of the committees of our legislative organization.

His associates on the several committees of which he was a member soon came to realize that a reserve of manner was due in large measure to a constitutional diffidence, and that beneath a positiveness of conviction as well as of assertion there were a tender heart, a kindly spirit and a sympathetic nature.

An air of seriousness pervaded his personality; intensity of purpose was a characteristic of his movements; conscientiousness a present element in all his work. His was a positive character possessing clear-cut convictions, tenaciously held and courageously expressed. No one could accuse him of having behind his word or his deed the faintest desire for vulgar popularity or fleeting applause. We could not but feel that with him it was unto men as unto the Lord. No detail was regarded as trivial if it was an element in the work he had in hand; it was scrutinized and weighed and given its true value so far as it was in his power so to do. It was enough for him to know what his duty was, and he would not spare himself until it was discharged. Those who were closely associated with him on the Standing Committee, the most delicate, tender and important work of the Diocese, always were deeply impressed by his accuracy, laboriousness and conscientiousness; by his desire to know, that he might be just.

Members of the Standing Committee, of the Federate Council, of the Constitution and Canons, of the Missionary Council, of the Work Among the Deaf and Dumb, of the Examining Chaplains, of the Bible and Prayer Book Society—on all which committees he constantly served—will agree with us in our feeble attempt to give this imperfect estimate of his worth and work.

On the floor of the Convention he was a man of striking appearance, of ready utterance, of felicitous expression, of positive conviction, of earnest manner.

The strong presence is gone from our sight; the rich voice is silent in our councils, and we mourn. Yet Christian hope and assurance cause us to yield unto God most high praise and hearty thanks for the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all His Saints who have been the choice vessels of His grace and the lights of the world in their several generations.

To our departed brother and associate there came last Sunday evening the message which he also delivered to others, as we also gave, having first received it:

"Beloved, now are we the sons of God. And it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that when He shall appear we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him as He is."

"Like Him"—"see Him as He is"—the King in His beauty—and a voice from heaven saying, "Write, From henceforth blessed are the dead who die in the Lord; even so saith the Spirit; for they rest from their labours."

The Rev. C. M. Nickerson, D. D., presented and read

REPORT NUMBER I OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

The Committee on Canons, to whom was referred a proposed amendment of Article III of the Constitution,* entitled "Of Special Conventions," approve of the proposed amendment, and recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the following amendment to the Constitution be approved by this Convention and lie over for final action at the next Convention, viz amend Article III of the Constitution so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

Of Special Conventions.

The Bishop may call a Special Convention at any time; but when requested to do so by a three-fourths vote of the Standing Committee he shall call such Convention; in each case he shall give thirty days' notice thereof. Where there is no Bishop the Standing Committee shall have power to call a Special Convention, giving ninety days' notice thereof.

For the Committee,

C. M. NICKERSON,
Chairman.

On motion, the resolution amending Article III was adopted.

The Rev. C. M. Nickerson, D. D., presented and read

REPORT NUMBER II OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

The Committee on Canons have taken into consideration the amendment to Canon XII (Of Vacant Parishes), proposed by the Rev. George L. Richardson,† and respectfully report:

A few years ago a proposed amendment of similar purport was introduced and referred to the Committee on Canons. At the request of the Committee the late Dr. Pendleton gave the matter careful study, and reported to the Committee that the proposed amendment conflicted with the rights and functions of Vestries as defined in the laws of the State of New York concerning religious corporations. Therefore your Committee deem the passage of this proposed amendment inexpedient.

C. M. NICKERSON,
Chairman.

On motion, the recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

Mr. J. D. Henderson presented and read

REPORT NUMBER III OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

The Committee on the Constitution and Canons, to whom was referred a proposed amendment to Canon XV,* presented by Mr. Robert E. Steele, respectfully recommend its adoption with certain changes, so that it shall read as follows:

A Canon to amend Canon XV:

Section 2 of Canon XV is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

SEC. 2. The moneys and property belonging to the said fund now held by the said Trustees or hereafter acquired by them may be conveyed by the said Trustees to such trust company organized and existing under the laws of the State of New York as may be designated by them and approved by the Convention of the Diocese, to be held by such trust company in trust for the benefit and support of the Episcopate of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany; and to be invested by said trust company in such securities as are required by the laws of the State of New York; and such trust company shall have power from time to time to change such investments. A report exhibiting the condition of such funds and securities, together with the receipts and disbursements, shall be made by such trust company, to the Convention, through said Trustees who shall submit the same at every annual meeting thereof, and at such other times as may be required by said Convention, with such recommendations as they see fit.

For the Committee,

C. M. NICKERSON.

Chairman.

A motion to strike out the word "may" in the second line and insert the word "shall," offered by Mr. Robert E. Steele, failed to pass.

On motion, the amendment to Canon XV was adopted as reported by the Committee.

Mr. Robert E. Steele presented the following communication from the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund designating a trust company for the custody of the Episcopal Fund according to the provisions of the amendment to Canon XV:

COMMUNICATION FROM THE TRUSTEES OF THE EPISCOPAL FUND.

The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany report to the Convention the following resolution, adopted by it on the 10th day of November, 1904:

Resolved. That, by virtue of the authority of chapter 244 of the Laws of 1904, the corporation "The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany," does hereby designate the Union Trust Company, of Albany, N. Y.

* See page 68.

to manage and invest the moneys and properties held by the Trustees aforesaid in accordance with said law.

Attest:

W. B. VAN RENNELAER,
Secretary Pro Tem.

On motion of Mr. Robert E. Steele, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, In accordance with the provisions of chapter 244 of the Laws of the State of New York of 1904, and of Canon XV, the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany have designated the Union Trust Company, Albany, N. Y., as the custodian and trustee of the Episcopal Fund.

Resolved, That such designation be, and the same hereby is, ratified and confirmed, and the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund are hereby authorized to transfer to the Union Trust Company, of Albany, N. Y., all moneys and property now in their hands belonging to the Episcopal Fund; such moneys and property to be held by said Union Trust Company, of Albany, N. Y., in trust for and the benefit of the Episcopate of the Diocese of Albany, and subject to the further direction of the Convention.

Resolved, That the said Union Trust Company, of Albany, N. Y., be, and the same hereby is, directed to pay the net income from said moneys and property to the Secretary of the Committee on the Salary of the Bishop at such times as he may direct until the further direction of the Convention.

Resolved, That said Union Trust Company submit to the said Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, on or before the fifth day of November in each year, a statement of the condition and income and expenditures of said Fund for the preceding year ending November first.

The Rev. George L. Richardson read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

The prediction which your Committee of a year ago incorporated in the report at the Convention of 1903, that the accession of Dr. Robbins to the office of Dean was to result in "an even greater measure of usefulness than (the Seminary) has yet achieved," already begins to be fulfilled.

The entering class this fall was the largest ever enrolled, and in all departments the work of the Seminary goes forward with gratifying interest and thoroughness.

The Department of Elocution has been reorganized during the current year and an arrangement made for a resident physician having office hours in the Seminary.

Your Committee wish to bring to the attention of the Convention the recommendation of the Dean, made in his report at the annual meeting of 1904 that the times for Diocesan examinations of candidates for Holy Orders should be a little more strictly co-ordinated with the work of the Seminary, so that students may not be interrupted in their "brief academic year."

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE L. RICHARDSON,
ERNEST A. SMITH,

ELMER P. MILLER,
WM. A. WAIT.

The Rev. Ralph Birdsall presented and read the Report of the Trustees of the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour at Cooperstown, and the Rev. Mr. Masker that of the Committee on the Orphan House.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE ORPHAN HOUSE OF THE HOLY SAVIOUR.

The report of the Trustees of the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour must be a brief and pointed statement of a crisis in the affairs of the institution. The internal welfare of the Orphan House will therefore not receive the comment usually accorded in the annual report, since it is overshadowed by grave apprehension for the future. Suffice it to say that the orphan charges of the Diocese have been well cared for under capable and affectionate management.

The death of Mr. Leslie Pell-Clarke means incalculable loss to the Orphan House. It has taken away the enthusiastic personality of the one man whose interest in the work was the surest guarantee of its continuance, and has compelled the Trustees to face the fact that the Orphan House cannot indefinitely exist without larger Diocesan support.

That the work done at Cooperstown by the Diocese is worth doing, none will deny. At the present time fifty children who would otherwise be homeless are receiving shelter, care, education and the religious instruction of the Church. For the Church to abandon such a work, in which have been invested the offerings and devout enthusiasm of Churchmen in this Diocese for thirty years, would be a mistake, if not a disgrace. But it is equally a disgrace for the Diocese to pretend to conduct a charity which cannot pay its honest debts. The expense of doing the work continually exceeds the income. Out of 140 Parishes and Mission Stations but 39 have contributed during the last year. The Diocese of Albany expects us to make bricks without straw. The new building so long needed and at last obtained must be closed this winter, and the orphans must be crowded back into the old quarters, because we cannot afford to buy the coal to heat it. We are doing everything possible to save expenses except starving the orphans. We are faced with a large deficit in the annual accounts. We always will be faced with a deficit with the continuance of present conditions. We refuse to continue this work under such conditions. We cannot continue to administer our trust at a constant loss. It is a trust created by this Diocesan Convention. It is for this Diocesan Convention to say what we shall do. To come to the point, we recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Diocese of Albany shall abandon the work of caring for and educating the orphan children, and that steps be taken for the abolition of the institution known as the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour and for the abandonment and sale of the buildings and the disposal of securities dedicated to this work."

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH BIRDSALL,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE ORPHAN HOUSE.

The report of the Trustees, accompanied by that of the Treasurer of the Orphan House, is a startling one, although it merely places before us the natural result of an annual deficit, viz., the closing of the institution. Such an action will seem to the Convention impossible to consider. Yet the facts of the case point to this as the only honest and businesslike course, unless the other horn of the dilemma be firmly grasped, which is to furnish the necessary means to pay the current expenses.

The deficit in current expenses this year is $1,139.68. The deficit for three years last past is $3,639.68, an average of $1,213.23 per year. The House has taken care of fifty children this year. Its capacity is eighty, or sixty per cent. more than the present number. It costs as much to heat and light and otherwise care for the buildings for the smaller number as for the greater. Consequently the cost per child is higher than it should be, viz., $3.33 per week. When the House was filled the cost per child was but $2.08 per week.

Why then is not the House filled?

The answer involves a brief statement of facts known to some members of this Convention, but which should be made known to all. The Orphan House of the Holy Saviour receives many children from the authorities of Otsego, Herkimer, Clinton, and other counties. For the care of these public charges it receives $2.00 per week for each child. Is it then a mere county house for children? This question brings us to the gist of this whole matter. Why should this Diocese contribute money to an institution which takes children at $2.00 per week and spends in their care from $2.08 to $3.33 per week?

For this, — because there are those who will take these same helpless children, brothers and sisters of those whom Jesus took in His arms to bless, and make money out of them at $2.00 per week, with physical and moral results to the children which men engaged in saving souls and the bodies they live in cannot see without deep protest. The difference between $2.00 per week and what is spent for the children in the Orphan House is the price paid either by the income of the endowment or by this Diocese (or else by spending the principal of the invested funds), for the privilege of giving these children that loving care and laying in their hearts the foundations of Christian life which no public institution and no money-making establishment ever can give under the present circumstances.

And this opportunity is allowed to be restricted, the privilege is in danger of being entirely lost, for lack of contributions by the Parishes and Missions.

The Trustees' report shows that thirty-nine Parishes and Missions have contributed. One hundred and one have not. The contributions have amounted to $740. If all had contributed in the same ratio the total would have been $2,656. This amount would have paid all the expenses. It would have done very much more. It would have given $777 for an increase of usefulness, and that last $700 would have increased the efficiency of the institution perhaps sixty per cent. For if the running expenses for fifty children are $8,103.57, and the cost per child per week falls with the increase of numbers to $2.08 for eighty children, and if this $700 can effect such an increase of number and such economy, then that last $700 must be worth nearly as much as sixty per cent. of all that was spent before. If a business man could increase his business sixty per cent. by adding ten per cent. to his running expenses, how long would he be in raising the money? Are we Christians less alert when we are about our Father's business than when about our own?

It was not the original intention that the Orphan House should thus care exclusively for the children entrusted to it by county authorities. It should be a place where Parishes might send children who have none to whom they belong. But this is not possible without greatly increased contributions.

Your Committee knows well the fate of pious recommendations, which raise their feeble voice in the midst of the urgent demands of assessments and apportionments. It knows also that the Parishes are burdened with many financial duties. We shall offer no recommendations, nor repeat the wise but little heeded suggestion to systematize the offerings for extra-parochial purposes.

The Trustees have declared the necessity of closing for this winter the new building erected by the energy and persistence of the late Treasurer, Leslie

Pell-Clarke. They have submitted a resolution that in view of a three years' deficit the Orphan House, which has been a valued possession and opportunity of this Diocese for thirty years, be closed, the property sold, and the funds returned to the donors, or devoted to other uses.

Your Committee suggests to the Trustees that the people of the Diocese be more fully informed concerning the workings of the Orphan House; and as a substitute for their resolution submits the following:

Resolved, That the roll of Parishes and Missions be called forthwith, and that the Rector or Missionary of each one be asked to state whether or not he will request an offering from his people before September 30, 1905; and that the Trustees be instructed to make a special appeal to every Parish and Mission for the maintenance of this work."

The Rev. Ralph Birdsall moved the adoption of the resolution recommended in the Report of the Trustees of the Orphan House; whereupon the Rev. Mr. Masker moved that the resolution recommended by the Committee on the Orphan House be adopted as a substitute, which latter motion prevailed, and the resolution was adopted by the Convention as follows:

Resolved, That the roll of Parishes and Missions be called forthwith, and that the Rector or Missionary of each one be asked to state whether or not he will request an offering from his people before September 30, 1905; and that the Trustees be instructed to make a special appeal to every Parish and Mission for the maintenance of this work.

The Secretary called the roll of Parishes and Missions, as instructed, and sixty pledges of offerings for the Orphan House were made.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Kirby, it was Resolved, That the report of the Trustees of the Orphan House and that of the Committee appointed to report thereon be printed and distributed to the Clergy of the Diocese, with the request that they be read to their respective congregations

Twenty-five Parishes are in arrears at this Convention, a greater number than has been the case for a number of years. Many Parishes which heretofore have been regular and prompt in the payment of their assessments have not paid as yet, and as a result the Committee is compelled to report that there still remains due the Bishop $160.

The total indebtedness now amounts to $607.46. Of this we believe that $200 can be collected, but the remaining $407.46 is due from Parishes, which either refuse to pay the full amount of their obligation or make no response to the numerous appeals sent. Had all assessments been paid, the Bishop not only would have been paid in full, but there would also have been a substantial balance on hand for next year. It is gratifying to note, on the other hand, that a number of Parishes have settled unpaid assessments of years' standing, while others have paid the quarterly apportionment in advance. We desire to place on record our appreciation of the voluntary contribution made again this year by St. Luke's Church, Cambridge. The Committee beg leave to offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Parishes now in arrears be urged to make every effort to remit at once in order that the Secretary may be in funds to meet the present deficit without drawing on the revenue of the new year for this purpose.

The Rev. E. A. Enos presented the Report of the Missionary to the Deaf and Dumb and that of the Treasurer of the Commission on Church Work among the Deaf and Dumb.

REPORT OF THE MISSIONARY TO THE DEAF AND DUMB.

To the Commission on Church Work Among the Deaf and Dumb in the Diocese of Albany:

GENTLEMEN.—It gives me pleasure to be able to report that the work of our Mission to the deaf and dumb of the Diocese has been attended with the same gratifying success as in preceding years. There has been a slight falling off in the number of services held, due to the unusual severity of the past winter, which made traveling difficult and sometimes impossible, but this diminution is merely temporary and accidental and without real significance. In other respects conditions are most satisfactory. In several cities where I have been obliged to contend with annoying obstacles and hindrances the situation has decidedly improved. The attendance at services has been remarkably good, and the people, as a rule, are united and very willing to second my efforts for their welfare. There is gratifying evidence of slow, but steady, growth of spiritual earnestness, and of attachment to the Church and its forms of worship, and I venture to think that the prospects of the Mission have at no time been more bright.

I have held services as follows: At Troy, 21; at Albany, 11; at Amsterdam, 15; at Herkimer, 14; at Schenectady, 10; at Johnstown, 9; at Little Falls, 5; at Hoosick Falls, 2; confirmation services, 2; baptismal services, 3; burial service, 1; appointments kept, but no services held, 3; total of services of all kinds, 96. Included in this total are 12 celebrations of the Holy Eucharist at various places.

There have been two confirmations during the year, one at St. George's, Schenectady, and one at St. Ann's, Amsterdam. There have been three baptisms, one adult, at Amsterdam, and two infants, one at Herkimer and one at Troy. There has been one burial at Herkimer.

There have been the usual social activities in which the Missionary has assisted directly and indirectly. There was a very pleasant festival at St. Paul's, Albany, in July, at which nearly all of the deaf people of Albany and Troy were present. The annual picnic of the deaf of these two cities was held in August, and for the first time in the history of this annual gathering it was spoiled by rain. The picnic of the graduates of the Rome School for the Deaf, held at Sylvan Beach, was attended with better success, and a large number of people from this Diocese were present. These innocent and inexpensive gatherings of the deaf people do much good by drawing them out of their loneliness and isolation, and they are to be encouraged.

In September I delivered the principal address before the annual meeting of the New England Gallaudet Association, at Portsmouth, N. H. The gathering was one of the most pleasant and profitable that I have ever had the pleasure of attending, and it afforded an unusually favorable opportunity for observing the wonderful advances made in deaf-mute education during the past quarter of a century. My address, which was an attempt to deal with some of the present problems which affect the deaf, was very kindly received.

My receipts from all sources have been as follows:

From the Treasurer of the Commission.....	$300 00
From the Board of Missions.....	100 00
Offerings of the deaf at services, etc.....	108 38
Total	$508 38

My expenditures have been:

For traveling expenses.....	$54 39
For postage, stationery, etc.....	17 85
Expense at festival.....	2 60
Total	$74 84

As the present year completes the first decade of the history of our Mission, it is proper and interesting to give a brief summary of results. The following table gives the principal items and well exhibits the gradual and steady growth of our work:

YEAR.	Services.	Baptisms.	Confirmations.	Marriages.	Burials.	Offerings of the Deaf.

On motion of the Rev. E. A. Enos, D. D., it was

Resolved, That the Commission on Church Work Among the Deaf and Dumb be continued for the ensuing year, with power to fill vacancies that may occur in their number during the recess of the Convention.

Resolved, That the Commission is authorized to call for contributions towards the prosecution of the work, and that the Clergy of the Diocese be requested to present the needs of this Mission to their congregations.

The Right Rev. President appointed as the Commission on Church Work among the Deaf and Dumb, the Rev. Edgar A. Enos, D. D., the Rev. John N. Marvin, the Rev. William Prall, D. D., the Rev. George L. Richardson, Mr. John Horrocks, Mr. John Hudson Peck and Mr. Winsor B. French.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

To the Convention of the Diocese of Albany, 1904:

The Treasurer of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany respectfully reports:

During the past year there has been received by the Trustees from Arthur Duncan Moir, as representative of his brother, Rev. William Wilmerding Moir — sometime priest in charge of the Mission at Lake Placid — a deed of the property at Lake Placid known as the Parish House, as requested by his brother, and as a gift from his estate (it having been erected by the Rev. Mr. Moir as a memorial to his mother at a cost of about $14,000), and in connection therewith Mr. Arthur Duncan Moir also presented to the Trustees a mortgage bond of the Colorado Southern Railroad Company for $1,000 to form the nucleus for a fund to be known as the W. W. Moir Memorial Fund, the interest to be applied to the support of the Parish House in Lake Placid.

There has been received from Elizabeth Clarkson and Frederick Clarkson, as executors of Elizabeth Clarkson, deceased, two funds in trust, one of the sum of $4,000 for insurance against loss by fire (and for repairs in such case) on Trinity Church, Potsdam, N. Y., and the other of the sum of $2,000 for like insurance and repairs on Zion Church, Colton, N. Y.

The Trustees have received notice of a bequest in the will of Miss Jane C. Stott, deceased, late of Stottville, Columbia county, N. Y., of the sum of $2,223, not yet payable from the estate.

The several funds held by the Trustees, other than those in which investments have been provided by the donors, are now held in securities allowed by law for savings banks of this State, except that small balances incapable of such investment are continued as interest-bearing deposits in savings banks and trust companies.

Since my last report there has been received of income:

Treasurer.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

A meeting of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany was held in St. Agnes' School on the afternoon of November 16th, 1904, at one o'clock, pursuant to a call by the Bishop.

Present: The Bishop, presiding; Rev. Drs. Carey, Parke, Kirby and Battershall and Messrs. Hasbrouck, Peck and Cox, Secretary.

On motion of Mr. Peck, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That the premises and real estate situate in the village of Stamford, county of Delaware and State of New York, bounded and described in a deed thereof from Joseph Milan and wife to Right Rev. William Croswell Doane and others, as Trustees of the Diocese of Albany, dated February 21, 1899, be sold, subject to the covenants, conditions and provisions contained in said deed or otherwise affecting said premises; that a petition for leave to make such sale at the best market price obtainable be presented to the Supreme Court of the State of New York by and on behalf of the Board; and that the moneys realized from such sale be applied and appropriated for either the enlargement of the present Chapel, the purchase of adjoining property for an enlarged site or for the construction of a rectory or other similar purpose, on the advice and consent of the Bishop of the Diocese.

Resolved, That the Bishop is hereby authorized to sign a proper petition and such other papers as shall be proper in the premises for the purpose, in the name or in behalf of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany, and to verify the same; and to affix to any conveyance of such premises the corporate seal of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany, and sign the same as President of said corporation.

On motion of Mr. Peck, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That the Bishop, as President of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany, be and he is authorized and directed to execute two releases now presented to the Board, one to George P. Lee, executor of the last will and testament of Rebecca V. V. Perry, deceased, and one to him individually, by affixing thereto the corporate seal of said Trustees and signing the same as President, and that the same be delivered on payment of $250.00 in trust for the care, support and maintenance of the Martin Lee Perry Memorial Bed in St. Christina Home, at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

On motion of Mr. Peck, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That the Treasurer be and he is hereby authorized and directed to apply the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars in his hands, proceeds of a lease held by the extinct parish of Grace Church, Norway, towards the building of a Chapel on Lot 210, town of Webb, Herkimer county, N. Y., John Brown tract, by paying the same to Rev. William M. Cook for that purpose.

On motion of Mr. Peck, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That the Bishop of the Diocese be and he is hereby, on the advice and unanimous consent thereto of the Executive Committee, in every such case authorized and instructed to affix to such deeds, mortgages and releases by the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany as he shall be so advised, the corporate seal of such Trustees and to sign and deliver the same as President of such Trustees; the execution of all instruments under this authority to be reported by the Secretary to the next meeting of the Trustees.

On motion adjourned.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. B. Cox,
Secretary.

On motion of the Rev. W. C. Prout, it was Resolved, That the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany be and they are hereby authorized and directed to apply the sum of $250 in their hands, proceeds of a lease held by the extinct parish of Grace Church, Norway, towards the building of a Chapel on lot 210, town of Webb, Herkimer county, N. Y., John Brown tract, by paying same to Rev. William M. Cook for that purpose.

Mr. Andrew B. Jones presented the Report of the Committee on Merging the Aged and Infirm Clergy and Widows and Orphans of Clergy Funds with those of the General Clergy Relief Society; and the Rev. Mr. Newell presented a resolution as the report of a minority of the Committee, which he offered as a substitute for the Report of the Committee, and moved its adoption. The substitute failed to pass.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON MERGING THE A. AND I. C. AND W. AND O. D. C. FUNDS WITH THE GENERAL CLERGY RELIEF SOCIETY.

The Committee to whom was referred the resolution for the transfer of the two funds — The Aged and Infirm Clergy and Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen, Diocese of Albany — would report that they deem it inexpedient and inadvisable to make such transfer, and doubt the right of the Diocese to do so, as the Permanent Fund is largely made up of legacies made to the Diocese of Albany.

For the Committee,

N. B. SQUIRES,

ANDREW B. JONES -

REPORT OF THE MINORITY OF THE COMMITTEE.

Resolved, That the Trustees of the Fund for the Aged and Infirm Clergy and the Fund for Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergy be instructed to make over all the funds in their hands to the General Fund of the Church for the same purposes, with the proviso that the income of all legacies which have been given to these funds be paid to the applicants from the Diocese of Albany.

The Secretary read the Reports of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund and the Clergy Reserve Fund and of the Committee on the same.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE AGED AND INFIRM CLERGY FUND FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1903-1904.

The Trustees of the Fund for the Support of Aged and Infirm Clergy in the Diocese of Albany, respectfully report that the receipts and disbursements for the year have been as reported in detail by the Treasurer, of which the following is a summary:

Report of Trustees of Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund.

Receipts.

Balance on hand as reported at the last Convention.....	$634 36
From interest on investments.....	1,164 13
From contributions from Parishes.....	463 42
	<hr/>
	$2,261 91

Disbursements.

For stipends.....	$1,687 50
For rent safe deposit box.....	7 50
For interest overdraft, $1.68, and on note, $3.....	4 68
	<hr/>
	1,699 68
	$562 23
Toward Permanent Fund.....	497 89
	<hr/>
Cash in National Commercial Bank.....	$54 34

The item "Contributions from Parishes, $463.42," contrasts unfavorably with the net amount of the corresponding item in last year's report, viz., $592.23, and with the same item for the previous year of $703.88. The deficit compared with last year is $128.81, and compared with the year before last is $240.46, losses respectively of approximately 28% and of 52%.

The item "Interest on Investments, $1,164.13," compared with the approximate net amount of the same item of last year, viz., $1,087.64, shows an increase of $76.49.

The item, "For stipends, $1,687.50," shows, compared with the corresponding item of last year, viz., $1,247.50, that $440 more in stipends has been paid this year than last.

The total number of regular stipendiaries is now seven. Special stipends are also occasionally paid to others.

The item, "For interest on overdraft and on note, $4.68," is due to the fact that, owing to the dates on which interest on certain of the investments was paid, the treasurer was compelled, in order to pay stipends, to overdraw his bank account $550, and later to borrow that amount on a note to pay the overdraft, interest being charged first upon the overdraft and later upon the note. The note is now paid.

The Trustees hold the following securities, which constitute the Permanent Fund:

Bond and Mortgage on Bishop's House, 4%.....	$3,600 00
Perry Judgment on Bishop's House, 4%.....	6,315 86
One Troy City Railway Bond, 5%.....	1,000 00
One Erie R. R. Gen. Lien Gold Bond, 4%.....	1,000 00
Three Wabash R. R. 2nd Mtg. Bonds, 5%.....	3,000 00
Three Atlanta, Knoxville & Northern R. R. 1st Mtg. Bonds, 5%.....	3,000 00
One People's Gas Light & Coke Co., Chicago, Gold Bond, 6%.....	500 00
Two Schenectady Ry. Co. Con. Mtg. Bonds, 4½%.....	2,000 00
Two Virginia & Southwestern 1st Mtg. Bonds, 5%.....	2,000 00
Stolp Bond and Mortgage, 5%.....	700 00
Croissant Bond and Mortgage, 5%.....	500 00
Kerwin Bond and Mortgage.....	1,400 00

Hogan Bond and Mortgage.....	$250 00
Cash in Albany City Savings Institution.....	9 08
Cash in Albany Savings Bank.....	5 22
	<hr/>
	$25,280 16

Of the securities held last year the U. S. Registered 4% bond was sold for $1,089.38 net, and $100 was paid upon the principal of the Stolp bond and mortgage, reducing that bond and mortgage to $700. With these moneys and with part of the cash on hand in the savings banks and in the National Commercial Bank, a portion of the latter being the proceeds of the Southwick bond and mortgage, there were purchased, at a total cost of $3,987.45, two Schenectady Railway Company Consolidated Mortgage 4½% bonds for $1,954.25, and two Virginia and Southwestern Railway Company 5% First Mortgage bonds for $2,033.20.

As a result of these transactions the Permanent Fund shows an increase over last year of $609.87.

Complying with the resolutions adopted by the last two Conventions, the Trustees present the list of Parishes contributing during the past year to the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, together with the amount contributed by each Parish:

St. Luke's, Catskill, $4.00; St. John's, Delhi, $3.36; Christ Church, Coopers town, $10.59; Holy Innocents', Albany, $5.37; Trinity, Athens, $4.02; Church of the Memorial, Middleville, $7.50; Trinity, Fairfield, $1.75; St. John's, John town, $9.00; St. Luke's, Cambridge, $100.55; Church of the Messiah, Glen Falls, $5.25; St. Ann's, Amsterdam, $5.76; St. Paul's, Troy, $29.79; Trinity, Rensselaerville, $2.20; St. Barnabas', Troy, $5.18; St. James', Oneonta, $7.00; Trinity, Plattsburg, $18.51; St. Paul's, Albany, $30.00; Trinity, Potsdam, $15.50; Grace, Waterford, $11.21; St. Augustine's, Ilion, $6.43; Calvary, Burn Hills, $4.64; Christ, W. Burlington, $1.20; Christ, Gloversville, $5.00; Christ, Schenectady, $6.00; St. James', Ausable Forks, $2.65; Christ, Herkimer, $2.46; St. Peter's, Albany, $24.47; St. Stephen's, Schuylerville, $1.03; St. Paul's, Kinderhook, $19.29; St. Mark's, Troy, $5.93; St. Matthew's, Unadilla, $6.00; Church of the Cross, Ticonderoga, $3.25; St. John's Rectory, Essex, $11.41; Christ, Hudson, $7.46; Christ, Hudson, $2.00; Christ, Coxsackie, $2.50; Grace, Stamford, $6.16; Christ, Gilbertsville, $3.00; St. John's Rectory, Delhi, $5.00; St. John's, Troy, $50.00; St. George's, Schenectady, $11.00; St. John's, Stockport, $8.63; total, $472.05.

Dated, ALBANY, N. Y., November 14, 1904.

WM. CROSWELL DOANE,
President.
LEWIS R. PARKER,
Treasurer.

The committee appointed to audit the accounts of the Treasurer of the Fund for the Aged and Infirm Clergy respectfully report that they have examined the same and found them to be correct.

This fund plays an important part in enabling your Treasurer to tide over shortages in his other funds by a system of temporary loans as explained in his report of last year. The amount on deposit with a savings bank has remained the same as last year, the principal and interest now being $403.67.

SELDEN E. MARVIN,
Treasurer.

The Committee appointed to examine the accounts of the Clergy Reserve Fund respectfully report that they have examined said accounts and found them to be correct.

WOLCOTT W. ELLSWORTH,

L. HAWLEY PHILLIPS,
Committee.

On motion of the Rev. P. G. Snow, it was

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to print 500 copies of the Bishop's Annual Address for immediate distribution among the Clergy and members of the Convention, and also 1,250 copies of the Journal of this Convention, including that of the Special Convention.

On motion of Mr. Winsor B. French, of Bethesda Church, Saratoga Springs, it was Resolved, That the thanks of the members of this Convention be tendered to the authorities of the Cathedral and other Churchmen of Albany for their hospitality and courtesies extended to the Convention at its present session.

On motion of the Very Rev. Dean Talbot, the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

BECAUSE of the importance and the difficulties of the instruction of children in Church Sunday Schools, and in view of the valuable work which is being done by the New York Sunday School Commission and the Joint Diocesan Sunday School Commission,

Resolved, That the Bishop of the Diocese be requested to appoint a Commission of five members, three Priests and two Laymen, which shall make such study of the problem as this Diocese affords, working in collaboration with similar commissions from other Dioceses and reporting to the next annual Convention.

The Right Rev. President appointed as the Commission on Sunday School Instruction the Very Rev. Henry R. Talbot, the Rev. Ralph Birdsall, the Rev. George L. Richardson, Mr. James Hine and Mr. Ellwood Wilson.

The Right Rev. President having announced that there was no election, on motion of the Rev. E. A. Enos, D. D., it was Resolved, That the Secretary be directed to cast one ballot for Mr. Francis N. Mann, Jr., for Lay Deputy to the General Convention.

The Secretary cast the ballot as directed and reported the result, and the Right Rev. President declared Mr. Francis N. Mann, Jr., elected a Lay Deputy to the General Convention.

There being two vacancies in the list of Provisional Deputies to the General Convention, on motion of the Rev. W. C. Prout, it was resolved, That the Secretary cast one ballot each for the Rev. John F. Nichols and Mr. Robert C. Pruyn, as Provisional Deputies to the General Convention.

The Secretary cast the ballot as instructed and reported the result. The Right Rev. President declared the Rev. John F. Nichols and Mr. Robert C. Pruyn elected Provisional Deputies to the General Convention.

The Rev. J. A. Smith, for the Committee on Non-reporting Clergy and Parishes, reported the following resolution, which on his motion was adopted:

resolved, That the Secretary of the Convention be and is hereby directed to ask of the Parishes from which no report was received at the last Convention, the Clergy still Canonically resident in the Diocese who failed to report at the Convention their reasons for not complying with the requirements of the Convention, and that a minute of the same be entered in the Appendix to the Journal, and that their names under the head of Non-reporting Clergy and Parishes; in any case where the request is not complied with the fact be recorded.

On motion of the Rev. Asa S. Ashley, it was resolved, That the felicitations of the Convention are extended to the Bishop of the Diocese on the completion of the Choir of the Cathedral, with thankful recognition of the generous benefactors by whose gracious gifts the result has been secured, and with the prayer that our beloved Diocesan may live many years to enjoy the privilege and happiness of seeing still further proof of God's blessing on the erection of such a glorious Sanctuary.

On motion of the Rev. James A. Smith, it was resolved, That after the usual devotions, the Convention adjourn sine die.

The Bishop briefly addressed the Convention.

Prayers were said and the Benediction pronounced by the Bishop.

The Convention adjourned sine die.

WILLIAM CROSWELL DOANE,
Bishop of Albany and President of the Convention.

Assistant Secretary.

JOURNAL OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE
SPECIAL CONVENTION

WHICH ASSEMBLED IN THE CATHEDRAL CHURCH OF
ALL SAINTS, ALBANY, N. Y., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY
11, A. D., 1904.

Cathedral of All Saints, Albany, N. Y.
Thursday, February 11, 1904.

The following summons was issued by the Right Rev. the Bishop of the Diocese on Monday, Jan. 11th, 1904:

To the Clergy of the Diocese of Albany and the Churches in Union with the Convention Thereof:

Acting under the authority of Article III of the Constitution of the Diocese of Albany, and in accordance with the resolution adopted at its last session by the Convention of the Diocese, I do hereby call a special Convention of the Diocese of Albany to assemble in the Cathedral Church of All Saints, Albany, at 10.30 A. M., Thursday, February 11th 1904, for the election of a Bishop Coadjutor for the Diocese, and for the consideration of any matters connected with his election and consecration.

Immediately on the conclusion of the opening service the Convention will be called to order for business in the Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes' School.

WILLIAM CROSWELL DOANE,
Bishop of Albany.

ALBANY, N. Y., January 11, 1904.

N. B.—Special attention is called to the requirement of the Diocesan Canon, that there must be in every Parish a special election held for lay deputies to every Special Convention.

In response to which summons, the Bishop of the Diocese and a number of Clergy and Lay Deputies assembled in the Cathedral at half-past ten o'clock in the morning.

The Holy Communion was administered, the Right Rev. the Bishop of the Diocese being Celebrant, Archdeacon Carey reading the Epistle, and Archdeacon Battershall the Gospel.

In place of the Sermon, the Bishop delivered the following address:

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS TO THE SPECIAL CONVENTION OF THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY, FEBRUARY 11, A. D. 1904.

There seems a certain naturalness, as we stand to-day at a critical point in the history of the Diocese of Albany, in doing what we are wont to do when crises come in our personal or family lives, namely, look back and think over something of the story of these thirty-five years. I am nine days past the thirty-fifth anniversary of my consecration as the first Bishop of this Diocese, and the changes have been so many during this period of time that what I have to say will not be an old story to most of you. Of the Bishops who consecrated me, Bishop Horatio Potter, Bishop Odenheimer, Bishop Neely and Bishop Littlejohn, not one is living. And of the Bishops who were living, my seniors at that time, there are only three upon the list of the living, so that whereas when I was consecrated there were forty-two Bishops my seniors by consecration, now there are only three. There are only four of us clergy in the Diocese who were in that primary convention, and not very many more of the laymen with whom I began my work; but to that body of clergy and laymen, as they rallied to my leadership then, I owe a loving gratitude which keeps their memory fresh in my heart and their names in my commemorations. And as I stand to-day, surrounded by their successors, clergy and lay-people, alike, I have the strongest sense of their loyal and loving spirit, which has brought about, largely, the growth and prosperity of our diocesan life, and the unity of our diocesan spirit in which, with God's guidance and blessing, I trust for the wise provision for the future, which under a sense of duty to the work, you are to make to-day.

I have had two leading and controlling motives in the method of my service here: first, the desire to establish a strong central point of worship and work; and secondly, to reach out from that to all that lay within the wide circumference of the twenty thousand square miles of this jurisdiction. That is to say, I have meant to devote myself to missions and to the Cathedral, with its gathered institutions, without neglect of the other forms and phases of a Bishop's work. And I have meant also to recognize what I believe to be the dominant duty of a Bishop consecrated for a Diocese, but into the office of a Bishop in the Church of God, namely, service in the House of Bishops and to the Church at large. Not unnaturally, this service has grown with my years into much absorption in things not directly connected with diocesan duty. Laborious and anxious and demanding as it has been and is, I am sure you have not begrudged what of myself and of my service you have given in this way to the American Church.

I set myself to speak to you this morning in the way of review, first, of our missionary work. The missions have grown from fourteen to forty-six, and if we add places where services are regularly held, though not yet organized, it would mean a growth from fourteen to fifty-seven. The Parishes that were eighty-four have become 114, and the sixty-two clergymen have become 139. It is a strange note, and a solemn one to me, that, so far as I am able to trace the names, there are only fifteen living of the fifty-five clergymen who signed the testimonials in the primary convention;—three connected with the Diocese, Carey, Chapman and Mulford; and the rest, Danker, Dolloway, Ferguson, Fisher, Everett Johnson, Lighthipe, Boardman, Stubbs, Townsend, Weil and Weeks, living elsewhere. And of the seventy-five laymen who signed the testimonials there are only four left, Keese, Wade, Jackson and Taylor, with nine other deputies either not present or not signing, Wynkoop, Darius Prout, S. H. Nichols, John Hobart Warren, Max Reid, Kemp, Squires, Pine and Williams. The increase in missionary stations is somewhat larger than it seems, because ten that were missions then have become Parishes, and as I look over the original list in the Journal of the Convention of 1869, I find that nine have been discontinued, from the dying out of population in the places where they were begun. I am quite free to confess that my concern for the missionary work has been the chief factor in my decision to ask, not for relief, but for added ability to care for the missions of the Diocese. They know what my care of them has been in the past and what my pleasure was in that care, and, short as I have come and short as the Diocese has come of any full discharge of duty in the support of the Church in the weak places, or of its extension everywhere, it is the pride and glory of this Diocese that it has given steadily and largely toward the support of its missions. And as I examine the reports of our technically called Missionary Jurisdictions, I find but four that have more mission stations in them than we have here. Greatly lightened from the old days, when miles and miles of driving were needed to accomplish the visitation of these scattered places, it has outgrown my physical power, and I am sure that no makeshift of temporary proxies, however acceptable, to make the annual visits and convey the gift, can meet the case. It needs the personality of the one man who feels this to be his chief charge. It needs the vigour and power to bear the physical strain. Above all, it needs the character and the experience of a man filled with the spirit that conquered the world for Christ. When the question came up in the primary convention of the name to be given to the Diocese, when the composite name was considered of "Albany and Troy," Judge Fitch turned the tide from the geographical title to the title of the See city by proposing to call it the Diocese of Rouses Point and Catskill. Of course the proposition was not serious, but it was suggestive of a fact which needs constantly to be kept in mind, that it is not the Diocese of Troy and Albany, but it is the Diocese of the Hudson River and the St. Lawrence and much that lies between. It will be readily recognized that the strong Parishes in our two great centres are in many ways self-sufficient. The Bishop's relation to them, however close and pleasant (and it is most pleasant personally), is largely official. They do not need his presence as the outlying places do, and while I devoutly hope that I may yet be in and out, at longer intervals perhaps, in the country Churches and the smaller missions, I cannot give the personal interest and attention which they demand. In giving my consent to the election of a Bishop Coadjutor, I shall assign to him the visitation work of the Diocese at large, with such division and exceptions as we may agree upon together, the oversight of the missions and the selection and nomination of the missionaries. And my very earnest prayer is, that the man whom God shall give to me for a little while, and for the longer time to the Diocese, shall be a missionary Bishop such as I have tried to be, with a fuller power of realizing the ideal. Let me plead with you, beloved brethren, for a renewed consecration of yourselves to this great and blessed privilege of missions, the instinct of every true believer and the inspiration of the life of the individual Christian, of the Parish, of the Diocese, of the Church. There is a spiritual dry rot in any life, personal or parochial, unless this active energy of interest is stirring and strong. The soul that takes its ease in the multitude of its possessions and of its privileges is the soul of the rich fool, hurting itself and hindering and holding back the consummation of the kingdom and the coming of the Lord. I thank God for whatever has come in the way of further planting of the Church during my episcopate, for the sixteen Chapels in the Adirondack region, where there were none thirty years ago; for the new points established elsewhere, often by the outreaching interest and energy of neighbouring parish priests, and for the gifts that are and have been given for the work. I am glad that here and there a mission has become self-supporting and so left free what had been spent on its upbuilding to be used in some new place. But I am grieved and mortified as I find in these late years how little has been done in the way of opening up new regions to Christ. There is room and need and demand for a growth which shall carry out and on what has been done, until the Church shall take everywhere her ministry of the Word and Sacraments, where there are souls to be taught and nourished and brought into the flock of Christ.

Gathered, as we are here, in the Cathedral, with all that it is and all that it means, there is surely no need to-day for any vindication of the policy and purpose, with which, in the heart and hope of a young man, I set out thirty-five years ago for its upbuilding. It is a monument, not to me, but to the rightfulness of the idea of a strong, central point of worship and of work. So far as it is spiritually, what is called in business parlance "a plant," it surely commends itself to you in its great size, its dignity, its shapeliness, its architectural beauty, soon, please God, to be greatly enhanced, when the completed choir shall show what the whole is meant to be. Here are the daily offerings of the Holy Eucharist, the daily saying of Morning and Evening Prayer, free to all who will, the gathering for worship of a goodly congregation on the Lord's Day and of the Sisters and the members of St. Agnes School at the daily Evensong; and here is a centre from which in gracious measure the missions of the Diocese are cared for and supported, and from which in most helpful ways, especially by the generous gift of the Chancellor's service, there is a continuous supply to weak and empty places in the neighbourhood. More and more as we are established and strengthened in our local position, if the Dean's conception of the Cathedral is carried out, it will be a focal point, gathering to its services the diocesan clergy, and sending out clergy more and more for service in the Diocese at large. The buildings that are grouped about the Cathedral, the Guild House and the Deanery, the School and the Sisters' House, the Child's Hospital and St. Margaret's House, are the manifestation and extension of the Cathedral thought of worship, in service and good works of education and mercy. I have dwelt upon the two points of the centre and the circumference, but I am sure you will realize that, both in their influence upon the circumference and in their essential relation to the centre, the Diocesan Sisterhood and the two houses of mercy and St. Agnes School, which was really the first outgrowth of my episcopate, must be included as most important parts. They speak, I think, for themselves in such a way as to need no explanation in words, and to plead more and more for recognition of their value, to and throughout the Diocese. My only plea is that they may be separated from my personality, recognized as the outworking of the churchly idea, realized for their importance and value to the whole Church, and counted as commemorating forever before God the names of benefactors known and unknown, living and departed, coming in large proportion from outside the city and the Diocese, who have made possible the erection of the buildings with gifts which have not only not impoverished, but have constantly enriched the resources of the Diocese. And so I bid you to the serious purpose for which this Convention is called, asking your consideration of two things, the conditions and the solemnity of the event. The conditions are these. That the committee appointed under the resolution of the last Convention have reported to me as follows:

TROY, N. Y., December 29, 1904.

DEAR BISHOP.—I have the honour to notify you, on behalf of the special committee appointed at the last Diocesan Convention, "to raise by personal subscription throughout the Diocese the balance of two thousand dollars per annum required for the full salary assigned to the Coadjutor," that the said sum of two thousand dollars has been duly subscribed.

EDGAR A. ENOS,
Chairman.

Upon this information I summoned the special Convention under the authority conveyed to me by the Constitution of the Diocese. The committee, wisely, I think, declined to count as available the salary of the Diocesan Missionary, because that has never been provided by assessment by the Convention, or by apportionment from the assessment by the Board of Missions. I may perhaps forestall the full report of the committee so far as to say that I am told it will report subscriptions for the first year or more than four thousand dollars, and annual subscriptions for three years more amounting to almost that sum. I quite recognize the importance of avoiding any increase of assessments upon the Parishes for episcopal support. My suggestion is that the committee be continued to secure by subscription the amount needed to complete the salary; and to take steps within the next three years to increase the Endowment Fund of the episcopate from its present sum of $68,000 to the sum of at least $125,000, which, with the present amount of assessments upon the Parishes, would produce a sufficient income for the entire episcopal support.

From this statement, due, I think, to reasonable prudence in the matter of assumed obligations, I turn to the more serious side. The election of a Bishop is a most solemn and momentous event. I have no need to say that the duty we are presently to undertake needs to be undertaken with a full recognition of all that it involves. A vote, for anything or anybody, ought to be careful and conscientious expression of a man's will. To play with it from mere motives of compliment, to allow it to be influenced or controlled by personal favour, or to consider any element as entering into it, except the thought of individual responsibility and the best result, seem little short of sacrilege when the sacredness of the action is fully realized. The fact that the Bishop is to be at first a Coadjutor does not in the least degree lessen the solemnity or the seriousness. You will, I think, add to your conception of your duty in the choice, some consideration for me, that you may give me one so far like-minded and so far in sympathy with the established traditions of the Diocese as to be a "fellow worker unto the kingdom of God, who shall be a comfort to me," during whatever time is left to me. And surely there can be no different conception of your duty in the choice of the man for the Diocese, in the fact that he is to be your Bishop after I am gone; for the interests are one and the same, since my only anxiety is the gaining of the best man to carry on the work of the Diocese, which no man knows and no man loves as I do. So I beseech you, casting yourself in prayer not marred by predetermination or prejudice, upon the guidance of God the Holy Ghost, to let your vote, that is to say, your will, your wish, be controlled and con-created by His grace. It matters not whether the choice be by vote in our fashion or by lot as in the election of St. Matthias, if the spirit be the same. They prayed and said, "Thou, Lord, who knowest the hearts of all, show one whom Thou hast chosen." Let this be our prayer and purpose to-that we may choose him whom God has chosen, to take up the ministry apostleship here.

The Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes School
 12 Noon, February 11, 1904.

After the Service, the Convention was called to order by the Bishop of the Diocese in the Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes School.

In accordance with Section 1, Canon I, of the Diocese, the Bishop presented a List of Clergy canonically resident in the Diocese.

The Secretary called the roll of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention, and one hundred and three were found to be present.

The Right Rev. the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rev. Messrs. C. S. Abbott, Jr., Adam, Ashley, Babcock, Balsley, Battershall, D. D., R. Birdsall, Blacklock, Blanchet, Bleecker, Bold, Borden-Smith, Boyd, J. H. Brown, R. W. Brown, Caird, Carey, D. D., Carroll, Carter, D. D., Chapman, Cobb, Coerr, W. M. Cook, H. Cooke, Curry, Dickson, Eastman, Ellsworth, Enos, D. D., Fortin, Foster, Freeman, Fulcher, Grabau, Grout, Hall, Hatheway, Hegeman, Holbrook, Holley, Johnston, Kingham, Kirby, D. D., Kirwan, Knapp, Kroll, Lacey, Langdon, Larom, Lockwood, W. H. Lord, Lyman-Wheaton, D. D., Lyon, McGonigle, McLean, Marvin, Masker, Mead, Mee, Melville, Miller, Moran, Newell, Nichols, Nickerson, D. D., Parce, Parke, D. D., Parsons, Pendleton, D. D., Perry, D. D., Pittman, Prall, D. D., J. Prout, W. C. Prout, Purdy, Pyle, Rasay, G. L. Richardson, I. W. Richardson, Sanford, Schneider, Scott, F. S. Sill, D. D., Silliman, D. D., Sleight, E. A. Smith, J. A. Smith, Snow, Sterling, Stockton, Talbot, Temple, Tibbits, Trego, Van Allen, Waterson, Wells, Whipple, White, Whitney, A. C. Wilson, Zorn.

The roll of Churches in union with the Convention was called and certificates of Lay Deputies were presented. The Right Rev. President appointed as Committee on Credentials of Lay Deputies, the Rev. Pierre McD. Bleecker and Mr. G. Hyde Clarke, of St. Paul's Church, East Springfield, with the Secretary.

The Committee on Credentials of Lay Deputies reported the certificates from eighty Parishes as correct.

The Secretary called the names of Deputies entitled to seats in Convention, and one hundred and forty-seven Deputies were called to be present, representing seventy-four Parishes.*

Constitutional quorum being present, the Right Rev. President presided over the Convention organized and ready for business.

On the motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That Clergymen of other Dioceses, Professors and Students of Theology in this Church, and all persons holding any office or trust under the Convention, if not members thereof, being present, be invited to seats in the Convention.

The Right Rev. President having announced the invitation, the Rev. Alexander Elliott, Missionary at Fort Covington, and the Rev. Edward Kip Storrs, D. D., of the Diocese of Massachusetts, took part in the Convention.

On the motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the Treasurer be authorized to pay to the Clergy in attendance at this Convention and belonging to the Diocese, residing a distance of twenty miles from Albany, or more, their actual traveling expenses, provided that in no case shall he pay to exceed seven cents per mile one way.

On the motion of the Secretary, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

RESOLVED. The payments on the assessment for the Diocesan Fund of the current year are not due until April 1, 1904:

Resolved, That the Treasurer of the Diocese be and he is hereby empowered to draw funds to the extent of $900, of the National Commercial Bank of the City of Albany, to meet the necessary expenses of the present Convention, such to be repaid as soon as possible from funds received.

On the motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the Bishop be requested to furnish a copy of the address delivered by him at the opening service of this Convention, for permanent inclusion in the minutes of the Convention.

The Rev. Edgar A. Enos, D. D., presented and read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE PROPOSED BISHOP COADJUTOR'S SALARY.

On Tuesday, November 24, 1903, the Committee met, pursuant to call, in the Central Guild House, Albany, and elected the Rev. Ralph Birdsall, Recording Secretary; the Rev. John N. Marvin, Corresponding Secretary, and the Hon.

* See List of Parishes and Lay Deputies, pages 11-16.

Francis N. Mann, Treasurer. A series of numbered subscription books was ordered to be printed, and to be taken charge of and circulated through mail by the Corresponding Secretary. These subscription books carried the following preface, prepared by a Sub-Committee:

"The Bishop of Albany in his last Convention address, November, 1903 expressed himself as follows:

"I am compelled to-day to recognize the fact that I am no longer physically equal to discharge the entire duty, as I understand it and as I have tried to exercise it, of your Bishop. There are two ways of relief, one of which I have resorted to more or less during the last two years in substituting other Bishops who have most graciously undertaken my duty; and the other, the election of Bishop Coadjutor. I have so far regained my health that I hope to be able, perhaps at longer intervals, to undertake the visitation work of even the remotest places. I am bound under medical advice to say that any fully restored health or prolonged life for me depends not only upon freedom from the necessity of work and travel, whether I am equal to it or not; but also upon freedom from the anxiety and difficulty of having to make arrangements in spasmodic and uncertain ways and often suddenly for visitations which I find myself unable to make. I am perfectly content to leave the decision of this question to the Convention. I am most unwilling to press, and yet I feel compelled to present the personal side of it. And while I am not constrained to ask it, I am ready to consent when the Convention wills, to the election of a Bishop Coadjutor on the canonical ground of infirmity, which means, I take it, not brokendownness, but lack of strength to do all the work alone."

"In view of this statement, the Convention of the Diocese resolved to accept the suggestion of the Bishop and to approve the election of a Bishop Coadjutor. The salary of the proposed Bishop Coadjutor was fixed at $4,000; one-half the sum to be raised by an apportionment on the Parishes and Mission Stations of the Diocese, and the other half by subscriptions. The undersigned was appointed a Committee to obtain the above said subscriptions, and it is for this purpose that the annexed subscription book is circulated.

"The Committee, realizing that apportionments on Parishes and Mission Stations are, in many instances, difficult, and, in some instances, impossible to collect, venture to hope that the friends of the Bishop to whom this subscription book shall come, will subscribe so generously that a sum in excess of $2,000 may be secured."

On December 29, 1903, the $2,000 mark having been reached, the Bishop was duly notified of that fact.

On January 6, 1904, the amount subscribed, being nearly $3,000, a printed list was sent out with each book as follows:

"The Subscription Committee, with no desire to enlarge the limits set upon their authority by the Convention, and feeling very strongly the difficulty of collecting apportionments, venture to hope that the friends of the Bishop, to whom this book shall come, will subscribe so generously that the full amount of the proposed Bishop Coadjutor's salary, namely, $4,000, may be secured.

"In lieu of individual subscriptions toward the salary of the Bishop Coadjutor a Parish subscription is regarded as legitimate. The Parishes of Cooperstown, Potsdam, Springfield Centre and St. Paul's, Albany, and others, have subscribed in this way."

On February 1, 1904, the Corresponding Secretary reported to the Committee that $4,000 had been secured.

The report in full to date, February 11, 1904, is as follows:

Books sent out.....	279
Books returned with no subscription.....	156
Books not heard from.....	11
Number of personal subscriptions.....	98
Number of Parish subscriptions.....	13
Number of Sunday School subscriptions.....	1
Total number of subscriptions.....	112

Amount received from these 112 subscriptions..... $4,278 00

Thirty-seven subscribers inclosed checks, amounting to..... $1,223 00

Seventy-five subscriptions are payable when called for by the Treasurer, amounting to..... 3,055 00

$4,278 00

Thirty-nine subscriptions, amounting to $3,865.00, are pledged for various terms, not less than three years.

Five subscribers have pledged themselves to make up any deficit in the above amount of $3,865.00, for three years to the amount of $100 each. $500.00.

The thanks of the Committee are due, in unstinted measure, to the Rev. J. N. Marvin, Corresponding Secretary, for his energy, industry and faithfulness in circulating the subscription books and writing personal letters.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Committee.

On motion of the Rev. E. A. Enos, D. D., it was Resolved, That the Convention now proceed to the election of a Bishop Coadjutor.

On motion of the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D., the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

WHEREAS, The election of a Bishop Coadjutor is a matter of supreme importance to the members of this Convention and to the church people of the Diocese in general; and

WHEREAS, It is advisable that information should be given, if desired, to the members of the Convention with regard to persons who may be nominated for this office; therefore,

Resolved, That after the nominations have been made for the office of Bishop Coadjutor, this Convention go into executive session, and that during the executive session section 6 of the Standing Order of the Conduct of Elections be suspended for the purpose of affording an opportunity for a free and informal consideration of all matters pertaining to such nominations.

On motion of Mr. Edward D. Barry, Lay Deputy from Trinity Church, Gouverneur, it was Resolved, That speeches nominating clergy for election as Bishop Coadjutor be limited to three minutes.

The following resolution, offered by the Very Rev. Henry R. Talbot, was not adopted:

Resolved, That after the transaction of such preliminary business as may be necessary, the Convention proceed to the Cathedral for the election of a Bishop Coadjutor.

On motion of the Rev. E. A. Enos, D. D., it was Resolved, That, in case of failure to elect a Bishop Coadjutor at the first ballot, or at any succeeding ballot, opportunity shall be given for additional nominations immediately before each succeeding ballot is taken.

A motion offered by Mr. John H. Booth, Lay Deputy from Trinity Church, Plattsburgh, that the first ballot be an informal one, failed to pass.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the Convention now take a recess until two o'clock, and reassembling shall go into executive session, with closed doors, to receive nominations for Bishop Coadjutor.

The Convention took a recess.

TWO O'CLOCK P. M.

The Convention reassembled in executive session.

The Right Rev. President appointed tellers and assistants as follows:

TELLERS.

For the Clerical Vote.

The Rev. Oliver Shaw Newell,
Mr. John Horrocks,

CONSECRATION OF THE REV. RICHARD HENRY NELSON, D. D., AS BISHOP COADJUTOR OF THE DIOCESE.

Immediately after the adjournment of the Special Convention, the Committee appointed to notify the Rev. Mr. Nelson of his election as Bishop Coadjutor proceeded to Philadelphia and communicated to him the action of the Convention and requested his acceptance of the office.

After a few days' consideration, Mr. Nelson sent the following letter accepting the election:

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Feb. 21, 1904.

To the Rev. WALTON W. BATTERSHALL, D. D.; the Rev. CHARLES M. NICKERSON, D. D.; the Rev. J. PHILIP PENDLETON, D. D.; Gen'l J. KENT FORD, Mr. SPENCER TRASK:

GENTLEMEN.—With faith in God's power to supply the need of those whom He calls to do his work, I accept the office of Bishop Coadjutor in the Diocese of Albany.

I do this in the earnest hope that I may be enabled to lighten the burdens of your eminent and beloved Bishop, and so to prolong the years of his great usefulness, which will also be to me years of rare privilege and much-needed guidance. In the missionary work which has been assigned to me and in whatsoever else I may be permitted to do, I hope that I shall learn in time to be a helpful fellow labourer with those who have given me such signal proof of their confidence.

In this and in all things, I am ready and desirous to be your servant for Jesus Christ's sake.

Faithfully yours,

RICHARD H. NELSON.

Thereupon the Standing Committee of the Church in the Diocese communicated the desire of the Diocese of Albany for the Consecration of the Rev. Mr. Nelson, Bishop Coadjutor-elect, to the Standing Committees of the Churches in the different Dioceses, together with copies of the necessary testimonials. When the major number* of the Standing Committees had replied, giving consent to the proposed Consecration, the Standing Committee of the Diocese forwarded the evidence of that consent, together with other testimonials, to the Presiding Bishop of the House of Bishops.

The Presiding Bishop communicated the evidence of the action of the Convention of the Diocese of Albany and the consents of the Standing Committees to the other Bishops in the United

 The Rev. Henry R. Freeman.

The Right Rev. Frederick Burgess, D. D., Bishop of Long Island.
 The Right Rev. William C. Doane, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Albany.

The Processional was Hymn 491,
 "The Church's One Foundation."

The Bishop of the Diocese celebrated the Holy Communion, the Bishop of Long Island reading the Epistle and the Bishop of Western New York the Gospel.

The Sermon was preached by the Bishop of Vermont.*

* See page 149.

After the Sermon was sung Hymn 131,

"O, Saviour, Who for Man Hast Trod."

After which the Bishop-elect, vested in his rochet, was presented to the Bishop of Albany, the Presiding Bishop for the Service, by the Bishops Coadjutor of Pennsylvania and Central New York.

The Presiding Bishop having demanded the Testimonials of the Bishop-elect, they were presented and read as follows:

The Right Rev. David H. Greer, D. D., Bishop Coadjutor of New York, read the Commission to Consecrate.*

The Certificate of Election was read by the Rev. Thomas B. Fulcher, Assistant Secretary of the Convention.†

The Original Testimony of the Convention‡ was read by the Rev. William C. Prout, Secretary of the Convention.

The Consents of Standing Committees were read by the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D., Secretary of the Standing Committee - //

The Consents of Bishops§ were read by the Rev. Walton W. Battershall, D. D., acting as Deputy Registrar of the General Convention.

The Bishop-elect made the Promise of Conformity:

In the name of God. Amen. I, Richard Henry Nelson, chosen Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany, do promise conformity and obedience to the Doctrine, Discipline and Worship of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America. So help me God, through Jesus Christ.

The Litany was said by the Bishop of Nebraska.

The Presiding Bishop examined the Bishop-elect in the form prescribed in the Ordinal.

Hymn 249 was sung,

"O Zion Haste, Thy Mission High Fulfilling."

After which Hymn, the Bishop-elect was vested

The Hymn, Veni Creator Spiritus, was sung by the Presiding Bishop.

The Presiding Bishop, and the Bishops of Pennsylvania and Connecticut, to whom the Commission to Consecrate was addressed, with the Bishops of Western New York and Long Island, and the Bishops Coadjutor of Central New York and New York, whom the Presiding Bishop had invited to join with them, laid their hands on the head of the Bishop-elect kneeling before them, the Consecrating Bishops saying :

Receive the Holy Ghost for the office and work of a Bishop in the Church of GOD, now committed unto thee by the Imposition of our hands ; in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, Amen. And remember that thou stir up the grace of GOD, which is given thee by this Imposition of our hands ; for GOD hath not given us the spirit of fear, but of power and love and soberness.

The Presiding Bishop then delivered the Bible to the newly-consecrated Bishop with the form of words prescribed in the Ordinal, and received him into the Sanctuary.

The following Anthem was sung, and offerings were received for Diocesan Missions :

O clap your hands, all ye people ; shout unto God with the voice of triumph : For the Lord our God is terrible. He is a great King over all the earth. They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, they shall mount up with wings as eagles, they shall run and not be weary, they shall walk and not faint. Trust ye in the Lord forever, for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength. Amen. Psalm xlviii : 1, 2 ; Isaiah xl : 31 ; xxvi : 4. Sir John Stainer.

The Service of the Holy Communion was completed.

The Procession was formed in the following order :

The Bishops,
Other Clergy,
Representative Laymen,
The Choir,
and left the Cathedral with Hymn 490 for a Processional,
"Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken."

COMMISSION TO CONSECRATE THE REV. RICHARD HENRY NELSON AS BISHOP COADJUTOR OF THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

(COPY.)

BRETHREN BELOVED IN THE LORD:

In accordance with the provisions of Title I. Canon 19. Section iii [1] of the Digest of the Canons, I herewith communicate to you the testimonials of the Reverend Richard Henry Nelson, D. D., Coadjutor Bishop-Elect of the Diocese of Albany; and I do further make request that you, associating with yourselves such other Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America as to you may seem good, will proceed to ordain and consecrate the said the

REVEREND RICHARD HENRY NELSON, D. D.,

Coadjutor Bishop-Elect, at such time and place as to you may seem good, after consultation with the said Bishop-Elect, to the office of a Bishop in the Church of God, according to the "Form of Ordaining and Consecrating a Bishop," established and used in the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

In Testimony of all which I have hereunto set my hand, and caused my official seal to be affixed, at the City of St. Louis, in the State and Diocese of Missouri, this thirtieth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and four.

DANL. S. TUTTLE.

Presiding Bishop.

CERTIFICATE OF THE ELECTION OF THE REVEREND RICHARD HENRY NELSON, TO BE BISHOP COADJUTOR OF THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

This is to certify that the Bishop of Albany, being constrained, by advancing age and such permanent cause of infirmity as arises therefrom, to seek for assistance in the discharge of his Episcopal duties — and having given his consent in writing to the election of a Bishop Coadjutor, and having stated in such consent the duties which he would assign to the Bishop Coadjutor when duly elected and consecrated — the Special Convention of the Diocese of Albany, assembled in the Cathedral of All Saints, Albany, on Thursday, the eleventh day of February, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and four, did unanimously elect the to be Bishop Coadjutor of the said Diocese, in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution and the Canons of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America and of the Diocese of Albany.

Attest:

WM. CROSWELL DOANE, D. D., LL. D.,

Bishop of Albany and President of the Convention.

Secretary of the Convention.

DIOCESE OF ALBANY, ALBANY, N. Y., February 11, 1904.

TESTIMONY FROM THE CONVENTION OF THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY AS TO THE REVEREND RICHARD HENRY NELSON.
BISHOP COADJUTOR-ELECT.

In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

We, whose names are underwritten, fully sensible how important it is that the sacred office of a Bishop should not be unworthily conferred, and firmly persuaded that it is our duty to bear testimony on this solemn occasion, without partiality or affection, do, in the presence of Almighty God, testify that the

is not, so far as we are informed, justly liable to evil report, either for error in religion, or for viciousness in life; and that we do not know or believe there is any impediment, on account of which he ought not to be consecrated to that Holy Office. We do, moreover, jointly and severally declare that we do, in our conscience, believe him to be of such sufficiency in good learning, such soundness in the faith, and of such virtuous and pure manners, and godly conversation, that he is apt and meek to exercise the Office of a Bishop to the honor of God, and the edifying of His Church, and to be a wholesome example to the flock of Christ.

DIOCESE OF ALBANY, March 15, 1904.

CERTIFICATE OF CONSENT TO THE CONSECRATION OF A BISHOP COADJUTOR FOR THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

Testimony of the Standing Committee of the Diocese of

We, whose names are underwritten, fully sensible how important it is that the sacred office of a Bishop should not be unworthily conferred, and firmly convinced that it is our duty to bear testimony on this solemn occasion, without partiality or affection, do, in the presence of Almighty God, testify that the venerend RICHARD HENRY NELSON, Bishop Coadjutor-elect of the Diocese of Albany, is not, so far as we are informed, justly liable to evil report, either for defect in religion, or for viciousness of life; and that we do not know or believe there is any impediment, on account of which he ought not to be consecrated, to the holy office, but that he hath, as we believe, led his life, for three years last past, piously, soberly, and honestly.

A BISHOP'S SERVICE.*

By the Right Rev. ARTHUR C. A. HALL, D. D., Bishop of Vermont

Whosoever would be great among you shall be your minister; and whosoever will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all — St. Mark x. 43, 44.

[The sermon at the Consecration of the Bishop Coadjutor of Albany on the nineteenth was preached by the Bishop of Vermont. He took for his text the passage: "Whosoever would be great among you, shall be your minister; and whosoever will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all" (St. Mark x. 43, 44). In his introduction, he noted that this saying of our Lord's was recorded in the Gospels as uttered certainly on three, possibly on four, distinct occasions. In one instance the words were addressed to the Twelve, the company of the Apostles, our Lord's first chosen ministerial representatives. The Bishop continued his sermon as follows]:

The great law thus enunciated applies to all His disciples; it must have a special illustration in the official ministry. The clergy are placed in positions of authority; they are called to be leaders. It is of the utmost importance that they should enter on their office and exercise their authority in the right spirit and temper. Those who are regarded as rulers among the Gentiles, Christ says, shall not be like the Gentiles, lord it over their subjects, tyrannize over them, and exercise arbitrary rule. But it is not to be so among you. Another principle prevails in the true Israel, among the people of God. Their standards are different from that of the Gentile world. With them service is to precede pre-eminence; pre-eminence will only be secured by a true servant of the servants of men. Their King had by His own example inaugurated a new condition. The man came not to be ministered unto, to be waited on, but to minister unto others, to give His life a ransom for many. Among those who are ready to be disciples, there will be no eager grasping at honor and power; in His kingdom the measure of service is the measure of greatness.

II.

We may do well then, fathers and brethren, on the occasion of a Consecration to the office of a Bishop in the Church of God, to consider the diakonia, the Christian ministry, and especially of the Episcopate, as the fullest embodiment and representation of the ministry. Dean Church gave as a description of Christian ministry — "the consecration of life to the service of men in their temporal and spiritual interests." The ministry as a whole is in this sense representative of the Church: the episcopate is representative of the ministry. It is on this point that I would lay stress.

(a) According to mediaeval rule a Bishop when fully vested wears the distinctive robes of the lower orders of the ministry — the subdeacon's tunic, the deacon's dalmatic, as well as the priest's chasuble, with certain distinctive marks of the Bishop's rank, the stole pendant, the mitre and staff. It must be an uncomfortable fashion; but it aptly illustrates the great truth that I enforce, that the characteristic features of each order of the ministry are not intended to be lost, but carried on and perfected in the higher rank. The service of the deacon, specially but not exclusively concerned with the relief of temporal needs and the care of external interests, is to be continued in the priest's pastoral ministrations, finding its exercise more largely in spiritual service, as the priest teaches the ignorant, consoles the sorrowful, reconciles the penitent, feeds the lambs and tends the sheep of Christ's flock, and all in a spirit of self-sacrifice, as he is bidden never to cease his labor, his care and diligence, until he has done all that lieth in his power, according to his bounden duty, to bring all who may be committed to his charge unto that agreement in the faith and knowledge of God, and to that ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ, that there be no place left among them either for error in religion or for viciousness in life. The priest's pastoral care and rule, his ministry of the Word and Sacraments, last on, and should find their higher realization in the Bishop as chief pastor. The Bishop is an arch, or chief priest, but in a very real sense he must be an archdeacon, a chief, deacon likewise. His being the latter will in a spiritual sense enable him to be the former. He has passed through the lower ranks of the ministry, not to forget the lessons or throw off the features of his diaconate or his priesthood, but by truly learning them and appropriating them in his spiritual experience to be fitted for the graver responsibilities and wider ministry of a chief pastor. Thus shall he "earn a step" in the Christian ministry.

(b) For a moment see the same truth set forth in another way, conversely. The apostles received from our Lord the full ministerial office, all the ministerial commissions. "As my Father sent me, so send I you," to do my work, in my name, with my authority—yes, and in my way, since my Spirit is imparted to you. They are bidden to make disciples, to teach, to feed and tend the flock, to exercise discipline in remitting and retaining sins, to show forth His victorious sacrifice by its appointed memorial. In the fullest sense they were the ministers, as they were the rulers, of the Christian society. By degrees, as occasion required, they deputed others to share in the performance of certain of their functions; ordaining first deacons, then presbyters or bishops, the pastors of local churches, and later officers with larger powers and responsibilities (like Timothy at Ephesus and Titus at Crete, and like the angels of the seven Churches in Asia) with authority over larger bodies of Christians and over fellow presbyters. Without entering into any further discussion of the evolution of the episcopate, it is surely worth while, on such an occasion as this, to be reminded that when these chief priests came to have a special designation of their own, of the titles which originally belonged to what we call the second order of the ministry, that which came to be appropriated to the highest office was the one that toiled of work rather than of dignity. The successors of the apostles were styled bishops or overseers; the name that suggested authority and dignity (presbyter or elder) remained with the local pastor. The instinct of the early Church followed the rule laid down by her Lord: "He that is greatest among you shall be your servant. Service, διακονία—that is my point—is to be fully realized in the chief pastor as the representative of the whole ministry. If this ideal had been continuously realized and exemplified, how different would be the attitude of large bodies of Christian people toward the episcopate; how different the regard of bishops even among large numbers of Church people! It was the idea represented (however innocently) by the title "lord bishop," the picture of a distant autocrat, of an ecclesiastical (not in any true sense a spiritual) peer, the supposed need of a large emolument and palace and retinue, which made the American colonies regard the introduction of bishops with suspicion, and which even now stirs a feeling of jealousy or nervousness among less instructed people. Let a bishop be recognized as chief minister, and there will be but little need to insist upon the authority of his office. He will receive the homage which is paid to self-sacrifice; he will be given the place of leadership for which he has fitted himself.

To be chosen for the episcopate is to be called, then, not to ease, but to labor more abundantly; not to honor, but to service; or rather to that true honor which is found in service, and which most certainly will be the reward of service. The measure of service is the measure of greatness. Think of the bishop's opportunities to spend and be spent in the service of the brethren. He is called to sacrifice his leisure, that he may put himself at the disposal of all; called to cultivate to the utmost all gifts, that he may have the more to share with others; called to yield his own tastes and preferences, that he may at once more acceptably minister to the whole flock, and also, when occasion arises, be able to stand firm in defence of principles.

III.

Let me, then, mark out a few ways — five I will venture to specify as to my mind particularly important — in which a bishop's service, his διακονία may be shown.

You will notice that in all I am speaking of serving men not "tables." A great deal of unseen laborious service is performed by our bishops on committees and financial boards, in the collecting and distributing of funds. To a certain extent this is necessary. A bishop should have his hand on all the different departments of Church work. But surely the apostolic example holds good now. Let such financial business be as far as possible cared for by others — men of good report, full of the Spirit and of wisdom, and the chief pastor be allowed to give himself continually to prayer and to the ministry of the Word.

(1) If the bishop is to be the "servant of all," he must particularly show his care for the difficult stations of the Church, the outlying cures, where resources are scanty, where opposition may be determined or bitter, where the clergyman is isolated. Our system, remember, is Episcopal. The diocese is our unit. Without a bishop our Church organization is nowhere complete. We are not a collection of congregations, some larger and some smaller, grouped together for convenience. A district, with all the souls within it who will accept our ministrations, is committed to the oversight and care of a bishop with his staff of presbyters. If the presbyters for the most part have local cures, it must specially devolve upon the bishop to make such provision as is possible for the scattered people. He is chief pastor of the diocesan family. To this belong all the decayed parishes, the feeble missions, the scattered Church folk. Their interests are the concern of all. The diocesan care and interest are to be personified in the bishop. The large and well-established parishes to a certain extent will take care of themselves. The chief pastor's influence must be specially felt in the weaker parts of the diocese. He must not be content with perfunctory or hurried visitations of the smaller and more difficult places, while revelling in the æsthetic worship of the central church, with appreciative congregations, enjoying the dignity of his throne and the comfort of home. "Whosoever would be chiefest shall be servant of all." In these difficult posts let the faithful be cheered, the priest inspired, the enemy confounded by the presence of the head of the diocese, in his labors filling up that which remains of the afflictions of Christ for His body's sake, the Church. You will not misunderstand me. A diocese needs a centre. The cathedral is the official seat of the bishop, where he will be accessible to all, where he will gather together the clergy and laity for counsel and for worship. Here will be the administrative center of all such activities, ecclesiastical, educational, charitable, missionary, as are diocesan in their scope.

The splendid group of buildings and of institutions which crowns your capitol hill—this stately and beautiful house of prayer, the chapter house for counsel, the school standing for education, the hospital for works of mercy, the sisterhood for a dedicated life of training and devotion; of all these the diocese may well be proud, and on their possession we from outside heartily congratulate you. These will be a perpetual memorial to the energy and wisdom, as well as to the ecclesiastical taste of the first Bishop of Albany. He would be the first to declare that the cathedral and all its institutions exist for the diocese, and not the diocese for the cathedral; that the cathedral stands rather as the symbol of centrifugal than of centripetal force; that whatever may have been the claims for contributions from all parts for these foundations, the system here built up is intended to pay back a great deal more, in influence and help and energy.

Allow me here a digression. We make, I am convinced, a great mistake entirely reversing the true law of procedure in sending generally to the new place a young and inexperienced clergyman—perhaps not even in priest's order—to begin a work and lay foundations. It is these rotten or uncertain foundations which imperil the stability and hinder the upbuilding of the Church for many subsequent years. Naturally the young man has neither the experience nor the firmness to select material wisely. He is glad to gather in any who will come. Persons very likely of questionable character, of more than doubtful antecedents, disgruntled or factious members of other religious bodies, become the nucleus of the mission, perhaps its first officers, when they should have been kept on probation for some time before being admitted to the Church's privileges. The young clergyman doesn't discern; he can hardly be expected to resist the pressure. What hope can there be for a high standard of Christian life, or for any exercise of ecclesiastical discipline, in a congregation thus formed? Let our diocesan boards send wise, strong, experienced men to do the pioneer work, and lay foundations. Let the new missions and difficult places be a bishop's chief care. They need his fostering interest and sympathy; they need to feel the firm hand of authority.

(2) A second special sphere for the bishop's service is to be found in the families of the clergy. Let the bishop's visit be a time of cheer and refreshment—spiritual refreshment—anticipated and recalled with pleasure by those whose life is often hard and their helps and consolations scanty. The rectory or parsonage should be the bishop's natural resting place, unless the clergyman himself desires to make some other arrangement. I entirely recognize the importance of a bishop becoming intimately acquainted with the laity of his diocese, and being from time to time an inmate of their homes. But I feel sure that this advantage is dearly purchased if their hospitality is accepted in preference to that of the parsonage on the occasion of a regular visitation. The official residence of the local pastor is the place where the people will naturally find and feel able to approach their chief pastor. The wife, the sons and daughters of the parsonage should find a special friend in the bishop. To whom more naturally should they feel able to turn for that personal advice which the very closeness of relationship may make it difficult in some cases for them to seek from the parish priest? The husband's or father's influence and authority (you need not fear) will be strengthened and supplemented, not supplanted or superseded, by his and their chief pastor.

(3) A third special sphere of service on which I would lay stress for the bishop is in serious study. At the ancient universities of Oxford and Cambridge, where honorary degrees are but sparingly granted, it is the custom to confer the degree of Doctor in Divinity upon one of their alumni who is appointed to a bishopric. Whether or not in any individual case the recipient be eminent as a scholar, the custom is a recognition that a chief pastor is bound in a peculiar sense to be a teacher. Apart from his preaching in all parts of the diocese (and what an opportunity this affords!), he is expected by our canons to deliver at least once in three years a Charge to the clergy of the diocese, and from time to time to address to the people of his flock Pastoral Letters on points of Christian doctrine, worship and manners. This is entirely in accordance with the primitive conception of the bishop's office. He is to be a chief minister of God's holy Word as well as of His Sacraments. The position of a responsible and authoritative teacher involves the toil of a student. For the clergy and the people committed to his guidance a bishop especially must "labor in the word and doctrine." Difficult questions will continually be submitted, in which he ought to prepare himself to decide wisely and with adequate knowledge. By careful study he ought to be fitting himself to hold the balance between extreme opinions on one side and the other, by a harmony (generally) not of compromise but of comprehension. He must learn "rightly to divide the word of truth." In these days, as we cannot afford to lower the intellectual qualifications required of the clergy, whatever their activities, so most certainly there is need of diligent and painstaking study on the part of those who are marked as responsible teachers and guardians of the truth. It should be a bishop's endeavor to thresh out for others many difficult problems. He should be a leader of the Church's thought as well as of its activity. A "hustling" parson is a dreadful word for a dreadful characteristic when applied to a priest. A "hustling" bishop, racing from place to place, full of schemes for organization, with no time for study or meditation, and so with only superficial views and second-hand ideas — this is something too dreadful to contemplate.

(4) A fourth opportunity for the διακονία, the lowly service, of the episcopate is in the shouldering of difficulties in the exercise of discipline, which is a special prerogative of the bishop's office, a special burden laid upon him. I am not thinking so much of the formal and public exercise of discipline in which a bishop pronounces sentence after an ecclesiastical trial, as of the far more frequent opportunities in which a bishop is called upon to hear cases in camera; by thus exercising his paternal office he oftentimes may render unnecessary any more formal judicial proceedings. Here, surely, whether in dealing with clergymen or with lay people, is the opportunity to imitate our Lord's example in washing the feet of the brethren. Brother priests and brother bishops, let us show ourselves ready to shoulder the burdens of those committed to us; encourage them to open their griefs; bear with their infirmities; give them a helping hand. Thus will the bishop fulfil the charge which we shall presently hear addressed to our brother: "Hold up the weak, heal the sick, bind up the broken, bring again the outcasts, seek the lost. Be so merciful, that you be not too remiss; so minister discipline, that you forget not mercy."

(5) With one more instance I conclude my enumeration of the special opportunities of a bishop to make himself the servant of all, and so to gain leadership and spiritual authority. A bishop promises by the help of God to

"be faithful in ordaining, sending, and laying hands upon others." Clearly this promise refers not merely to the actual administration of Holy Orders, but to the careful preparation of those on whom Orders are to be conferred. Accordingly our canons lay on the bishop the superintendence of candidates for Holy Orders, both as to their daily life and as to the direction of their theological studies, ordinarily for three years before their ordination, requiring every candidate to report himself to his bishop, personally or by letter, at least once in three months. If these directions were faithfully followed in their spirit, these responsibilities really appreciated, might we not expect, fathers and brethren, a considerable diminution in the appalling number of depositions from the sacred ministry that we year by year report? In ten years I received official notification of 176. Without doubt a large proportion of these are due to the want of a true realization of what is involved in the clerical office: faithfulness in ministering the revealed Word and the ordained Sacraments, loyalty to Christ and His body, devotion to the spiritual interests of the people, a determined aim at leadership by example as by precept, to show one's self "a sample Christian (as the Apostle says) in word and conduct, in love, in faith, in purity." If we bishops made ourselves more generally and more truly recognized as the spiritual fathers of our candidates for Orders, entering with sympathy into the difficulties, intellectual and moral, encouraging them to look to us not only for financial but for spiritual help, might not our candidates be better sifted, and those who are admitted to ordination enter on their ministry with greater assurance of fruitful and happy service? Think for a moment of the Lord's work as Pastor parvorum—during three years training by word and example as disciples those whom He would afterwards commission as apostles; bearing with their faults, their slowness, and pettiness; showing in His own dealing with them and others the pattern for their conduct, gradually preparing them for their work, and then breathing on them His Spirit. Is not this the model for a bishop's dealing with his candidates for Orders? Here, certainly, making himself their minister, he shall attain to be great among them; as their servant he shall be their master. "I am among you as one that serveth;" it is the word of our great High Priest, of the Chief Shepherd and Bishop. This is the description of His life and ministry. May it be at least the ideal which His representatives set before them!

Remarks.

January tenth the Parish Church was badly damaged by fire. It has since repaired and improved, the cost of which is nearly $11,000. The organ was totally destroyed and has not yet been replaced. Mr. Carnegie has promised us $1,250 towards the price of an organ, to cost at least $2,500. Mr. George Foster Peabody has pledged $250 towards the new organ. After all repairs and improvements the parish is in debt only about $1,000 more than when the fire took place.

Miss May Cummings has placed a handsome memorial window, and Miss Margaret Stack another in memoriam of her father, a former vestryman. The Misses McNeil gave the Parish a handsome brass Baptismal ewer, and Mr. James Lucy presented an exquisite black walnut credence table in memory of Mr. Little, a former warden.

Property.

Seating capacity of Church, 150; all free.

Condition of Property, excellent.

Amount of salary pledged Rector, $100.

Remarks.

The condition of the Church property last spring was so bad that the wardens refused to pledge over $100 salary, as they felt that some portion of their income for the Church should go to repairs. Through extra effort and gifts on the part of the few members, and the very great kindness of some outside friends, church people of other parishes, extensive repairs have been made and the property is now creditable. The parish is now in a condition to regain its old position. The hours of services can be made to be convenient to those not now attending.

Remarks.

In June the new Church was opened by Bishop Coadjutor Nelson with impressive services. The east window, a good representation of the Resurrection, was given by the St. Monica's Guild. A handsome polished brass Communion Rail had already been presented by Mrs. J. C. Willson. On All Saints' Day a beautiful Reredos in black walnut, from Geissler, New York, was put in place, the gift of Mrs. Bosworth, of Stevens Point, Wis. A handsomely embroidered green burse and pall is the gift of Mrs. Horace Ellsworth. A year ago the old Chapter, No. 45 of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, was revived with very gratifying results. There is a present membership of 15. Dr. J. C. Willson is the director. The Chapter has been instrumental in starting junior branches in two other parishes.

Remarks.

The above facts and figures cover the work of two years — 1902-4 — but the present Missionary was in charge only during the year 1903-4. Lay services were held from April, 1903, to August, 1903, inclusive, by Mr. George B. Pfeiffer, a professor at St. Stephen's College, Annandale; the Rev. E. Weil, of Germantown, Philadelphia, Pa., celebrated the Holy Communion twice and baptized one child; two children were baptized by the present Missionary this year, and one person was confirmed in April by Bishop Worthington, of Nebraska, acting for the Bishop of New York, in St. Paul's Church, Tivoli. The people express the hope that occasional Sunday morning services and celebrations of the Holy Communion may also be held, as on the fifth Sunday of the month, from and including Easter and Advent.

Remarks.

Rev. Dr. D. Parker Morgan, Rector of the Church of the Heavenly Host, New York, kindly sent up a Clergyman from the city at his own expense to administer the Holy Communion once a month last winter, and took charge of the Services during the summer, thus giving the Mission some twenty or more Services free of charge. The Missionary will hold one Sunday morning Service and Celebration of the Holy Communion once a month this winter, but discontinue the Sunday evening Services, which are poorly attended. It has not been possible to have a Sunday School during the past year.

Remarks.

As there has been no Rector of Holart for eight out of the twelve months, we have given Services at Bloomville when possible. I have held six Services here on Sunday afternoons, and have assisted them in the matter of building a chapel. The Rev. E. R. Armstrong, Rector of Sharon Springs, has most kindly provided plans for a beautiful Chapel. The contract was let on October 2d, and work was commenced on October 24th. The building is to cost $1,600, exclusive of seats and furnace, and the money is already in hand. We hope to have the building ready for occupation by the spring.

Remarks.

The repairs and improvements on the Church at Essex (the fund for which was reported under this heading last year), are now practically complete, and insure its efficiency and permanence for a long time to come. By proper legal process the number of our Vestrymen has been reduced from seven to five, greatly to our relief and advantage in securing a working quorum, which now never fails us. At his primary visitation to St. Mary's Church, Willsborough, the Bishop Coadjutor effected its organization as a Mission of the Diocese by the appointment of the Canonical Officers: Mr. Robert L. P. Marden; Mr. Harry E. Shedd, Clerk, and Mr. Elton B. Shepard, Treasurer.

Remarks.

The Parish has been without a Rector the past six months. Morning services in the Parish House each Sunday A. M., Dr. William Louis Githens, Lay Reader, officiating.

The indebtedness (nearly $200) has been paid, Church walls tinted anew, new carpet, new heater and new pews provided for, and the Church is free from debt. As soon as pews arrive we hope to have officiating clergyman in charge.

The means by which the above has been made possible have come from friends, from members of the Church, with the aid of societies heretofore mentioned, in united effort for the cause.

FOURTH LAKE MISSION.

(Herkimer County.)

Priest in Charge. Rev. William M. Cook.

Three services were held in July, on Sundays, by the Rev. Wm. C. Prout, at "Camp Inwood;" with a good attendance; and an offering of $6.41 was received at one service. Subscriptions and offerings for the building of the Chapel amount to $666.41; of which $624.27 have been paid in. Of this amount $10 have been paid for plans, and there is a bill pending of $12 for work on the lot. It is expected that the building will be begun as soon as the weather permits in the spring. A complete set of linen for the altar has been promised. Gifts for the furnishing of the Chapel, such as an altar, lecturn, litany desk, etc., will be thankfully received and acknowledged by the undersigned.

Seating capacity of Church, 150; all free.

Condition of Property, excellent.

Amount of salary pledged Rector, $100.

Remarks.

A flagstone walk has been laid around the front and side of the church lot, and from the front up to the door. The credit for this, and for substantial assistance in meeting the current expenses of the parish, is due to the St. Alban's Guild.

The Rector resigned this parish on November 1, 1904. During the seven years he was in charge the village of Frankfort has recovered much of its former prosperity after the blow given it by the removal of the West Shore railroad shops, and the parish has also regained all (and more) of its former numerical and financial strength.

Remarks.

After serving this parish, together with St. Paul's, Oak Hill, as a faithful Minister of the Word, and going in and out amongst those whom he served, as a tender, compassionate and faithful friend, for a period of sixteen years, thus gaining the respect, confidence and love of all with whom he came in contact, the Rev. T. A. Snyder passed to his reward in the early part of February last. After four months, during which our church was closed, we called the Rev. H. P. Lyman-Wheaton, D. D., who commenced his labors amongst us on the 1st of July. Upon Rector and people may the blessing of the Great Head of the Church rest.

Remarks.

The report is only from June 1, 1904, when the present incumbent took charge. The church was closed for a year previous. A legacy of $500 made possible the calling of a Rector, the first resident priest in many years. The outlook is most encouraging.

There was no list of communicants in the parish register later than 1887, so the present number given comprises either those who have been regularly transferred to the parish or those who have received the Holy Communion since June 1, 1904. The number therefore is of actual communicants.

Remarks.

This is the first season in the history of the Church of All Angels, when the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Washington has not been present. While his absence has been a source of deep regret to his many friends, his gradual restoration to health has been their comfort. The Rev. Dr. Alfred Harding, Rector of St. Paul's, Washington, D. C., officiated throughout the season. The care of the Church, of the vestments and of the flowers for the altar, was this season assumed by one lady whose faithfulness here, as in her home parish, is almost unique.

Remarks.

During the past summer a summer kitchen was built to the parsonage, with two pairs. There was no report for last year, due to the fact that my predecessor left in July and I took charge in November, too late to report.

The apparent discrepancy in report of Communicants this year is due to my quoting the number last reported, 31, from Journal, 1902. The four not accounted for may have left during that year. The last year has proven rather unfortunate for the church in Hogansburg, fifteen members have left the town for other parts.

Remarks.

The Woman's Guild has been in active and successful service during the past year — its meetings largely and steadily attended, and its work most efficiently directed by the officers of the organization and well sustained by the regular members. As among the substantial results of the Guild work, the church building has been furnished with a very effective equipment of electric lights. The committee in charge of the Fresh Air Fund work in support of the Benevolent Home has met with heartiest recognition, and has thus been enabled to abundantly meet all obligations assumed, both in donations and money.

A good Rectory has been built this summer costing $3,500, and I hope to occupy it in a month; $1,400 is to be paid December 1st and the balance has been subscribed to be paid in annual payments in the future. The Parish is united, loyal, and active, for all of which I thank God.

Mr. H. F. Clark, Senior Warden, cancelled a long standing debt of $3,000 on the Church because the Parish succeeded in building a Rectory.

Remarks.

Rev. Oscar F. R. Treder is assisting the Rector in the associate mission which includes Trinity Church, Schaghticoke; St. John's Church, Stillpoint; All Saints' Church, Round Lake, and St. John's Church, East Line. Treder's stipend of $800 is met by the salary paid to the Rector by these eight Parishes and by an appropriation from the Diocesan Board of Missions.

These five associated Parishes have sustained a severe loss in the removal of John I. Andrews, Lay reader. His work was most acceptable, and his loyal, self-sacrificing spirit to Christ and His Church has made a lasting impression on those with whom he lived and labored. His place cannot be filled.

Amount of salary pledged Curate, $725.

Remarks.

The payment of a debt of $7,000 on the House of the Good Shepherd, by a few persons, who were most generous, is a matter of thankfulness.

The Woman's Auxiliary has shown zeal in prosecuting its work. In addition contributions given the various Missionary objects the members have sent a box to Orlando, Fla., valued at $40, and have provided a clerical suit for one of the Church Missionaries, cost $18.

The removal of St. Faith's School to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., has taken out of the Parish a number of Communicants.

Among the Communicants who have died during the year is Miss Augusta Porter Wiggins, a life-long member of the Parish, noted for her earnest labors at Bethesda Chapel. The death of Mrs. Catharine North Carey, only daughter of the late Rev. Thomas Tompkins Guion, D. D., and Mrs. Catharine E. Holmes, widow, and wife of the Rector, has cast a shadow over the Parish and removed a woman whose life was consecrated to God in all good works.

Remarks.

Though the Church has been without a Rector since June 1 it has been every Sunday. Occasionally a Presbyterian has officiated and administered Holy Communion.
The development of the Sunday School is due to Superintendent Gillespie and C. B. Pond of the Kindergarten Department.
The Woman's Guild credit is to be given for taking care of the mortgage interest.
The St. Agnes' Guild, with its membership of 47, has paid off some ancient debts, and has undertaken the payment of the extensive repairs to the Rectory.
The Men's Guild, formed last December under the presidency of Vestryman W. Rollins, is a valuable adjunct to the Parish, especially in the personal aid of members in improving the Parish House, etc.
The Flower Committee, formed June 1, furnishes flowers to the Altar and sends aid to the sick of the Parish, the expense being borne by the members.

Remarks.

The Parish has sustained an irreparable loss in the death of Mr. Leslie Pell-Clarke, Warden since the beginning of the Mission, on April 7. His strong personality, genial bearing, and broad good will endeared him to the whole community. His love for the Church was the ruling motive of his life, a love not clinging to externals, but going forth into earnest effort for the accomplishment of those services to men which are her duty. His faithfulness in what are regarded as small things was a conspicuous trait by which duty came to wear the form of pleasure. At his burial nearly half the people of the village were present, though it involved a journey to Cooperstown, ten miles distant, over the wretched roads of April, on a raw and blustery day. Words cannot express the sense of loss in which the whole locality shared.

Remarks.

Bishop Nelson's visit to St. Paul's on St. Barnabas' Day was greatly enjoyed by the Congregation and Rector. The Bishop was accompanied by the Archdeacon, as also by the Diocesan Missionary and the Rector of Massena.

The long continued depression of business in the village and the removals from the Parish have this year been emphasized.

The additional service of the Holy Eucharist inaugurated this year has been a cause of profound thankfulness to our little band of loyal workers.

PERSONAL REPORTS.

PORT HENRY, NEW YORK. Nov. 1, 1904.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I beg leave to report that from November 1, 1903, until July 1, 1904, at which time my resignation took effect, I served as Rector of Christ Church, Port Henry, N. Y., and from July 1, 1904, until September 14, 1904, supplied the Parishes of St. Augustine's, Ilion, and St. Alban's, Frankfort, during the absence of the Rector. Since that time I have done no work, and do not expect to take up work until I am perfectly rested and well again.

Sincerely and affectionately,

A. RAVESCROFT BALSLEY.

253 W. 109TH ST., NEW YORK, Nov. 11, 1904.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — During the summer I spent four months at Raquette Lake. All expenses were met and provision made for payment of insurance next year. The property is in good condition, and considerable work will be expended on it this winter.

Faithfully and obediently yours,

W. BROWN-SERMAN.

To the Right Reverend W. C. DOANE, D. D., Bishop of Albany:

The undersigned respectfully reports that he conducted services during the months of July, August and September, 1904, in the school-house at Sabael, on Indian Lake.

The Holy Communion was celebrated each Sunday morning, followed by Morning Prayer and Sermon. On the second Sunday in August no sermon was delivered.

The total amount of the Communion Alms was $2.55; of the other offerings, $23.67.

The services were almost invariably well attended, and there is reason to hope that a deep and lasting impression has been made upon the minds of persons residing in the neighborhoods, as well as upon the minds of summer residents.

HENRY A. DOWS.

To the Right Rev'd WILLIAM C. DOANE, D. D., LL. D.:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I have officiated many times in St. James' Church, New York city, and several times in St. John's, Johnstown, during the last year.

Faithfully yours,

J. O. DRUMM.

FELSENHEIM CHAPEL, ST. HUBERT'S, N. Y.,

DIOCESE OF ALBANY, Oct. 22, 1904.

The Rev. Geo. W. Du Bois, D. D., respectfully presents to the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Albany his report for the summer of 1904.

Services have been held regularly at Felsenheim Chapel from Trinity Sunday to October 8, 1904.

The offerings during this period amounted to $155.84, and have been devoted entirely to Missionary and Benevolent purposes.

Baptisms, infants, 4; Marriages, 1.

GEO. W. DU BOIS,

Missionary Diocese of Albany.

CHELSEA SQUARE, NEW YORK, Oct. 17, 1904.

The Rt. Rev'd WM. CROSWELL DOANE, D. D., Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — According to the requirement of the Canons I beg leave to submit the following report of my work during the past year:

(1) I have pursued a systematic course of study at the General Theological Seminary as one of the Mayo Fellows.

(2) I have been an assistant at St. Agnes' Chapel, New York, assisting at the regular services, and doing Parochial work and Sunday School work.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES LEWIS GOMPH.

LAWRENCEVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 15, 1904.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — There has been but little change in our condition since my last report. I have not been able to officiate or take part in any service. We are both better, however, and I hope to render a better account of myself before another meeting of the annual Convention.

Ever faithfully,

JOSHUA N. T. GOSS.

To the Rt. Rev. WM. CROSWELL DOANE, S. T. D., Bishop of Albany.

STAMFORD, NEW YORK.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I have been unable to officiate at all during the past year on account of ill health.

Sincerely yours,

OLIN HALLOCK.

November the eleventh.

COLUMBIAVILLE, COLUMBIA CO., N. Y., Nov. 11, 1904.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — Every Sunday since last Convention, when at home, I assisted at the services in the "Parish Church," or away from home I gave such assistance to "the Brethren" as I could.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES H. HATHEWAY.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1, 1904.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I beg to report that since January last I have officiated occasionally in the Chapel at St. Stephen's House, Oxford, and at the General Seminary, New York. During September and October I have taken Sunday services and preaching at Cold Springs, L. I., Glen Ridge, N. J., and at Amherst, Mass.

Faithfully yours,

ARTHUR P. HUNT.

268 HAMILTON ST., ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 16, 1904.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — Owing to my feeble condition I resigned the Parish of Calvary Church, Burnt Hills, April 1, 1904, and since then I have been unable to officiate. I have attended services in All Saints' Cathedral, in Albany, whenever I could.

Yours faithfully,

WM. W. LORD.

The Right Rev'd the Bishop of Albany and the Diocesan Convention:

A single event in the otherwise uneventful year — the eighty-fifth of my age and the fifty-sixth of my orders — I beg permission, I should say, perhaps, indulgence, to report.

Introduced to the Archbishop of Canterbury I had the opportunity and privilege of saying: "Not in England only, but wherever the Protestant Episcopal Church exists, wherever the Anglican Communion exists, men honor him who sits in the Archiepiscopal seat of Crammer." By a brief remark, afterwards, I became assured that this distinction of a single name in the long line of English Primates was understood, and neither its point nor purpose lost on their revered successor.

Respectfully,

W. W. LORD.

COOPERSTOWN, Oct. 10, 1904.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Nov., 1904.

RT. REV. AND DEAR BISHOP. — In accordance with Canonical requirement I hereby report that during the past Conventional year I have rendered such occasional services as opportunity offered.

Very sincerely and respectfully,

J. W. McILWAINE.

21 IRVING PLACE, NEW YORK, Nov. 1, 1904.

REVEREND FATHER IN GOD. — I most respectfully beg to report that during the Convention year I have had nine celebrations of the Holy Communion and seven other services.

I remain, Reverend Father in God, yours obediently,

LEIGH C. MORGAN.

MY DEAR BISHOP DOANE. — I beg to report that during the Diocesan year just ended I have officiated regularly every Sunday.

Very sincerely,

LEONARD W. RICHARDSON.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 16, 1904.

TRINITY PARISH, ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S CHAPEL, CLERGY ROOM,

NEW YORK, Nov. 13, 1904.

Within the past year I assisted for three months at Mt. Calvary Church, Baltimore. I ministered for one Sunday at St. Andrew's, Leonardtown, in the Diocese of Washington, D. C., and administered the Holy Communion privately on Sundays for two months at New London, N. H. I have officiated a few times in places where I have been visiting.

JAMES B. SILL.

To Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE, D. D., Bishop of Albany.

To the Right Rev. the Bishop of Albany:

The Rev. H. Landon Rice respectfully reports that since resigning the work at Hobart, where he remained only two months, he has been acting as Curate at St. Luke's Church, Baltimore, Md.

DRESDEN A, SAXONY, Oct. 19, 1904.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I beg leave herewith respectfully to report that it is my great privilege since Easter to be of regular assistance to the Rev. John F. Butterworth, Rector of St. John's Church of this place.

Very truly yours,

E. BAYARD SMITH.

68 DWIGHT PLACE, ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Nov. 12, 1904.

The Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE, D. D., LL. D.:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — On account of continued ill health I have engaged in no pastoral work during the past year,

Ever sincerely yours,

HENRY M. SMYTH.

To the Right Reverend the Bishop of Albany:

The Reverend E. S. DeG. Tompkins begs to report that for the past year he has resided in Cocksackie and abroad and assisted his clerical brethren as opportunity offered.

COXSACKIE, N. Y., Nov. 9, 1904.

32 GROVE PLACE, UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 25, 1904.

The Rt. Rev. WILLIAM CROSWELL DOANE, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I have the honor to report that during the past year I have acted as the Missionary of the Commission on Church Work among the Deaf and Dumb in the Diocese of Albany, and in a similar capacity in the Dioceses of Central New York and Vermont.

Very respectfully yours,

H. VAN ALLEN.

To the Right Reverend the Bishop of Albany:

The Rev. George A. Warner respectfully reports that during the past year he has been associated with the Rev. Alexander Mann, D. D., as his assistant at Grace Church, Orange, N. J.

PORT HENRY, N. Y., Nov. 1, 1904.

To the Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I would hereby report that during the past year I continued to officiate in the Parish of St. Mary's Church, Salamanca, in the Diocese of Western New York, until June 16, when I returned to Port Henry, and have held no continuous services since. During a western journey I officiated two Sundays by request of the ministers in charge, once at St. Andrew's, St. Louis, Mo., and once at St. John's Church, Butte, Montana, also reading the Burial Service at the latter place. In the absence of any Rector in Port Henry I have baptized one infant and officiated at two Marriages and three Burials.

Sincerely and respectfully yours,

WM. R. WOODBRIDGE.

NON-REPORTING CLERGY AND CHURCHES FROM THE JOURNAL OF 1902.

Letters having been written by the Secretary in obedience to the instructions of the Convention to the clergy who did not report at the Convention of 1902, viz., the Rev. Messrs. Hawkesworth, McLean and M. E. Wilson, and to the authorities of the churches which did not report to that Convention, viz., Trinity, Albany; St. Paul's, Keesville, and Immanuel, Otsego, asking their reasons for not complying with the requirements of the Canon, only two replies were received, from the Rev. Mr. McLean and Trinity, Albany.

REPORTS OF INSTITUTIONS.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE CORNING FOUNDATION
FOR CHRISTIAN WORK IN THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

The Trustees have held four meetings during the year ending November 1, 1904.

Extensive alterations and improvements have been made in the Child's Hospital, and accommodations for paying patients provided.

At the closing exercises of the School last June nine pupils were graduated and the usual diploma given them.

Number of officers and teachers in the School, November 1, 1904, 17; number of pupils, 98.

THOMAS B. FULCHER,
Secretary of the Board.

ALBANY, N. Y., November 1, 1904.

REPORT OF THE CHILD'S HOSPITAL.

ALBANY, September 30, 1904.

Once more The Child's Hospital comes with its story of work well done. Its ministrations to sick and suffering children have been continued during the past year with undiminished energy and devotion. All that medical and surgical skill, all that tender and womanly devotion can accomplish has been given with unreserved faithfulness. The building has been in various ways improved by large expenditures of money, and changes have been made which materially enlarge its sphere of service. The reports of the physicians give the leading facts of the year's work. But still the support is insufficient, and the Managers earnestly appeal to the people of Albany to relieve them of the anxiety under which, for lack of sufficient funds, the work is carried on. There ought to be a large increase in the number of annual subscribers, so that a fixed income may be depended on from year to year.

CATHARINE B. W. PELTZ,
Secretary of The Child's Hospital.

CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

Of the Members of the Convention.

The Diocese of Albany entrusts its legislation to a Convention, to consist as follows: First, of the Bishop, when there is one; of the Bishop Coadjutor, when there is one; Secondly, of all Clergymen canonically resident in the Diocese for six months previous to the Convention, the restriction of time not to apply to Rectors duly elected or Missionaries duly appointed (provided that no Clergyman suspended from the Ministry shall have a seat); and, Thirdly, of the Lay Delegation from the Cathedral, and of Lay Delegations, consisting of not more than three Deputies from each other Church in union with the Convention, who shall be communicants, and shall have been chosen by the Vestry or Congregation of the same.

ARTICLE II.

Of the Annual Meetings of the Convention.

The Convention shall assemble on the third Tuesday in November, in each year, in such place as the Bishop shall appoint, giving fifteen days' notice thereof. In case of his inability to act, the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, shall appoint the place; and, if there be no Bishop, the Standing Committee shall appoint. The place of meeting may be changed for sufficient reason after having been appointed, provided that ten days' notice of such change shall be given.

For urgent reasons, the time of meeting may be changed by the Bishop, acting with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee, and giving twenty days' notice of said change.

Every Convention shall be opened with a Sermon and the Holy Communion; and the Preacher shall be appointed by the Bishop, or in case of his inability to act, or if there be no Bishop, by the Standing Committee.

ARTICLE III.

Of Special Conventions.

The Bishop shall have power to call Special Conventions, giving thirty days' notice thereof, and shall do so when requested by a vote of three-fourths of the Standing Committee. When there is no Bishop, the Standing Committee shall have power to call a Special Convention, giving ninety days' notice thereof.

Constitution and Canons.

ARTICLE IV.

Of the Cathedral.

"The Cathedral of All Saints in the City and Diocese of Albany" shall be the Cathedral Church of this Diocese. Three Lay Communicants shall be chosen by the Chapter as the Delegation from the Cathedral to the Convention.

ARTICLE V.

Of the Permanent Officers of the Diocese.

The permanent officers of the Diocese shall be: the Bishop of the Diocese (with right to preside, when present in Convention; and when there is a Bishop Coadjutor, he shall have right to preside in the absence of the Bishop), a Standing Committee, a Secretary, a Treasurer and a Registrar.

ARTICLE VI.

Of the Election of a Bishop.

When a Bishop or a Bishop Coadjutor is to be elected, the election shall be at the regular Annual Convention, or at a Special Convention duly called for that purpose; and such election shall require a majority of the votes of each order voting separately.

ARTICLE VII.

Of the President of the Convention.

If there be no Bishop of the Diocese, or its ex-officio presiding officer be absent, the Convention shall elect a President from among the Clergy, by ballot (unless the ballot be dispensed with by unanimous vote.)

ARTICLE VIII.

Of the Standing Committee.

The Standing Committee shall consist of four Clergymen and four Laymen, to be elected by ballot at each Annual Convention, by a majority of the Clergy and Lay Delegations present, and shall serve until the next Annual Convention and until a new election is made, the functions of which Committee, besides those provided for in the Canons of the General Convention, and in this Constitution, shall be determined by Canon or Resolution of the Convention. But vacancies in the Standing Committee may be filled by a majority of the votes of the remaining members until the next meeting of the Convention.

ARTICLE IX.

Of the Secretary, Treasurer and Registrar.

The Secretary shall be elected at each Annual Convention from the members thereof, by ballot, after nominations (unless the ballot be dispensed with by unanimous vote), and by a majority of the Clergy and Lay Delegations present; and he shall remain in office until his successor shall be elected. His duties shall be those required by the Canons, Resolutions and Rules of Order of the Convention.

The Treasurer and the Registrar shall be elected in a similar manner, and are not required to be members of the Convention. They shall remain in office until the next Annual Convention, and until their successors are elected.

ARTICLE X.

Of the Deliberations of the Convention and of Votes.

The Clergymen and Laymen constituting the Convention shall deliberate in one body, and each Clergyman shall have one vote, and each Lay Delegation one vote, and a majority of the aggregate votes shall be decisive except in the cases provided for in Articles VI, IX and XI.

If five votes require a division, then the voting shall be by orders separately, and the concurrence of a majority of each order shall be necessary to make a decision. But no alteration of the Constitution or Canons shall be valid without the concurrence of the Bishop and of a majority of the Clergy and of a majority of the Lay Delegations; and the Bishop's concurrence shall be presumed unless the contrary be openly expressed by him to the Convention after the vote of the Clergy and Laity and before the adjournment sine die.

ARTICLE XI.

Of Altering the Constitution.

The mode of altering the Constitution shall be as follows: A proposition for an amendment shall be introduced in writing and considered in the Convention; and, if approved by a majority, shall lie over till the next Convention, and, if then approved by a two-thirds vote of the Clergy and Lay Delegations present, with the Bishop's concurrence, the Constitution shall be changed accordingly.

CANONS.

CANON I.

Of the List of Clergymen in the Diocese.

SECTION 1. On the first day of each Convention, regular or special, the Ecclesiastical Authority shall present to the Convention a List of the Clergy canonically resident in the Diocese, annexing the names of their respective Parishes, Offices and residences, and the dates of their becoming resident in the Diocese.

SEC. 2. The Secretary shall record this list of names in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. He shall continue this record up to the date of the next succeeding Convention, by making entry therein of all additions, removals, deaths, and changes of work or residence of Clergy within the Diocese as they occur.

SEC. 3. From this record shall be made up by the Secretary the list of the Clergymen entitled, according to the Constitution, to seats in the Convention; which list may at any time be revised and corrected by the Convention.

CANON II.

Of the Lay Delegations.

SECTION 1. When the Lay Delegations are chosen by the Vestry, it shall be at a meeting held according to law. In case the Vestry shall not choose Deputies they may be chosen by the congregation in the manner hereinafter prescribed for Churches having no Vestries.

SEC. 2. Deputies from Churches having no Vestries shall be chosen by the Congregation at a meeting of which notice shall have been given during Divine Service on the two Sundays next previous thereto. And at such meeting the Rector or Minister shall preside, and the qualifications for voting shall be the same as those required by law for voting at an election of Churchwardens and Vestrymen.

SEC. 3. When Deputies are chosen by a Vestry, the evidence of their appointment shall be a certificate, signed by the Rector of the Church they are chosen to represent and by the Clerk of the Vestry; and if there be no Rector, then the certificate shall state that fact, and shall be signed by the Churchwarden presiding and by the Clerk of the Vestry. The certificate must state the time and place of the election, must show upon its face that the appointment has been made in accordance with all the requirements of the Canons, and shall certify that each Deputy chosen is a Communicant of the Church and entitled to vote for Churchwardens and Vestrymen of the Church he is chosen to represent.

SEC. 4. When Deputies are chosen by the Congregation of any Church, the evidence of their appointment shall be a certificate, signed by the Rector or Minister having charge of the said Church and by the Secretary of the meeting; or if there be no such Rector or Minister, then the certificate shall state that fact, and shall be signed by the officer presiding at the meeting and by the Secretary of the same. The certificate must state the time and place of the election, must show upon its face that the appointment has been made in accordance with all the requirements of the Canons, and shall certify that each Deputy chosen is a Communicant of the Church, and, in the case of the Church having a Vestry, that he is entitled to vote for Churchwardens and Vestrymen of such Church, or, in the case of a Church having no Vestry, that he has belonged for twelve months to the Congregation he is chosen to represent. No other evidence of the appointment of Lay Deputies than such as is specified in this and the preceding section shall be received by the Convention.

SEC. 5. Whenever a Special Convention shall be called, Lay Delegations shall be specially chosen for it in the manner prescribed in this Canon.

SEC. 6. The Secretary of the Convention, when he shall send to any Church or Parish the required notice of the time and place of meeting of any Convention to be held, shall transmit with the same a copy of this Canon and blank printed forms of certificates of appointment of Deputies.

CANON III.

Of the Organization of the Convention.

SECTION 1. If the ex-officio presiding officer be not present at the opening of the Convention, the Secretary shall call the members present to order; and the senior Presbyter present, who is a member of the Convention, shall take the chair, and preside until a President is elected, as provided by Article VII of the Constitution.

SEC. 2. The Secretary shall then call the names of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention. He shall then call the names of the Churches in union with the Convention, when the Lay Deputies shall present their certificates, which shall be examined by the Secretary, and a committee of two members appointed by the presiding officer. Irregular or defective certificates, and certificates and documents referring to contested seats, shall be temporarily laid aside. The names of the Lay Deputies duly appointed shall then be called, after which the certificates and documents laid aside shall be reported to the Convention, which shall decide upon the admission of the Deputies named therein.

SEC. 3. If twenty Clergymen entitled to vote, and twenty Lay Delegations be present, they shall constitute a quorum; and the presiding officer ex officio shall declare the Convention duly organized. The same number of Clergymen and Lay Delegations shall, at any time, be necessary for the transaction of business, except that a smaller number may adjourn from time to time.

SEC. 4. If the presiding officer ex officio be not present before the convention is declared to be organized, the temporary Chairman shall direct that the members proceed to elect a President, according to Article VII of the Constitution, who, when elected, shall take the Chair and declare the Convention organized for business.

SEC. 5. The Convention shall then proceed to the election of a Secretary, a Treasurer and a Registrar, according to the Constitution. The Secretary may appoint an Assistant Secretary, also any other assistants he may require, announcing their names to the Convention.

SEC. 6. Any Rules of Order which shall have been previously adopted or sanctioned in the Convention, except such as prescribe the mode of altering the same, shall be in force until changed by the Convention, after having been duly organized.

CANON IV.

Of the Admission of a Church into Union with the Church in this Diocese, and Maintaining such Union.

SECTION 1. Every Church or Congregation desiring admission into union with the Church in this Diocese, shall present a written application therefor to the Convention, together with a copy of the resolution of the Vestry, or of the Congregation, authorizing such application; in which resolution the said Church, by its Vestry or Congregation, shall agree to abide by, and conform to; and observe, all the Canons of the Church, and all the rules, orders and regulations of the Convention; which copy shall be duly certified by the presiding officer of the Vestry, or of the meeting of the Congregation at which the resolution was adopted, and also by the Clerk of the Vestry or Secretary of the meeting; and shall be authenticated by the seal of the Corporation. The said application shall also be accompanied by the Certificate of Incorporation of the Church, duly recorded, or a copy thereof certified by the officer, whose duty it may be to record or file the same; and also, by a Certificate of the Ecclesiastical Authority, to the effect that he or they approve of the incorporation of such Church, and that such Church, in his or their judgment, is duly and satisfactorily established; and every Church or Congregation applying for admission shall produce satisfactory evidence that not less than twenty-five persons, members of such Church, have habitually, for at least one year preceding such application, attended Divine Service in such Church or Congregation.

SEC. 2. No application for the admission of a Church into union with the Church in this Diocese shall be considered or acted upon, at any meeting of the Convention, unless the same shall have been transmitted to the Secretary of the Convention at least thirty days before the meeting of the Convention. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Convention, at least twenty days before the meeting of the Convention, to deliver to a Committee, to be annually appointed (to be called the Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches), all applications for admission into union which shall have been received by him, to be by such Committee examined, considered and reported upon to the Convention.

SEC. 3. Whenever hereafter any Church in union with this Convention shall neglect, for three years in succession, to make a Parochial Report, no Missionary Report being made on its behalf, and shall not, during the same period, have employed a Clergyman as its Parish Minister, nor requested of the Ecclesiastical Authority to have the services of a Missionary, such Church shall be regarded as having forfeited its connection with the Convention, and shall no longer have a right to send a Delegation to the same. The Bishop shall report such Church to the Convention in his Annual Address. Such Church, however, may be re-admitted, upon application to the Convention, accompanied by a report of its condition, and on such terms as shall appear just; such re-admission to take effect from and after the rising of the Convention consenting to such admission.

Constitution and Canons.

CANON V.

Of Elections.

All elections by the Convention shall be by ballot, except when the ballot is dispensed with by unanimous consent. And when an election is by ballot, a majority of the votes in each order shall be necessary to a choice. Should more of either order than the number required to be elected for any committee, board or delegation, receive a majority of votes in each order, those persons shall be declared elected who have received respectively the largest aggregate vote.

CANON VI.

Of the Secretary of the Convention.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to take and keep the Minutes of the proceedings of the Convention, to attest its public acts, and faithfully to deliver into the hands of his successor all books and papers relating to the business and concerns of the Convention which may be in his possession or under his control. It shall also be his duty to send a printed notice to each Minister, and to each Vestry or Congregation, of the time and place appointed for the meetings of each Convention, and to publish a notice of the meeting in three of the public papers published in the Diocese of Albany, and to perform such other duties as may be required of him by the Convention.

SEC. 2. He shall transmit annually a copy of the Journal of the Convention to each of the Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, to the Secretary of the House of Deputies of the General Convention, and to the Secretaries of the Diocesan Conventions; and shall ask, on behalf of the Diocese, for copies of the Diocesan Journals in exchange.

SEC. 3. He shall also transmit to every General Convention, in addition to the documents required by the Canons of the General Convention,* a certificate, signed by himself, containing a list of the Clergymen in this Diocese, and the amount of funds paid or secured to be paid (distinguishing them) to the General Theological Seminary, and also a certificate of the appointment of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

SEC. 4. Any expense incurred by a compliance with this Canon shall be paid out of the Diocesan Fund.

SEC. 5. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of Secretary of the Convention, the duties thereof shall devolve upon the Assistant Secretary, if there be one; if not, upon the Secretary of the Standing Committee.

SEC. 6. Whenever, under the provisions of the Constitution, a Special Convention is called for any particular purpose, it shall be the duty of the Secretary, in the notice thereof, to specify such purpose.

CANON VII.

Of the Treasurer of the Diocese.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer of the Diocese to receive and disburse all moneys collected under the authority of the Convention, and of which the collection and distribution shall not be otherwise regulated. He shall report, at each annual meeting of the Convention, the names of the Parishes which have failed to make the required contributions to any of the Diocesan Funds, specifying the funds to which they have failed to contribute and the amount of such deficiency.

SEC. 2. His accounts shall be rendered annually to the Convention, and shall be examined by a Committee acting under its authority.

* Title I, Canon 20, Secs. III and IV

Constitution and Canons.

SEC. 8. If the Treasurer of the Convention shall die or resign his office, the Standing Committee shall appoint a Treasurer ad interim; to continue in office until an election be made by the Convention.

CANON VIII.

Of the Registrar.

It shall be the duty of the Registrar to collect and preserve, as the property of the Diocese, all documents and papers pertaining to the Diocese, and not in the custody of any other officer; and also the Journals and public documents of other Diocesan Conventions and of the General Convention, and other pamphlets and publications connected with the Church at large.

CANON IX.

Of Deputies to the General Convention and to the Federate Council.

SECTION 1. The Convention shall, at each regular annual meeting next preceding a stated meeting of the General Convention, elect, by the concurrent ballot of the Clerical and Lay Members, four Clergymen and four Laymen, to act as Deputies from this Diocese to the General Convention. It shall also, in like manner, elect four Clergymen and four Laymen as Provisional Deputies, to act in the case hereinafter mentioned; which Deputies and Provisional Deputies shall hold their respective offices until their successors are elected, and shall be Deputies, or Provisional Deputies, for any General Convention which may be held during their continuance in office.

SEC. 2. Should a vacancy occur by resignation, removal from the Diocese, death, or otherwise, among the Deputies or Provisional Deputies, between the stated times of election, the vacancy shall be supplied by any Convention during or prior to which such vacancy shall occur.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the Deputies elect to signify to the Ecclesiastical Authority, at least ten days before the meeting of the General Convention, their acceptance of the appointment and their intention to perform its duties; in default of which the Ecclesiastical Authority shall designate, from the list of Provisional Deputies, so many as may be necessary to ensure, as far as practicable, a full representation of the Diocese. And the Ecclesiastical Authority shall, in like manner, designate from the same list of Provisional Deputies, one or more, as the case may be, to supply any deficiency in the representation of this Diocese which may in any way occur. And the person or persons so designated by the Bishop, being furnished with a certificate thereof, shall have all the power and authority of Deputies duly elected by the Convention.

SEC. 4. The Convention shall, at each regular annual meeting next succeeding a stated meeting of the General Convention, elect eight Clergymen and eight Laymen, to act as Deputies from this Diocese to the Federate Council of the several Dioceses in the State of New York, which Deputies shall hold their respective offices until their successors are elected, and shall be Deputies for any meeting of the Federate Council which may be held during their continuance in office. Should a vacancy occur by resignation, removal from the Diocese, death, or otherwise, among the Deputies to the Federate Council, between the stated times of election, the vacancy shall be supplied by any Convention during or prior to which such vacancy shall occur.

CANON X.

Of the Standing Committee.

The powers and duties of the Standing Committee over and above those given and prescribed by the Canons of the General Convention and by the Constitution of the Diocese of Albany, are further defined as follows:

SECTION 1. If there be no Bishop, or if he be unable to perform his duties, the Standing Committee shall be the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese, provided that whenever any duty is specially imposed upon the Clerical Members of the Committee, such duty shall be performed by them only.

SEC. 2. The record of all proceedings upon a presentment of a Clergyman shall be preserved by the Standing Committee.

SEC. 3. The Standing Committee shall make a full report of all their proceedings at every Annual Convention.

CANON XI.

Of Parish Registers and Parochial Reports.

WHEREAS, by the Canons of the General Convention,* it is made the duty of each Clergyman of this Church to "keep a Register of Baptisms, Confirmations, Communicants, Marriages, and Funerals within his Cure, agreeably to such rules as may be provided by the Convention of the Diocese where his Cure lies;" it is hereby ordered that,

SECTION 1. The Record shall specify the name and the time of the birth of the child or adult baptized, with the names of the parents, sponsors or witnesses; the names of the persons confirmed; the names of the persons married, their ages and residences, also the names and residences of at least two witnesses of each marriage; the names of the persons buried, their ages, and the place of burial; and also the time when and the Minister by whom each rite was performed. The list of Communicants shall contain the names of all connected with the Parish or Mission as nearly as can be ascertained. These records shall be made by the Minister in a book provided for that purpose, belonging to each Church; which book shall be the Parish Register, and shall be preserved as a part of the records of the Church.

SEC. 2. AND WHEREAS, by the Canons of the General Convention,† it is "ordered that every Minister of this Church, or, if the Parish be vacant, the Warden shall present, or cause to be delivered, on or before the first day of every Annual Convention, to the Bishop of the Diocese, or, where there is no Bishop, to the President of the Convention, a statement of the number of Baptisms, Confirmations, Marriages and Funerals, and of the number of Communicants in his Parish or Church; also the state and condition of the Sunday Schools in his Parish; also of the amount of the Communion alms, the contributions for Missions, Diocesan, Domestic and Foreign, for Parochial Schools, for Church purposes in general, and of all other matters that may throw light on the state of the same;" it is hereby further ordered that, in reporting the number of Communicants, he shall distinguish the additions, removals and deaths since the last report, and that, in reporting the contributions for Church purposes in general, he shall include the amount received for sittings in the Church and moneys raised for all Church and Parish purposes, other than those enumerated in this section.

SEC. 3. In every case where a Parish is without a Minister, the Parish Register shall be kept by some person appointed by the Vestry or Trustees; and the annual Parochial report shall be presented or forwarded to the Bishop by the Churchwardens or Trustees of the Parish.

CANON XII.

Of Vacant Parishes.

SECTION 1. Whenever a Parish becomes vacant, it shall be the duty of the Vestry or Trustees to give immediate notice thereof to the Bishop.

SEC. 2. The Bishop shall appoint those of the Clergy in the Diocese who can with most convenience discharge the duty, to supply such vacant Parishes as have been reported to him, at such times as may be deemed convenient and proper. And the Clergy so appointed, shall make a full report to the Bishop concerning the state of the Parishes which they have visited. It shall be the duty of the Parishes thus supplied to defray all the expenses incident to such occasional services.

CANON XIII.

Of Offerings.

SECTION 1. Whereas it is the duty of all Christians, as faithful stewards of God, to set apart regularly a portion of their income as God's portion, "every one as God hath prospered him," to be used for the maintenance and extension of His kingdom, and the relief of His poor; this Church enjoins this duty upon all her members.

SEC. 2 It shall be the duty of every Congregation of this Diocese to contribute, at least once in each year, by weekly or monthly offerings, or in some other systematic way, to the Missions of the Diocese; the Domestic and Foreign Missions and other departments of Missionary work under the control of the General Convention; the support of the Episcopate; the expenses of the Convention; the education of young men for the Holy Ministry; the support of aged and infirm Clergymen; the relief of the widows and orphans of deceased Clergymen; and the support and education of orphan children; the offerings to be sent to the Treasurers of the funds for which they are made, and the amounts of all such contributions to form distinct items in the Annual Parochial Report.

SEC. 3. The Fund for Theological Education, provided for in section 2 of this Canon, shall be applied as directed by the Bishop of the Diocese.

SEC. 4. "The Bible and Common Prayer Book Society of Albany and its Vicinity" shall be the agent of this Diocese for the Distribution of the Bible and the Book of Common Prayer, and shall present a full report of its proceedings to each Annual Convention.

SEC. 5. The Orphan House of the Holy Saviour, at or near Cooperstown, shall be the Diocesan Orphanage, and shall make a report of its proceedings and condition to each Annual Convention.

CANON XIV.

Of the Missions of the Diocese and of Archdeaconries.

The Church in this Diocese, acknowledging her responsibility, in common with the whole Church, for the fulfilment of the charge of our Lord to preach the Gospel to every creature, and especially for the extension of the Church throughout the Diocese, declares that it is the duty of the Convention, as her representative body, to care for the Missionary work, and that every baptized Member of the Church is bound, according to his ability, to assist in carrying it on. To this end it is hereby enacted as follows:

SECTION 1. "The Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed February 16, 1870, shall be entrusted with the general charge and direction of the work of Missions within the Diocese, and particularly with the custody and management of all money or property given or acquired for that object, subject to the provisions of this Canon and to such written instructions as may from time to time be given to them by the Convention and entered upon the Journal thereof.

SEC. 2. The said Board of Missions shall consist of the Bishop, who shall be ex officio the President thereof; and of ten other members, one Clergyman and one Layman resident within the limits of each of the Archdeaconries hereinafter provided for, and nominated by said Archdeaconry, and one Clergyman and one Layman who may be resident anywhere within the Diocese, and shall be nominated in open Convention, all of whom shall be annually chosen by the Convention, and by ballot unless the same be unanimously dispensed with. All vacancies occurring in the Board during the recess of the Convention, may be filled by the Board.

SEC. 3. The evening session of the Convention on the first day of each Annual Meeting shall be devoted to the reception and consideration of the Report of the Board of Missions and of its Treasurer, the election of the Board, and other business connected with the subject; provided that said election and other business connected with the subject may be deferred to the second day.

SEC. 4. The Board of Missions shall meet within one day after the adjournment of the Convention in each year, and elect a Secretary and a Treasurer. The Board may hold other meetings during the year, according to its own rules, and shall meet on the day preceding the Annual Convention, to audit the accounts of the Treasurer, and to adopt a report to the Convention.

SEC. 5. The Diocese shall be divided into districts called Archdeaconries, the titles and limits of which shall be as follows: The Archdeaconry of Albany shall comprise the counties of Albany, Greene, Columbia, Schenectady, Montgomery, and Fulton, all of Hamilton, except the township of Long Lake, and all of Herkimer, except the townships of Wilmurt and Webb. The Archdeaconry of Troy shall comprise the counties of Rensselaer, Saratoga, Washington, and Warren, the townships of Mocoen, Champlain, Altona, Chazy, Beekmantown, Plattsburgh, Schuyler Falls, Peru, and Ausable in Clinton county, and all of Essex county, except the townships of St. Armand, North Elba and Newcomb. The Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna shall comprise the counties of Delaware, Otsego and Schoharie. The Archdeaconry of Ogdensburgh shall comprise the counties of St. Lawrence and Franklin, the townships of Clinton, Ellenburgh, Dannemora, Saranac and Black Brook in Clinton county, the townships of St. Armand, North Elba and Newcomb in Essex county, the township of Long Lake in Hamilton county, and the townships of Wilmurt and Webb in Herkimer county.

SEC. 6. The Bishop shall be ex officio the head of each Archdeaconry. He shall, however, annually appoint an Archdeacon on the nomination of each Archdeaconry, from among the Clergy thereof, who shall be the Executive Officer of the Archdeaconry. Each Archdeaconry, moreover, shall annually elect a Secretary and Treasurer. The Archdeacon in the absence of the Bishop shall preside at all the meetings of the Archdeaconry, and may also be present without a vote at the meetings of the Board of Missions. He shall be charged with the duty of visiting the Mission Stations and vacant Parishes, and, with the consent of the Clergy in charge, the other Parishes receiving Missionary aid within the limits of his Archdeaconry, to ascertain their condition, and to give such advice as may be required, reporting the result of his inquiries and observations to the Bishop. It shall also be his duty to stir up an increased Missionary interest and zeal, and to urge more liberal offerings for the work of Church extension. And furthermore the Archdeacon and the Clerical and Lay Members of the Board of Missions from each Archdeaconry shall be an Advisory Committee of the Board, whose duty it shall be to counsel the Board as to the amount which should be expended in, and the amount which should be raised by the Archdeaconry which they represent, and to use their best efforts to secure the required amount of Missionary offerings from their Archdeaconry.

SEC. 7. Each Archdeaconry shall hold two meetings a year at such places within its boundaries as it may designate. Other meetings may be held as the Archdeaconry may order. At all meetings of the Archdeaconry every Clergyman canonically resident within its boundaries shall be entitled to a seat; also three Laymen from each Parish or Mission Station within the limits of the Archdeaconry. Each Clergyman and each Lay Delegation shall have one vote. Any number of members present at a meeting duly called shall be competent to transact business. The meetings of Archdeaconry shall have for their main purpose the presentation of the claims of the Mission work of the Diocese and the Church. Such Missionaries as may be members shall report concerning their work, and provision may be made for especial needs of the Missionary work within the boundaries of the Archdeaconry. Contributions to local work shall not interfere with the claims of the Diocesan Board of Missions, and shall be reported to the Treasurer thereof, and included in his Annual Report to the Convention. It shall also be the object of these Archidiaconal meetings to bring the Clergy together in fraternal intercourse and to promote their spiritual and intellectual life. Each Archdeaconry shall make its own rules as to the arrangement of services.

SEC. 8. All Missionaries shall be appointed by the Board of Missions on the nomination of the Bishop, and may be removed with his approval. But in case of a vacancy in the Episcopate, or of the absence of the Bishop from the Diocese, or of his being otherwise unable to perform his duties, the Board of Missions shall have the power of appointing and removing Missionaries.

SEC. 9. It shall be the duty of every member of the Church in the Diocese to contribute as God hath prospered him, to the funds of the Board of Missions; and every Clergyman having Parochial or Missionary charge shall impress this duty upon his people, and cause one or more Offertories to be made annually for that object.

SEC. 10. The Treasurer of the Board of Missions shall include in his Annual Report all sums certified to him as expended in local Missionary work. He shall also receive, report and pay over any special contributions from Parishes or individuals in accordance with the instructions of the contributors.

SEC. 11. The travelling expenses of the members of the Board of Missions and of the Archdeacons, attending the meetings of the Board, shall be paid out of its treasury.

SEC. 12. Any Mission Station designated by the Board of Missions may be organized by the Bishop on the application of any residents in its neighbourhood. But such station shall not be established within the Parochial Cure of any other Minister or Ministers, without the consent of such Minister or of a majority of such Ministers, except on the advice and by the consent of the Standing Committee of the Diocese. The Bishop may appoint, upon the organization of the Mission, a Church warden, a Clerk, and a Treasurer, which officers shall thereafter be elected by the Congregation annually in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, in the same manner as provided for the choice of Deputies to Convention by section 2, of Canon 11, of this Diocese. They shall, as far as possible, discharge the duties which belong to their respective offices in incorporated Parishes.

SEC. 13. The title of all property, real or personal, given or purchased for the use of any Mission Station, shall be vested in "The Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the Diocese of Albany," or in "The Trustees of the Diocese of Albany."

CANON XV.

Of the Episcopal Fund.

SECTION 1. The fund for the support of the Episcopate in this Diocese, now provided, together with that which may be hereafter contributed or acquired, and any accumulation accruing from the investment thereof, shall be entrusted to the Corporation, entitled "The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed April 28, 1869. The Trustees composing said Corporation shall be five in number, who shall be appointed by the Convention, and shall hold their offices during the pleasure thereof.

SEC. 2. The moneys and property belonging to the said fund now held by the said Trustees or hereafter acquired by them may be conveyed by the said Trustees to such trust company organized and existing under the laws of the State of New York as may be designated by them and approved by the Convention of the Diocese, to be held by such trust company in trust for the benefit and support of the Episcopate of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany; and to be invested by said trust company in such securities as are required by the laws of the State of New York; and such trust company shall have power from time to time to change such investments. A report exhibiting the condition of such funds and securities, together with the receipts and disbursements, shall be made by such trust company, to the Convention, through said Trustees who shall submit the same at every annual meeting thereof, and at such other times as may be required by said Convention, with such recommendations as they see fit.

CANON XVI.

Of the Diocesan Fund.

SECTION 1. WHEREAS it is indispensable to provide a fund for defraying the necessary expenses of the Convention, including the expenses of those of the Clergy who may have to travel from a distance to the Convention, and also the cost of maintaining a suitable residence for the Bishop; it is hereby required of every Congregation in this Diocese to pay to the Treasurer of the Convention on or before the day of its annual meeting, a contribution at such a rate per cent upon the salary of its Clergyman as shall have been determined by the previous Convention to be required for the purposes above-mentioned.

SEC. 2. AND WHEREAS, by the Canons of the General Convention,* it is made "the duty of the several Diocesan Conventions to forward to the Treasurer of the General Convention, at or before any meeting of the General Convention, three dollars for each Clergyman within such Diocese;" therefore, it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to retain annually out of the Diocesan Fund, one dollar for each Clergyman in this Diocese, as a special fund, to be paid over to the Treasurer of the General Convention at each meeting of the same.

CANON XVII.

Of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund.

SECTION 1. The fund now existing, together with all contributions hereafter received for the support of Aged and Infirm Clergymen, shall be entrusted to the Corporation entitled "The Trustees of the Fund for the support of the Aged and Infirm Clergy of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed February 16, 1870. The said Trustees shall consist of the Bishop and the Treasurer of the Diocese, together with three Lay Trustees, who shall be appointed annually by the Convention. Vacancies occurring in the number of the Lay Trustees during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the remaining Trustees.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to receive applications for relief, and to administer it in accordance with such rules and regulations as they, with the approbation of the Convention, may from time to time adopt.

SEC. 3. The Trustees shall present a detailed report of their proceedings and of the condition of the fund to every Annual Convention.

CANON XVIII.

Of the Clergy Reserve Fund.

SECTION 1. A fund shall be established to be known as the Clergy Reserve Fund of the Diocese of Albany.

SEC. 2. The fund thus formed shall be permitted to accumulate until it shall amount to $20,000, and the income shall then be divided into annuities of $300, which shall be paid to the beneficiaries of the fund.

SEC. 3. The beneficiaries of the fund shall be the Clergy of the Diocese according to the seniority of their canonical residence.

* Title III, Canon I, Sec. 5.

SEC. 4. No Clergyman shall be a beneficiary of the fund whose salary or stipend exceeds $1,000 per annum. Nor shall any Clergyman receive the annuity who has allowed the Parish or Mission under his charge to neglect its annual contribution to the fund.

SEC. 5. The principal of the fund shall not be impaired.

SEC. 6. The trustees of the fund shall be the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rector of St. Peter's Church, Albany, the Rector of St. Paul's Church, Troy, the Archdeacons of the Diocese, and the Treasurer of the Diocese, who shall be the treasurer of the fund. And they are hereby authorized to form a corporation under the laws of the State of New York, whose object shall be to carry into effect the provisions of this Canon, and to provide for the receipt by the corporation so to be formed, of real and personal estate by gifts, purchase, devise, bequest or otherwise, for the purposes of said corporation.

CANON XIX.

Of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen.

SECTION 1. The fund now existing, together with all contributions hereafter received for the relief of widows and orphans of Deceased Clergymen shall be entrusted to the Corporation entitled "The Trustees of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed February 16, 1870. The said Trustees shall consist of the Bishop and the Treasurer of the Diocese, together with three Lay Trustees, who shall be appointed annually by the Convention. Vacancies occurring in the number of the Lay Trustees during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the remaining Trustees.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to receive applications for relief, and to administer it in accordance with such rules and regulations as they, with the approbation of the Convention, may from time to time adopt.

SEC. 3. The Trustees shall present a detailed report of their proceedings and of the condition of the fund to every Annual Convention.

CANON XX.

Of the Examination of Securities, &c.

SECTION 1. A Committee of three Laymen shall be appointed at each Annual Convention to examine the securities of the several funds held by The Board of Missions, The Trustees of the Diocese, The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, The Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, The Trustees of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergy, The Trustees of the Clergy Reserve Fund and the Trustees of all other trust funds, and to report at the next Convention.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of such Committee to meet in each year at some time between the first day of November and the date of the meeting of the Annual Convention, at the place or places where the Treasurers of the above named funds reside, or where the securities in their keeping are deposited, and make an examination of such securities and of all books, papers, vouchers, etc., relating to them, and prepare a report to be presented to the Annual Convention next ensuing.

CANON XXI.

Of the Trial of a Clergyman not being a Bishop.

Whenever any Minister of this Diocese, not being a Bishop thereof, shall become "liable to presentment and trial" under the provisions of any Canon of the General or Diocesan Convention, the mode of proceeding in this Diocese shall be as follows:

SECTION 1. The trial shall be on a presentment in writing, addressed to the Bishop of the Diocese, specifying the offences of which the accused is alleged to be guilty, with reasonable certainty as to time, place and circumstances. Such presentment may be made by the major part in number of the members of the Vestry of any Church of which the accused is Minister, or by any three Presbyters of this Diocese entitled to seats in the Convention, or as hereinafter mentioned. Whenever, from public rumor or otherwise, the Bishop shall have reason to believe that any Clergyman is under the imputation of having been guilty of any offence or misconduct for which he is liable to be tried, and that the interest of the Church requires an investigation, it shall be his duty to appoint five persons, of whom three at least shall be Presbyters, to examine the case; a majority of whom may make such examination, and if there is, in their opinion, sufficient ground for presentment, they shall present the Clergyman accordingly.

SEC. 2. A presentment being made in any one of the modes above prescribed, the Bishop, if the facts charged shall not appear to him to be such as constitute an offence, may dismiss it; or if it allege facts, some of which do and some of which do not constitute an offence, he may allow it in part and dismiss the residue, or he may permit it to be amended. When it shall be allowed in whole or in part, the Bishop shall cause a copy of it to be served on the accused; and shall also nominate twelve Presbyters of this Diocese entitled to seats in the Convention, and not being parties to the presentment, and cause a list of their names to be served on the accused, who shall, within thirty days after such service, select five of them, and notify their names in writing to the Bishop; and if he shall not give such notification to the Bishop within the said thirty days, the Bishop shall select five; and the Presbyters so selected shall form a Board for the trial of the accused, and shall meet at such time and place as the Bishop shall direct, and shall have power to adjourn from time to time, and from place to place (but always within the Diocese), as they shall think proper.

SEC. 3. A written notice of the time and place of their first meeting shall be served, at least thirty days before such meeting, on the accused, and also on one of the persons making the presentment.

SEC. 4. If, at the time appointed for the first meeting of the Board of Presbyters, the whole number of five shall not attend, then those who do attend may adjourn from time to time; and if, after one adjournment or more, it shall appear to them improbable that the whole number will attend within a reasonable time, then those who do attend, not being less than three, shall constitute the board, and proceed to the trial, and a majority of them shall decide all questions.

SEC. 5. If a Clergyman presented shall confess the truth of the facts alleged in the presentment, and shall not demur thereto, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to proceed to pass sentence; and if he shall not confess them before the appointment of a Board for his trial, as before mentioned, he shall be considered as denying them.

SEC. 6. If a Clergyman presented, after having had due notice, shall not appear before the Board of Presbyters appointed for his trial, the Board may, nevertheless, proceed as if he were present, unless for good cause they shall see fit to adjourn to another day.

SEC. 7. When the Board proceed to the trial, they shall hear such evidence as shall be produced, which evidence shall be reduced to writing and signed by the witnesses, respectively; and some officer authorized by law to administer oaths may, at the desire of either party, be requested to administer an oath or affirmation to the witnesses, that they will testify the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, concerning the facts charged in the presentment. If, on or during the trial, the accused shall confess the truth of the charges, as stated in the presentment, the Board may dispense with hearing further evidence, and may proceed at once to state their opinion to the Bishop as to the sentence that ought to be pronounced.

SEC. 8. Upon the application of either party to the Bishop, and it being made satisfactorily to appear to him that any material witness cannot be procured upon the trial, the Bishop may appoint a Commissary to take the testimony of such witness. Such Commissary may be either a Clergyman or a Layman, and the party so applying shall give to the other at least six days' notice of the time and place of taking the testimony. If the person on whom the notice shall be served shall reside more than forty miles from the place of examination, notice of an additional day shall be given for every additional twenty miles of the said distance. Both parties may attend and examine the witness; and the questions and answers shall be reduced to writing and signed by the witness, and shall be certified by the Commissary, and enclosed under his seal, and transmitted to the Board, and shall be received by them as evidence. A witness examined before such Commissary may be sworn or affirmed in manner aforesaid.

SEC. 9. The Board, having deliberately considered the evidence, shall declare in a writing signed by them, or a majority of them, their decision on the charges contained in the presentment, distinctly stating whether the accused be guilty or not guilty of such charges, respectively, and also stating the sentence (if any) which, in their opinion, should be pronounced; and a copy of such decision shall be, without delay, communicated to the accused; and the original decision, together with the evidence, shall be delivered to the Bishop, who shall pronounce such canonical sentence as shall appear to him to be proper, provided the same shall not exceed in severity the sentence recommended by the Board; and such sentence shall be final. Before pronouncing any sentence, the Bishop shall summon the accused, and any three or more of the Clergy, to meet him at such time as may, in his opinion, be most convenient, in some Church to be designated by him, which shall, for that purpose, be open at the time to all persons who may choose to attend; and the sentence shall then and there be publicly pronounced by the Bishop. But the Bishop, if he shall be satisfied that justice requires it, may grant a new trial to the accused, in which case a new Board of Presbyters shall be appointed, the proceedings before whom shall be conducted as above mentioned.

SEC. 10. All notices and papers contemplated in this Canon may be served by a summoner or summoners, to be appointed for the purpose by the Bishop, and whose certificate of such service shall be evidence thereof. In case of service by any other person, the facts shall be proved by the affidavit of such person. A written notice or paper delivered to a party, or left at his last place of residence, shall be deemed a sufficient service of such notice or paper.

SEC. 11. The defendant may have the privilege of appearing by counsel; in case of the exercise of which privilege, and not otherwise, those who present shall also have the like privilege.

SEC. 12. If the Ecclesiastical Authority of any other Diocese shall, under the provisions of the Canons of the General Convention, or otherwise, make known to the Ecclesiastical Authority of this Diocese, charges against a Presbyter or Deacon thereof, such communication shall be a sufficient presentation of him for trial; and the trial shall take place as above provided. The Bishop shall appoint some competent person as Prosecutor, who shall be considered as the party making the presentment.

CANON XXII.

Of Differences between Ministers and their Congregations.

SECTION 1. Whenever there shall be any serious difference between the Rector of any Church in this Diocese and the Congregation thereof, it shall be lawful for a majority of the Vestry or Trustees to make a representation to the Bishop, stating the facts in the case and agreeing, for themselves and for the Congregation which they represent, to submit to his decision in the matter, and to perform whatever he may require of them by any order which he may make under the provisions of this Canon, and shall at the same time serve a copy of the representation on the Rector.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Bishop, at all stages of the proceeding, to seek to bring them to an amicable conclusion; and in such case the agreement between the parties, signed by them and attested by the Bishop, shall have the same force as an order made under section 4 of this Canon.

SEC. 3. If the matter shall not be amicably settled within a reasonable time, the Bishop shall convene the Clerical Members of the Standing Committee and shall give notice to the parties to appear before him and present their proofs and arguments at such time and place as he may appoint; and he may adjourn and continue the hearing in the matter in his discretion.

SEC. 4. When the hearing is concluded, the Bishop shall make such an order in regard to the matter as he may think to be just and for the true interests of the Church; and such order may require the Rector to resign his Rectorship, and may require the Church to pay a sum of money to the Rector; and it shall be the duty of the Rector and of the Church and every member thereof to submit to and abide by such order as the final and conclusive determination of all matters of difference between them. Provided, that no order shall be made under this or the next succeeding section of this Canon, unless with the advice and concurrence of at least two Clerical Members of the Standing Committee, who shall have been present at the hearing.

SEC. 5. If it shall be made to appear to the Bishop that any agreement made under section 2 of this Canon, or any order made under section 4 of this Canon, or of this section, shall have been disregarded by any of the parties concerned, or if an application be made to him to modify such order, he may convene the Clerical Members of the Standing Committee, and after hearing such further proofs and arguments as may be presented to him, make such further order in the matter as he may think proper with the same effect as an order made under section 4 of this Canon.

SEC. 6. If any Church or Congregation shall persistently neglect or refuse to obey any order made under this Canon, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to exhort the members of such Congregation to submit to the authority and discipline of the Church; and if they will not do so, the Convention may proceed to dissolve the union between the Church so offending and the Convention of this Diocese, and may take such other action in the matter as it may think expedient. Provided, that no such action shall be held or taken to be a surrender of any right which either the Church in this Diocese, or such members of such Congregation as submit to the authority and discipline of the Church may have in the corporation of such Church, or in any property belonging thereto.

SEC. 7. Whenever the Standing Committee shall be acting as the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese, the Clerical Members thereof shall perform the duties herein required of the Bishop; and they shall request the Bishop of some other Diocese to attend the hearing of the case, and shall make no order therein but with his advice and assistance.

CANON XXIII.

Of Amendments of the Canons.

No new Canon or amendment of a Canon shall hereafter be adopted by the Convention, unless at least one day's previous notice thereof shall have been given in open Convention; nor, unless by unanimous consent, until the same shall have been referred to, and reported upon by a Committee of at least two Presbyters and two Laymen. All propositions to amend the Canons shall be in the form of a Canon, and such sections as shall be amended shall be re-enacted in full in their amended form.

 18. Application of this chapter to churches created by special laws.

SECTION 1. Short title.— This chapter shall be known as the religious corporations law.

An incorporated church is a religious corporation created to enable its members to meet for divine worship or other religious observances.

An unincorporated church is a congregation, society, or other assemblage of persons who are accustomed to statedly meet for divine worship or other religious observances, without having been incorporated for that purpose.

The term minister, includes a clergyman, pastor, rector, priest, rabbi, or other person having authority from, or in accordance with, the rules and regulations of the governing ecclesiastical body of the denomination or order, if any, to which the church belongs, or otherwise from the church, to preside over and direct the spiritual affairs of the church.

§ 3. Filing and recording certificates of incorporation of religious corporations.— The certificate of incorporation of a religious corporation shall be acknowledged or proved before an officer authorized to take the acknowledgment or proof of deeds or conveyances of real estate, to be recorded in the county in which the principal office or place of worship of said corporation is or is intended to be situated, and shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of said county. If there is not, or is not intended to be, any such office or place of worship, the certificate shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

§ 4. Property of unincorporated society transferred by its incorporation.— All the temporalities and property of an unincorporated church, or of any unincorporated religious society, body, association or congregation, shall, on the incorporation thereof, become the temporalities and property of such corporation, whether such temporalities or property be given, granted or devised directly to such unincorporated church, society, body, association or congregation, or to any other person for the use or benefit thereof.

§ 5. General powers and duties of trustees of religious corporations.— The trustees of every religious corporation shall have the custody and control of all the temporalities and property, real or personal, belonging to the corporation and of the revenues therefrom, and shall administer the same in accordance with the discipline, rules and usages of the religious denomination or ecclesiastical governing body, if any, with which the corporation is connected, and with the provisions of law relating thereto, for the support and maintenance of the corporation, or, provided the members of the corporation at a meeting thereof shall so authorize, of some religious, charitable, benevolent, or educational object conducted by said corporation, or in connection with it, or with such denomination, and they shall not use such property or revenues for any other purpose or divert the same from such uses. By-laws duly adopted at a meeting of the members of the corporation shall control the action of its trustees.

But this section does not give to the trustees of an incorporated church any control over the calling, settlement, dismissal or removal of its minister, or the fixing of his salary; or any power to fix or change the times, nature or order of the public or social worship of such church, except when they are also the spiritual officers of such church.

§ 6. Acquisition of property by religious corporations for branch institutions; management thereof.—Any religious corporation may acquire property for associate-houses, church buildings, chapels, mission-houses, school-houses for Sunday or parochial schools, or dispensaries of medicine for the poor, or property for the residence of its ministers, teachers or employees. The persons attending public worship in any such associate-house, mission-house, church building or chapel connected therewith, shall not, by reason thereof, have any rights as members of the parent corporation. The persons statedly worshipping in any such house, mission-house, church building or chapel, may with the consent of the trustees of such corporation, become separately incorporated as a church, and the parent corporation may, in pursuance of the provisions of law regulating the disposition of real property by religious corporations, rent or convey to the new corporation with or without consideration, any such associate-house, church building, chapel, mission-house, school-house or dispensary and the lot connected therewith, subject to such regulations as the trustees of the parent corporation may make.

§ 7. Acquisition of property by religious corporations for cemetery purposes; management thereof.—A religious corporation may take and hold, by purchase, grant, gift or devise, real property for the purposes of a cemetery; or such lot or lots in any cemetery connected with it, as may be conveyed or devised to it, with or without provisions limiting interments therein to particular persons or classes of persons; and may take and hold any property granted, given, devised or bequeathed to it in trust to apply the same or the income or proceeds thereof, under the direction of the trustees of the corporation, for the improvement or embellishment of such cemetery or any lot therein, including the erection, repair, preservation or removal of tombs, monuments, gravestones, fences, railings or other erections, or the planting or cultivation of trees, shrubs, plants, or flowers in or around any such cemetery or cemetery lots.

A religious corporation may erect upon any property held by it for cemetery purposes, a suitable building for religious services for the burial of the dead, or for the use of the keepers or other persons employed in connection therewith, and may sell and convey lots in such cemetery for burial purposes, subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be imposed by the instrument by which the same was acquired, or by the rules and regulations adopted by such corporation. Every such conveyance of a lot or plat for burial purposes, signed, sealed and acknowledged in the same manner as a deed to be recorded, may be recorded in like manner, and with like effect as a deed of real property.

§ 8. Removal of human remains from one cemetery of a religious corporation to another cemetery owned by it.—[Omitted.]

§ 9. Acquisition of property by two or more religious corporations for a common parsonage.—[Omitted.]

§ 10. Correction and confirmation of conveyances to religious corporations.—If, in a conveyance of real property, or in any instrument intended to operate as such, heretofore or hereafter made to a religious corporation, its corporate name is not stated or is not correctly stated, but such conveyance or instrument indicates the intention of the grantor therein to convey such property to such corporation, and such corporation has entered into possession and occupation of such property, any officer of the corporation authorized so to do by its trustees, may record in the office where such conveyance or instrument is recorded a statement, signed and acknowledged by him or proved, setting forth the date of such conveyance or instrument, the date of record and the number and page of the book of record thereof, the name of the grantor, a description of the property conveyed or intended to be conveyed, the name of the grantee as expressed in such conveyance or instrument, the correct name of such corporation, the fact of authorization by the trustees of the corporation to make and record such statement, and that the grantor in such conveyance or instrument intended thereby to convey such property to such corporation as the said officer verily believes, with the reason for such belief. Such statement, so signed and acknowledged or proved, shall be recorded with the records of deeds in such office, and indexed as a deed from the grantee as named in such instrument or in such conveyance to such corporation. The register or clerk, as the case may be, shall note the recording of such statement on the margin of the record of such conveyance, and for his services, shall be entitled to receive the fees allowed for recording deeds. Such statement so recorded shall be presumptive evidence that such matters therein stated are true, and that such corporation was the grantee in the original instrument or conveyance.

All conveyances heretofore made, or by any instrument intended to be made, to a religious corporation of real property appropriated to the use of such corporation, or entitled to be so appropriated, are hereby confirmed and declared valid and effectual, notwithstanding any defect in the form of the conveyance or the description of the grantee therein, but this section shall not affect any suit or proceeding pending on the thirty-first day of January, eighteen hundred and seventy-one.

§ 11. Sale, mortgage and lease of real property of religious corporations.—A religious corporation shall not sell or mortgage any of its real property without applying for and obtaining leave of the court therefor, pursuant to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

The trustees of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal church shall not vote upon any resolution or proposition for the sale, mortgage or lease of its real property unless the rector of such church, if it then has a rector, shall be present, and shall not make application to the court for leave to sell or mortgage any of its real property without the consent of the bishop and standing committee of the diocese to which such church belongs; but in case the see be vacant, or the bishop be absent or unable to act, the consent of the standing committee with their certificate of the vacancy of the see or of the absence or disability of the bishop shall suffice.

The trustees of an incorporated Roman Catholic church shall not make application to the court for leave to mortgage, lease or sell any of its real property without the consent of the archbishop or bishop of the diocese to which such church belongs, or in case of their absence or inability to act, without the consent of the vicar-general or administrator of such diocese.

The petition of the trustees of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal church or Roman Catholic church shall, in addition to the matters required by the Code of Civil Procedure to be set forth therein, set forth that this section has also been complied with.

But lots, plats or burial permits in a cemetery owned by a religious corporation may be sold without applying for or obtaining leave of the court.

No cemetery lands of a religious corporation shall be mortgaged while used for cemetery purposes.

§ 12. Consolidation of incorporated churches.— [Omitted.]

§ 13. Judicial investigation of amount of property of religious corporations.— [Omitted.]

§ 14. Corporations with governing authority over churches.—An unincorporated diocesan convention, presbytery, classis, synod, annual conference, or other ecclesiastical governing body having jurisdiction over several churches, may at a stated meeting thereof, determine to become incorporated by a designated name, and may by a plurality vote, elect not less than three nor more than nine persons to be the first trustees of such corporation. The presiding officer and clerk of such governing body shall execute and acknowledge a certificate stating that such proceedings were duly taken as herein provided, the name by which such corporation is to be known, and the names of such first trustees. On filing such certificate the members of such governing body and their successors shall be a corporation by the name stated in the certificate, and the persons named as trustees therein shall be the first trustees thereof.

The trustees of every incorporated governing body and their successors shall hold their offices during the pleasure of such body, which may remove them and fill vacancies in accordance with its rules and regulations. Such corporation may take, administer and dispose of property for the benefit of such governing body, or of any parish, congregation, society, church, mission, religious, benevolent, charitable or educational institution existing or acting under it.

§ 15. Property of extinct churches.—Such incorporated governing body may decide that a church, parish or society in connection with it or over which it has ecclesiastical jurisdiction, has become extinct, if it has failed for two consecutive years next prior thereto to maintain religious services according to the discipline, customs and usages of such governing body, or has had less than thirteen resident attending members paying annual pew rent or making annual contribution towards its support, and may take possession of the temporalities and property belonging to such church, parish or religious society, and manage; or may, in pursuance of the provisions of law relating to the disposition of real property by religious corporations, sell or dispose of the same and apply the proceeds thereof to any of the purposes to which the property of such governing religious body is devoted, and it shall not divert such property to any other object.

[Three paragraphs omitted: The Congregational Church Building Society; The Baptist Missionary Convention of the State of New York; The New York Eastern Christian and Benevolent Society, and the New York Christian Association.]

§ 16. Corporations for organizing and maintaining mission churches and Sunday schools.—[Omitted.]

§ 17. Corporations for acquiring parsonages for presiding elders and camp meeting grounds.—[Omitted.]

§ 18. Application of this chapter to churches created by special laws.—If a church be incorporated by special law, it and its trustees shall have, in addition to the powers conferred on it by such law, all the powers and privileges conferred on incorporated churches and the trustees thereof respectively by the provisions of this article, and also all the powers and privileges conferred by this chapter on churches of the same denomination or of the like character, and on the trustees thereof respectively.

§ 19. Application of this chapter to churches incorporated prior to January first, eighteen hundred and twenty-eight.—Any provision of this chapter shall not be deemed to apply to any church incorporated under any general or special law, prior to January first, eighteen hundred and twenty-eight, if such provision is inconsistent with or in derogation of any of the rights and privileges of such corporation as they existed under the law by or pursuant to which such corporation was formed, unless such corporation subsequent to such date, shall have lawfully reincorporated under a law enacted since the first day of January, eighteen hundred and twenty-eight, or unless the trustees of such corporation shall, by resolution, determine that the provisions of this chapter applying to churches of the same denomination and to the trustees thereof shall apply to such church, and unless such resolution shall be submitted to the next ensuing annual meeting of such church, and ratified by a majority of the votes of the qualified voters present and voting thereon. Notice of the adoption of such resolution and of the proposed submission thereof for ratification, shall be given with the notice of such annual meeting, and in addition thereto, mailed to each member of such church corporation at his last-known post-office address, at least two weeks prior to such annual meeting, and published once a week for two successive weeks immediately preceding such meeting in a newspaper, if any, published in the city, village or town in which the principal place of worship of such corporation is located and otherwise in a newspaper published in an adjoining town. If such resolution is so ratified, the trustees of such church shall cause a certificate setting forth a copy of such resolution, its adoption by the board of trustees and its due ratification by the members of such corporation, to be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the principal place of worship of such corporation is located. Such county clerk shall cause such certificate to be recorded in the book in which certificates of incorporation of religious corporations are recorded in pursuance of law.

§ 20. Calling of a minister, and so forth.—No provision of this act authorizes the calling, settlement, dismissal or removal of a minister, or the fixing or changing of his salary, and a meeting of a church corporation for any such purpose shall be called, held, moderated, conducted, governed and notice of such meeting given and person to preside thereat ascertained and the qualification of voters thereat determined, not as required by any provision of this act but only according to the aforesaid laws and regulations, practice, discipline, rules and usages of the religious denomination or ecclesiastical governing body, if any, with which the church corporation is connected.

§ 21. Worship.—No provision of this act authorizes the fixing or changing of the times, nature or order of public or social or other worship of any church, in any other manner or by any other authority than in the manner and by the authority provided in the laws, regulations, practice, discipline, rules and usages of the religious denomination or ecclesiastical governing body, if any, with which the church corporation is connected.

§ 22. The preceding sections numbers twenty and twenty-one are not applicable to a Baptist church, a Congregational church or to any other religious corporation having a congregational form of government.

ARTICLE II.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR THE INCORPORATION AND GOVERNMENT OF PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL PARISHES OR CHURCHES.

SECTION 30. The meeting for incorporation.

31. The certificates of incorporation.

32. Corporate trustees; vestry; powers and duties thereof.

33. Annual elections.

34. Changing the number of vestrymen of parishes hereafter incorporated.

35. Changing date of annual elections, number and terms of office of vestrymen and terms of churchwardens of parishes heretofore incorporated.

36. Changing the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen.

§ 30. The meeting for incorporation.—Notice of a meeting for the purpose of incorporating an unincorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or congregation, and of electing the first churchwardens and vestrymen thereof, shall specify the object, time and place of such meeting, and shall be made public for at least two weeks prior to such meeting, either by open reading of such notice in time of divine service, at the usual place of worship of such parish or congregation, or by posting the same conspicuously on the outer door of such place of worship.

Only men of full age who have been regular attendants at the worship of such parish or congregation and contributors to the support thereof for one year next prior to such meeting, or since the establishment of such parish or congregation, shall be qualified to vote at such meeting.

The presence of at least six persons qualified to vote thereat shall be necessary to constitute a quorum of such meeting. The action of the meeting upon any matter or question shall be decided by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon, a quorum being present.

The officiating minister, or if there be none, or he shall be necessarily absent, any other person qualified to vote at the meeting, who is called to the chair, shall preside thereat. Such presiding officer shall receive the votes, be the judge of the qualifications of voters, and declare the result of the votes cast at such meeting.

The polls of the meeting shall remain open for one hour or longer in the discretion of the presiding officer, or if required, by a vote of the majority of the voters present.

The meeting shall decide whether such unincorporated parish or congregation shall become incorporated. If such decision be in favor of incorporation, such meeting shall decide upon the name of the proposed corporation; what secular day of the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, shall be the date of the regular annual election; whether the vestrymen thereof shall be three, six or nine; and shall elect by ballot from the persons qualified to be voters thereat, who have been baptized, one-third of the number of vestrymen so decided upon to hold office until the first annual election to be held thereafter, one-third of such number, to hold office until one year after such annual election, and one-third of such number, to hold office until two years after such annual election; and shall elect from such qualified voters who are communicants in the Protestant Episcopal church, two persons to be churchwardens thereof, one to hold office until such annual election and one to hold office until one year after such annual election.

§ 31. The certificate of incorporation.—If such meeting shall decide in favor of incorporation and comply with the next preceding section, the presiding officer of such meeting and at least two other persons present and voting thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate of incorporation setting forth:

1. The fact of the calling and holding of such meeting;
2. The name of the corporation as decided upon thereat;
3. The county, and the town, city or village, in which its principal place of worship is, or is intended to be located;
4. The day of the week commencing with the first Sunday in Advent, upon which the annual election shall be held;
5. The number of vestrymen decided upon at such meeting;
6. The names of the vestrymen elected at such meeting and the term of office of each;
7. The names of the churchwardens elected at such meeting and the term of office of each.

On filing such certificate in the office of the clerk of the county, so specified therein, the churchwardens and vestrymen so elected and their successors in office, together with the rector, when there is one, shall form a vestry and shall be the trustees of such church or congregation; and they and their successors shall thereupon, by virtue of this act, be a body corporate by the name or title expressed in such certificate, and shall have power, from time to time, to adopt by-laws for its govern*ance.

Such corporation shall be an incorporated church, and may be termed also an incorporated parish.

§ 32. Corporate trustees; vestry; powers and duties thereof.—No meeting of the vestry or trustees of any incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church shall be held unless either all the members thereof are present, or three days' notice thereof shall be given to each member thereof, by the rector in writing either personally or by mail, or, if there be no rector or he be incapable of acting, by one of the churchwardens; except that twenty-four hours' notice of the first meeting of the vestry or trustees after an annual election shall be sufficient, provided such meeting be held within three days after the election.

To constitute a quorum of the vestry or board of trustees there must be present either:

1. The rector, at least one of the churchwardens, and a majority of the vestrymen, or
2. The rector, both churchwardens and one less than a majority of the vestrymen, or
3. If the rector be absent from the diocese and shall have been so absent for over four calendar months, or if the meeting be called by the rector and he be absent therefrom, or be incapable of acting, one churchwarden and a majority of the vestrymen, or both churchwardens and one less than a majority of the vestrymen.

* So in the original.

But if there be a rector of the parish, no measures shall be taken, in his absence, in any case, for effecting the sale or disposition of the real property of the corporation, nor for the sale or disposition of the capital or principal of the personal property of the corporation, nor shall any act be done which shall impair the rights of such rector.

The presiding officer of the vestry or trustees shall be the rector, or if there be none, or he be absent, the churchwarden who shall be called to the chair by a majority of the votes, if both the churchwardens be present; or the churchwarden present, if but one be present.

At each meeting of the vestry or trustees each member thereof shall be entitled to one vote.

The vestry shall have power to fill a vacancy occurring in the office of a churchwarden or vestryman by death, resignation or otherwise than by expiration of term, until the next annual election at which, if such vacancy would continue thereafter, it shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term.

The vestry may, subject to the canons of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, and of the diocese in which the parish or church is situated, by a majority vote, elect a rector to fill a vacancy occurring in the rectorship of the parish, and may fix the salary or compensation of the rector.

§ 33. Annual elections of incorporated Protestant Episcopal parishes.—The annual election of a Protestant Episcopal parish, hereafter incorporated, shall be held on the secular day in the week commencing with the first Sunday in Advent, designated in its certificate of incorporation. The annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church heretofore incorporated shall be held on the day fixed for such annual election, by or in pursuance of law, or if no such date be so fixed, then on the Monday next after the first Sunday in Advent.

Notice of such annual election shall be read by the rector of the parish, or if there be none, or he be absent, by the officiating minister or by a churchwarden thereof, on each of the two Sundays next preceding such election, in the time of divine service, or if, for any reason, the usual place of worship of the parish be not open for divine service, the notice shall be posted conspicuously on the outer door of the place of worship for two weeks next preceding the election.

Such notice shall specify the place, day and hour of holding the election, the name and term of office of each churchwarden and vestryman whose term of office shall then expire, or whose office shall then be vacant for any cause, and the office for which each such officer is to be then elected.

The presiding officer of such meeting shall be the rector thereof, if there be one, or if there be none, or he be absent, one of the churchwardens elected for the purpose by a majority of the duly qualified voters present, or if no churchwarden be present, a vestryman elected in like manner. Such presiding officer shall be the judge of the qualifications of the voters; shall receive the votes cast; and shall declare the result of the votes cast at such election. The presiding officer of such meeting shall enter the proceedings of the meeting in the book of the minutes of the vestry, sign his name thereto, and offer the same to as many qualified voters present as he shall think fit, to be also signed by them.

Only men of full age belonging to the parish, who have been regular attendants at its worship and contributors to its support for at least twelve months prior to such election, or since the establishment of such parish, shall be qualified voters at any such election. The action of the meeting upon any matter or question shall be decided by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. The polls of the election shall continue open for one hour, and longer, in the discretion of the presiding officer, or, if required, by a vote of a majority of the qualified voters present and voting.

The churchwardens and vestrymen shall be elected by ballot from persons qualified to vote at such election, and no person shall be eligible for election as church warden, unless he be also a communicant in the Protestant Episcopal church, nor be eligible for election as vestryman, unless he shall have been baptized.

At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish hereafter incorporated, one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years; and one-third of the total number of the vestrymen of the parish shall be elected to hold office for three years. At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church heretofore incorporated, two churchwardens and the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter, unless the terms of office of but one churchwarden or of but one-third of its vestrymen shall then expire, in which case one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years, and one-third of the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years. Each churchwarden and vestryman shall hold office after the expiration of his term until his successor shall be chosen.

§ 34. Changing the number of vestrymen of Protestant Episcopal parishes hereafter incorporated.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, hereafter incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the number of vestrymen of such parish be changed to either three, six or nine vestrymen, notice of such recommendation shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof, and at least two qualified voters present thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election; that the meeting had ratified the same; and the number of vestrymen so decided on. Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded, and such change in the number of vestrymen shall take effect at the time of the next annual election thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen be thereby increased then, in addition to the number of vestrymen to be elected at such next annual election, one-third of such increased number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter, one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for two years thereafter, and one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for three years thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen by such change be reduced, such reduction shall not affect the term of office of any vestryman duly elected, and at such next annual election, and at each annual election thereafter, one-third of such reduced number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years.

§ 35. Changing date of annual election, number and terms of office of vestrymen and terms of office of churchwardens in Protestant Episcopal churches heretofore incorporated.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the date of the annual election be changed to a secular day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, or that the number of vestrymen be changed to three, six or nine, and that the terms of office of the churchwardens be changed so that one warden shall be elected annually, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry; the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of the annual election; that such meeting had ratified the same; the date determined upon for the annual election of the parish; the number of vestrymen so decided on; and the fact that the meeting determined to thereafter elect churchwardens, so that the term of one warden shall expire annually.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded. If the meeting determined to change the date of the annual election, the next annual election shall be held on the day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, determined on by such meeting, and the terms of the vestrymen and churchwardens which, pursuant to law, would expire at the next annual election, shall expire and their successors shall be elected on such day.

If the meeting determine to change the number of vestrymen and manner of electing wardens and vestrymen, there shall be elected at the first annual election thereafter, one-third of the number of vestrymen so determined on, to hold office for three years; one-third thereof to hold office for two years; and one-third thereof to hold office for one year; and one churchwarden to hold office for one year, and one to hold for two years; and thereafter at the annual election there shall be elected one-third of the number of vestrymen determined on at such meeting and one churchwarden.

§ 86. Changing the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish heretofore incorporated shall by resolution recommend that the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen be changed to conform in both cases to the requirement of section thirty-three of this statute, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election, and that the meeting had ratified the same.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded.

FREE CHURCHES AND CHAPELS.

§ 113. Corporations; how formed; certificate to be filed.—Any seven or more persons of full age, citizens of the United States, and a majority of them being residents of this state, who shall associate themselves for the purpose of founding and continuing one or more free churches, may make, sign, and acknowledge, before any officer authorized to take the acknowledgment of deeds of land to be recorded in this state, and may file in the office of the secretary of state, and also of the clerk of the county in which any such church is to be established, a certificate in writing, in which shall be stated the name or title by which such society shall be known in the law, the purpose of its organization, and the names of seven trustees, of whom not less than five shall be persons who are not ministers of the gospel or priests of any denomination, to manage the same; but such certificate shall not be filed unless with the written consent and approbation of a justice of the supreme court of the district in which any such church shall be intended to be established, or in the city of New York, of a judge of the superior court of the said city, to be endorsed on such certificate. (§ 1 of Act of April 13, 1854, Laws, chap. 218. "An Act for the Incorporation of Societies to establish Free Churches.")

§ 114. When corporation complete.—Upon the filing of such certificate, the persons named therein as trustees and their successors, being citizens of the United States, and residents of this State, shall be a body politic and corporate, with all the rights, powers, and duties, and subject to all the restrictions and obligations, and other provisions, so far as the same may be applicable, and consistent with this act, specified and contained in the act entitled, "An Act for the Incorporation of Benevolent, Charitable, Scientific, and Missionary Societies," passed April 12, 1848, and the act amending the same passed April 7, 1849, except that the limitation in the first of said acts of the value of the real estate that may be held by any society in the city or county of New York, incorporated under this act, shall not be applicable to any church edifice erected or owned by such society, or the lot of ground on which the same may be built, and except that the provision in the first of the said acts, in relation to the personal liability of the trustees, shall be applicable only to the trustees who shall have assented to the creation of any debt. (Id. § 2.)

§ 115. Supplying vacancies among trustees; lay trustees.—Any vacancies occurring in the said board of trustees shall be supplied by the remaining trustees, at any legal meeting of the members; but there shall always be at least five members of the board who are not ministers of the gospel or priests of any denomination. (Id. § 3.)

§ 116. Seats, etc., to be free; alienation of real estate.—The seats or pews in every church building, or edifice owned or occupied by any corporation organized under this act, shall be forever free for the occupation and use, during public worship, of all persons choosing to occupy the same, and conducting themselves with propriety; and no rent, charge or exaction, shall ever be made or demanded for such occupation or use; nor shall any real estate belonging to any such corporation, be sold or mortgaged by the trustees thereof, unless by the direction of the supreme court, to be given in the same manner, and in the like cases, as provided by law in relation to religious incorporations. (Id. § 4.)

§ 117. Injury to property in house of worship, felony.—A person who wilfully and without authority, breaks, defaces or otherwise injures any house of religious worship, or any part thereof, or any appurtenances thereto, or any book, furniture, ornament, musical instrument, article of silver or plated ware, or other chattel kept therein for use in connection with religious worship, is guilty of felony. (Pen. Code, § 650.)

DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

RULES OF ORDER.

1. After the administration of the Holy Communion, the President shall take the chair, and call the Convention to order.
2. If the President ex officio is not present at the opening of the Convention, the Secretary of the last Convention shall call the Convention to order, when the Presbyter, senior by ordination, present, shall take the chair; and in such case, immediately after the organization of the Convention, a President shall be elected from among the clergy.
3. When the President takes the chair, no member shall continue standing, or shall afterward stand, unless to address the Chair.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

FIRST DAY.

4. After the Convention is called to order, the roll of the clergy and of the parishes entitled to representation shall be called by the Secretary of the last Convention; the certificates of the lay deputies, as presented, being referred to a committee consisting of the Secretary and two members appointed by the President. If a quorum of twenty clergy and a representation of twenty parishes be present, the President shall declare the Convention duly organized.
5. The first business shall be the election of a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Registrar. The Secretary may appoint one or more Assistant Secretaries, announcing their names to the Convention.
6. Notices, resolutions, motions and other miscellaneous business shall then be in order.
7. The following committees shall be appointed by the President:
 - A. On the Admission of Parishes into Union with the Convention.
 - B. On the Constitution and Canons.
 - C. On the Treasurer's Accounts.
 - D. On the Diocesan Fund and Mileage of the Clergy.
 - E. On Diocesan Missions.
 - F. On the Bishop's Salary and the Episcopal Fund.
 - G. On the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen.
 - H. On the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund.
 - I. On the General Theological Seminary.
 - J. On Theological Education.
 - K. On unfinished business.
 - L. On non-reporting Clergy and Parishes.
8. Business for these committees shall be received in the following order:
 - A. Report of the Treasurer.
 - B. Report of the Board of Diocesan Missions.
 - C. Report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund and of the Bishop's Salary

D. Report of the Trustees of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen, and the Treasurer of the same.

E. Report of the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, and the Treasurer of the same.

These reports, and those mentioned in the next rule, shall be referred to the appropriate committees, and shall not be read until such committees be ready to report upon them.

9. A. Report of the Committee on Applications of Parishes for Admission.

B. Report of the Secretary of the Convention.

C. Report of the Standing Committee of the Diocese.

D. Report of the Registrar of the Diocese.

E. Report of the Secretary and Treasurer of the Bible and Prayer Book Society of Albany and its Vicinity.

F. Reports from the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour, Cooperstown.

G. Reports of Special Committees appointed at the last Convention.

H. Miscellaneous business.

SECOND DAY.

10. On the second and each succeeding day of the session, after Daily Morning Prayer, the order of business, which shall not be departed from without the consent of two-thirds of the members present, or a special order of the day previously voted, shall be as follows:

A. Reading, correcting and approving the minutes of the previous day.

B. Calling the roll of members absent on the previous day.

C. Reports from the Regular Committees of the House, in the order of their appointment.

D. Reports from Special Committees, in the order of their appointment.

E. Unfinished business.

F. Miscellaneous business.

11. The Bishop's Address is in order at any time.

12. Five minutes before twelve o'clock noon on the second day all business shall be suspended, and prayer shall be offered for Missions and for Christian Unity.

13. The annual election shall be held at noon on the second day, and continued at the order of the House until completed.

14. All reports embodying long statements of accounts shall be accompanied with a brief abstract of them, and such abstracts only shall be printed in the Journal.

GENERAL.

15. When any member is about to speak, he shall rise from his seat, and shall, with due respect, address himself in an audible tone of voice to the President, confining himself strictly to the point in debate.

16. No member shall speak more than twice in the same debate without leave of the House; nor more than once, until every other member wishing to speak shall have spoken.

17. No motion shall be considered as before the House unless it be seconded, and reduced to writing when required, and announced by the Chair.

18. The mover may withdraw a motion or resolution at any time before amendment or decision, with the consent of the Convention; in which case it shall not be entered upon the minutes.

19. When a question is under consideration, it shall be in order to move to lay it upon the table, to postpone it indefinitely, to postpone it to a time certain, to commit it, to amend it, or to divide it; and motions for any of these purposes shall have precedence in the order here named.

20. If the question under debate contains several distinct propositions, the same shall be divided at the request of any member, and a vote taken separately; except that a motion to strike out and insert shall be indivisible.

21. All amendments shall be considered in the inverse order in which they are moved. When a proposed amendment is under consideration, a motion to amend the same may be made. No after amendment to such second amendment shall be in order; but a substitute for such second amendment, or a substitute for the whole matter, may be received. No proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be received under colour of a substitute.

22. A motion to lay upon the table shall be decided without debate.

23. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order when no member is speaking; and, if unqualified, shall be decided without debate. If negatived, it shall not be renewed until some other business has intervened.

24. When a question is put by the President, it shall be determined by the sound of voices, for or against it; but any three members may require a count of the votes, and tellers for that purpose shall then be appointed by the Chair; or any five votes may require that the decision be by yeas and nays and by orders, which shall be done by calling the roll of the clerical members and parishes represented, and the votes shall be entered on the Journal.

25. When the President is putting any question, the members shall continue in their seats, and shall not hold any private discourse.

26. Every member present shall vote when a question is put, unless excused by a vote of the House.

27. A motion once determined, whether in the affirmative or the negative, shall stand as the judgment of the Convention, and shall not again be considered during the same session, unless the motion to reconsider be made by one of the majority on the first decision, and be carried by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

28. All questions of order shall be decided by the President, subject to an appeal to the House; and on such appeal no member shall speak more than once, without leave of the Convention.

29. All committees shall be appointed by the President, unless otherwise ordered by the Convention.

30. The reports of all committees shall be in writing; and unless recommitted, shall be received of course, without motion for acceptance. They shall be entered on the minutes, unless otherwise ordered. If recommending or requiring any action or expression of opinion by the Convention, they shall be accompanied by a resolution or resolutions for its consideration.

31. No rule of order shall be suspended, unless by a vote of two-thirds of the members present; nor shall any be changed or rescinded without one day's previous notice.

32. No member shall absent himself from the session of the Convention without leave of the President.

33. Before the final adjournment of the Convention, the minutes of the last day's proceedings shall be read, corrected and approved.

34. When the Convention is about to rise, every member shall keep his seat until the President leaves the chair.

STANDING ORDER.OF THE CONDUCT OF ELECTIONS.

WHEREAS, it is expedient to provide by a standing order, for the manner of conducting all elections by ballot in the Convention of the Diocese of Albany, it is hereby ordered as follows :

1. The President of the Convention shall appoint one clergyman and one layman to be tellers of the clerical vote, and one clergyman and one layman to be tellers of the lay vote, and as many clergymen and as many laymen as he shall deem necessary to assist the tellers of each vote. Vacancies, arising from temporary absence or otherwise, shall be supplied by the President.

2. When the election is to be held, the tellers for the clerical vote shall take their places, together, on one side of the house or place of meeting, and the tellers for the lay vote, together, upon the other side; and the Secretary shall supply them with the necessary boxes, and also with lists of the clergy entitled to seats in the Convention, and of the parishes entitled to representation, on which lists, as each vote is deposited, they shall make a mark against the name of the clergyman or parish voting; and these lists, signed by the tellers, shall be returned with their reports to the Convention. The names of the clergy and of the parishes shall be called by the Secretaries, and the votes shall be received by the tellers.

3. So soon as voting shall appear to have ceased, the President shall announce that the polls are about to be closed, and not less than five minutes after such announcement, he may direct the tellers to count the votes, for which purpose they shall have leave to retire. The tellers shall then proceed to count the votes, and shall make written reports, stating the whole number of votes cast, and the number cast for each person, except that when less than five votes are cast for any one person, it shall suffice to include all such votes under the head of scattering. These reports shall be signed by the tellers respectively, and shall be entered upon the Journal, and the President shall announce the result.

4. In case of any contest arising as to the right of any person to cast a vote, the tellers shall submit the question to the Convention, and such question shall be determined by the Convention, before the closing of the polls.

5. If in regard to any office there shall not be a majority of votes, either in the clerical or in the lay order, for any one person, or if there shall not be a concurrence of the two orders, the Convention shall forthwith proceed to another ballot, for such and so many offices as have not been filled at the first ballot; and such second and all other ballots shall be conducted in the same manner as above provided. In case there shall still remain any vacancy to be supplied after such second ballot, further ballots may be held at the order of the Convention.

6. Nominations for members of the Standing Committee and for Deputies and Provisional Deputies to the General Convention shall be made on the first day of the Convention at the call of the President, under the order of "Miscellaneous Business;" and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Convention to prepare, for the use of the Convention on the second day, ballots containing the names of all persons so nominated for these several offices, with notes indicating the whole number to be chosen for each office respectively. But in case of vacancies occurring in such offices during the Convention, at any time after such nominations shall have so been made upon the first day of the Convention, nominations for persons to fill such vacancies, as also for all other offices to be filled at the Convention, shall be in order immediately before any ballot for such election shall be taken. No speech or debate shall be allowed upon any such nomination or while the Convention is holding an election nor shall any nomination be considered as before the house until it shall have been duly seconded.

All Saints' Cathedral Church, Albany, N. Y.
Tuesday, November 21, A. D., 1905.

This being the day appointed by the Constitution for the meeting of the Thirty-seventh Annual Convention of the Diocese of Albany, and the Bishop of the Diocese having designated the Cathedral Church of All Saints, Albany, as the place of its meeting, the Bishop, and the Bishop Coadjutor, and a number of other Clergy and Lay Deputies assembled in the Cathedral at half-past ten o'clock in the morning.

The Holy Communion was administered, the Bishop of the Diocese being the Celebrant, the Bishop Coadjutor reading the Gospel and Archdeacon Parké the Epistle, the Bishop Coadjutor, the Dean of the Cathedral, Archdeacons Battershall and Carey and the Precentor assisting at the Communion of the people.

In place of a sermon the Bishop of the Diocese read his annual address.

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

We must write many names, beloved and revered, upon the list of those whom we are to remember at our celebration this morning, in the earnest hope that we may have grace to follow their examples and to attain to their reward.

 Mrs. George H. Bingham, of the Cathedral.

"Almighty and ever-living God, we yield unto Thee most high praise and hearty thanks for the wonderful grace and virtue declared in all Thy saints, who have been the choice vessels of Thy grace and the lights of the world in their several generations; most humbly beseeching Thee to give us grace so to follow the example of their steadfastness in Thy faith, and obedience to Thy holy commandments, that at the day of the general Resurrection, we, with all those who are of the mystical body of Thy Son, may be set on His right hand, and hear that His most joyful voice: Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. Grant this, O Father, for Thy Son Jesus Christ's sake, our only Mediator and Advocate. Amen."

The record of diocesan work this year will naturally be in the address of the Bishop Coadjutor, who made the visitations and administered the Diocese, to my great relief, and to the satisfaction, I am well assured, of the clergy and congregations, during my enforced absence from the 25th of February until virtually the first of October. It has been, so far as my diocesan work goes, to me an annus non, but it follows, what I think we may call, an annus mirabilis, in the Diocese, during which God gave us the election and consecration of the Bishop Coadjutor and the completion and consecration of the Choir of the Cathedral. The conventional year began with the noble and inspiring service of that consecration, which marked a crowning moment of my life and ministry, as the realization of what I must describe as an undreamed dream. At that service, which was the opening service of the Thirty-sixth Annual Convention, on the 15th of November, I celebrated the Holy Communion, the Bishop Coadjutor of New York reading the Epistle, and the Bishop of Massachusetts the Gospel, the Bishop Coadjutor of Albany, the Dean of the Cathedral, and the Rev. Archdeacons Battershall and Carey assisting in the communion of the people. The sermon was preached by the Missionary Bishop in the Philippine Islands. The service gathered a goodly number of friends from beyond the Diocese, and a large attendance of our own people, both members of the Convention and Churchmen of the city and Diocese. Proceeding at once to the business of the Convention, it was completed by noon of the second day, and the usual missionary service on Tuesday evening had the rare and real addition of the address of the Bishop Coadjutor.

After the Convention adjourned, I presided at the meeting of the Trustees of the Diocese, and went afterward to the service of the Woman's Auxiliary in St. Peter's Church, at which addresses were made by the Bishop of Shanghai and the Rev. Archdeacon Gardner; and later on I presided at the meeting of the Board of Missions.

Thursday, November 17, in St. George's Church, Schenectady, I said the service of burial over the body of Dr. Pendleton, whose death, coming on the very morning of our Convention meeting, with his last work for the Diocese just completed, had cast its sad and sudden shadow over the gathering of the clergy and people two days before.

On Sunday afternoon, December 4, in St. Andrew's Church, Albany, I preached and confirmed six persons.

On Tuesday, December 6, in the Cathedral, I celebrated the Holy Communion, the Dean and Precentor acting as Epistoler and Gospeler, and afterward said the service of burial of the Rev. George G. Carter, D. D., Chancellor of the Cathedral.

On Wednesday, December 7, in the morning, in the Cathedral, I confirmed one person.

Sunday, December 12, in St. James' Church, Philadelphia, I baptized my dear great-grandson, Charles Harrison Frazier, Jr.

Tuesday, December 13, I presided at the meeting of the Board of Missions in New York.

Wednesday, December 21, in the Oratory of the Sisters' House, I celebrated the Holy Communion, and admitted Ellen Mason a novice in the Sisterhood of the Holy Child.

Thursday, December 22, I married Charles Eugene McLane and Grace Parker.

Wednesday, December 28, in the Cathedral, I took part in the burial service of Mrs. James Craig.

Monday, January 2, 1905, I offered the prayer at the Inauguration of the Governor of New York.

Tuesday, January 10, I presided at the meeting of the Board of Missions in New York.

Tuesday, January 24, I was present at the services of the burial of my dear and only brother, in the Roman Cathedral in Newark, touched and impressed by the wonderful tribute of honour to his devoted and useful life.

Wednesday, January 25, I presided at the meeting of the Inter-Church Conference on Marriage in Washington. At the conclusion of the meeting on the next day I had the pleasure of presenting the members of the Executive Committee to the President, who received us with his usual courtesy, and faced the problem with which we had to deal, with his accustomed courage.

Thursday, February 2, the thirty-sixth anniversary of my consecration, I installed the Bishop Coadjutor as Chancellor of the Cathedral, to which office he had been elected by the Chapter, and celebrated the Holy Communion.

Sunday, February 5, I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion in St. George's Church, New York.

Tuesday, February 14, I presided at a meeting of the Board of Missions in New York.

Sailing from New York, in the ship "Republic," on Saturday, the 25th of February, surrounded by many most kind friends, and loaded with abundant tokens of their friendship, we reached Naples after a long and comfortable voyage late at night on Saturday the 11th of March. I read the service and preached on board twice on both the Sundays, and also on Ash Wednesday; and also made an address on the 4th of March, when we remembered the Inauguration of the President. We made interesting landings at Tangiers and at Genoa, and I was very thankful to be in the English Church at Naples for the morning service on Sunday, the 12th of March. I must bear my testimony and grateful tribute to the care which the Church of England takes for her children travelling in so many places abroad. Not only in Naples, but in Taormina in a little Chapel, refitted, in the Villa Santa Caterina, and in the beautiful Church at Palermo, I found myself infinitely helped and comforted in the beauty of our own service and celebration. Afterward in Rome and in Paris, we were of course in our American Churches, both full of beauty and comfort, so that I had no Sunday during all my sojourn abroad, without the privilege and pleasure of worship with our own liturgy.

On Sunday, March 19, I celebrated the Holy Communion in the Chapel in the Villa Caterina in Taormina.

On Good Friday, April 21, I celebrated the Holy Communion in our own beautiful Church of St. Paul's in Rome, thankful to find that here at any rate there was neither the missa siccissima of the anti-communion service, nor the mockery and mimicry of what is called the mass of the pre-sanctified.

On Sunday, the 23d, a beautiful Easter Day, I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion at St. Paul's Church, Rome.

On Sunday, April 30, I celebrated the Holy Communion in St. Paul's Church, Rome.

On Sunday, May 14, I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion in St. Paul's Church, Rome.

On Thursday, June 1, the Feast of the Ascension, I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion in the Church of the Holy Trinity in Paris.

And after that, more than ever at home, and more than ever thankful, I kept the Sundays and the Holy Days either in St. Paul's Cathedral in London or in the Chapel at Lambeth Palace.

My three weeks in London were full of every possible satisfaction and pleasure in revisiting Lambeth Palace and the Deanery of St. Paul's, in the abundant enjoyment of the society of old friends, of the welcome and beautiful services, and of many interesting Church matters with which I came in touch. The meeting of twenty-two or twenty-three of the Bishops at Lambeth Palace, some old friends, and some whom I met for the first time, was full of interest and pleasure. I had the honour of being asked to speak before the Royal Commission on Ritual in regard to the condition of our Church in matters of ritual, and also as to the question of our courts of appeal. I had the constant enjoyment of the wonderful and sublime worship in St. Paul's Cathedral, one of which was certainly among the most impressive services I ever took part in. It was a processional litany with special reference to the Archbishop's asking for "the intercessions of the people for an outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the Church;" and before the celebration, the choir sang Allegri's "Miserere." I was present also at the service of the enthronement of the Bishop of Southwark in his Cathedral. I made a brief address in the Church House at a large meeting of the two societies for the reception of Colonial and Missionary Church Workers. The striking feature of the service was the calling out of the names of the missionaries and of the distant places from which they came, which gave one really an idea of the wide reach of the missionary work of the Church of England. It was the sort of gathering which it seems to me we might do well to imitate in America, in order to bring the missionaries, as they come back home, a sense of our cordial and personal interest in them and in their work.

The last morning that I was in London, after the early celebration, in the Chapel at Lambeth, the Archbishop was kind enough to give me what is undoubtedly one of the office books used in the Chapel at the consecration of Bishops White and Provoost. It bears this inscription, which he was kind enough to write in it, and will, I am sure, be counted as a treasure in the Cathedral Library, to which by his wish it is to go.

"To the Right Reverend and dearly loved William C. Doane, Bishop of Albany, and to his Cathedral, I give this book, which in all probability was one of those used in Lambeth Palace Chapel at the consecration of William White and Samuel Provoost, on February 4th, 1787."

The book is, as its title page indicates, "The Form and Manner of Consecrating Bishops According to the Order of the Church of England. London, Printed by direction of His Grace and Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, 1784."

It was most gratifying to find what kindly memories of America the Archbishop and Mrs. Davidson retain, and that the Bishops of Southwark and Birmingham keep fresh the recollection of their visit when as Bishop of Rochester and Canon Gore they were in Albany and Buffalo.

Sailing on the first of July on the "Cymric," on board which I read the service and preached on Sunday morning, July 2d, and made an address on the Fourth of July, we came safely to Boston in the early morning of Sunday, the 9th of July. And the two months after that I was in my summer home at North East Harbour, never more full of beauty and blessing. I preached and celebrated the Holy Communion in the Church there every Sunday morning, baptized one infant, and, acting for the Bishop of Maine, confirmed four persons.

Our Missionary Sunday this year was full of unusual interest, and brought out anew the loving liberality of the congregation which gathers there. I preached in the morning, and at the evening service we had addresses from Dr. Huntington and Dr. Lloyd, and from Mr.

George Wharton Pepper and the Rev. Everett P. Smith. The alms during the day were rather more than fifteen hundred dollars. I cannot but think that, if the clergy in our places of summer resort would make a similar effort, a good deal might be done toward filling up the treasury of the Board just at the time of the year when it is most important, before the books close, to secure what is needed to pay the promised stipends.

I had, by curious coincidence, for the third time at North East Harbour, the privilege of offering in the Church a special thanksgiving for the termination of a war; twice before, at the close of the Spanish and at the end of the Boer war. This year, I need hardly say that the thanksgiving was more than ever earnest and intense, because the war was arrested not so much by victory on the field, as by the triumph of diplomacy, and of the persistent wisdom and courage and faith of the President of the United States.

My summer closed on the 2d of September with an outpouring of kindness and good feeling, on the part of the people resident all the year round as well as the summer people in North East Harbour, which was as overwhelming as it was unexpected.

On the 21st of September, I confirmed one person in the Cathedral.

On the 4th of October, I attended the Annual Meeting of the Peabody Trustees in New York.

On Sunday, October 8th, in Christ Church, Troy, I preached, celebrated the Holy Communion, and confirmed six persons.

On Friday, October 20, I confirmed in private one person for the Cathedral.

Saturday, October 28, I was present, both afternoon and evening, at the sessions of the Sunday School Conference in the Guild House. I am more and more impressed in the present condition of things, as the young people are growing up without of course any religious teaching in the schools, and too often without it at home, of the necessity of making our Sunday Schools, first, by the training and selection of teachers, and then, by the careful methods of their organization, attractive and instructive. All the addresses that day, from the Rev. George L. Richardson and Mr. Pike, of St. George's Sunday School in New York, in the afternoon; and Dr. Oberly and Dr. Battershall in the evening, were stimulating and helpful.

Monday, October 30, in the house, I took part with Dr. Silliman in the burial of the Rev. Joseph F. Jowitt.

Tuesday, October 31, in the evening, I lighted the thirty-fourth fire on the hearth of the great school room in St. Agnes.

Saturday afternoon, November 4, in the Church of St. John the Evangelist, Stockport, I preached and confirmed eight persons.

Saturday, November 11, in the Cathedral, I confirmed one person.

In all I have confirmed this year twenty-eight persons and made only three visitations of parishes.

On Wednesday, September 6, I took part in the opening service of the General Synod of the Canadian Church, in the old Cathedral of Quebec. And after that I had the pleasure of being present, sometimes in one, and sometimes in another, of the two Houses, and watching their conduct of business. On the morning of the 7th our deputation was received, the two Houses coming together for that purpose, and the reception was beyond words cordial and kind. The dear and venerable Primate, vigorous in his ninetieth year, did us distinguished honour. I made the opening address, and the Bishop of Duluth, Dr. Reese Alsop and Mr. George C. Thomas followed in most effective and admirable speeches, to which the Archbishop of Rupertsland made gracious and fitting reply. Indeed we all felt quite at home, not only from the warmth of our reception, but from the community of interests and the similarity of business which occupied the attention of the Bishops and Deputies. The same great privilege and duty of missions, to which we are rousing, thank God, in America, is theirs in the enormous field of the great Northwest, with its noble opportunity of work and sacrifice. And it was good to catch the inspiration of the presence of men, who, in the vast and distant regions of the Province of Rupertsland, specially, it seemed to me, the Bishop of McKenzie River, are witnessing to the Master with the true spirit of the Apostles and missionaries of the Church in every age, St. Paul and St. Columba, and Selwyn and Patterson, and our own Bishops like Hare and Rowe. It was a special gratification to me to have been present at the Synod, although I had gone away before the debate and the decision, in which the following canon was passed by a unanimous vote in the House of Bishops, and by a vote of 56 to 8 of the clergy, and of 29 to 20 of the laity. Had the vote been taken by Dioceses the lay vote would have been 9 to 6, with one divided. The canon is simple, strong and positive. "No clergyman within the jurisdiction of the Church of England in Canada shall solemnize a marriage between persons either of whom shall have been divorced from one who is living at the time." I could have wished that we, upon whom the presence of the danger and the pressure of the duty are so much more strong than upon the Canadian Church, could have led in this movement. But I have great heart of hope that we shall follow at our next Convention. The "proximus Ucalegon ardet" weighed a good deal with them, because the constant immigration into Canada from our Western States, cankered with this divorce disease, makes real to them the danger of the contagion. Surely it becomes us, in the face of our sorer need to apply this one sure remedy, which shall at least rid the Church of all responsibility, and lift the standard of reform, to influence public opinion, and the legislation of other religious bodies. The arguments pro and con in debate were the old arguments. I trust we shall not have to thresh them out again, because it is not so much theology as it is morals, not so much an exegesis of Scripture as the exigencies of society, not so much what our Lord may PERHAPS NOT have forbidden, as what our Lord prescribed as the foundation principle of the holy estate of matrimony. And in the face of facts it is high time for us to make impossible the prostitution of our Marriage Service, by using it under circumstances that falsify and contradict its essential language.

It is quite a mistake to imagine that this action of the Synod of the Canadian Church is something new, a departure from the old attitude of the Mother Church. Really, it is only going back to first principles. As one of the speakers at the last Weymouth Church Congress, the Rev. T. Outram Marshall, said, "the law of the Church of England has been the same from the beginning and remains the same still, namely, that the marriage state, once validly entered into, was indissoluble. The law of the land, ever since the Norman Conquest, had been the same as the law of the Church on this matter until 1857, when the Divorce Act altered it and brought it into direct conflict with the Church. Certainly the Church of England has never altered her canon or her marriage service." There is, of course, a stronger reason for those of us who hold that marriage is dissoluble only by death, to press the canonical change; but even where this is not held there is an argument strong enough to do something to arrest the solubility of marriage, which is melting marriage away into a low idea of a civil contract binding through the pleasure of either party, and being really no permanent bond at all.

I am very much struck with the statement which Justice William J. Gaynor, of the Supreme Court of New York, has recently made in regard to the difference between the civil and the religious side of marriage, in which he says that "the courts have nothing whatever to do with the severance of the Church bond, and no matter what verdict might be returned, that obligation was left untouched." "Church and State in this country," he said, "are absolutely separate. If these people are bound by any sacrament or any religious or Church bond, you and I are not seeking to sever that obligation. When we are through with this case that obligation is left untouched. We do nothing whatever to it. If there is a bond of matrimony between these people which, according to their Church law, cannot be severed till death severs it, we leave that bond scrupulously alone. They are just as much bound by it after we get through with them as they were before. We do not sever it, we do not break it. And this is something that it seems to me is very often misunderstood."

It is a strong, clear and timely statement, from which it seems to me that it is only right for the Church to take the ground first, that only the State which dissolves the marriage can rightly or safely deal with the question of remarriage; and secondly, that if the religious bond, as Justice Gaynor says, is not severed by the State, the Church certainly cannot tie that bond again where it has not been dissolved.

There are two or three practical matters of serious importance on which I want to dwell to-day; two of them of parochial and diocesan concern, and one of them with a larger range. Not the least of the difficulties in diocesan life, not the least of the hindrances to the continuous maintenance of parochial giving, is the incessant change among the clergy. And not the least of the wear and worry and evil of this changing is in the failure, so far, to find any satisfactory solution as to either the emptying or the filling of parishes. I do not know which of the two sides of vacant parishes is the worst, parish hunting or parson hunting. The parish hunter is either the restless and discontented clergyman, who wants "fresh fields and pastures new," in his own Diocese or in some other, or else he is the friend of such a clergyman, anxious to do his friend a good turn. And so it comes to pass, for instance, that fifty clergymen apply, in their own persons, or by the proxy of their friends, for one vacant parish, and that vestries are snowed under with letters of advice, sometimes, I am ashamed to say, from Bishops of other Dioceses, and from clergymen and laymen who have neither right nor responsibility of interference. Our canons have always intimated an impression, that in an Episcopal Church a Bishop was supposed to have some relation to this matter. I call the attention of the wardens and vestrymen of churches in this Diocese to a somewhat clearer act of legislation upon this subject, passed at the last General Convention in Canon 14, which recognizes the Bishop as in charge of parishes left long vacant, and gives him time and right to have a voice in the selection of rectors. The canon is headed, "Of the filling of vacant cures."

"When a Parish or Congregation becomes vacant the Churchwardens or other proper officers shall notify the fact to the Bishop. If the authorities of the Parish shall for thirty days have failed to make provision for the services, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to take such measures as he may deem expedient for the temporary maintenance of Divine services therein.

"No election of a Rector shall be had until the name of the Clergyman whom it is proposed to elect has been made known to the Bishop.

if there be one, and sufficient time, not exceeding thirty days, has been given to him to communicate with the vestry thereon."

Parson hunting is a still more curious process. It used to take the most objectionable form of asking and expecting a clergyman to come and officiate before a congregation, and there used to be clergymen who were willing to do this. I remember my father, years ago, saying to a vestryman who wanted him to send a Priest to preach a trial sermon, "I do not ordain coachmen." Nowadays it takes another, less coarse, but absolutely futile, form, it seems to me, of deputations from vestries roaming the country as sermon tasters, to bring back a good or evil report, based upon an hour's experimental visitation in a Church, with such added crumbs of evidence as can be picked up by conversation or correspondence. Some of these days, when the misfits of this sort of unnatural selection become more marked, the intelligent laymen of the Church will come to feel that in between the lines of the existing canon lies what really is, I think, a principle, that they should at once seek the Bishop's advice, and that he, knowing his own parishes as well as he does, and knowing, far better than they do, or able at any rate to find out about, the character and capacity of clergymen, is in the long run the safest and wisest resort.

I think I ought not to let this occasion pass without a word about another matter, to which I ask the special attention of the Convention, when the reports come to be made of the Committees on the Reports of the Trustees of the Widows and Orphans Fund, and the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, and the Orphan House at Cooperstown. Year after year the same sad, and I must say shameful story comes to my ears and grieves my heart. Our only diocesan work of mercy is crippled chronically from lack of funds. It has had most serious losses lately in the death of Mr. Leslie Pell-Clarke, who was its generous promoter, and of Dr. Bassett, its devoted trustee. It has struggled through a year of infinite anxiety with the marvellous record of not a single life lost in an outbreak of scarlet fever. Its buildings need renewing; its power of service needs enlarging; its very continued existence is threatened. It offers its beneficent care to children from the whole Diocese. It is not a local or a county institution. It has a claim upon every parish in the Diocese to be numbered among the rightful objects of its almsgiving, and I take leave to say that resolutions will not provide what is necessary. We need to do something and to give something for its support.

And for these other funds, I wonder how clergymen can fail to think of the time when such an infirmity may come upon them, or when the family, barely supported in their lifetime on their own scant salaries, shall be left headless and homeless and without support.

And then I am ashamed to wonder at this because it has in it a side of selfishness. Let the men themselves make their own appeal of them, men once active and strong as the strongest of you, disabled from and disabled by duty, many of them old, worn out in the service, whom any secular organization would care for with a decent pension and tax itself to do that decently. Or, let the women and the children make their own appeal, widows or orphans or people dependent upon the care which God has withdrawn from them, and "He is the God of the fatherless who defendeth the cause of the widow." As in His sight, my dear brothers, it seems to me we dare not be indifferent to this claim or withhold our sympathy and our support.

And then I want to speak to you plainly about the attitude of this Diocese toward the missionary work of the Church. I confess that when a special message was sent to me from the Board of Missions, thanking me for what I had done toward securing the increased amount of offerings, by which the Board was able to close this year without debt, I had a sense of mortification, because, whatever service I have been able to render has told everywhere more than it has in our own Diocese. We have never paid in full even the reduced amount of apportionment for which the Convention asked. "My brethren, these things ought not so to be." It is true that owing to the character of the Diocese we make large demands upon the parishes for the support of our own work. It is also true that while, because of a somewhat larger income from endowments, we are able more easily to obtain the sum needed for our own work, yet because of the crying demand for Church extension there can be no lessening of our diocesan demand. But it is also true that we have the ability, and we ought to have the will, to stand with the other nineteen Dioceses, and with the twenty-two out of twenty-three missionary districts which completed their apportionment last year. And it is also true that larger gifts and more earnest efforts are needed to make good the reserve fund which has been seriously depleted in the last three years. I am as sure as I can be of anything that systematic teaching, systematic opportunity for giving, and a determination on the part of the clergy to see that each parish and mission gives for general missions, will put Albany where it ought to be, not in the honour roll, but in the duty roll of those who have done what they could. And I make this appeal to the clergy at the beginning of the Conventional year, that they will promptly adopt, or where they are adopted, push and pursue the simple methods of pledges and offerings in envelopes, by which every individual in every congregation shall make an offering for the Board of Missions. The machinery is well-nigh perfect; what it needs is energizing with effort and will. Coming from Canada last month I was in a sleeping car, perfectly appointed for comfort and for motion, beds and chairs and lights and wheels and rails all right, all ready, and we lay stock still for four hours until a locomotive engine came along and applied the power, and then we moved. It is really a parable of our own condition to-day. Only the Holy Spirit of God can apply the power, but we can supply, if we will, the stuff, be it fire or be it water, that makes the steam. I believe it was the Primus of Scotland, who, when a Priest asked, years ago, "How shall I begin a revival?" answered, "Revive yourself."

This year I specially appeal to the laymen that they will take earnest hold of what may well be called "The Laymen's Forward Movement." A resolution adopted by the old Board of Missions during the session of the General Convention in Boston, in October, 1904, on motion of the foremost layman of the American Church, Mr. George C. Thomas, was afterward put into practical shape by the old Board of Managers, now the Board of Missions, and the Bishop Coadjutor of New York, Mr. George C. Thomas and Mr. George W. Pepper were appointed a committee to put into execution a plan which should secure the presentation at Richmond in 1907, of a missionary offering by the men of the Church, as a thanksgiving for three hundred years of English Christianity. With admirable promptness and precision that plan has been put forth, and the papers stating its detail will be put in your hands to-day. What is asked is the appointment of a committee of eight persons to act as the district committee in each Diocese; first, to obtain a complete list of all the male worshippers in every congregation, and then, by an agency established in each congregation, to appeal, in a face to face interview, to every individual. You are familiar with the wonderful blessing which has attended the work of the Woman's Auxiliary; and still more recently, the organization of the children of the Church has brought about an annual outpouring of more than a hundred thousand dollars into the missionary fund. The other element in the Church needs reaching and rousing now, and Albany must not lag behind in organizing and developing the plan. At the suggestion of the central committee I appointed as our district committee the clerical and lay deputies to the last General Convention. I am more than ready to reappoint them, if they will consent to serve, unless they think, or the Convention thinks, that a body of men nearer together would be more efficient, only I plead for some aroused enthusiasm which shall recognize the purpose and pour itself into the practical carrying out of the plan. It has in it three essential elements: First, the special gift of thanksgiving over and above what, after all, is only the payment of our debts; secondly, the enlisting of men in the missionary activities of the Church; and last, but not least, the rousing of the fundamental element of Christianity, the love of souls through which we are likeliest to our Divine Master, and without which the light which is in us is darkness, the salt has lost its savour, and the yeast has been swallowed up or soured by the measures of meal which it was meant to leaven.

I was present on Thursday, the 16th of November, at one of the meetings of the Conference held in New York to consider the question of Federation of Churches and Christian Workers. I was there simply on my own responsibility. Our Church was represented by a delegation from the Commission on Church Unity, which was instructed by the General Convention to be present at the Conference and to consider certain definite subjects. I have no intention of apologizing in any way for my presence at the meeting, but I want simply to make clear the position which I took there and which I hold, that it seems not only perfectly possible to me, but eminently proper, that we should try if possible to break down the middle wall of partition between and among Christian people in matters of practical Christian work. There is no question involved of the surrender of convictions about either doctrine or polity. There are, I believe, certain questions of the needless multiplication of contending Churches both at home and abroad, but meanwhile all around us are lying questions of infinite importance as to the laws of marriage; as to divorce; as to the care of the poor; as to the relief of the unemployed; as to the disputes between the two kinds of capital, one of which is called labour and the other of which stands for money; and as to the kinds of labour, one of which is manual and the other mental; as to the housing of the poor; as to child labour, and a thousand and one other things which make for righteousness or unrighteousness, with which no one of us in our separated condition can deal, with which united we could deal effectively and powerfully, and while the hour is not yet striking for the closer oneness for which we pray, I believe it can be brought nearer if we can only come to know each other better than we do, to stand together about some things and not apart about everything, to substitute for antagonism, accord, for toleration, recognition, for controversy, conciliation. I said at the close of my address in New York, what I honestly believe, that the two words of our Lord, "He that is not with me is against me," "He that is not against us is for us," have somewhere, in the poising of the scale which God holds in His just and even hand, a point at which they balance, so that neither one outweighs the other into insignificance or unimportance.

I cannot say my last words this morning without an exhortation to you, my well beloved, to consider the conditions with which we are confronted in America to-day, as teachers and holders of the doctrine and the ethics of our most holy religion. It is a time of strange unrest and great upheaval. I do not consider that it is the duty of the clergy and laity assembled in diocesan Conventions to deal by resolution with either the morals or the manners of the time, but I do believe that it is the duty of the teachers to uphold, and of the laymen of the Church to illustrate, the higher and the truer standards in both these things. Morals and manners are more nearly related than we often think. The old Greek word contained them both; and they both need mending sadly: manners, to put down the irreverence, the disrespect, the flippancy, the vulgarity, the coarseness which are spreading a contagion of rude and reckless disregard of authority, of age, of official place, of womanhood, of manhood, of childhood; and morals, to preach and teach the responsibility of trusts, the obligation of conscience in corporations, because they are made up of individuals, each one of whom is accountable for every corporate transaction, and the necessity of recognizing the bounden duty of every citizen to serve the State with a clean ballot, an honest administration of office, and a disinterested impersonality of judgment and of action. Cleaning sewers is unsavory work, but it makes for health in the long run. And in spite of the headlines of newspaper sensationalism and the temporary one-sidedness which shields the taker of a bribe or the coward who can be influenced by blackmail, under the sweeping exposure of the briber or the blackmailer, I believe the ventilation of the wrong doings in public service is an indication of a higher standard of official integrity and a sounder state of public opinion. Nothing is more dangerous and deadly than concealed wrong. The bold and constant insistence upon the ethics of the Gospel as binding upon the conscience of every Christian man, rather than political diatribes or personal denunciation, is the duty of the preacher of the Gospel to-day.

So, and along subtler and more dangerous lines, I am sure that we need, in season and out of season, to be not only preachers of righteousness but teachers of the truth. How far the tendency to disparage the certainty and the sanctity of God's revelation may be accountable for the loose and low standards of to-day I do not venture to say; but you must be aware of the widespread tendency, not so much on the part of the real students as on the part of those who seize upon the incomplete conclusions of certain critics, with a sort of ghoulish eagerness to question first this, then that, and then the other of the canonical books of Scripture; to deny and discredit first this, and then another of the doctrines of the Catholic Church, until there seems no anchorage left of safety or of certainty anywhere. Talking not long ago with Dr. Hugh Black of Edinburgh, a man with the gift of a seer and the voice of a prophet, I was impressed with two things that he said. Speaking of what is called higher criticism he said, "You know the wave struck Scotland before it came to England. But with us it is subsiding and we are settling down upon the old acceptance of the Scriptures." I am surprised, he said, "to find America so much impressed by German writers. It is because you are so far away from Germany that you have not the right perspective. If you were as near them as we are you would measure them more justly. Your own Church of England scholars, Lightfoot and Westcott, and Sanday and Driver, are vastly superior." You and I are at least committed to some distinct and definite positions. You and I approach all questions about the Holy Scriptures and the Creeds from the standpoint of an obligation deliberately chosen and publicly avowed. It is due to the clearness of our own convictions, and to the positiveness of our own belief that we should freely welcome all honest and really critical study, searching to the very core the texts of Scripture, the statements of the Creeds and the claim of the Church. The man sure of his lineal descent and of his rightful ownership of his possessions never shrinks from a searching of titles or an examination of the family tree, and his own assurance is unshaken while the investigation goes on, because he knows what the conclusion will be when the whole truth is known. The impatience of authority to-day, the self-assertion of individualism in thought, the disregard of accepted facts are dangerous symptoms. We have had given to each one of us not only our intelligence with its power of reasoning, but also our gift of faith with its power of believing. There is no contradiction between religion and science, the things that we believe and the things that we know, any more than there is danger of a collision between a balloon in the sky and a locomotive on the rails; because they are on different planes and deal with different things; but science depends upon testimony and bows to the authority of specialists and experts and so is really using faith; and religion reasons about testimony, whether it is trustworthy or not, about facts, whether they are historical or not, about language, whether it conveys its intended impression or not. So they are really playing into each other's hands and weaving in and out the web and woof of positive convictions. The author of Revelation, the founder of the Church is the same God who has given to each of us power to reason and to believe. The three things belong together, and cannot in the long run and in the last analysis contradict each other. Let us hold closely to the three-fold chord. Let us avoid and disavow the imperfect one-sidedness of abject subordination to the letter of the Scriptures, or of abject subjection to the dicta of any one part or any one century of the Church; but let us avoid also the extreme conceit of individualism which sets the private judgment of one man above and against the great revealed verities of the Scripture and the historical witness of the Catholic Church and the great facts of the faith. Bibliolatry, ecclesiolatry, idolatry, the worship of a book, or a body, or of oneself, each is mischievous and wrong. The Bishop of Birmingham, in a sermon preached at St. Mary's, Oxford, not long ago, the whole of which is well worth reading, ends with these sane and sober words, which I am glad to make my own:

"I have tried to face the question: In an age of change and criticism and new knowledge, what are we to regard as permanent Christianity? What are we to regard as the permanent faith for which we are to contend to death—any 'advance' out of which, to use St. John's phrase, is only advance along a road which separates from God and Christ? I reply, first of all the faith summarized and expressed in the Catholic Creeds—that faith in God and man and man's destiny; in the incarnation and the person of Christ and the accompanying miracles, and the eternal Triune Being of God disclosed in Christ's revelation. Beyond that, I am not now inquiring whether there be anything more of equal value. But that first of all and every part of it. And my reason is, because in a remarkable manner it obeys all those three tests which I may restate in a different order. First, that the whole faith is historically identified in all its parts with historical Christianity. It comes to us with the whole weight of Christian authority. Secondly, this is not bare authority. We discover in the articles thus proposed by authority a most convincing sequence of ideas. It is not a number of isolated dogmas, but one view, coherent and indissoluble. Thirdly, when we approach the historical evidence we find it (at the points material to our present inquiry) cogent in a high degree. It supports and justifies our belief that the facts on which our faith rests really occurred. And if the mind is already furnished with the ideas which render it susceptible to the evidence, or, to put it in other words, if it is free from the hostile prejudices which belong to another set of ideas, it will not fail to find the evidence convincing."

I am glad to leave as the last utterance of my address to you this morning the words of the Epistle for the day, "I pray that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment that ye may* approve things that are excellent, that ye may be sincere and without offense until the day of Christ, being filled with the fruits of righteousness which are by Jesus Christ unto the glory and praise of God."

*The Revisers read "prove the things that differ." This is the process. The result is "approve things that are excellent."

The summary of Episcopal acts is as follows:

REPRINTED MEMORIALS.

FRANCES H. ENSIGN.

From St. Agnes School, Albany, has passed away one of the most beloved members of the household, Miss Frances Ensign, who has been the nurse since 1895.

During that time she had won her way into many hearts. She made the nursery a centre of simple homelike interest, where plants grew in sunny windows and every detail showed exquisite daintiness, where the spirit of kindness reigned, whence all gossip, all discontent, all disorder were banished. Children sometimes dreaded going to the nursery the first time, never the second. There was never one who did not leave her care with grateful affection.

Of an equable temperament she was by nature contented and cheerful, loyal and loving, gentle and discreet. Illness came suddenly, painfully, death swiftly followed. In her two days' suffering, uncomplaining sweetness characterized her sick room. The gates of Paradise surely never opened for a simpler, truer soul who finds there, without doubt, her natural environment. "Blessed are the poor in spirit for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven."

To her sorrowing family, the whole household of St. Agnes, from Miss Boyd to the humblest of the servants, offer the assurance of their own sincere sorrow as the most sincere token of their sympathy.

MRS. WILLIAM LANSING.

Year by year, and many times within the last year, I have been recalled to the early associations of my Albany life. Very prominent among them stands my memory of Mrs. William Lansing, who, after many months of patient suffering, has passed into the better life. Coming to Albany as I remember her, a young woman just married, we were thrown closely together in the relation between pastor and people in St. Peter's Church, and still more closely as I was permitted to minister to her in the time of great sorrow. It is a mixed memory. In the first place a bright and sunny nature, with an interest in all good things, and then a woman strong in her Christianity, faithful, always willing and ready in all things to do God's will.

She was associated with me in the beginning of the Cathedral work, making a part of the first congregation there, and always warmly interested in the progress of the Cathedral, material and spiritual.

And I remember her as always helpful and affectionate, faithful in her religious duties and devoted to whatever good work she put her hand to, while in her home life, as wife and mother, she realized the fullness of what such relations ought to be.

It is a pleasure to have known her, to have been associated with her, and it is a sad pleasure now to bear a tribute of affectionate memory with the assurance of deep sympathy to those who are more closely bereaved by her death.

THE REV. THOMAS BOONE.

A more devoted, self-denying, faithful priest has never lived or died, within my knowledge, than the Rev. Thomas Boone, who has for many years ministered most acceptably in the Diocese of Albany. Always in difficult and small places, in Round Lake, in West Burlington, and in Gilbertsville, he has never really risen to the opportunity for which he was abundantly fitted by his character and his attainments. Taking in this life the lowest room, he has been called to go up higher, after years of quiet, patient, earnest service, leaving behind him memories of a ministry painstaking and careful, a life lived on the highest spiritual level, and a character, simple, dignified and gracious, moulded after the model which the Master set for those to follow who would be His representatives to men.

W. C. D.

MRS. JAMES E. CRAIG.

"Speak unto the people all the words of this life" is the legend on the stone pulpit in the Cathedral, given years ago, by Mrs. Craig in memory of her husband. The words imply, what we do not always realize, that the religion of Jesus Christ is a life, here and now, and not merely a proclamation of truth or a confession of faith; and it was this life that she lived. Withdrawn of late years by many circumstances, widowhood and broken health among them, from much presence in the public eye, she can never be withdrawn from the memories of those with whom she was so largely associated in the work, and worship, and building of the Cathedral. Among the foremost of those earnest women who organized the Woman's League—become now the Cathedral League—she threw herself and her energy of untiring work and intense interest into what made largely possible the completion of the first building. She was a woman of strong character, clear-headed and true-hearted, devoted to all the gifts and duties of a woman's life in the making of a home, with a quiet and keen humor, an indomitable energy, and a simple sincere religious character, which crowned and consecrated her life. For more than thirty years she has been my loyal and loving friend, and the end of her life in this world leaves only a very few of those who welcomed me to Albany, and worked with me along the lines of my work as priest and Bishop. The activity of her mind and soul melted at last into a serene patience which bore much suffering and accepted with the conscious sacrifice of much that made life dear, the will of God which called her through its earthly ending, into the peace of Paradise, where we pray God to make perpetual light to shine upon her soul.

THE REVEREND J. PHILIP B. PENDLETON, D. D.

I could only mention the name of the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton among those whom we remembered at our celebration of the Holy Communion at the opening of the Convention, from which for the first time since he came into the Diocese he was absent. The most fitting tribute which the members of the Standing Committee paid to him said all that we wanted to say during the session of the Convention. Now, as I sit down to the quiet realization of the fact of his death, to us so sad and sudden, to him so beautiful and blessed, I cannot refrain from putting on record my estimate of him in his relation to me, official and personal. It is almost twenty years since he came to the Diocese. He rose steadily and rapidly to positions of larger service and higher honour. Eight prominent positions are empty in various committees and commissions, to some of which I had appointed him, but to most of which he was elected by the Convention,—The Bible and Common Prayer Book Society, the Board of Examining Chaplains, the Committee on the Constitution and Canons, the Missionary Council, the Provisional Deputation to the General Convention, the Standing Committee, of which he was Secretary, and the Commission on Work Among the Deaf Mutes, of which he was the organizer and the inspiration. "Pluralist" in offices, he was chosen because of his recognized efficiency, because of his untiring energy and because of the confidence of his Bishop and his Diocese. All this of course was over and above his parochial duties and his service as a foremost citizen of Schenectady. After an arduous Sunday with five services, he was present in the Cathedral the next day at several meetings, and in the evening at a meeting of the directors of the hospital in Schenectady. His last work was to complete the report of the Standing Committee late that Monday night. Then came rest; "the night wherein no man can work," the dawning of the day of freer and fuller service in the nearer presence of his Master:

"Theirs the greatest gain,
To whom, (their angel with them,) at Thy word
The gate swings open of its own accord."

It was a large part of Dr. Pendleton's value to me and to the Diocese that he was a man of strong convictions frankly expressed. Accurate to the most minute detail, and thorough in the doing of everything he undertook, he was often the keeper of my canonical conscience about the relation between the Standing Committee and the Bishop. What sometimes seemed almost a hardness of manner in argument was due to the earnest courage of his own conclusions about matters in which he would rather be right and honest, and fail, than be silent and avoid the appearance of defeat. His nature did not lend itself to any large effusiveness of outside expression. I confess I should not have known myself what I do now know of his personal affection for me if I had judged him merely by his ordinary bearing. But no man could see him or know him, as I did, in the intense tenderness of his home life or in the glad courtesy of his welcome to the Rectory, and not realize the warmth of his heart and the deep humanness of his nature. He was an honest, earnest, fearless man, a loyal and devoted priest, a tireless and enthusiastic worker, a faithful and loving brother and friend to me, filling out to the full St. Paul's measurement of a married priest: "Blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach, ruling well his own house." And to that beloved household my heart goes out in deepest sympathy.

W. C. D.

GEORGE GALEN CARTER, D. D.

"Enoch walked with God and he was not, for God took him," or, as the writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews fills out this Mosaic record, "Enoch was not found, because God had translated him, for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God."

Instinctively these words came to my mind this morning as I turned toward the Cathedral from dear Dr. Carter's house, to which I had gone to see him, almost on the instant of his passing away. It is only seemly that the clergy of this Diocese should know from me of the death of a priest long identified with the Diocese of Albany, and of late years as Chancellor of the Cathedral, brought into touch with the candidates for Holy Orders and the lay readers in the Diocese, while in his incessant readiness to take duty wherever he could supply a vacant place or help a brother clergyman, he had been in fact the Cathedral missionary.

We were born friends, his father and my father having been closely tied together from the day when they were ordained deacons at the same time until the end of their lives, and in our association for thirteen years, first in his parochial and later in his Cathedral work, he has become nearer and dearer to me every year. Even to the last no labour, no exposure, no fatigue daunted his devotion. He exhausted his physical force without our consciousness of it by the constant "care of all the churches," to which he went in any time of need. His "due feet" brought him with reverent love to the services of the Cathedral constantly, if not to officiate, at least to worship. He was always ready to carry the Church's ministrations to the sick and the poor. He took warm and generous interest in the candidates for Holy Orders, giving freely of his time alike for counsel and for instruction. His godly and good learning — for he was a most accurate scholar in letters and in theology—made him invaluable as one of the examining chaplains and most helpful in any question of scholarship about which I consulted him; and his life—we are the poorer for the loss of it who were constantly associated with him—saintly and sweet and gentle, courteous and genial and considerate, generous in the giving of every kind of gift, richly and lavishly, his life was a long lesson and a lovely example of one “thoroughly furnished unto all good works.” He had the testimony in his own pure and clean heart, and he bore the testimony to all who knew him that “he pleased God,” that “he walked with God” in all truest and tenderest human paths, and along the higher level of those whose thoughts “commerce with the skies.” He had the universal and unfailing affection and admiration of all his brethren and of hosts of friends. He has left empty and desolate one place into whose sorrow we dare not enter with human words, and of many places in the large family of which he was the natural head. But our life is richer, too, for the legacy of his life, his companionship and his memory. And his life, now that it has passed through the door which opened so sharply and so quickly, his life is richer than we can dream in the closer vision of the Lord, “whom having not seen he loved,” and in whom, now seeing, he “rejoices with joy unspeakable and full of glory.”

God rest his saintly soul. W. C. D.

MINUTE.

The Bishop and Chapter of the Cathedral of All Saints, gathered for the service of the burial of the Chancellor, the Rev. George Galen Carter, Priest, cause record to be made on the minutes, which he had kept as Clerk, of their reverent and grateful recognition of his devoted service. Whether as Clerk of the Chapter, in his careful keeping of the minutes and official papers; as ministering in the office of priesthood, at the Altar, in choir, or in the pulpit; as carrying out one of the organic purposes of the Cathedral by “constantly officiating in vacant parishes and missionary stations of the Diocese;” as doing pastoral work among the sick and poor of the city; or as evidencing his “sound learning and instruction in Divinity in the training of candidates for Holy Orders and in the commissioning and registering of lay readers;”—in all these ways, the Chancellor, for love’s sake, literally gave himself to the discharge of all the duties of his office. His sweet and serene nature, his gentle bearing, his genial comradeship, his simple dignity of character and of manner, above all, the transparent holiness of his life, won the affectionate admiration of all his associates in the Chapter, and have left an impress and an influence upon them which will keep his memory fresh and fadeless in the Cathedral.

Thanking God for the good example and unstinted service of this man of God, his brethren in the Chapter assure Mrs. Carter, and the members of the family in all the generations, of their abundant sympathy, and write the name of the Chancellor in their “book of remembrance” of the benefactors of this Cathedral, praying and believing that the promise of God shall be made true to him, “They shall be mine, saith the Lord of Hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels,” “in the day that I do make even a peculiar treasure.”

W. C. D.

THOMAS B. FULCHER, Secretary pro tem.

CHARLES ASHLEY.

The death of Charles Ashley, of Ogdensburg, takes from the parish of St. John's one of its oldest and most honoured communicants, who had for forty years filled the office and discharged the duties of its warden. The city of Ogdensburg loses an old and really distinguished citizen, and I must add, to the names of the faithful departed whom we shall commemorate this year, that of a true and loyal friend. Thirty years ago and more I came to know him in my visitations. His genial and kindly courtesy always greeted me on my comings. He was interested not only in the parochial, but in our diocesan work, and sent his children to St. Agnes School, so that we had many ties to bind us together. And through all the pathetic pity of the later years of his life, when he was bowed with sorrow and afflicted with blindness, there was always the same sweet graciousness of manner, sanctified, I think I may say with the courage of his patience. Wrought out into the fulness of length of time and thoroughness of service, his earthly life has passed into the fuller fruition of the Life eternal, leaving behind a long and loving memory, and the blessed influence of the example of an honourable, useful, and faithful service.

W. C. D.

HENRY T. CLARK.

Mr. Henry Theodore Clark, who died last month in Massena at the ripe age of eighty-one years, was certainly the foremost citizen of the village, as he was the founder and firm supporter of the church there. The beginning of the Massena Mission was due to him years and years ago. He made possible the building of the Church, its deliverance from debt, and the completion of the rectory. Always he was most generous in his gifts of time and interest and money for the furtherance of its work. As I recall the names of the laymen who used to make me welcome in the beginning of my episcopate to their homes and used to speed me on my way to the outlying stations, no one is clearer to my memory than he. Such a man's life and influence live after him, and as he rests from his labours his works follow with him into the record of God's remembrance, into the reward of the faithful servant.

W. C. D.

MRS. MARY POWER SILL.

"The remains of Mrs. Mary Sill, wife of Rev. Dr. Frederick S. Sill, of St. John's Episcopal Church, were interred in the Albany Rural Cemetery on September 12. The funeral was at 3 o'clock at St. John's Church. Rev. Dr. C. M. Nickerson, of Trinity Church, Troy, officiated. He was assisted by Archdeacon Battershall, of St. Peter's Church, Albany; Rev. James Caird, of the Church of the Ascension, Troy; Rev. E. W. Babcock, of the Church of the Holy Cross, Troy; Rev. H. R. Freeman, of St. John's Church, Troy, and Rev. G. A. Holbrook, of St. Barnabas' Church, Troy. A number of the other clergy were present. The bearers were: John Horrocks, Harry J. P. Green, C. R. Ford, Jonathan Smith, G. W. Kavanaugh, Frederick Kavanaugh, E. B. Loughlin, D. S. Johnston, L. D. Hogan, Samuel Farrar, Edward S. Haywood, and R. R. Chadwick. Delegations from all the Church societies were present. The hymns, "Peace, Perfect Peace," and "Now the Laborer's Task Is O'er," were most expressively rendered by the large and sympathetic choir, and the organ was played with marked good taste and musical feeling. At the grave, after the Committal, and in accordance with desire of the family, "Abide with Me: Fast Falls the Eventide" was sung by the friends and parishioners present. Mrs. Sill's death is a sorrow and loss to the city in which she lived, and to that part of the Diocese which has been, for more than twenty years, influenced by her holy life and conversation. Her name is written in the hearts of all who were daily associated with her; and her memory, "the memory of the just, is blessed."

I must add my word of affectionate remembrance and abundant sympathy to this record of a great loss which touches many hearts outside the circle of her home and beyond the wide limits of the parish of Cohoes. Bishops' visitations to parishes find much added pleasure in their visits to parsonages. I can hardly think of the Church apart from the Rectory in Cohoes. And to think of that Rectory means to recall not only the household as I have known it with the family in three generations, but to remember the sweet and gracious presence which blessed and brightened it with the sunlight of her cordial cheerfulness, her bright and buoyant manner, her quick and thoughtful energy, and the instinctive expressiveness of her welcome. My sympathy with my brother, Dr. Sill, is really a sorrow with him.

W. C. D.

MRS. CYRUS S. MERRILL.

Mrs. Cyrus S. Merrill, whose sudden death startled us in Albany with a shock which intensifies our sorrow, has borne her full part in all that concerns the interest and activities of the city, for many years. She combined under a very quiet manner, great force of character, real administrative ability and a store of energy which seemed inexhaustible. It was born in her to be a loyal American, and whenever the opportunity offered, she was ready, with heart and hand, to cherish and foster the spirit of true patriotism. As Regent of the Albany Mohawk Chapter of the "Daughters of the American Revolution," she not only greatly enlarged and enhanced the interest of its meetings by her influence, and the value of its collections by her generous gifts, but she inspired the Chapter with her own ardor and devotion.

We, who have known her in other lines of her life, must bear tribute to the tenderness of her sympathy and the thoroughness of her service in all directions of charity and mercy. She gave her time, her devotion, and her means to the Child's Hospital and St. Margaret's House unstintedly. A devout and faithful worshipper in the Cathedral of All Saints, she was earnest in all things to advance its interests and share in its services; and in how many quiet and unnoted generousities her kindly beneficence spent itself is known to God alone.

Into the sanctity of her home, where the bitterness of bereavement is most intense, one may hardly dare even with a single word of deepest sympathy. The crown of her womanhood as wife and mother was won and worn there. She was brave and patient in the great sorrow of the death of her noble boy, to whose closer companionship she has gone; and those whom she has left behind are forced now to bear this added sorrow without her ministry of courage and consolation. May the dear Lord who has taken her into his nearer presence minister to them some share of the light and peace into which her soul has passed.

W. C. D.

ALEXANDER BENSON.

There came to me at North East Harbour news of the death at his home in Hudson of Alexander Benson, warden and treasurer of All Saints' Church; yes, and in the truest sense of both these words, for he was the guardian of all its interests with absolute devotion, and a supporter of its services with faithful attendance and most generous gifts. More than any other one person, that little struggling parish leaned on him and is beyond measure bereaved by his death. To those to whom he was beside the cordial and genial friend comes the sense of the great loss of his personality, with all its keen and quick sympathies and courtesies, and the sorrow most of all, as the disciples phrased it at Miletus, that here on earth "we shall see his face no more."

THEODORE TOWNSEND.

And now, with a nearer-at-home sense, comes the news of the death away from home of Mr. Theodore Townsend. Almost my next-door neighbor, I used to see him constantly as he went to and came from his daily round of duty, or as he illustrated to the full the ideal relations of his married life. And I confess I feel that in going back to Albany it will be a loss of one of its attractions to miss the cordiality of his gracious greetings and the pleasure of my association with him. Bearing one of Albany's oldest and most honourable names, he honoured it in his private life and in his public service. As warden of the old parish of St. Peter's and its representative often in our Diocesan Conventions, he filled out the round of human service, in his religious life, as a faithful servant of Jesus Christ. It seems only yesterday that he wrote me a kindly and gracious reply to my note of sympathy about the death of his brother and mine, the Rev. John Townsend, once Chancellor of our Cathedral; and now with the severance, in seeming, of the earthly tie, has come to them the closer communion of the higher life. May their souls rejoice and be refreshed in the multitude of its peace.

W. C. D.

F. T. HUBBARD.

The death of Mr. F. T. Hubbard takes out of the Cathedral congregation one of its most devoted and faithful servants. I think it may be almost literally said that no man ever loved the Cathedral and its services more intensely than Mr. Hubbard did; and his constant personal devotion to me and his deep interest in all that concerned the welfare of the Cathedral and the institutions that gather about it made him a man greatly to be valued and seriously to be missed. I am glad to make a record here of my appreciation of a very earnest churchman and a very faithful friend.

W. C. D.

MARY WYNKOOP.

The death of Miss Mary Wynkoop takes away one of the very most loving and loyal helpers and friends, not only from the parish to which the whole family have long been devoted, but from the Diocese and its institutions and from me. I have no earlier and no pleasanter recollections of the welcomes and the hospitality in my visitation than gather about that dignified and delightful Kinderhook home. Changed as it has been of late years, I never can fail to think of it, with all its old-fashioned dignity and charm of abundant kindness; and I never can fail to remember as one of the most intelligent and devout Churchwomen this one of the two sisters, who made the home what it was to so many people and to anybody that was concerned about the Church's work. Always conscious herself of the communion and commemoration of the Saints departed, her name will be added to those whom we remember, and whom God will remember for all their good offices to Him and to His Holy House.

W. C. D.

HARRIET CLARKSON CROSBY THOMPSON.

"Mrs. Harriet Clarkson Crosby Thompson, widow of William Augustus Thompson, of this city, died early in June, at her summer home in Saratoga Springs. Mrs. Thompson has been in ill health since the death of her husband, about two years ago. She was a daughter of the late Clarkson Schuyler Crosby, of New York, and as the wife of William A. Thompson, for years the head of the firm of John L. Thompson, Sons & Co., she has been prominent in the social and religious life of this city. She was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church of this city, and was Vice-President of the Young Women's Association at the time of the erection of the splendid home on Second street. She was interested in many charitable movements. It was to her home life, however, that she was most devoted, and her demise will bring widespread regret. She is survived by three sons, Clarkson Crosby Thompson, William Leland Thompson and Schuyler Floyd Thompson, of the city, and a daughter, Mrs. Elbert Scranton Platt, of Waterford."

This means to me another serious break in my relations with the Church in Troy; and in the personal friendships of thirty years. Not merely as part of a family to which I have been bound by very close ties, but in her own personality. Mrs. Thompson has been one of the women who, in loyal devotion to the Church and loving interest in the institutions of the Diocese, has been my constant and generous friend.

W. C. D.

GEORGE B. WARREN.

I am constrained to adopt as my own the rarely beautiful sketch of Mr. George B. Warren's character, made by his Rector in an address at St. Paul's Church, Troy, on the Sunday after his death. Nothing more could be said, and nothing can be said so well. And I am glad to have it go into the permanent record both of the pages of our diocesan paper and in the Journal of the Diocesan Convention, with my appreciative acceptance of it as a tribute to Mr. Warren.

W. C. D.

In estimating the personality and career of a notable man, one is apt to lay stress upon certain features which are only incidental and subsidiary. This is eminently so in Mr. Warren's case. His wild flowers, books, pictures, porcelains—about which so much has been truly and fittingly written—were but incidents in the history of a busy life that fronted on many things; they were the natural concomitants of an ardent soul, born to do homage to the beautiful; the household goods and furniture which are a part of, and inseparable from, the homes of those who belong, as he did, to the aristocracy of intellectual and spiritual ability. The truth is that Mr. Warren's most important interests and influences reached beyond his home and garden. He belonged to that circle of select spirits, that small minority of capable and willing souls to whom the world, in a thousand ways, is a substantial debtor, and by whom the refinement, progress, and best life of a community are encouraged and set forward. He was interested in everything good that was going on, and in the furtherance of that good he honored every worthy claim that was made upon him. In business, in politics, in art and letters, in the spheres of education, philosophy, religion, he was like a fountain in an old world city's square—upon which all streets converge.

Of what he was to me personally, in the way of companionship, sympathy, and practical helpfulness, perhaps I ought not here to declare. This much I feel bound to say, figuratively speaking, he stood at my right hand in all my hours both of work and recreation. Before I ever saw his face he wrote me gracious letters, sent me pictures of St. Paul's chancel, and commissioned me to purchase a handsome brass pulpit, to my own liking, from which to preach my first sermon. When I journeyed to my new home, he sent his sons to meet me at Albany and welcome me to the parish.

To make an end: Mr. Warren was that "tenth man" of the parable; that "hundredth man" of the novelist—the exceptional man of his day and generation. And in nothing was he more exceptional than in his religious life. He kept God's commandments, not in a servile way as things of letters and prescriptions; he obeyed them rather as laws of life, and by the logic of nature long life was his. He lived so purely, gently, and in such a spirit of content that he reversed the ancient maxim, making it to read: "Whom the Gods love die old."

EDGAR A. ENOS, D. D.

The Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes' School,
2 p. m., November 21, 1905.

After the Service, the Convention was called to order by the Bishop of the Diocese, in the Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes' School.

In accordance with Section I, Canon I, of the Diocese, the Bishop presented a List of Clergy canonically resident in the Diocese.

The Secretary called the roll of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention, and ninety-six were found to be present.*

The roll of Churches in union with the Convention was called and certificates of Lay Deputies were presented. The Right Rev. President appointed as Committee on Credentials of Lay Deputies, the Rev. Guy H. Purdy and Mr. Edward B. Cushney, of Zion Church, Fonda, with the Secretary.

The Committee on Credentials of Lay Deputies reported the certificates from seventy-nine Parishes as correct.

The Secretary called the names of Deputies entitled to seats in the

* See List of Clergy, pages 6-10.

Convention, and eighty-nine Deputies were found to be present, representing fifty-three Parishes.*

A constitutional quorum being present, the Right Rev. President declared the Convention organized and ready for business.

The election of officers being in order, on motion of the Rev. R. M. Kirby, D. D., the ballot was unanimously dispensed with.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Kirby the Rev. William C. Prout was elected Secretary.

The Secretary appointed the Rev. Canon Fulcher as Assistant Secretary.

On motion of the Rev. James A. Smith, the Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., was elected Registrar.

On motion of Mr. John Keyes Paige, of St. George's Church, Schenectady, Mr. Selden E. Marvin was elected Treasurer.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That Clergymen of other Dioceses, Professors and Students of Theology in this Church, and all persons holding any office or trust under the Convention, if not members thereof, being present, be invited to seats in the Convention.

The Right Rev. President having announced the invitation, the Rev. Thomas R. Harris, D.D., Warden, and the Rev. George B. Hopson, D.D., Professor in St. Stephen's College, Annandale, the Rev. Theodore M. Riley, and the Rev. Alexander Hamilton, Jr., of the Diocese of New York, and the Rev. W. H. Robinson, of the Diocese of Western Massachusetts, took seats in the Convention.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That the order of services and sessions for this Convention be as follows: A recess shall be taken from five to eight o'clock this evening; at eight o'clock the Convention shall assemble in the Cathedral for the annual Missionary service and meeting; to-morrow the Holy Communion shall be celebrated at seven o'clock in the morning, and the Morning Prayer said at nine o'clock, in the Cathedral; the business session shall be resumed in this place at half-past ten with the usual recesses from one to two and from five to eight o'clock.

Resolved, That the election of the Board of Missions shall be held at the same hour with other annual elections to-morrow, and that other business connected with the work of the Board of Missions shall be postponed from this evening, to come before the Convention at the call of the President to-morrow.

* See List of Parishes and Lay Deputies, pages 11-16.

The Rev. R. M. Kirby, D. D., gave notice of the following amendment to Canon XIV, which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on the Constitution and Canons.*

Resolved, That Canon XIV, Section 2, be amended by inserting in the second line, after the word "thereof," the words, "And of the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, who shall be ex officio the Vice-President thereof," so that the Section shall read: SEC. 2. "The said Board of Missions shall consist of the Bishop, who shall be ex officio the President thereof; and of the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, who shall be ex officio the Vice-President thereof; and of ten other members, one Clergyman and one Layman resident within the limits of each of the Archdeacons hereinafter provided for, and nominated by said Archdeaconry, and one Clergyman and one Layman who may be resident anywhere within the Diocese, and shall be nominated in open Convention, all of whom shall be annually chosen by the Convention, and by ballot unless the same be unanimously dispensed with. All vacancies occurring in the Board during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the Board."

The following resolution, offered by the Rev. Dr. Kirby, was, on his motion, referred to the Committee on the Constitution and Canons.†

Resolved, That the Bishop of the Diocese be requested to procure an amendment to the Act of Incorporation by the insertion of the same words, viz.: "And of the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, who shall be ex officio Vice-President thereof," in the third Section of the said Act.

The Rev. Edgar A. Enos, D. D., gave notice of the following amendment to Canon XIV, which, on his motion, was referred to the Committee on the Constitution and Canons.‡

Resolved, That the first sentence of Canon XIV, Section 2, be amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. The said Board of Missions shall consist of the Bishop, who shall be ex officio the President thereof; and of the Bishop Coadjutor, who shall be ex officio the Vice-President thereof; and of nine others members, one Clergyman and one Layman resident within the limits of each of the Archdeacons hereinafter provided for, and nominated by said Archdeaconry; and one Layman who may be resident anywhere within the Diocese, and who shall be nominated in open Convention, all nine of whom shall be chosen annually by the Convention, and by ballot unless the same be unanimously dispensed with.

The Right Rev. President having called for nominations for offices in the gift of the Convention, they were presented as follows:

For the Standing Committee, on motion of the Secretary, the Rev. James Caird, the Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., the Rev. Henry R. Freeman, the Rev. George D. Silliman, D. D., Mr. Norman B.

JOHN H. PECK,
Treasurer—

REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

A meeting of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany was held in the gymnasium of St. Agnes' School, Albany, on the Afternoon of Tuesday, November 21, 1905, at three o'clock in the afternoon, pursuant to a call by the Bishop.

Present: Rev. Drs. Kirby, Carey, and Battershall, Messrs. Peck, Hasbrouck, Livingston, and Cox, Secretary.

Dr. Kirby was elected President pro tem.

Mr. Peck read a letter from Mr. Joseph J. Dudleston, lawyer, of Frankfort, N. Y., offering to prosecute a claim for damages, in favor of the Church at Frankfort, against the State, resulting from the overflow of Meyer Creek, "for a sum of money equal to 25 per cent. of the amount received and actually paid over." In case nothing is paid over he is to receive nothing. But the Church must pay the expense of printing the case, which would not exceed $5 in his estimation. Mr. Peck recommended that the offer be accepted. And it was so done by vote.

Mr. Peck explained the condition of the Church property at Elizabethtown, and, on motion of Dr. Carey, it was voted that if a deed be offered to the trustees of the property at Elizabethtown, unincumbered by mortgage, it shall be accepted.

The Bishop then joined the meeting and presided.

Mr. Peck explained the condition of the Church property at Greenbush.

On motion of Dr. Carey, the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That application be made to the proper court, by the Trustees of the Diocese, for permission to sell one of the lots connected with the Rectory property at Bath for such sum as they shall be able to negotiate for; and that the Bishop of the Diocese be authorized to sign his name as President, and to affix the corporate seal of the Trustees to a deed of the same, and to deliver it on receipt of the purchase price.

Mr. Peck moved that the matter of the Church property at Chatham be referred to Dr. Battershall and Mr. Livingston, Trustees from the Archdeaconry of Albany, with directions to examine into the same and report to a subsequent meeting.

On motion, adjourned.

A meeting of the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany was held in the gymnasium of St. Agnes' School, Albany, at noon, on Wednesday, November 22, 1905, pursuant to a call by the Bishop.

Present: The Bishop, presiding; Dr. Kirby, Messrs. Livingston, Hasbrouck, and Cox, Secretary.

The Bishop presented the deed of the Free Church of St. Margaret, Menands, executed by the Rev. E. T. Chapman, together with a copy of the resolutions of the trustees of the Parish authorizing him to do so.

On motion of Dr. Kirby, it was resolved to take and accept the property described in the deed, provided the said deed was approved and found correct by Mr. Peck.

Mr. Cox presented the quit-claim deed of Mary E. Luck of Rouse's Point to the Trustees of the Diocese of Albany of the Rectory property at that place.

Mr. Cox explained that this property was already held by the Trustees subject to conditions restricting its occupation, by which it would revert to the heirs of David White if the conditions were not fulfilled; that he was informed by the Diocesan Missionary that the grantor was the last of the heirs of David White, and that by means of this deed the Trustees came into unrestricted possession of the property.

On his motion, the deed was accepted.

On motion, adjourned.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. BEEKMAN COX,
Secretary.

The Rev. George A. Holbrook read

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE INCORPORATION AND ADMISSION OF CHURCHES.

To the Convention of the Diocese of Albany:

The Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches begs to report that during the past year no applications have been received for admission of Churches into union with the Convention.

GEO. A. HOLBROOK,
C. T. HAWLEY, JR.,
C. W. KELLOGG.

The Secretary of the Convention presented and read

THE REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 21, 1905.

To the Convention:

The Secretary of the Convention respectfully reports:

Five hundred copies of the Bishop's Address were printed and distributed to the Clergy, twelve hundred and fifty copies of the Journal of the Convention were also printed and distributed.

Letters were sent to two Clergymen and three parishes that failed to report to the Convention of 1903. One Clergyman and one parish replied.

The Convention will need to elect this year the Standing Committee, one clerical Deputy to the Federate Council, the Board of Missions, Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, of the Fund for Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen, two Trustees of the Diocese of Albany, three for the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour.

Nominations for the Board of Missions have been received: for the Archdeaconry of Albany, the Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., and Mr. John Horrocks; for the Archdeaconry of Troy, the Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., and Mr. George A. Wells; for the Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna, the Rev. William A. Masker, Jr., and Mr. James Stewart; for the Archdeaconry of Ogdensburgh, the Rev. Walter H. Larom and Mr. Levi Hasbrouck.

Appended to this Report are communications from the Communicants' League of the Diocese of New York, and the Custodian of the Standard Prayer Book.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. C. PROUT,
Secretary.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE COMMUNICANTS' LEAGUE OF THE DIOCESE OF NEW YORK.

September 11, 1905.

We send you enclosed copy of Preamble and Resolutions adopted by the Communicants' League of the Diocese of New York, and which we send you in accordance with the provisions of the resolution.

Yours very truly,

JAMES H. FALCONER, JR.,
ELECTUS D. LITCHFIELD,
Committee.

WHEREAS, According to the existing laws in the State of New York, it is provided that at the various reform and penal institutions throughout the State there shall be provided and paid by the State one Roman Catholic Chaplain and one Protestant Chaplain, and

WHEREAS, This results in there being no priest of the Episcopal Church in attendance at many of the said institutions, thus leaving the inmates without the services of their Church at a time, when, of all others, they are in need of them;

Therefore, it is Resolved, by the Communicants' League of the Diocese of New York, that a communication be addressed to the Convention of each of the Dioceses in this State with the request that at the next meeting of their Convention a committee be appointed to confer with similar committees from the other Dioceses, and with the Governor and members of the Legislature of this State, to the end that the law may be so amended as to provide, in addition to those chaplains now provided under the law, a chaplain who shall be a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.

To the Right Reverend William C. Doane, Bishop of Albany, Albany, N. Y.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE CUSTODIAN OF THE STANDARD
BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER.

MIDDLETOWN, CONN., February 20, 1905.

To the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese of Albany:

In accordance with the provisions of Canon 41, § III, I have the honor of notifying you that, by a Joint Resolution of the General Convention holden in the city of Boston in October last, it was ordered that correction be made of a typographical inaccuracy in the Standard Book of Common Prayer, to wit:

That on page 224, in the twenty-seventh line, the words "shall" and "he" be transposed, so that the sentence shall read: "Then, the People all standing up, he shall read the GOSPEL, saying, The Holy Gospel is written in the Chapter of ———, beginning at the — Verse."

And I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully yours,

SAMUEL HART,
Custodian of the Standard Book of Common Prayer.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That a Committee be appointed as requested by the Communicants' League of the Diocese of New York.

The Right Rev. President appointed as such Committee, the Rev. George H. Sterling, the Rev. Edwin R. Armstrong, and Mr. Thomas R. Wade.

On motion of the Rev. R. M. Kirby, D. D., seconded by the Rev. William A. Masker, Jr., speaking for the Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That a Committee of four Clergymen and three Laymen be appointed by the Bishop to consider and to report to the next Convention upon a general revision of Canon XIV.

The Right Rev. President appointed as such Committee, the Rev. R. M. Kirby, D. D., the Rev. E. P. Miller, the Rev. W. A. Masker, Jr., the Rev. C. B. Perry, D. D., Mr. J. Ford Kent, Mr. William G. Rice, and Mr. Robert E. Steele.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Masker, the following Memorial from the Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna was referred to the Committee on a General Revision of Canon XIV:

MEMORIAL FROM THE ARCHDEACONRY OF THE SUSQUEHANNA.

To the Convention of the Diocese of Albany:

During the past thirty-six years, by the wise guidance and devoted labours of our venerable and venerated Diocesan, the missionary work of the Diocese has grown perhaps beyond the limit of expectation. It has become so large, covers so much territory, numbers so many missions and missionaries, that it has created a vast amount of detail in administration, too great for any one man to carry.

This means that under our present system too heavy a burden of details is laid upon the Episcopate. Success calls for subdivision and distribution. And unless this be done the missionary work must in the end fail to maintain its former standard of efficiency and effectiveness.

The Archdeaconry system was instituted to promote and care for the missionary interests of the Diocese. Herein lies the possibility of relief from the present conditions. The responsibility for missions nominally is laid partly on the Archdeacons, but under Canon XIV there is given to them no authority to carry out the responsibility. Were such authority vested in them, the several Archdeacons could care for many of the details of the work, leaving the Episcopate free to devote its powers to the supervision of what is, and the development of what is to be in the future.

The Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna, feeling keenly the present condition, passed at its last Convocation a resolution creating the undersigned committee, and instructing them to memorialize the Convention concerning this matter.

Pursuant to the instructions of the said resolution we beg to submit to the Convention the following:

Resolved, That this Convention take whatever action is possible under the existing Canon to place more responsibility, with a corresponding increase of authority, with the Archdeacons, and

Resolved, That a committee consisting of the Bishop, the Bishop Coadjutor, and seven others be appointed to consider and report to the next Convention such changes in Canon XIV as may increase the effective organization of the missionary work of the Diocese.

W. A. MASKER, JR.,
GILBERT PEMBER,
ROBT. N. PARKE.

On motion of the Rev. W. W. Battershall, D. D., it was Resolved, That any resolution that shall have been recently adopted by the Archdeacons of the Diocese touching the missionary work is hereby referred to the committee appointed under the resolution of the Rev. Dr. Kirby.

The Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., read the

REPORT OF THE STANDING COMMITTEE.

The Standing Committee respectfully report that they have held eleven meetings during the past year and have performed the following official acts:

They organized on November 16, 1904, by the election of the Rev. James Caird as President, and the Rev. C. M. Nickerson as Secretary.

On December 12th they adopted a minute expressive of their high appreciation of the character, the worth, and the services of their late Secretary, the Rev. J. Philip B. Pendleton, D. D.

They have recommended for admission as candidates for Holy Orders: A. Harrison Ewing, Chauncey Vorhis Kling, Ralph Child Erskine, Lloyd B. Holsapple, and Wallace Fawcett Thompson.

They have recommended for ordination to the Sacred Order of Deacons: William M. Gage, Nelson Kellogg, William Henry Standring, James Watson Lord, George William Klump, and Charles Adolphe Livingston.

They have recommended to the Sacred Order of Priests: David Bennett Patterson, Allan John Holley, Oscar Frederick Rudolph Treder, Frederick Schneider, and Henry John Quick.

They have given consent to the Consecration of the Rev. Charles E. Woodcock, D. D., as Bishop of Kentucky; of the Rev. William T. Manning, D. D., as Bishop of Harrisburg; of the Rev. James H. Darlington, D. D., as Bishop of Harrisburg, the Rev. Dr. Manning having declined.

They have approved of the election, by the House of Bishops, of the Rev. Frederick Foote Johnson, to be a Missionary Bishop of the Church, to assist the Bishop of South Dakota.

They have given their consent to the election of a Bishop Coadjutor for the Diocese of Southern Virginia, because of the extent of that Diocese, in accordance with the provisions of Canon 9, section 2 [1].

They have received a request for consent to the Consecration of the Rev. Frederick Ebenezer John Lloyd, D. D., as Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Oregon, but have deferred action thereon, waiting for further information, in view of the protests that have been made against the Consecration of the Rev. Dr. Lloyd.

They have given their approval of the granting a dispensation from the knowledge of the Greek language, in the case of Mr. George William Klump, desiring to be admitted a candidate for Holy Orders.

They have given their consent to the Rector, Wardens, and Vestrymen of St. Paul's Church, Kinderhook, to mortgage a certain piece of property, and to the Rector, Wardens, and Vestrymen of St. John's Church, Massena, to mortgage their Rectory.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. M. NICKERSON,

Secretary of the Standing Committee.

The Rev. Dr. Nickerson read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON APPORTIONMENT FOR GENERAL MISSIONS.

Your Committee met shortly after the adjournment of the last Convention and carried out the instructions embodied in a resolution of the Convention by apportioning ten thousand dollars among the parishes and mission stations of the Diocese, on the basis of "current expenses, including salaries," as reported in the Journal of 1903.

According to the "Annual Tables of Contributions" published by the Board of Missions, the offerings for General Missions received from parishes and individuals in the Diocese of Albany during the year ending September 1, 1905, were $7,818.86 (an increase of $184.24 from the offerings of the previous year).

The offerings from all sources, including Sunday Schools and the Woman's Auxiliary, were $10,602.21 (a decrease of $341.15 from the previous year).

Your Committee recommend the passage of the following:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to apportion _____ dollars for General Missions on the parishes and mission stations of the Diocese, taking, as the basis of said apportionment, "current expenses, including salaries," as reported in the Journal of the Convention for 1904.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. M. NICKERSON,
WILLIAM PRALL,
H. O. BAILEY.

The Rev. George L. Richardson moved to fill the blank in the resolution recommended by the Committee with the words, "the amount asked for by the General Board of Missions."

Mr. Samuel B. Coffin moved to amend the motion of Rev. Mr. Richardson by substituting the words, "ten thousand."

Mr. Coffin's motion prevailed, and on motion the resolution was adopted as follows:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to apportion ten thousand dollars for General Missions on the parishes and mission stations of the Diocese, taking, as the basis of said apportionment, "current expenses, including salaries," as reported in the Journal of the Convention for 1904.

The Right Rev. President appointed as such Committee, the Rev. Charles M. Nickerson, D. D., the Rev. Paul H. Birdsall, Mr. Herbert O. Bailey, and Mr. Henry Griffing.

The Rev. Edgar A. Enos, D.D., read the Report of the Commission on Church Work among the Deaf and Dumb, consisting of the Report of the Missionary, the Report of the Treasurer of the Commission, and two resolutions.

REPORT OF THE MISSIONARY TO THE DEAF AND DUMB.

To the Commission on Church Work Among the Deaf and Dumb in the Diocese of Albany:

GENTLEMEN.—The work of the Mission to the Deaf and Dumb of the Diocese has been carried on during the past year along the same lines as heretofore, and has been attended with a gratifying degree of success. Services have been held regularly in all the larger centres of population where a sufficient number of deaf people could be gathered together, and numerous calls have been made upon families and individuals in localities where formal services are not practicable. The attendance at services has been excellent, in some places including every deaf person within a radius of many miles; the interest of the deaf has been steadily maintained, with a gratifying absence of divisions and dissensions, and there has been a steady growth in spiritual earnestness and in attachment to the Church.

It would be difficult to overestimate the benefit of this mission, from every point of view, to those whom it is intended to reach. Isolated by their lack of hearing from the great world around them, the deaf and dumb are but little influenced by the thought, aims, and ideals of the rest of the world, and in their case the great evil to be combatted is the intellectual and spiritual stagnation which is inevitable under such circumstances. The mission is a link which unites the deaf with the normal world, and its work exerts a varying but distinctly uplifting influence upon their lives. It is not easy, however, to present in a report like this any adequate and satisfactory statement of what is accomplished from year to year. The mere enumeration of services held, of pastoral calls made, and of ministerial acts performed may serve as a fair enough measure of the missionary's activity, but it fails to give any idea of the actual results attained. These are not always immediate and obvious, even to the missionary, but become apparent only with the lapse of time, and in the practical but intangible form of better and nobler thinking and living. Nevertheless, the results are very real, and no one acquainted with the deaf and dumb will dispute the very genuine influence for all that is highest and best which the Church is exerting through her missions.

Services have been held as follows: Troy, 24; Albany, 13; Amsterdam, 14; Schenectady, 11; Herkimer, 16; Johnstown, 6; Little Falls, 2; Hoosick Falls, 2; Glens Falls, 1. In addition to these I have held two services at Elmira in connection with the meeting of the State Association; one at the Gallaudet Home for Blind, Aged, and Infirm Deaf Mutes, and one for my friend and co-worker, the Rev. Mr. Dantzer, at All Souls', Philadelphia. The total of services for the year is therefore 93. Included in this total are 15 celebrations of the Holy Communion at various places in the Diocese.

There have been two baptisms during the year, one adult, at Troy, and one infant, at Herkimer; and there has been one burial, at Herkimer. Two candidates for confirmation have been prepared at Troy, but owing to illness their presentation to the Bishop has been deferred.

I have made 78 calls upon deaf people at their homes, meeting 107 individuals. In many places this is the only way in which isolated families and individuals can be reached, and these house to house visitations are an important part of my work. I have attended three general meetings of the deaf people of Albany and Troy, at which matters of interest and importance to them were discussed; and I have also arranged the annual festival and social gathering of the members of the missions in these two cities. I also attended during the summer three large picnic gatherings at various places, at which a large number of the people directly under my charge were present, and I have had no reason to change my opinion that these gatherings are in the main innocent and beneficial, and to be encouraged as tending to draw the people out of their isolation and loneliness.

In August the Empire State Association of Deaf Mutes, the membership of which includes deaf people from all parts of the State, met at Elmira, and had a pleasant and profitable meeting. I attended the gathering and arranged two services in connection with it, one service being attended by the association in a body. At the same place and time a conference of the Clergy of the Church at work among the deaf and dumb was held, and was attended by every missionary actively at work, with a single exception. The Bishop of Central New York and the President of the Commission on Church Work among the Deaf and Dumb in the same Diocese were present. The conference discussed many questions of interest and importance, and I am hopeful that much good will result from the interchange of opinion and experience.

On June 5th I was present at the observance of "Founder's Day" at the Gallaudet Home at Poughkeepsie, and made an oral address upon Dr. Gallaudet's life and character. I am deeply interested in this institution, which stands as a lasting monument to the memory of a great and good man, and I believe that it deserves the support of all generous and philanthropic minds. In providing a refuge for the blind, aged and infirm, it is doing a work that no other institution is fitted to undertake.

During the year I have had several opportunities to confer with my co-workers in other fields, and to inspect the admirable work which they are doing. My visits to St. Ann's, New York, and All Souls', Philadelphia, have been especially helpful and stimulating. The latter is, I believe, the only Church for the deaf in the country organized upon strictly parochial lines, and with its earnest priest-in-charge, and with its two hundred or more communicants, it is doing much creditable work. Such an organization, however, is possible only in a very large city, and I am more than ever convinced that the strictly missionary methods which have been pursued in this Diocese since the beginning of our work are the only ones suited to the conditions existing here.

The sudden and unexpected death of the Rev. Dr. Pendleton at the very beginning of the year was a source of great sorrow, not only to myself but also to many of my people who had come to know and love him. His interest in the deaf was deep and generous, and dated back to the days when he was Rector of St. Luke's, Scranton. He was largely instrumental in the organization of the Commission on Church Work among the Deaf and Dumb, and he took warm interest in the progress of the mission. A busy and active man, in charge of a large parish in a rapidly growing city, he found time, as President of the Commission, to give the most careful and intelligent oversight to the affairs of the mission, and was never too busy to give me the benefit of his advice and assistance. His death brings with it a sense of personal loss, and my people and I shall long cherish an affectionate remembrance of his kindness, patience, and generosity.

The following is a statement of my receipts and expenditures during the year:

Receipts.

From the Treasurer of the Commission.....	$400 00
From the Treasurer of the Board of Missions.....	100 00
From offerings at services.....	102 42

In conclusion I wish to express my very hearty thanks to the Woman's Auxiliary of St. George's Parish, Schenectady, for the generous interest which they have taken in my work.

Acknowledging with gratitude the uniform kindness and consideration shown me by the Clergy and Laity, and especially by the Bishop, the Bishop Co-adjutor, and the members of the Commission, I am,

Very respectfully yours,

H. VAN ALLEN.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Enos, it was

Resolved, That the Commission on Church Work Among the Deaf and Dumb be continued for the ensuing year, with power to fill vacancies that may occur in their number during the recess of the Convention.

Resolved, That the Commission is authorized to call for contributions towards the prosecution of the work, and that the Clergy of the Diocese be requested to present the needs of this mission to their congregations.

The Right Rev. President appointed as the Commission on Church Work among the Deaf and Dumb, the Rev. Edgar A. Enos, D. D., the Rev. John N. Marvin, the Rev. George L. Richardson, the Rev. Edward T. Carroll, Mr. John Horrocks, Mr. John Hudson Peck, and Mr. Winsor B. French.

The Very Rev. Dean Talbot presented and read the REPORT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL COMMISSION OF THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

GENERAL SUBJECT.

The renewed interest which is being manifested in the matter of religious education in the Sunday Schools of the Church is one of the encouraging signs of the time. This movement has spread with such extraordinary rapidity that at present thirty-five Dioceses and Missionary jurisdictions have Sunday School Commissions at work, and the General Convention has recognized the need by appointing a Joint Commission on Sunday School Instruction to consider and report upon: "How to make the Sunday School more effective for the religious instruction and Church training of our people." While the various Dioceses differ as to methods and curricula, emphasis is everywhere being laid on the necessity of teacher training, subject graded curricula, more uniformity in the main lines of Sunday School work, and the introduction into the Sunday School of the improved methods of instruction which have won their way into secular education.

THE APPOINTMENT AND THE WORK OF THE FIRST YEAR OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL COMMISSION OF THE DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

At the Convention of 1904, the Bishop of the Diocese appointed a Commission of three Priests and two Laymen to consider and report upon the subject of religious instruction in the Sunday Schools of the Diocese.

The first meeting was held January 16, 1905, in Albany. The Rev. Ralph Birdsall was elected Secretary, and in order to obtain the necessary information a schedule of questions was drawn up which was sent to the Clergymen in charge of each parish and missionary station of the Diocese. Replies were received from seventy-six of the Clergy. A summary of information received is incorporated into this report. At the first meeting of the Commission it was decided to form an Auxiliary Committee of persons engaged either in Sunday School work or in secular education to act as advisers of the committee in planning the work to be done.

A second meeting to which the members of this committee were invited was held in Albany, May 15th, when the replies to the question paper were gone over, and an informal discussion of much interest and value followed, as a result of which it was decided to hold a conference for the teachers of Albany, Troy, and vicinity.

This conference was held on June 10th, the subject under discussion being the religious education of the child, and something over 100 teachers being in attendance. A second conference was held on the afternoon and evening of October 28th, the speakers in the afternoon being Mr. H. H. Pike and Rev. G. L. Richardson; in the evening, Dr. H. H. Oberly and Dr. W. W. Battershall.

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION.

Number of responses, 76; 7, no Sunday School; 2, refuse information. Schools reported, 67.

Time of Session: 41 at noon; others ranging from 9:30 to 3:30 P. M. 61 schools report boys and girls separately. Boys, 1,981; girls, 2,574. Boys, 43 per cent. of membership.

Missions Studied: 12 schools.

Church-going: 7 schools on festivals, 1 quarterly, 2 every Sunday at Evensong, 2 Evensong first Sunday in month, 26 occasionally, 14 never. In one school scholars marked for Church attendance.

Attention Is Drawn to the Following Points in this Summary.

1. Absence of anything approaching: (a) Uniformity of method of instruction; (b) Similarity of curricula (if public school instruction).

2. Absence of a systematic study of missions.

3. Less than one-half the Clergy report that they catechise the children in accordance with the rubric.

4. In the majority of the schools the support is from the chance contributions of the children, instead of being assumed by the parish as one of the departments of its legitimate work.

5. Lack of systematic cultivation of Church attendance.

The following statistics are also worthy of careful consideration:

The Sunday Schools of the Diocese of Albany reported in 1898 — Pupils, 10,344.

Officers, 1,310.

1901 — Pupils, 9,567.

Officers, 1,257.

1904 — Pupils, 9,337.

Officers, 1,168.

Decrease in seven years:

Pupils, 1,007, or 11 per cent.

Officers, 152, or 9 per cent.

RESOLUTION.

The following is recommended for adoption by this Convention:

Resolved, That the Sunday School Commission be continued as a permanent agency of the Diocese of Albany.

Resolved, That the membership of the Commission be increased to at least nine members, to be appointed by the President of the Convention.

Resolved, That the Commission is authorized to call for contributions for the prosecution of its work.

HENRY RUSSELL TALBOT,
Chairman.

GEORGE L. RICHARDSON,
Secretary.

On motion, the resolutions recommended by the Commission on Sunday School Instruction were adopted.

The Right Rev. President appointed as the Commission on Sunday School Instruction, the Very Rev. Henry R. Talbot, the Rev. George L. Richardson, the Rev. Roderick P. Cobb, the Rev. Oliver S. Newell, the Rev. Edgar L. Sanford, the Rev. Gilbert E. Pember, the Rev. William A. Masker, Jr., Mr. Robert E. Steele, Mr. Clarence E. Gillespie, Mr. George W. Daw, Mr. James W. Canaday, M. D., Mr. Robert S. Waterman.

On motion of the Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., it was Resolved, That a Committee be appointed to take into consideration the part of the Bishop's Address referring to the Missionary Thank Offering, and the whole subject as relating to this Diocese.

The Right Rev. President appointed as such Committee, the Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., Mr. Charles W. Tillinghast, Mr. Robert M. Townsend, Mr. Andrew B. Jones, Mr. Sidney G. Ashmore, and Mr. George W. Daw.

The Rev. Edgar A. Enos, D. D., presented and read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE SALARY OF THE BISHOP COADJUTOR.

In the absence of the Treasurer, Mr. Francis N. Mann, Jr., who is not here, and who, as I have just now learned, will not be here, on account of sudden illness, I am unable to make a detailed report of the financial affairs of the Committee. I am able, however, to report that the salary of the Bishop Coadjutor has been duly paid to November 1, 1905.

EDGAR A. ENOS,
Chairman.

On motion of the Secretary, Rule of Order 10. C. was suspended in order to permit the presentation at this time of reports from the regular committees of the House.

The Secretary read the reports of the Trustees of the Fund for Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergy and for Aged and Infirm Clergy, and the Rev. Edgar L. Sanford that of the Committee on the same.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE FUND FOR WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED CLERGYMEN.

The Trustees of the Fund for the Support of Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen present herewith the report of the Treasurer, showing receipts and disbursements, as follows, for the year ending November 20, 1905:

Receipts.

Balance on hand as reported at last Convention.....	$52 44
From investments	280 32
From premium on U. S. bond sold.....	51 25
From donations by friends.....	50 00

ALBANY, Nov. 20, 1905.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE AGED AND INFIRM CLERGY
FUND FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1904-1905.

The Trustees of the Fund for the Support of Aged and Infirm Clergy in the Diocese of Albany respectfully report that the receipts and disbursements for the year have been as reported in detail by the Treasurer, of which the following is a summary:

Receipts.

Balance on hand as reported at the last Convention.....	$64 34
From interest on investments.....	1,181 63
From contributions from parishes.....	627 48
	<hr/>
	$1,873 45

Disbursements.

For stipends	$1,700 00
For rent safe deposit box.....	7 50
For interest on notes.....	11 50
	<hr/>
	1,719 00
	<hr/>
	$154 45
Toward Permanent Fund	137 50
	<hr/>
Cash balance in National Commercial Bank November 20, 1905.....	$16 95

The item "Contributions from parishes, $627.48," contrasts favorably with the net amount of the corresponding item in the reports for 1904 and 1903. viz., for 1904, $463.42, and for 1903, $593.88, and is encouraging.

The amount of the contributions from parishes is still much less than it should be, and falls below the amount contributed in 1902, which was $703.88. There is really a deficit in cash received and disbursed this year of $33.05, as one of the stipendiaries requested the Treasurer to withhold his quarterly stipend of $50 and pay it to him later in the year. If this had been paid on October 1, 1905, as it should have been paid, the cash balance of $16.95, above reported, would have been wiped out and a deficit of $33.05 would have taken its place. The actual amount of the stipends for this year was $1,750, an increase of $62.50 over last year.

As the Diocese grows numerically and in age the number of the Clergy of right having claims upon this fund increases correspondingly, and it is the manifest duty of those having the immediate supervision of the collection of the parochial contributions to face the situation as it is and use their every endeavor to increase the revenues of this fund. The Bishop within the last two months made an urgent request of the Treasurer of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund for $150 for a particularly needy case which the Treasurer was unable to meet owing to a lack of funds.

The item "Interest on investments, $1,181.63," compared with the corresponding item of last year of $1,164.13, shows an increase of $17.50, and compared with the same item in the report of 1903, $1,087.64, shows an increase of $93.99.

The item "For stipends, $1,700," compared with the corresponding item of last year of $1,687.50, shows an increase of $12.50, but, as above stated, the real amount paid should have been $1,750, so that stipends really increased this year $62.50. Stipends paid in 1903 amounted to $1,247.50, which is $502.50 less than the amount demanded this year from the fund.

The item of $11.50 for interest on notes is due to the fact that, owing mainly to the delay in the payment of the interest upon the debt on the Bishop's house, which amounts annually to $396.63, the Treasurer had not sufficient funds on hand to pay the quarterly stipends as they fell due, and was compelled to borrow money temporarily on notes in order to pay them promptly. If this interest could be paid as it falls due, on January 1st and July 1st of each year, there would be little occasion to borrow money, and a saving in interest would result. The Treasurer of the Diocese, however, states that owing to the delay of many parishes in paying their semi-annual assessments he never has sufficient funds on hand to pay this interest until almost the close of each financial year. The notes upon which the above interest of $11.50 was incurred are now paid.

The Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund hold the following securities, which constitute the Permanent Fund:

Bond and Mortgage on Bishop's House, 4%.....	$3,600 00
Perry Judgment on Bishop's House, 4%.....	6,315 86
One Troy City Railway Bond, 5%.....	1,000 00
One Erie R. R. Gen. Lien Gold Bond, 4%.....	1,000 00
Three Wabash R. R. 2nd Mtg. Bonds, 5%.....	3,000 00
Three Atlanta, Knoxville & Northern R. R. 1st Mtg. Bonds, 5%...	3,000 00
One 1st Mtg. Gold Bond Union Electric Light & Power Co. of St. Louis, 5%	1,000 00
Two Schenectady Ry. Co. Con. Mtg. Bonds, 4½%.....	2,000 00
Two Virginia & Southwestern 1st Mtg. Bonds, 5%.....	2,000 00
Stolp Bond and Mortgage, 5%.....	300 00
Croissant Bond and Mortgage, 5%.....	500 00
Kerwin Bond and Mortgage, 5%.....	1,400 00
Hogan Bond and Mortgage, 6%.....	250 00
Cash in Albany City Savings Institution.....	9 38
Cash in Albany Savings Bank.....	5 40
	<hr/>
	$25,380 6

Of the securities held last year the People's Gas Light & Coke Company Chicago gold bond for $500, at 6%, matured and was paid. Four hundred dollars was also paid on the Stolp bond and mortgage, reducing it from $700 to $300. These moneys, with others, were used in the purchase of a $1,000 first mortgage gold bond of The Union Electric Light & Power Company of St. Louis, Mo., bearing 5% interest.

The securities comprising the Permanent Fund have always been listed their par value, but as the market value of the coupon bonds is above par the total value of the Permanent Fund is considerably greater than the value given above.

Complying with the resolutions adopted by past Conventions, the Trustees present the list of parishes contributing during the past year to the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, together with the amount contributed by each parish:

St. John's Parish, Stockport, N. Y., $8.63; St. Luke's, Mechanicville, N. Y., $1; Christ, Ballston Spa., N. Y., $10.71; St. John's, Delhi, N. Y., $3.83; Trinity

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE FUND FOR THE RELIEF OF WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED CLERGYMEN AND OF THE AGED AND INFIRM CLERGY FUND.

The committee to whom were submitted the reports of the trustees of these funds beg leave to submit the following statement:

1. We have examined the accounts of the treasurers, together with the vouchers attached, and find the same to be correct. Also the list of securities has been submitted to us and found satisfactory. The report of the Treasurer of Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund is self-explanatory. We have only to endorse it.

2. In regard to the other we regret that we cannot find a great mistake somewhere in this account, for it were far better that one of our number should be detected in a clerical error than that the Diocese should be convicted of remissness in so important a duty. But we find that it is not only true of this year but of past years that there is an entirely inadequate response on the part of our congregations to the call of this paramount duty, as witness the following quotations from previous reports:

1899, 34 parishes gave $358.60.
1900, 29 parishes gave $276.76.
1901, 29 parishes gave $432.90.
1902, 52 parishes gave $659.15.
1903, 38 parishes gave $452.25.
1904, 43 parishes gave $564.88.

While by the present report we see that 47 parishes gave in 1905 $617.75. These facts go to prove that this fund is certainly not viewed by our congregations in its true light. We cannot believe that out of 106 parishes in union with the Convention less than one-half would be found to send any kind of offering to this fund unless it were thought by them to be a minor consideration. And yet, when we say "Less than one-half," we are forgetting that the number of contributing congregations was less than one-half the number of parishes in union with the Convention, and that of those contributing congregations some were missions. We, therefore, desire to have the Convention listen to the reading of the contributing congregations for the past year, and note, 1. That they do not consist solely of parishes. 2. That they are not only or chiefly of wealthy congregations, but represent all sorts except the forgetful kind.

St. John's, Stockport; St. Luke's, Mechanicville; All Saints', Round Lake; St. John's, East Line; Christ, Ballston; Trinity, Granville; St. John's, Cohoes; St. Paul's, Troy; St. Mark's, Malone; Christ, Cooperstown; St. Augustine's, Ilion; Christ, West Burlington; St. Matthew's, Unadilla; St. Paul's, Albany; Trinity, Whitehall; Christ, Troy; St. Luke's, Cambridge; St. George's, Schenectady; Holy Cross, Troy; St. Paul's, Salem; St. Luke's, Catskill; Trinity, Fairfield; St. Stephen's, Schuylerville; Holy Innocents, Albany; All Saints', Hudson; St. Peter's, Albany; St. John's, Johnstown; St. John's, Troy; Christ, Herkimer; Messiah, Glens Falls; Grace, Waterford; St. Barnabas', Troy; Trinity, Potsdam; Messiah, Rensselaer; The Cross, Ticonderoga; Christ, Cox-sackie; St. Mary's, Springfield Centre; St. Eustace by the Lake; St. Hubert's, Newman; All Saints', North Granville; Christ, Duaneburgh; St. Paul's, Kinderhook; Christ, Schenectady; Bethesda, Saratoga; St. John's, Ogdensburg; Calvary, Burnt Hills.

This shows that we need, above all things, to bring this matter to the front as a live issue, one that concerns not only the hearts but the consciences of our people; one that involves a business obligation, and should be met in a business-like way. We therefore offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That this Convention deeply feels the responsibility of maintaining and increasing the fund for the relief of Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen.

Resolved, That Canon XIII, Section 2, is not a dead letter, and that, therefore, it is the duty of every congregation in this Diocese to contribute at least once in each year to the relief of Aged and Infirm Clergymen and of Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen.

Resolved, That every congregation in the Diocese be, and hereby is, requested to set apart a special Sunday or Holy Day on which to take an offering for each of these funds, and at once notify the treasurers of such dates, so that he may know when to expect remittances.

Resolved, That hereafter the treasurers of these funds shall incorporate in their reports lists of contributing congregations.

H. LIVINGSTON,

THOMAS F. RICKETTS,
THOMAS MANSFIELD.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Sanford, the resolutions recommended by the Committee on the Funds for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen and for Aged and Infirm Clergy were adopted by the Convention.

The Secretary read the Report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, and the Rev. H. P. LeF. Grabau that of the Committee on the same.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE EPISCOPAL FUND.

To the Convention:

The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany beg to submit the following report:

Pursuant to an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, duly passed at the session of 1904, and in pursuance of a resolution duly offered and adopted at the last Convention, authorizing the transfer as provided in said Act, the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany have assigned, conveyed, and delivered to The Union Trust Company of Albany, all the securities held by such trustees, as more specifically enumerated in their last report to the Convention, together with the balance of income on hand at that time. Such transfer was made on the 22d day of November, 1904.

On the 20th day of January, 1905, there was received from the executors under the last will and testament of John H. Van Antwerp, deceased, the sum of $4,762.50, being a legacy of $5,000, less the inheritance tax of $237.50. This amount was, on the day of its receipt by the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany, turned over to The Union Trust Company of Albany to be invested by it in accordance with the provisions of the Act above referred to, and which Act is known as chapter 244 of the Laws of 1904.

A list of the securities now in the hands of The Union Trust Company of Albany, together with the report of the receipts and disbursements by said company, is hereto attached and made part of this report.

The bequest to the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany by John H. Van Antwerp, deceased, is given by the fourth clause of his will, and reads as follows:

"To the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany, the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) in trust, which shall become a part of the principal of that fund, and shall be invested solely as such; the income of which is to be applied solely towards paying the pro rata share of the Parish of St. Paul's Church (Episcopal), now situate on Lancaster street in said city of Albany, toward the salary of the Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the said Diocese, and of his successor and successors in that office. This bequest is made, and shall be accepted upon the express condition, that, upon and after the receipt thereof by the said Trustees of said Fund, no assessment, except said income, shall be made, levied or assessed at any time thereafter upon said Parish of St. Paul's Church, directly or indirectly, by any committee, or otherwise, to make up any deficiency or deficiencies in the annual salary of said Bishop, or of his successor or successors. The sole object of this legacy is to provide for the raising of an annual sum and income equivalent to the annual assessment (now two hundred dollars), which has been for several years annually assessed on said Parish by the Committee on the Salary of the Bishop, to make up part of the deficiency of the income from the existing capital of the fund to pay the salary of the said Bishop in full, annually."

The assessment for this purpose on St. Paul's Church has heretofore been $100 per year, and as the income from the Van Antwerp bequest should certainly reach that amount, the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund accepted the foregoing conditions and took the legacy, less the tax thereon.

THOS. R. WADE,
N. TEEB.

The Rev. George H. P. Grout read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Your Committee on Unfinished Business beg leave to report that the only business left over from the Convention of last year being the final approval and adoption of an amendment to Article III of the Constitution concerning Special Conventions, they recommend that said amendment be now finally approved and adopted.

G. H. P. GROUT,
Chairman.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Grout, the following resolution was adopted by a vote by orders: 52 Clergy and 24 Churches voting in the affirmative. none in the negative:

Resolved, That the following amendment to the Constitution having been approved by the last Annual Convention be now finally approved and adopted, viz., amend Article III of the Constitution so that it shall read as follows:

ARTICLE III.

Of Special Conventions.

The Bishop may call a Special Convention at any time; but when requested to do so by a three-fourths vote of the Standing Committee he shall call such Convention; in each case he shall give thirty days' notice thereof. When there is no Bishop the Standing Committee shall have power to call a Special Convention, giving ninety days' notice thereof.

AFFIRMATIVE VOTE. — Clergy: The Right Rev. R. H. Nelson, D. D., the Rev. Messrs. Armstrong, Babcock, Battershall, D. D., Beeson, Blanchet, Bleecker, Bold, Borden-Smith, Caird, Carey, S. T. NEGATIVE VOTE. — Clergy, 0; Churches, 0.

The Right Rev. President declared the amendment duly adopted by the Convention, and announced his own concurrence in the change.

The Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., read the REGISTRAR'S REPORT, 1905.

The Registrar would respectfully report that after two years of confusion, but careful security from damage, the archives and journals are once more in order, and available for inspection and reference. Through the courtesy of the Cathedral authorities, and of Mr. Oscar L. Hascy in particular, the former choir room in the crypt has been assigned to the Registrar as his office and library; new shelves have been built, the former cases placed in position, electric lighting provided, and lately the Dean has kindly assigned to this room the large and handsome desk and desk-chair presented to the Chapter by the estate of the Rev. Dr. Carter. So that ample accommodations are provided, and every convenience afforded the Registrar of the Diocese. The new shelves now hold the bound Journals, and the old cases the unbound files, a marked improvement in the arrangement of these documents. We have complete sets of the Journals of all the Dioceses within the State of New York, and many years of Pennsylvania, Connecticut, and New Jersey before our Diocese was organized. Of all other Dioceses our sets are complete from 1869, with the exception of eight Journals, Alabama, 1900; Easton, 1903 and 1904; Marquette, 1904; Michigan, 1900; Milwaukee, 1903; Springfield, 1901, and Texas, 1901. Of the Journals of the year 1905, 47 have been received out of 63, and nearly all the Journals of missionary jurisdictions. Quite a number of sets are ready for binding. Some miscellaneous pamphlets have been received, and the Year Books of St. John's and St. Barnabas', Troy. The matter of parish histories and historical clippings receives due attention. The collection of photographs and prints of the Church properties of the Diocese now includes 52 parishes and 171 pictures. It has been the aim of the Registrar to collect and preserve everything relating to the first quarter century of the Diocese, and these twelve years of the second quarter, during which the Bishop has been making history, and the Diocese progress along true and permanent lines on foundations strongly laid, so that its origins and memorabilia gain in value every year. I have even a copy of the programme for the Bishop's Consecration in St. Peter's Church, thirty-seven years ago come next Purification Feast Day. It may not be amiss to note that St. Paul's, Charlton, has been added this year, and Trinity, Athens, and Christ Church, Cocksackie, will be added next year to our list of centenary churches, of which there are now sixteen, and we have printed histories of nearly all of them.

The large increase both in amount and in the number of parishes contributing to this fund is very gratifying. The record of the year shows receipts more than twice as great as the year previous, an increase of $517.04 to be exact. These contributions come from 95 parishes as against 38 in the year 1903-1904. Assistance has been given to seven different students, an increase of two over last year, and all applications for aid which have been approved by the Bishop up to the present date have been filled.

The fund is now in a very satisfactory condition. The increasing interest in it is very satisfactory evidence that its usefulness is being more and more thoroughly appreciated.

SELDEN E. MARVIN,
Treasurer.

The committee appointed to examine the "Report of the Theological Education Fund" begs leave to state that it has read the report with interest and commends it to the Convention.

OLIVER SHAW NEWELL,
WINSOR B. FRENCH.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Kroll, the ballot was dispensed with, and the Rev. Joseph Carey, S. T. D., was unanimously chosen Trustee of the General Theological Seminary for a term of three years.

On motion of the Rev. W. W. Battershall, D. D., the Convention took a recess until 8 o'clock P. M.

HALF-PAST FIVE O'CLOCK IN THE AFTERNOON.

The Evening Prayer was said in the Cathedral, the Precentor officiating.

EIGHT O'CLOCK IN THE EVENING.

The Convention reassembled in the Cathedral.

A special Missionary Service, set forth by the Bishop, was said, the Rev. the Precentor of the Cathedral and the Rev. William Martin Sidener officiating.

After the service the Right Rev. President took the chair and called the Convention to order.

Mr. William Gorham Rice read the REPORT OF THE TREASURER OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS FOR THE YEAR ENDING NOVEMBER 20, 1905.

The annual report of the Treasurer of the Board of Missions is presented herewith: During the year all stipends have been paid on the quarter days and other charges have been promptly met. The thanks of the Board of Missions are due to the Clergy and Treasurers of those parishes which have adopted and carried out the method of quarterly payment to the Treasurer of accepted apportionments. Regular remittance of these contributions before the fifteenth days of January, April, July, and October is of great benefit to the economical operation of the funds of the Board, and also tends to make these payments by the various parishes a matter of greater ease.

It is important, however, to give weight to the fact that the failure of some parishes to maintain and fulfill their former voluntarily assumed pledges has resulted in a gradual reduction of the receipts—a reduction now amounting to about $1,000 annually.

The increased income from recent gifts which the Board now begins to receive is already employed in maintaining missions in those parts of our Diocese which most need aid.

Premiums on bonds redeemed, sold or acquired have been added to or deducted from the principal, as respectively required, in calculating at par all securities held, as stated in the report for year 1901-2. Since that time securities have been entered at actual cost, where purchased or at their value as received from executors of estates making bequests to the Board. No stocks except those received in recent bequests are now owned by the Board of Missions, all its securities otherwise being mortgage bonds or loans secured by mortgage upon improved real estate, together with a note for a small amount representing a loan made by the Treasurer in 1895. All securities were examined and handled in detail by the Committee, of which Mr. George W. Daw, of Troy, is Chairman, appointed pursuant to the provisions of Canon XX, and were found to be as stated in the Treasurer's report. All securities so far as possible are registered in name of "Treasurer of the Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany."

AUDITING COMMITTEE CERTIFICATE.

The committee appointed to audit the accounts of the Treasurer of the Board of Missions report that the statement and vouchers of the Treasurer have been examined and found correct.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 20, 1905.

WALTER H. LAROM,
GEORGE A. WELLS,
Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. C. RICE,
Treasurer.

The Rev. John N. Marvin read the Report of the Board of Missions and that of the Diocesan Missionary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The Board of Missions submits the following report: The mission work in the Diocese has been advanced during the year past as was anticipated. All along the line it has been strengthened and new and successful work begun. The Bishop Coadjutor, by his presence and sympathy, has put new inspiration into the work.

Members of the Archdeaconries at their several meetings during the past year have freely offered their co-operation in any way the Bishop and Bishop Coadjutor saw fit to advise.

Under direction of Bishop Nelson the Diocesan Missionary has organized the mission of Grace Church, Cobleskill. A Deacon is in charge under the Diocesan Missionary. After many years of failure the work here is successfully established.

The same may be said of the work at Fine, Edwards, South Edwards and vicinity in St. Lawrence county. Here the Bishop Coadjutor has placed a Lay Reader, who is a candidate for orders, who is to work under the Diocesan Missionary.

At Bloomingdale, under Mr. Kling, the work has advanced by bounds, the Church has been greatly improved, the Missionary's salary fully paid, land, material, and some money given for a Rectory.

At Massena the new Rectory is completed and the Rector and family are occupying it. The Church has been consecrated and there is much enthusiasm. The Rector, Rev. Mr. Eastman, is doing excellent missionary work, holding services at several important points in the vicinity.

At Lake Placid the missions of St. Eustace and St. Hubert are rejoicing over a successful year under the Rev. Mr. Sidener. Their finances, which were in a deplorable state, have been greatly improved, and the more important work of building on the splendid foundation laid by the late revered Missionary William W. Moir successfully begun. The new and beautiful memorial Rectory at Tupper Lake is about finished. The Church has been greatly improved by the placing of a foundation under it.

At Sabael, on Indian Lake, in Hamilton county, through the efforts of Dr. Bonesteel, services have been held for several summers, the Rev. Dr. Dows, of New York city, taking services during the last summer. To the sole credit of the Rev. William M. Cook, of Ilion, we have a Church on Fourth Lake of the Fulton Chain, in the Adirondacks. It has been built within the last three months after plans drawn by the Rev. E. R. Armstrong, of Sharon Springs, on the lot generously given by Dr. and Mrs. W. Seward Webb, about midway of this large and beautiful lake, on what is known as Lago Bay. The Chapel stands high above the water, commanding exquisite views of mountain, lake, and forest. It is forty-two feet long by twenty-two wide, a choir room and vestry on either side of the chancel extending the width of that portion of the building to thirty-two feet. The "squat" tower and short spire are over the chancel. The outside is shingled; the inside is finished, like most of the "camps" in the woods, without ceiling or plaster, and the windows are all plain glass except those in the chancel, of which there are three, the central one, formerly in old Christ Church, Herkimer, having been donated by the Rector and vestry of that parish, and valued at upwards of one hundred dollars. The total cost to date is $1,429.18, all but $400 of which has been paid, and of this $225 are subscribed.

The Church at Bloomville has been finished and is now in use to the great happiness of the congregation. Many other items of renewed strength and advancing interest might be told.

The Bishop, Bishop Coadjutor, and Board of Missions are encouraged, but would be more so were there not another side to the story, and that, the usual sad one—the lack of means to keep up the advancement. The proceeds from the legacies received and soon to be available will not cover the necessary demands upon the Board. There seems to be no lack of sympathy with the Board in its effort to keep up and go on with the missionary work in the Diocese, but this sympathy is useless without the practical effort of the laity to give the Board the means to accomplish it.

The Treasurer's report does not show the labor and anxiety which come of the efforts to get the apportionments from parishes and missions that the missionaries may be promptly paid. The Board would recommend more promptness in sending in the quarterly apportionments.

Four missionary priests have died within the year: The Rev. John Anketell, West Burlington; the Rev. Thomas Boone, Gilbertsville; the Rev. W. G. Coote, Deposit; the Rev. A. C. Macdonald, Waddington.

There have been during the year fourteen appointments and thirteen resignations. The Board of Missions is again indebted to the Treasurer for his admirable administration of the funds.

J. N. MARVIN,
Secretary.

THE REPORT OF THE DIOCESAN MISSIONARY.

For lack of time, and because of the Bishop Coadjutor's full review of the work, my report must be brief and formal. Each of the eleven years has been a year of increase in the work placed in my hands. The past year has been no exception. In fact, with the advance made in the missionary work and other duties, made necessary by this advance, I have found no time for idleness.

I have supplied vacant mission stations and parishes coming under the Board of Missions, assisting the deacons and looking up necessary financial matters. I have organized the mission work at Cobleskill and that centering around Fine in St. Lawrence county. My individual work has been greater this year than ever. This because of the increase in population in the small villages, of whom many are invalids. The Stonywood Sanitarium for working girls with tuberculosis has been one special point of my missionary labour worthy of notice. We have had an average of thirty communicants out of the one hundred girls in this house. I have ministered not only to our own communicants but to all the inmates, assisting them both spiritually and materially. There are many interesting experiences in this and other like work that I could relate had I the time. One new feature of my work has been among the foreign element, those of the Oriental churches who are settling in increasing numbers in the country and in the villages of the Diocese. They are grateful for our recognition. In many cases they are coming to the Church for the Sacraments. Only a short time ago I administered Holy Communion to a Syrian who came over seventy-five miles for this special purpose.

I have attended the various Archdeaconry meetings, reporting my work among them. The deaf mute work has had my close attention, both as Treasurer and as missionary. The Brotherhood of St. Andrew in the Diocese has been helpful to me (their Chaplain) in my work, and arrangements are being made to increase their missionary efforts in all parts of the Diocese.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Aaron Vanderpoel, of Kinderhook, a traveling library has been given for the use of mission stations, a station, designated by me, having the use of the books for several months, then passing them on to other stations, all expenses paid by the donor.

I have acted as Secretary of the Board of Missions, as Assistant Treasurer of the Board of Missions, as Secretary for the Bishop Coadjutor Salary Committee, Chaplain of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. I have managed and edited the Diocese of Albany, as in the past, without any expense to the Diocese. I have assisted the Bishop and the Bishop Coadjutor in the missionary work. I have made addresses on Diocesan Missions in many Churches, assisting the Rectors and Missionaries in raising their missionary apportionment. I have visited many of our communicants who were in the hospitals of the Diocese, ministering to their wants.

These are the prominent objects in my year's work. The details cannot be given here. My journal shows every moment of my working days fully taken up. As in the past years I have taken no vacation.

In conclusion I beg to acknowledge aid given me by the Woman's Auxiliary of Christ Church, Hudson, and by several individuals. The clothing given me has been gratefully received by the poor in the mission stations. The small offerings of money have enabled me to give comfort to the sick and poor.

The summary of my work is as follows:

The Rev. Charles E. S. Rasay read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DIOCESAN MISSIONS.

Your committee to whom has been referred the Report of the Board of Missions finds in that report much that is gratifying, encouraging, and hopeful.

It is gratifying to know that the year has closed with no deficit; it is encouraging to note that so many parishes have paid in full their apportionment; it is hopeful to note the excellent work accomplished.

The Diocesan Missionary is to be congratulated that so many opportunities of work have been opened to him, and the Diocese should be thankful for the manner in which he has seized upon those opportunities and improved them. An added cause of thankfulness arises from the many visitations of the Bishop Coadjutor, which have proved most helpful and inspiring, especially to the weaker mission stations, leaving behind him always a sense of increased vigor and of lasting benediction.

Yet, even partial success should bring added watchfulness. Causes for congratulation should deepen the sense of responsibility. Perfection of attainment is yet a long way off, and there are difficulties to be overcome.

First, we note with deep regret the still all-too-large list of parishes that have not paid in full their apportionment. It seems difficult for many Christian people to understand that the Lord's business ought to be attended to in a business-like manner. When a parish is received into union with the Diocese that parish definitely assumes certain obligations. These obligations make the payment of its apportionment for Diocesan Missions a debt of honor. To fail to pay that debt is dishonorable. Your committee realizes that no parish priest can force his people to meet the honorable obligations of the parish; but certainly "fit words fitly spoken in season," and faithful persistence in faithful teaching, will accomplish much. Let each of us ask himself if he has been really faithful in this matter.

Then, too, payment should be made promptly. "He gives twice who gives promptly" is a saying that has a deal of truth in it; and the embarrassment caused the Treasurer by not receiving promptly money justly due, the withholding until the very opening of the Convention, after his books are closed, of one-third or one-half of the annual apportionment of a parish are evils that ought to be remedied.

The second matter your committee desires to bring to the attention of this Convention is the urgent need of enlarging the missionary work of the Diocese.

The Church is asked for in places where it has not yet been. In many places where it has been established there is a crying need of Church buildings, of some sort of parish house with reading rooms for men and boys who have no place in which to spend their evenings but the saloon or the street; and because of the lack of these and other necessary things the work languishes, the mission so well begun is dying. In many instances the stipends of Missionaries should be increased. A priest working often amidst uncongenial surroundings, in some cases isolated from even nearby towns for a great part of the year, with perhaps a family to support, with constant demands upon his charity, should receive a stipend equal in amount at least to that paid to a day laborer on the street. Certainly many of the stipends should be increased.

Let the list of apportionments be carefully revised and judiciously augmented. For all these things can be accomplished, and more, with the putting forth of proper effort. If we pray for these things, and work to answer our own prayer, God will stir up the wills of His people to carry on this work—His work.

Greater effort than ever before must be put forth this coming year. More money than has ever before been raised in one year for this purpose must be raised this coming year. May God give us grace to think, to will, to do, that which is right.

The summary of my acts is as follows:

Confirmations, 1,416; celebrations of the Holy Communion, public, 67, private, 2; baptisms, adults, 5, infants, 10; marriages, 3; Priests ordained, 5; deacons ordained, 3; Church consecrated, 1; sermons, 209; addresses, 8; parishes and missions visited, 136; visits to parishes and missions, 164; mission organized, 1; missions reorganized, 2; consent given to consecration of Bishops, 2; consent given to election of Bishop Coadjutor, 1; benediction of a choir screen, a school library building, and an altar.

When I stood in this place, one year ago, to deliver my first address as the Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese, it seemed to me presumptuous that I should attempt to tell the Convention anything about the work into which I had so recently entered. Another year of experience has not relieved me of diffidence in approaching the subject, but has, on the contrary, intensified the sense of insufficiency with which I face the problems of our missionary work.

After a fairly complete visitation of the Diocese, I find that it has awakened in me two sets of feelings which contend for the mastery.

On the one hand there is dismay at the magnitude of the task, and, on the other, there is enthusiasm for the work. I am glad to say that the enthusiasm is in the ascendant, and that the dismay is retiring from the field.

It would be impossible for me to state here how greatly I have been helped to this hopeful attitude by my observation of the work which is being done by the clergy, but I must tell them here that I have found inspiration in my visits to them, and have been made to feel that the Diocese is a living organism thrilling with the spirit of loyalty and devotion to the service of the King.

That there should be discouragements, and that there are difficult problems here and there, does not detract from the general hopefulness of the outlook. The Church's best work has always been accomplished in the face of trials, and there are none confronting us now which have not been overcome in the past, and which will not be overcome in the future.

The difficulty of supplying regular ministrations in small rural parishes and missions has been set before nearly every Convention, until there may be a temptation on the part of some to accept this as a chronic and incurable malady. But I am altogether unwilling to acquiesce in such a hopeless conclusion, and I believe that there are two remedies which, if properly administered, will go far toward relieving the ill condition. Of these the more obvious, and perhaps the more easily to be found, is to increase the stipends paid for this kind of work. Not that this will entirely solve the problem, for I am convinced that the frequent changes are not altogether or even chiefly due to pecuniary considerations. Our clergy are not mercenary, but they are subject to human necessities, and they are, for the most part, responsible for other lives than their own, so that they are justified in accepting calls to parishes which can provide an adequate living for them and their families.

I therefore rejoice in the immediate prospect of some improvement in this condition. Owing to a considerable increase in the Permanent Fund of the Board of Missions, it will be possible this year to expend about $1,700 of additional income, in supplementing a few of the smallest stipends, and in strengthening some missions which have failed to grow through lack of sufficient ministrations. It will be possible to reorganize two or three of our stations so as to give them resident priests under whom they may hope to develop toward independence of missionary aid.

At this point, I feel constrained to call attention to a possible danger in our improved financial condition. The increase in income from invested funds might be regarded as affording relief from the burden laid upon the parishes for the support of Diocesan Missions. I have not heard any suggestion of this from those who have been contributors in the past, and it may be that the danger of which I speak is purely imaginary. It is, however, a possibility, and, as it seems to me, this is the proper time to face it, in order that we may commit ourselves definitely to the only course in which we can fulfil our obligation as stewards of a great trust. It ought to be recognized that even with the increased income which is now available there is only a partial provision for the work already undertaken, and this will appear from the fact that but for occasional vacancies in the aided parishes and missions the treasurer would be unable to pay the amount appropriated for stipends, while work which is suffering for more effective organization has had to wait until larger means could be furnished. There is, therefore, no ground for believing that there can be any relaxation of effort without injury to the workers and the work.

The least annual amount with which the present organized mission work of the Diocese can be effectively accomplished is $20,000, and it would be a fatal mistake to check our progress toward that standard of efficiency.

I have spoken of the work already established, but do not wish to be understood as implying that there is no obligation toward places where new missions should be planted. One such has been organized at Cobleskill with every promise of growth, and there are many other points at which there is opportunity for our Church which we ought to seize without delay.

There are three things which ought to be kept in mind as representing our duty to the missionary work. First, an increase of the voluntary offerings for Diocesan Missions in all the parishes. Second, the enlargement of the Permanent Fund to an unlimited amount. Third, the wise and faithful use of all that we now have in the treasury, or that shall become available during the year.

This is the first of the two remedies for our present condition. The second will be more difficult to discover and to apply, but it consists in educating Christian people to perceive the importance of rural missionary work, until enthusiasm for it shall send specially qualified men into the field.

It seems to me that writers and speakers upon the subject of Church work have overlooked a very significant fact; namely, that fully three-fourths of this is done in rural parishes, and also that from the small towns and villages the stream of life flows into great cities to refresh or to poison them according to the moral and religious training which has been given at the source. In the State of New York we find that, outside of the city of Greater New York, five-eighths of the population are living in towns of less than ten thousand inhabitants, while, in other parts of the United States, the proportion is probably greater. Here, then, is the greatest of the Church's opportunities, and yet it is open to question whether, in the training of men for the ministry, due emphasis is laid upon the need of special vocation, special consecration, and special preparation for this work. The appeal of Foreign Missions finds its way to the hearts of men who are ready to make sacrifices for God's service; the cry of the poor in large cities draws both men and women to labor in these ever-growing centres of life, and great care is exercised in the selection and training of those to whom positions are offered in these departments of Church activity. But country work is neither studied nor exploited as being of sufficient importance to demand men of the highest capabilities, actuated by the highest motives, and trained by experts for the difficult task that is set before them. There can be no question that the personal sacrifice required for this work is equal to or greater than that of any other, and it is equally clear that none but the best men in the Church are competent to seize the opportunities offered and to produce the results which shall make the country a reservoir of moral and spiritual life. The type of man required for this is not that of popular fiction; the well-bred scholar who likes the opportunity for study which a little village parish seems to afford; not the restless man who is merely waiting to be called to a larger place; but the man with burning love for souls, who goes out to find the sheep scattered in lonely valleys and on mountain sides; who goes from house to house instructing, guiding, warning, comforting those who live beyond the reach of regular Church services and ministrations. This is not an impossible ideal, but it is, rather, a description of men in our own Diocese, whose lives are rich and full, because they are lives which know the joy of Apostolic labor and the reward which comes with the love of hungry souls whom they have fed with the bread of life.

I know that there is another side to this question, and no one can be more appreciative than I of the plea for the wives and children who are deprived of social and educational advantages. But realizing all of this I still venture to believe that when the true man is ready to forsake personal gain for the Kingdom of Heaven's sake, the true woman will be found ready to go with him and to share his sacrifice. And here I would call attention to what seems to me a fallacy. It is said sometimes that an unmarried clergy could do the rural work better and at less cost to the Church. The question of cost is not the most important one, but let me say that the wives of some clergymen seem to possess the wondrous gift of multiplying the practical power of each dollar until it does at least the work of two. What is more important, however, than this is the fact that in many rural parishes the lives of the clergy would be exceedingly lonely but for the companionship and sympathy of their wives. It should be remembered also that a true family life in the Rectory has a great moral and religious value in the country places, where it becomes a centre of wholesome influence and an object lesson in Christian living. This is, of course, a matter entirely apart from the general question of a married or unmarried clergy, a question which must be one of vocation rather than of theory. But what I am concerned with is the fact that in the greater number of rural stations we have married priests whose wives are a great help to them and to their work, and that their support is our most evident duty.

The question of education must of course be faced, and no one will be disposed to ask that the father and mother who are united in readiness to sacrifice themselves should permit their children to lack a thorough preparation for useful work in the world. No complete answer to this problem has yet offered itself, but I hope that in time endowments will be established by which all of the children of the clergy may have access to the best schools of or within the Diocese. I am convinced that this and other objections can be met when a fuller appreciation of the importance of the work shall call a large number of our best men to devote their lives to it.

There are other matters to which my attention has been called in the course of the visitations, and I should have been glad to consider all of them if time and space would permit. There are two which seem to me to be of special importance: namely, the alleged indifference of men to the religious work of the Church, and the question of our relation to other Christian bodies.

I should be sorry to admit that there is a general apathy toward religion on the part of men, for I think that much evidence of a contrary nature can be produced. But it is true that many of our clergy are confronted by the difficulty of awakening a real religious zeal on the part of men who are none the less willing to give assistance in the management of temporalities. To the clergy who are thus troubled I wish to say two things; first, that this problem was encountered in a far more discouraging form by the Master whom they serve; and secondly, that the imitation of His spirit in dealing with it is the best way to attain the desired end. Our Lord faced the indifference of the world with absolute confidence in the power of His Gospel to win the hearts of men, with entire readiness to enter sympathetically into the lives which He sought to influence, and with unwearied patience toward those who were slow to respond to His teaching. Moreover, He won men by appealing to their capacity for self-sacrifice. May it not be that the apparent indifference of so many men to the life and work of the Church is due to failure on our part to appeal to their highest motives? The highest motive which can influence a human life is the desire to glorify God by giving one's self for the eternal good of others. It is the missionary motive in its broadest and truest sense, and I believe that this is the key which alone can unlock the doors of that treasure chamber which contains the potential wealth of a man's usefulness in the Church. A year ago there was started, in Detroit, the "Laymen's Forward Movement on Behalf of the General Missions of the Church," and very recently a conference was held in Chicago to take further steps in organizing this great Missionary Campaign. No one can have read the accounts of this meeting without feeling that it represents a significant awakening of the men of the Church to the true responsibilities of Christian manhood. "The Laymen's Forward Movement!" Is there not inspiration in the very name? It shows what some men of the Church are thinking of, and when it is studied more carefully it will declare very plainly that in order to give men an interest in the Church it must be made clear to them that Church work represents an opportunity to do some good to others by the sacrifice of self. Many years ago there was a man who saw a vision concerning Judah and Jerusalem. It was a vision of evil days, of abounding sin, and of neglected religion. Then this man saw a vision of God in His holiness, and he cried, "Woe is me, for I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips." Then he saw in his vision an angel bringing to him the message of pardon and cleansing, and immediately after he heard the voice of the Lord, saying, "Whom shall I send and who will go for us?" and he said, "Here am I; send me." There is before us the vision of moral and spiritual need; the vision also of God upon His throne, high and lifted up; and there is in every man the possibility of saying, "Here am I; send me." It is useless to reiterate exhortations to "go to Church," or to "take some interest in religious things;" we must find what each man can do for the souls of other men; we must show them how they can do it; and above all we must come before them as prophets who have seen the vision and obeyed it. I offer at this time no specific suggestion as to organization. We have already the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, and many parochial guilds; and it has been suggested that we ought to have a Churchmen's Club as other Dioceses have. I plead for no one organization, but for a real "Laymen's Forward Movement" in this Missionary Diocese, and I trust that the time is not far distant in which no man will feel satisfied with his life unless he is doing all that lies in his power to promote the purpose for which God made the world. There is no lack of work to be done. In the Sunday School there is opportunity for training children in the ways of truth and righteousness, and there is no line of Church activity in which true service bears more abundant fruit. In guilds and societies there is scope for usefulness, and in the general life of every community it is possible for men to stand as witnesses for that which is true and right. There is work for every man, and more than this, it is possible for a real leader to find a man for every work.

Closely associated with this is the question of our relation to other religious bodies, and this comes before us with special interest now, because of the conference which just closed its sessions in New York city, and which represents a movement toward the closer Federation of Christian denominations. It is impossible not to see in this movement a part of the general tendency toward a reunion of Christendom, and because the growing desire for unity must be a work of the Holy Spirit, grave responsibility is laid upon us to do our full share in promoting that for which we so earnestly pray.

I do not understand that the conference in New York proceeded upon any assumption that the religious bodies represented there were prepared to enter at that time into a true corporate relation with one another, and certainly, if such a proposal had been made, our Church would have had no commission entrusted with authority to act. It was a conference upon lines of work in which practical co-operation is possible, even under present conditions of division, and it was an effort to do on a large scale what has been successfully accomplished in a smaller way by the clergy in their own parishes. It is true that steps were taken by the conference to organize a Federal Council in which the various religious bodies shall be officially represented. Whether this is practicable will appear when the details of the plan are made known, and whether our Church can be represented in such a council will be discussed at the next meeting of the General Convention, which is the only body competent to act upon a motion to that effect. Personally, I am inclined to regret that the scope of the proposed federation should be limited, practically, to the bodies which are not in outward communion with the Church of Rome. It may be vain to dream of healing the breach with that large part of the Church of Christ, but I have sufficient faith to believe that, with God, even this is possible, and I trust that in the later consideration of the matter care will be taken to avoid any action which may emphasize that difference or widen that breach. So far as the present is concerned, it is possible for us, without abandoning a single principle for which the Church stands, to accept opportunities for co-operation with other religious bodies in advancing the cause of Christian righteousness, and I cannot believe that one of our clergy or laity dissents from this view or would care to see the Church left in the unenviable position of isolated uselessness when any opportunity is offered for concerted effort toward the common good. When, however, we go on to ask by what particular means this is to be done, and in what ways the clergy are to share in the work of co-operation, it is sufficiently clear to me that no general answer can be given. I have found that our clergy are for the most part working out the details of the matter in their own way, and as local circumstances permit, and I am satisfied that it may safely be left in their hands. There are, however, two dangers against which, as it seems to me, we should guard. First, there is danger of hindering God's work by our indifference; and secondly, there is danger of hindering it by our impatience. The two are not found in people of the same temperament, and it may be profitable for each of us to examine himself in order to see which is likely to be a danger to him. We all believe that the Spirit of God is drawing the hearts of men together, and we should be all ready to follow His guidance which He will make clear if we ask Him.

And now let us commend ourselves and our work to Him for whom it is done. The year past has brought me much happiness, the future is bright with hope.

After the taking of an offertory for Diocesan Missions the Convention adjourned to Wednesday morning.

SECOND DAY.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, November 22, 1905.

7:00 O'CLOCK.

In the Cathedral the Holy Communion was administered, the Very Rev. Dean Talbot officiating.

NINE O'CLOCK.

Morning Prayer was said in the Cathedral by the Dean.

The Right Rev. President took the chair and called the Convention to order in the Graduates' Hall of St. Agnes School.

The minutes of the previous day were read and adopted.

The names of the Clergy and Lay Deputies not present on the first day were called by the Secretary, and one Clergyman* and five Lay Deputies† were found to be present.

The Rev. C. M. Nickerson, D. D., presented and read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

The Committee on Canons, to whom were referred two resolutions by the Rev. Dr. Kirby, one of which moved to change the membership of the Board of Missions, and the other of which looked to the procuring of legislation to change the Act of Incorporation of the Board of Missions, and to whom was also referred a resolution of the Rev. Dr. Enos bearing on the same matter, respectfully report: In their opinion, and especially in the opinion of the legal members of the committee, the resolution offered by the Rev. Dr. Enos will secure the contemplated change in the Constitution of the Board of Missions without an appeal to the Legislature. Therefore they recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That Canon XIV, Section 2, be amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. The said Board of Missions shall consist of the Bishop, who shall be ex officio the President thereof; and of the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, who shall be ex officio the Vice-President thereof; and of nine other members, viz., one Clergyman and one Layman resident within the limits of each of the Archdeaconries hereinafter provided for, and nominated by said Archdeaconry, and one Layman who may be resident anywhere within the Diocese, and who shall be nominated in open Convention; all nine of whom shall be chosen annually by the Convention, and by ballot unless the same be unanimously dispensed with. In case there is no Bishop Coadjutor, then, in addition to the nine members chosen in the manner above specified, a tenth shall be chosen, who shall be a Clergyman resident anywhere within the Diocese, and who shall be nominated in open Convention, and shall be chosen annually by the Convention, and by ballot unless the same be unanimously dispensed with. All vacancies occurring in the Board during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the Board.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. M. NICKERSON,
Chairman.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Nickerson, the resolution recommended by the Committee on Canons was adopted, and Canon XIV, Section 2, amended accordingly.

Mr. George W. Daw, of Trinity Church, Lansingburgh, presented and read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE SECURITIES HELD BY TREASURERS OF TRUST FUNDS OF THE DIOCESE.

Your committee appointed to examine the securities of the several funds held by the Board of Missions, the trustees of the Episcopal Fund, of the Aged

GEO. W. DAW,
HERBERT O. BAILEY,
ROBT. SELDEN,
Committee.

The Rev. Edwin R. Armstrong presented the Reports from the Orphan House and that of the Committee on the same.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE ORPHAN HOUSE OF THE HOLY SAVIOUR.

In place of the usual jeremiad from Cooperstown it may be a relief to the Convention to hear a few cheerful words from the Trustees of the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour. Since the crisis in affairs a year ago there has been throughout the Diocese a notable increase of interest in the Orphan House. Sixty-five parishes and mission stations have contributed $1,187.84, as compared with the contributions for the previous year of only $740.73 from forty-five parishes and mission stations. In spite of the fact that during the spring months the institution was quarantined owing to a long siege of scarlet fever, which proved to be one of the worst epidemics in its history, we come at the end of the year to an outlook which is distinctly hopeful. By the mercy of God brave medical attendance and nursing brought us through the epidemic without loss of life, and the great expense entailed by such a scourge was promptly met by the generous Church people of the neighborhood, who, together with others who have since contributed, have brought the amount of personal gifts for the year up to over two thousand dollars. The Orphan House still owes $3,250 on notes of some years' standing, but the current indebtedness for the present year has been completely discharged.

There is no doubt that the increased income of this year is owing to the special stimulus of interest occasioned by the action of the last Annual Convention, and by the unusual appeal of the epidemic at Cooperstown. But it must be clearly borne in mind that any abatement of the energies enlisted last year will mean during the coming year an inevitable return to the old policy of debt, shame, and beggary.

The maintenance of the standard of giving set by the parishes during the last year will enable us to pay expenses. Nothing short of this standard will pay expenses. Nothing short of a decided lift beyond the level of these hand-to-mouth gifts will add sufficiently to the endowment to make the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour a truly charitable institution, welcoming to its doors all homeless children without money and without price.

The original statutes of the institution provide for the appointment of women as assistant managers of the Orphan House in every parish of the Diocese. This provision has long since fallen into abeyance. Now we have revived the system by the appointment of such a board of managers in Cooperstown, and the movement has resulted in greatly enlarged gifts and renewed enthusiasm. We venture to suggest that the appointment by Rectors of assistant managers in each parish of the Diocese would everywhere result in a like renewal of gifts and enthusiasm for this well-known diocesan institution.

Respectfully submitted,

RALPH BIRDSALL,

Secretary

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE ORPHAN HOUSE OF THE HOLY SAVIOUR.

Encouraged by the exceedingly cheering report of the Secretary of the Orphan House, your committee upon that report would respectfully move:

Resolved, That, as the Treasurer shows that by the measures adopted by the last Convention, 65 of the 140 parishes and missions of the Diocese by their renewed interest brought the income slightly above the current expenses, the same method be again pursued by the present Convention, of calling the roll of the parishes, that, if possible, pledges may be had from all, and so when applications for the admission of children come they may not be rejected for lack of funds.

The capacity of the institution is eighty children, but through lack of funds there are at present barely fifty beneficiaries. A full house could be maintained at much less cost per child than one partly filled.

The attention of the Convention is respectfully called to the fact that there is still an indebtedness of $3,441.95, occasioned by deficiencies in previous years.

For the committee,

C. O. S. KEARTON,
Chairman.

On motion of the Rev. Mr. Armstrong, the resolution recommended by the Committee was adopted, and accordingly the rolls of Clergy and Churches were called and pledges of offerings for the Orphan House were made.

On motion of Mr. Samuel B. Coffin, of Christ Church, Hudson, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to have printed 1,250 copies of the Convention Journal; also 300 copies of the Bishop's Address and the Address of the Bishop Coadjutor.

Resolved, That the Minutes of the Special Convention of 1904, and those of the last regular Convention, be approved by this Convention as printed in last year's Journal.

On motion of the Rev. R. M. Kirby, D. D., it was Resolved, That a committee of three persons be appointed by the Bishop to secure from the Legislature of the State of New York such changes in the Act of Incorporation of the Board of Missions as shall provide that the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, shall be a member of the Board, and ex officio Vice-President thereof; also that the Archdeacons then in office shall be members of the Board.

The Right Rev. President appointed as such Committee, Mr. Samuel B. Coffin, Mr. Robert M. Townsend, and Mr. Robert E. Steele.

On motion of the Rev. Oliver S. Newell, it was Resolved, That the Secretary of the Convention be instructed not to wait longer than ten days after the adjournment of the Convention for any report, parochial or otherwise.

The Bishop of the Diocese presented and read to the Convention the following message, and on motion the Secretary was instructed to acknowledge its receipt and send the greetings of this Convention in return:

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 22, 1905.

Rt. Rev. William C. Doane, Albany, N. Y.:

The Diocese of New Hampshire now in session send fraternal greetings.

HORACE A. BROWN,
Secretary.

On motion of the Rev. Asa Sprague Ashley, seconded by the Rev. David H. Clarkson, the Secretary was instructed to send the greetings of this Convention to that of Milwaukee now in session.

On motion of the Rev. Joseph Carey, D. D., by a unanimous rising vote, the Secretary was instructed to send to the Rev. Fenwick M. Cookson a message of loving greeting and regard from this Convention.

The following resolution offered by the Rev. Dr. Battershall was, on his motion, referred to the Committee on the Constitution and Canons to be reported at the next Annual Convention:

Resolved, That the Clergy Reserve Fund be removed from the list of Canonical offerings.

Mr. Hobart W. Thompson presented and read the

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE SALARY OF THE BISHOP.*

The Committee on the Salary of the Bishop begs to submit the following report:

Receipts.

Balance as reported at last Convention.....	$0 28
Union Trust Co. (income of Episcopal Fund).....	2,867 72
From parishes by assessment.....	2,771 07

	$8,804 07
	<hr/>

Disbursements.

Paid Bishop, balance due 1904.....	$160 00

Paid United National Bank, notes and interest.....	3,137 88
Paid for printing and postage.....	30 75
Balance	44
	<hr/>
	$8,804 07

From the above statement it will be noted that there still remains due the Bishop for the Convention year now ending $525. At the last Convention there was due $160, which deficit was occasioned by the dilatory payment of the 1904 assessments. This year the same condition exists to even a greater degree. Also the income of the Episcopal Fund did not reach its usual quota. The unpaid assessments now amount to $719.14, of which we estimate that only $200 can be collected. Provided this estimate be correct there will still remain $325 to be raised in order to make full payment of this year's salary. To meet this your committee have no funds.

St. Paul's Parish, Albany, by the terms of the Van Antwerp Endowment, has been removed from the assessment rolls. This, however, will be a gain to the Salary Fund, as we are informed that the proceeds from said endowment exceed the yearly assessment this parish has formerly paid.

We are desirous of placing on record our appreciation of the voluntary contribution of $65 over their regular assessment by St. Luke's Parish, Cambridge.

The committee desire most earnestly to appeal to all those parishes that are now delinquent to make up at once their arrearage, and would offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the parishes which are now in arrears be requested, as a matter of duty and honour, to remit immediately, in settlement of their unpaid assessments.

Resolved, That a sufficient amount be raised at once at this Convention, by subscription, to meet the deficiency, for which there are no funds, in order that the Bishop may be paid in full without further delay.

HOBART W. THOMPSON,

Secretary.

* For Assessments for the salary of the Bishop see Appendix D.

On motion, the first resolution recommended by the Committee was adopted.

On motion of the Rev. Dr. Battershall, the following resolution was adopted as a substitute for the second resolution offered by the Committee: (Ayes, 45; nays, 11.)

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Committee on Bishop's Salary be requested to issue a circular letter to various Laymen of the Diocese, and request from them personal subscriptions which shall cover the deficiency in the treasury.

The following resolution offered by the Rev. E. R. Armstrong was, on motion of the Rev. Dr. Nickerson, laid on the table:

Resolved, That the Committee on the Bishop's Salary be authorized to revise the assessment roll of the parishes for the lifting of this object out of the present unpleasant state, and the placing of this paramount obligation upon a safer basis.

At five minutes before 12 o'clock, noon, the Right Rev. Bishop Coadjutor, presiding, led the Convention in prayers for Missions and Christian Unity.

At noon the Convention proceeded to the regular order of the day, the Annual Election.

On motion of the Secretary of the Convention, the ballot was unanimously dispensed with and the following elections were made:

Mr. William Kemp.

The Treasurer presented the REPORT OF THE CLERGY RESERVE FUND, 1904-1905.

Nov. 21. To balance on hand as reported to last Convention.....	$1,272 08
Mch. 21. To Christ Church, Cooperstown	4 81
July 1. To interest	14 22
	<hr/>
	$1,291 11
	<hr/>

As explained by your Treasurer in former reports, this fund gives important aid in furnishing means for paying various accounts against other funds, temporarily depleted, through a system of loans, thus saving the necessity of outside borrowing and the consequent interest charges. The amount now on deposit in a savings bank is $417.89.

Selden E. Marvin,
Treasurer.

The Rev. Frederick S. Sill, D. D., presented and read the REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE MISSIONARY THANK OFFERING FOR 1907.

Your committee heartily approve of the recommendation of the Board of Missions to the Diocese in the matter of the Missionary Thank Offering for the General Convention of 1907 at Jamestown, an offering for missions to be presented to Almighty God for blessings vouchsafed to this Church during 300 years since it has been planted in Jamestown. This is a Laymen's movement, voluntary and spontaneous, and intended to gather a fund for aggressive work over and above all present appropriations. Your committee are unanimous in requesting the Bishop to appoint a committee of one Clergyman and four Laymen, in addition to the eight Deputies to the General Convention, to associate themselves with the committee of the General Board of Missions to carry out this movement in such detail as it shall be deemed best in this Diocese, at the same time commending the circular and resolutions of the Central Committee.

FREDERICK S. SILL,
HERMAN LIVINGSTON,
GEO. W. DAW,

SAMUEL B. COFFIN,
ROBT. M. TOWNSEND,
Committee.

On motion the recommendation of the Committee was adopted.

The Right Rev. President appointed as members of the Committee, in addition to the eight Deputies to the General Convention, the Rev. John N. Marvin, Mr. George Foster Peabody, Mr. Arthur Ryerson, Mr. Henry Griffing, and Mr. Samuel B. Coffin.

On motion of the Secretary, it was

Resolved, That after the reading of the Minutes and the usual devotions the Convention adjourn without date.

The minutes of the day's session were read and accepted.

The Bishop of the Diocese briefly addressed the Convention and pronounced the Benediction.

The Convention adjourned without date.

WILLIAM CROSWELL DOANE,
Bishop of the Diocese and President of the Convention.

WILLIAM C. PROUT,
Secretary.

THOMAS B. FULCHER,
Assistant Secretary.

Remarks.

This report covers work only from June 1, to November 1, of the year. In addition to that above reported it may be said that during these five months steps have been taken toward much needed repairs to the Church, fifty thousand shingles having been given by a friend for that purpose. The Rector and Vestry of St. James', Fort Edward, have kindly given a new Altar, which is much appreciated. For this Altar, new Altar hangings and linen have been promised. For new chancel furniture the money is partly raised. During this time also a friend has been persuaded to give us a building lot for a Rectory, which lot is situated in the most desirable part of the village. Toward the building of this Rectory, when we can see our way clear to build, five thousand feet of lumber have been promised.

Description and Valuation: Church and Lot (estimated worth), $2,000.
Seating capacity of Church, 150; all free.
Condition of Property, good.
Amount of salary pledged Rector, $50 and livery expenses.

Remarks.

Through trouble with the contractor, the new Church is not yet, though nearly, ready for occupation. Mr. Elbridge T. Gerry and family of New York have given the following. Altar and Reredos, Sanctuary Rails and Standards, Communion Service, Cross, Candlesticks and Vases, Altar Coverings and Vestments, East Window, and Font. The Parish of Stamford has kindly given Prayer Desk and Lectern, and the Vestry of Oneonta their old Organ, which has been fitted up and repaired at little cost. The Church, of which Rev. E. R. Armstrong is the architect, will be a worthy one in every respect.

CHURCH OF THE TRANSFIGURATION, BLUE MOUNTAIN LAKE.

(Hamilton County.)

To the Bishop of Albany:

Services were held on the Sundays in August and the first in September. The collections: Sunday, August 6, $4; August 13, $3.50; August 20, $7.16; August 27, $6.45; September 3, $8.75. I have given the collection each Sunday to show what small chance there is at present for the Church to pay any Priest for services either during the summer or the year round. By giving my services in 1904, and through the efforts of three friends of mine, none of them churchmen, I have raised money enough ($130) to put a new roof on the Church. The roof is now on the Church and paid for. Next season something will have to be done for new steps, a fence, and some other small repairs. I hope we can have a sale for this purpose next year. I trust that my efforts in behalf of the Church at Blue Mountain will meet with the approval of all. The consent of Bishop Nelson was asked for and given to put the roof on the Church.

Sincerely yours,

CLARENCE ARCHIBALD BULL.

Seating capacity of Church, 200; all free.

Condition of Property, fairly good.

Amount of salary pledged Rector, $900.

Remarks.

In the figures for the number of Communicants reported for the preceding year there was an error, as they were taken from the report of former years. The Church has been without a Rector for two years, up to this summer the services in great part being faithfully carried on by the warden, Mr. Upham. There was one service each Sunday, but since June 18th there have been two services Sundays, and in the summer three services Sundays. Saints' days there is a celebration of Holy Communion.

Would like to add that we have the Jonesville Mission under our charge with about fifteen communicants and an average attendance at Sunday service of about thirty people. We have monthly celebrations there at 9 A. M., and have had since June 18th three baptisms, and at our Church here have had eighteen since June, all but two being adults.

Remarks.

There is little to report here. I have held services during the year, as for the two years past, at stated times, in all about twenty. There are few people belonging to the Church.

There are two farms belonging to the Parish; the buildings are in fairly good condition, but of small value except the house occupied by the widow of the late Rector which is in good repair. There is some insurance on the buildings. There is no financial report. I have had, perhaps, $10 from the offerings.

Remarks.

Through the liberality of our summer residents and visitors a fund was raised through a lawn fete at the "Crater Club," at the voluntary suggestion of said Summer Church attendants, for the purpose of renovating the Rectory with paint and paper, as well as other repairs, amounting to $164.66. These repairs, etc., now practically complete, have greatly improved the value and attractiveness of the Rectory.

The completion of the repairs upon St. John's Church, Essex, previously reported, has been signalized by the installation of a beautiful window, for purposes of ventilation, in the peak of the gable end of the nave; subject, Fra Angelico Angel with Trumpet, by Geissler. A beautiful pair of Altar Candelsticks, in oxidized bronze, have also been placed upon the retable, in memory of our late Senior Warden, Stephen D. Derby.

FOURTH LAKE.

(Herkimer County.)

A Chapel has been built on Fourth Lake of the Fulton Chain, in the Adirondacks, within the last three months, after plans drawn by the Rev. E. R. Armstrong, of Sharon Springs, on the lot generously given by Dr. and Mrs. W. Seward Webb. The Chapel, which stands high above the water, is forty-two feet long by twenty-two wide, with a choir room and vestry on either side of the chancel. The tower and short spire are over the chancel. The outside is shingled; the inside is finished, like most of the "camps" in the woods, without ceiling or plaster, and the windows are all plain glass except those in the chancel, of which there are three, the central one, formerly in old Christ Church, Herkimer, having been donated by the Rector and Vestry of that parish. The total cost to date is $1,429, all but $400 of which has been paid, and of this $235 are subscribed. As yet the Chapel is without a name—and furniture. An Altar and one hundred chairs of special design have been promised. The whole property will be vested in the trustees of the Diocese. For the present it will be used only in the summer, but eventually there may be a call for the Church services all the year around.

Remarks.

Of the contributions to Diocesan objects, the Junior Auxiliary gave $40 ($35 to Orphan House, $5 to Child's Hospital), and the Woman's Auxiliary $10.

The Sunday School gave $6.05 to the Child's Hospital, and $36 to General Missions, in addition to the gift to the Ngan-King Hospital, noted above.

Last year the Parish reported under "Property" the legacy of Frances A. Wing, amounting to $3,000. This legacy has been applied to the payment of the debt on the Parish House, and, together with $500 raised by the Parish Guild, and a gift of $1,000 at Easter from a parishioner, has availed to cancel the mortgage of $4,500, leaving the Parish wholly free of debt.

A Sunday School was started in South Glens Falls, September 24, 1905, and thus far it has made rapid progress. The membership of five officers and teachers and twenty-six scholars is included in the statistics of the Parish Sunday School.

Remarks.

The Parish of All Saints' has sustained sore bereavement during the past year, in the sudden death of Mr. Alexander Ross Benson — for many years a Warden of All Saints' Church, and also its Treasurer. The ever hearty devotion of Mr. Benson to all interests of the Parish, and his greatly generous care over all its activities, are beyond estimate; and the loss to the Parish with which he has been so intimately identified, every way, seems irreparable. Mr. Benson has left a very notable record of devoted, substantial usefulness, and of a manly, practical Christian living.

The Senior Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary sent a box to the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour, Cooperstown, valued at $23; another to Rev. Wm. J. Cleveland, at Pine Ridge Agency, S. D., for the Indians under his care, valued at $13; and another to a needy Clergyman's family on the Pacific Coast, valued at $50.

A new Organ, built by Mr. Frank Beman for the Brewer-Pryor Piano Company, of Binghamton, N. Y., has been placed in the Church, costing, together with the old Organ given as part payment, $1,615. This amount has been paid since the first of November, 1905, and, therefore, is not included in the above report. The Organ is a modern instrument of superior workmanship and fine tone. It has been bought largely through the efforts of the Parish Club.

INDIAN LAKE.

(Essex County.)

To the Right Reverend W. C. Doane, D.D., Bishop of Albany:

The undersigned respectfully reports as follows:

Services were conducted in the school house at Sabael, on the border of Indian Lake, on eleven successive Sundays, from the second Sunday in July through the third Sunday in September. The Holy Communion was celebrated on each Sunday morning, followed by Morning Prayer and Sermon. On one Sunday the Sermon was omitted.

Offerings were received at each Service. The total amount of the Communion Alms was $2.46. The total amount of the Offerings at the other Services was $28.54. Received in all $31.

One child was baptized during Divine Service, and the Baptism recorded in the Parish Register of the Church of the Holy Cross, Warrensburgh.

The attendance at the Services was generally excellent, and there is reason to believe that a deep impression has been made in the minds of summer visitors, as well as in the minds of persons residing near the Lake.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH, KEESEVILLE.

(Essex County.)

The Rev. Hubert Pierre Le Febvre Grabau, priest in charge, began services here in June, and from that time till November 1 gave them a week-night service, with very good results. During July and August, the Rev. A. J. Holley assisting me, we were able for eight weeks to give them Sunday services. Since then we have had to give only week-night services. I hope we have now secured a curate for the work here and at Ausable Forks.

Remarks.

In addition to the above I have kept up Services since December last in St. James' Church, Ausable Forks, and since June in Keeseville, giving both places a week-day Service. Also occasional Services at Salmon River and Chazy. During July and August the Rev. A. J. Holley, of Hoosac School, acted as my Curate.

The purchase of the property next the Church was forced upon us by the Salvation Army preparing to build thereon their Barracks. A friend of the Parish gave $2,500 toward the purchase, the Parish raised $400, and assumed a mortgage of $1,300 already on the property, which thus cost us $4,200.

CHURCH OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD, RAQUETTE LAKE.

(Franklin County.)

To the Right Rev. W. C. Doane, D. D.:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — Since my last Convention report to you I have occasionally assisted in various New York Parishes. At present I am acting as Chaplain to the Sisters of St. Mary, at the House of Mercy, Inwood, New York. From July to October I officiated at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Raquette Lake, and, in connection with that Mission, I report one infant baptism and two marriages. The offerings at services amounted to $149.29. In July I borrowed $72.50 from the reserve fund in the hands of the treasurer of the Diocese, and this amount I have been able to repay. Obediently yours,

W. BROWN-SERMAN.

Remarks.

The Priest in charge began holding services at St. Regis Falls on the Feast of the Circumcision, A. D. 1905. As there was no Church or other place suitable for Divine worship, Mr. Frederick Tryon loaned the use of his opera house for the purpose. Since that date there has been, with the exception of two or three Sundays when the Priest in charge was unable to get to St. Regis Falls from Santa Clara, one service every Sunday, alternating morning and evening. The Holy Eucharist has been celebrated on the first Sunday of every month, and Sunday School and catechizing have been held every Sunday.

On February 1, 1905, the Priest in charge began holding services every Tuesday evening at Dickinson Centre, a farming community of about 500 persons, and continued them until June, 1905, when it was deemed advisable to discontinue them for awhile, until the Mission at St. Regis Falls should be more fully organized. This Mission raised $22.60 by offerings at the services which were held in the Adventist Chapel through the courtesy of its trustees. Of this amount $16.10 were paid to the Missionary to cover his traveling expenses, and $6.50 were paid for lighting, heating, and sexton service.

Remarks.

During the summer I held a Sunday service, alternately, at Long Lake West—seventeen miles distant from Tupper Lake—and at Horse Shoe—thirteen miles away.

A Rectory is being built at Tupper Lake. It is to be a Memorial of Mr. George Washington Ferguson; late of New York City. The family of Mr. Ferguson gave $3,000 for the purchase of site and building.

The Church building has been raised six feet and a stone foundation built. The building was supported by piles which were giving way. The cost of this improvement was $390.

Seating capacity of Church, 300.

Number of free seats, 100.

Condition of Property, excellent.

Amount of salary pledged Rector, $1,200.

Remarks.

The Services reported are from the beginning of the present Rectorship, February 1, 1905. Before that no records of Services were kept. The loss in Communicants reported is due to the fact that all who have died in this Parish for years have been continued on the roll of Communicants. The same may be said of those who have removed. The loss in the number of Sunday School Scholars is also due to the same correcting of the rolls.

On Easter Day the Offerings more than removed a long standing debt of $500. During the summer the Rectory was improved and placed in thorough repair at an expense of about $2,000, which is to be met by taxes illegally collected and now to be returned by the town and village. Furnaces have been placed in the Parish House and Sunday School room.

PERSONAL REPORTS.

45 BROAD ST., MIDDLETOWN, CONN., Nov. 14, 1905.

To the Right Reverend WM. C. DOANE, D.D, LL. D.:

DEAR BISHOP. — Following my physician's advice I have performed no official duties, save assisting at a marriage ceremony.

Faithfully yours,

A. RAVENSCROFT BALSLEY.

THE GENERAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY,
CHELSEA SQUARE, NEW YORK.

To the Rt. Rev., the Bishop of Albany:

My year's work, which I beg to report, consists of ministrations at the Cathedral of All Saints until the first of September, 1905, and since then of instruction given at the General Theological Seminary in New York, graduate work at Columbia University, and occasional ministrations in Parishes in the Dioceses of New York, Newark, and Long Island.

Very truly yours,

Dec. 9, 1905.

FRANCIS BRANCH BLODGETT.

GLENS FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 15, 1905.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I have to report another year of idleness to be added to the several just passed. I am unable to raise my body from the bed, or my head from my pillow unaided.

Yours faithfully and respectfully,

F. M. COOKSON.

To the Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE, Bishop of Albany:

I herewith respectfully present my annual report.

The Church Services have been held regularly during the summer months, with large attendance.

I have baptized three infants.

The Offerings for Missions: Foreign, $25; Domestic, $25; and Diocesan, $10. Total, $60.

Rector of Felsenheim Chapel, St. Huberts.

Essex Co., N. Y.

To Rt. Rev. WM. CROSWELL DOANE, S. T. D., Bishop of Albany:

LAWRENCEVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 20, 1905.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — With but little change in our condition, I have no services or official acts to report since last Convention. Still hopeful that I may some time be of use again, I am

Ever faithfully,

JOSHUA N. T. GOSS.

32 ST. JAMES AVENUE, BOSTON, November, 1905.

DEAR BISHOP DOANE. — During the past Convention year I have officiated occasionally, whenever I have had opportunity, in the Diocese of Massachusetts.

Faithfully yours,

F. M. GRAY.

Personal Reports.

STAMFORD, NEW YORK.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I have been unable during the past year on account of ill health to officiate at all.

Sincerely yours,

OLIN HALLOCK.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — During the year I have assisted at the Services every Sunday either at the "Parish Church" or with the Brethren of the Diocese.

Yours very faithfully,

CHARLES H. HATHEWAY.

STOCKPORT, N. Y., Nov. 21, 1905.

Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE:

RT. REV. AND DEAR SIR. — I have assisted in the regular Services of this Parish, Holy Eucharist, Morning and Evening Prayer daily being the regular order of the Services. I have preached twice at the Church of the Advocate, and once at Calvary Church, both in Philadelphia. I also assisted in the Service at Navesink, N. J., the first Sunday in September, and at Plattsburgh, N. Y., during the remainder of that month.

Very obediently your son,

NELSON KELLOGG.

HOOSAC SCHOOL, HOOSAC, N. Y., Dec. 20, 1905.

The Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE, D.D., LL. D.:

REVEREND FATHER IN GOD. — I beg to report that during the past year I have assisted constantly at the Services in the School Chapel. During the months of July and August I took the Sunday Services at St. James' Church, Ausable Forks, and at St. Paul's Church, Keeseville. Since my ordination to the Priesthood, on the second Sunday in Lent, I have administered the Sacrament of Holy Baptism to two infants, and have celebrated the Holy Communion twenty-eight times. I am

Very respectfully yours,

A. J. HOLLEY.

268 HAMILTON ST., ALBANY, Dec. 8, 1905.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — My only report for the past year is increased feebleness and inability to attend any Services in the Church since last June, but I am grateful for many other blessings in my life.

Yours respectfully,

W. H. LORD.

THE COVINGTON, 37TH AND CHESTNUT STS.,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 22, 1905.To the Bishop of Albany:

Not having received notification of the meeting of the Diocesan Convention, the necessity of making a personal report quite escaped my mind.

This explanatory note showing that I am still a member of the Church Militant may, perhaps, take the place of the canonical requirement.

Respectfully,

W. W. LORD.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Nov. 1, 1905.

RT. REV. AND DEAR BISHOP. — During the past Conventional year I have been disabled by continued illness; so that, except on two or three occasions, I have not attempted to engage in any public Service.

Yours very respectfully,

J. W. McILWAIN.

21 IRVING PLACE, NEW YORK, Nov. 8, 1905.

The Right Reverend the Bishop of Albany:

REVEREND FATHER IN GOD. — I beg to report that during the past year I have had fourteen celebrations of the Holy Communion and eleven other Services.

Yours obediently,

LEIGH C. MORGAN.

ALBANY, Nov. 21, 1905.

MY DEAR BISHOP DOANE. — I beg to report that during the Convention year just ended I have officiated every Sunday.

Respectfully yours,

LEONARD W. RICHARDSON.

WILLIMANTIC, CONN., Dec. 29, 1905.

The Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE, D. D., Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP DOANE. — I assisted at St. Clement's Church, Philadelphia, at the Christmas Season, 1904, and since November 1, 1905, have been in charge of St. Paul's Church, Willimantic, Conn., during the absence of the Rector.

Faithfully yours,

JAMES B. SILL.

VILLINO CHIARI, PIAZZA UNGANELLI,

VIA DI GIRAMONBINO, FLORENCE, ITALY, Nov. 22, 1905.

MY DEAR BISHOP. — I am very glad to be able to report that for the most part of the year I have had the privilege of helping the Reverend Mr. Butterworth, of St. John's, Dresden, and also on one Sunday took the Services for the Rector of the Church in Munich.

Hoping that this letter will find you in the best of health, I remain

Yours very truly,

E. BAYARD SMITH.

68 DWIGHT PLACE, ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Nov. 19, 1905.

The Rt. Rev. W. C. DOANE, D.D., LL. D.:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — It is a cause of great regret to me that I have again to make much the same report as for some time heretofore, namely, that owing to impaired health I have engaged in no pastoral work during the past year.

Ever sincerely yours,

HENRY M. SMYTH.

GRAND HOTEL, LOCARNO, Oct. 21, 1905.

The Reverend E. S. De G. Tompkins begs to report that during the past year he has resided in Washington and abroad and assisted his clerical brethren as occasion offered.

To the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Albany.

THE VICARAGE, PALM BEACH, FLA.

RT. REV. DEAR BISHOP. — My canonical report for the year past is as follows: After leaving the Parish of Christ Church, Walton, in October, 1904, I came in November to the Church of "Bethesda by the Sea" at Palm Beach. Here, by the permission of Rt. Rev. W. C. Gray, Bishop of Southern Florida, with the Rev. J. N. Mulford, I held Services and preached until May, 1905. Before I left for the North, the Wardens let a contract for a large and handsome Vicarage in a splendid location on the lake. This, completely furnished by the Church, I am now occupying. I am holding Services and preaching as last year. From May to October I spent in Ogdensburg, N. Y., and through August, in the absence of the Rector, I had charge of St. John's Parish there.

Respectfully and sincerely,

CHARLES TEMPLE.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 1, 1905.

The Right Rev. WILLIAM CROSWELL DOANE, D.D., LL. D., Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — During the past year I have acted as Missionary among the deaf and dumb in the Dioceses of Albany, Central New York, and Vermont.

Very respectfully yours,

H. VAN ALLEN.

To the Bishop of Albany:

The undersigned respectfully reports that during the past Convention year he has only held regular services in Trinity Church, Plattsburgh, at different times, by request of the Rector, mostly during his necessary absence from the Parish. The services rendered during the year were as follows: Services, on Sundays, 24, Holy Days, 5, other days, 17, total, 46; Holy Communion, public, 12, private, 1; Marriages, 3; Burials, 2. All of which is respectfully submitted.

November 21, 1905.

WILLIAM R. WOODBRIDGE.

YONKERS, N. Y., December 4, 1905.

The Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Albany:

MY DEAR BISHOP. — Since my retirement, October 1st last, I have been resident in Yonkers, N. Y. I have done no clerical duty whatever.

Obediently yours,

J. T. ZORN.

NON-REPORTING CLERGY AND CHURCHES FROM THE JOURNAL OF 1903.

Letters having been sent by the Secretary in obedience to the instructions of the Convention to the clergy who did not report at the time of the Convention of 1903, and to the authorities of the Churches which did not report at the time of that Convention, replies were received, from the Rev. Mr. Peter, saying he "did not know about the Canon," and from the following Churches: Immanuel, Otego (had no Rector at that time); St. Paul's, Keeseville (also had no Rector); St. Timothy's Westford, had had no Rector, and only two services in two years; no reply was received from St. Stephen's, Schuylerville; and the letter to Rev. M. E. Wilson was "returned to the writer, unclaimed," by the Albany Post Office.

CONSTITUTION AND CANONS.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

Of the Members of the Convention.

The Diocese of Albany entrusts its legislation to a Convention, to consist as follows: First, of the Bishop, when there is one; of the Bishop Coadjutor, when there is one; Secondly, of all Clergymen canonically resident in the Diocese for six months previous to the Convention, the restriction of time not to apply to Rectors duly elected or Missionaries duly appointed (provided that no Clergyman suspended from the Ministry shall have a seat); and, Thirdly, of the Lay Delegation from the Cathedral, and of Lay Delegations, consisting of not more than three Deputies from each other Church in union with the Convention, who shall be communicants, and shall have been chosen by the Vestry or Congregation of the same.

ARTICLE II.

Of the Annual Meetings of the Convention.

The Convention shall assemble on the third Tuesday in November, in each year, in such place as the Bishop shall appoint, giving fifteen days' notice thereof. In case of his inability to act, the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, shall appoint the place; and, if there be no Bishop, the Standing Committee shall appoint. The place of meeting may be changed for sufficient reason after having been appointed, provided that ten days' notice of such change shall be given.

For urgent reasons, the time of meeting may be changed by the Bishop, acting with the advice and consent of the Standing Committee, and giving twenty days' notice of said change.

Every Convention shall be opened with a Sermon and the Holy Communion; and the Preacher shall be appointed by the Bishop, or in case of his inability to act, or if there be no Bishop, by the Standing Committee.

ARTICLE III.

Of Special Conventions.

The Bishop may call a Special Convention at any time; but when requested to do so by a three-fourths vote of the Standing Committee he shall call such Convention; in each case he shall give thirty days' notice thereof. When there is no Bishop the Standing Committee shall have power to call a Special Convention, giving ninety days' notice thereof.

Constitution and Canons.

ARTICLE IV.

Of the Cathedral.

"The Cathedral of All Saints in the City and Diocese of Albany" shall be the Cathedral Church of this Diocese. Three Lay Communicants shall be chosen by the Chapter as the Delegation from the Cathedral to the Convention.

ARTICLE V.

Of the Permanent Officers of the Diocese.

The permanent officers of the Diocese shall be: the Bishop of the Diocese (with right to preside, when present in Convention; and when there is a Bishop Coadjutor, he shall have right to preside in the absence of the Bishop), a Standing Committee, a Secretary, a Treasurer and a Registrar.

ARTICLE VI.

Of the Election of a Bishop.

When a Bishop or a Bishop Coadjutor is to be elected, the election shall be at the regular Annual Convention, or at a Special Convention duly called for that purpose; and such election shall require a majority of the votes of each order voting separately.

ARTICLE VII.

Of the President of the Convention.

If there be no Bishop of the Diocese, or its ex-officio presiding officer be absent, the Convention shall elect a President from among the Clergy, by ballot (unless the ballot be dispensed with by unanimous vote.)

ARTICLE VIII.

Of the Standing Committee.

The Standing Committee shall consist of four Clergymen and four Laymen, to be elected by ballot at each Annual Convention, by a majority of the Clergy and Lay Delegations present, and shall serve until the next Annual Convention and until a new election is made, the functions of which Committee, besides those provided for in the Canons of the General Convention, and in this Constitution, shall be determined by Canon or Resolution of the Convention. But vacancies in the Standing Committee may be filled by a majority of the votes of the remaining members until the next meeting of the Convention.

ARTICLE IX.

Of the Secretary, Treasurer and Registrar.

The Secretary shall be elected at each Annual Convention from the members thereof, by ballot, after nominations (unless the ballot be dispensed with by unanimous vote), and by a majority of the Clergy and Lay Delegations present; and he shall remain in office until his successor shall be elected. His duties shall be those required by the Canons, Resolutions and Rules of Order of the Convention.

The Treasurer and the Registrar shall be elected in a similar manner, and are not required to be members of the Convention. They shall remain in office until the next Annual Convention, and until their successors are elected.

ARTICLE X.

Of the Deliberations of the Convention and of Votes.

The Clergymen and Laymen constituting the Convention shall deliberate in one body, and each Clergyman shall have one vote, and each Lay Delegation one vote, and a majority of the aggregate votes shall be decisive except in the cases provided for in Articles VI, IX and XI.

If five votes require a division, then the voting shall be by orders separately, and the concurrence of a majority of each order shall be necessary to make a decision. But no alteration of the Constitution or Canons shall be valid without the concurrence of the Bishop and of a majority of the Clergy and of a majority of the Lay Delegations; and the Bishop's concurrence shall be presumed unless the contrary be openly expressed by him to the Convention after the vote of the Clergy and Laity and before the adjournment sine die.

ARTICLE XI.

Of Altering the Constitution.

The mode of altering the Constitution shall be as follows: A proposition for an amendment shall be introduced in writing and considered in the Convention; and, if approved by a majority, shall lie over till the next Convention, and, if then approved by a two-thirds vote of the Clergy and Lay Delegations present, with the Bishop's concurrence, the Constitution shall be changed accordingly.

CANONS.

CANON I.

Of the List of Clergymen in the Diocese.

SECTION 1. On the first day of each Convention, regular or special, the Ecclesiastical Authority shall present to the Convention a List of the Clergy canonically resident in the Diocese, annexing the names of their respective Parishes, Offices and residences, and the dates of their becoming resident in the Diocese.

SEC. 2. The Secretary shall record this list of names in a book to be kept by him for that purpose. He shall continue this record up to the date of the next succeeding Convention, by making entry therein of all additions, removals, deaths, and changes of work or residence of Clergy within the Diocese as they occur.

SEC. 3. From this record shall be made up by the Secretary the list of the Clergymen entitled, according to the Constitution, to seats in the Convention; which list may at any time be revised and corrected by the Convention.

CANON II.

Of the Lay Delegations.

SECTION 1. When the Lay Delegations are chosen by the Vestry, it shall be at a meeting held according to law. In case the Vestry shall not choose Deputies they may be chosen by the congregation in the manner hereinafter prescribed for Churches having no Vestries.

SEC. 2. Deputies from Churches having no Vestries shall be chosen by the Congregation at a meeting of which notice shall have been given during Divine Service on the two Sundays next previous thereto. And at such meeting the Rector or Minister shall preside, and the qualifications for voting shall be the same as those required by law for voting at an election of Churchwardens and Vestrymen.

SEC. 3. When Deputies are chosen by a Vestry, the evidence of their appointment shall be a certificate, signed by the Rector of the Church they are chosen to represent and by the Clerk of the Vestry; and if there be no Rector, then the certificate shall state that fact, and shall be signed by the Churchwarden presiding and by the Clerk of the Vestry. The certificate must state the time and place of the election, must show upon its face that the appointment has been made in accordance with all the requirements of the Canons, and shall certify that each Deputy chosen is a Communicant of the Church and entitled to vote for Churchwardens and Vestrymen of the Church he is chosen to represent.

SEC. 4. When Deputies are chosen by the Congregation of any Church, the evidence of their appointment shall be a certificate, signed by the Rector or Minister having charge of the said Church and by the Secretary of the meeting; or if there be no such Rector or Minister, then the certificate shall state that fact, and shall be signed by the officer presiding at the meeting and by the Secretary of the same. The certificate must state the time and place of the election, must show upon its face that the appointment has been made in accordance with all the requirements of the Canons, and shall certify that each Deputy chosen is a Communicant of the Church, and, in the case of the Church having a Vestry, that he is entitled to vote for Churchwardens and Vestrymen of such Church, or, in the case of a Church having no Vestry, that he has belonged for twelve months to the Congregation he is chosen to represent. No other evidence of the appointment of Lay Deputies than such as is specified in this and the preceding section shall be received by the Convention.

SEC. 5. Whenever a Special Convention shall be called, Lay Delegations shall be specially chosen for it in the manner prescribed in this Canon.

SEC. 6. The Secretary of the Convention, when he shall send to any Church or Parish the required notice of the time and place of meeting of any Convention to be held, shall transmit with the same a copy of this Canon and blank printed forms of certificates of appointment of Deputies.

CANON III.

Of the Organization of the Convention.

SECTION 1. If the ex-officio presiding officer be not present at the opening of the Convention, the Secretary shall call the members present to order; and the senior Presbyter present, who is a member of the Convention, shall take the chair, and preside until a President is elected, as provided by Article VII of the Constitution.

SEC. 2. The Secretary shall then call the names of the Clergy entitled to seats in the Convention. He shall then call the names of the Churches in union with the Convention, when the Lay Deputies shall present their certificates, which shall be examined by the Secretary, and a committee of two members appointed by the presiding officer. Irregular or defective certificates, and certificates and documents referring to contested seats, shall be temporarily laid aside. The names of the Lay Deputies duly appointed shall then be called, after which the certificates and documents laid aside shall be reported to the Convention, which shall decide upon the admission of the Deputies named therein.

SEC. 3. If twenty Clergymen entitled to vote, and twenty Lay Delegations be present, they shall constitute a quorum; and the presiding officer ex officio shall declare the Convention duly organized. The same number of Clergymen and Lay Delegations shall, at any time, be necessary for the transaction of business, except that a smaller number may adjourn from time to time.

SEC. 4. If the presiding officer ex officio be not present before the convention is declared to be organized, the temporary Chairman shall direct that the members proceed to elect a President, according to Article VII of the Constitution, who, when elected, shall take the Chair and declare the Convention organized for business.

SEC. 5. The Convention shall then proceed to the election of a Secretary, a Treasurer and a Registrar, according to the Constitution. The Secretary may appoint an Assistant Secretary, also any other assistants he may require, announcing their names to the Convention.

SEC. 6. Any Rules of Order which shall have been previously adopted or sanctioned in the Convention, except such as prescribe the mode of altering the same, shall be in force until changed by the Convention, after having been duly organized.

CANON IV.

Of the Admission of a Church into Union with the Church in this Diocese, and Maintaining such Union.

SECTION 1. Every Church or Congregation desiring admission into union with the Church in this Diocese, shall present a written application therefor to the Convention, together with a copy of the resolution of the Vestry, or of the Congregation, authorizing such application; in which resolution the said Church, by its Vestry or Congregation, shall agree to abide by, and conform to, and observe, all the Canons of the Church, and all the rules, orders and regulations of the Convention; which copy shall be duly certified by the presiding officer of the Vestry, or of the meeting of the Congregation at which the resolution was adopted, and also by the Clerk of the Vestry or Secretary of the meeting; and shall be authenticated by the seal of the Corporation. The said application shall also be accompanied by the Certificate of Incorporation of the Church, duly recorded, or a copy thereof certified by the officer, whose duty it may be to record or file the same; and also, by a Certificate of the Ecclesiastical Authority, to the effect that he or they approve of the incorporation of such Church, and that such Church, in his or their judgment, is duly and satisfactorily established; and every Church or Congregation applying for admission shall produce satisfactory evidence that not less than twenty-five persons, members of such Church, have habitually, for at least one year preceding such application, attended Divine Service in such Church or Congregation.

SEC. 2. No application for the admission of a Church into union with the Church in this Diocese shall be considered or acted upon, at any meeting of the Convention, unless the same shall have been transmitted to the Secretary of the Convention at least thirty days before the meeting of the Convention. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Convention, at least twenty days before the meeting of the Convention, to deliver to a Committee, to be annually appointed (to be called the Committee on the Incorporation and Admission of Churches), all applications for admission into union which shall have been received by him, to be by such Committee examined, considered and reported upon to the Convention.

SEC. 3. Whenever hereafter any Church in union with this Convention shall neglect, for three years in succession, to make a Parochial Report, no Missionary Report being made on its behalf, and shall not, during the same period, have employed a Clergyman as its Parish Minister, nor requested of the Ecclesiastical Authority to have the services of a Missionary, such Church shall be regarded as having forfeited its connection with the Convention, and shall no longer have a right to send a Delegation to the same. The Bishop shall report such Church to the Convention in his Annual Address. Such Church, however, may be re-admitted, upon application to the Convention, accompanied by a report of its condition, and on such terms as shall appear just; such re-admission to take effect from and after the rising of the Convention consenting to such admission.

Constitution and Canons.

CANON V.

Of Elections.

All elections by the Convention shall be by ballot, except when the ballot is dispensed with by unanimous consent. And when an election is by ballot, a majority of the votes in each order shall be necessary to a choice. Should more of either order than the number required to be elected for any committee, board or delegation, receive a majority of votes in each order, those persons shall be declared elected who have received respectively the largest aggregate vote.

CANON VI.

Of the Secretary of the Convention.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Secretary to take and keep the Minutes of the proceedings of the Convention, to attest its public acts, and faithfully to deliver into the hands of his successor all books and papers relating to the business and concerns of the Convention which may be in his possession or under his control. It shall also be his duty to send a printed notice to each Minister, and to each Vestry or Congregation, of the time and place appointed for the meetings of each Convention, and to publish a notice of the meeting in three of the public papers published in the Diocese of Albany, and to perform such other duties as may be required of him by the Convention.

SEC. 2. He shall transmit annually a copy of the Journal of the Convention to each of the Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States, to the Secretary of the House of Deputies of the General Convention, and to the Secretaries of the Diocesan Conventions; and shall ask, on behalf of the Diocese, for copies of the Diocesan Journals in exchange.

SEC. 3. He shall also transmit to every General Convention, in addition to the documents required by the Canons of the General Convention,* a certificate, signed by himself, containing a list of the Clergymen in this Diocese, and the amount of funds paid or secured to be paid (distinguishing them) to the General Theological Seminary, and also a certificate of the appointment of Clerical and Lay Deputies.

SEC. 4. Any expense incurred by a compliance with this Canon shall be paid out of the Diocesan Fund.

SEC. 5. Whenever there shall be a vacancy in the office of Secretary of the Convention, the duties thereof shall devolve upon the Assistant Secretary, if there be one; if not, upon the Secretary of the Standing Committee.

SEC. 6. Whenever, under the provisions of the Constitution, a Special Convention is called for any particular purpose, it shall be the duty of the Secretary, in the notice thereof, to specify such purpose.

CANON VII.

Of the Treasurer of the Diocese.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer of the Diocese to receive and disburse all moneys collected under the authority of the Convention, and of which the collection and distribution shall not be otherwise regulated. He shall report, at each annual meeting of the Convention, the names of the Parishes which have failed to make the required contributions to any of the Diocesan Funds, specifying the funds to which they have failed to contribute and the amount of such deficiency.

SEC. 2. His accounts shall be rendered annually to the Convention, and shall be examined by a Committee acting under its authority.

* Title I. Canon 30, Secs. III and IV.

SEC. 3. If the Treasurer of the Convention shall die or resign his office, the Standing Committee shall appoint a Treasurer ad interim; to continue in office until an election be made by the Convention.

CANON VIII.

Of the Registrar.

It shall be the duty of the Registrar to collect and preserve, as the property of the Diocese, all documents and papers pertaining to the Diocese, and not in the custody of any other officer; and also the Journals and public documents of other Diocesan Conventions and of the General Convention, and other pamphlets and publications connected with the Church at large.

CANON IX.

Of Deputies to the General Convention and to the Federate Council.

SECTION 1. The Convention shall, at each regular annual meeting next preceding a stated meeting of the General Convention, elect, by the concurrent ballot of the Clerical and Lay Members, four Clergymen and four Laymen, to act as Deputies from this Diocese to the General Convention. It shall also, in like manner, elect four Clergymen and four Laymen as Provisional Deputies, to act in the case hereinafter mentioned; which Deputies and Provisional Deputies shall hold their respective offices until their successors are elected, and shall be Deputies, or Provisional Deputies, for any General Convention which may be held during their continuance in office.

SEC. 2. Should a vacancy occur by resignation, removal from the Diocese, death, or otherwise, among the Deputies or Provisional Deputies, between the stated times of election, the vacancy shall be supplied by any Convention during or prior to which such vacancy shall occur.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the Deputies elect to signify to the Ecclesiastical Authority, at least ten days before the meeting of the General Convention, their acceptance of the appointment and their intention to perform its duties: in default of which the Ecclesiastical Authority shall designate, from the list of Provisional Deputies, so many as may be necessary to ensure, as far as practicable, a full representation of the Diocese. And the Ecclesiastical Authority shall, in like manner, designate from the same list of Provisional Deputies, one or more, as the case may be, to supply any deficiency in the representation of this Diocese which may in any way occur. And the person or persons so designated by the Bishop, being furnished with a certificate thereof, shall have all the power and authority of Deputies duly elected by the Convention.

SEC. 4. The Convention shall, at each regular annual meeting next succeeding a stated meeting of the General Convention, elect eight Clergymen and eight Laymen, to act as Deputies from this Diocese to the Federate Council of the several Dioceses in the State of New York, which Deputies shall hold their respective offices until their successors are elected, and shall be Deputies for any meeting of the Federate Council which may be held during their continuance in office. Should a vacancy occur by resignation, removal from the Diocese, death, or otherwise, among the Deputies to the Federate Council, between the stated times of election, the vacancy shall be supplied by any Convention during or prior to which such vacancy shall occur.

CANON X.

Of the Standing Committee.

The powers and duties of the Standing Committee over and above those given and prescribed by the Canons of the General Convention and by the Constitution of the Diocese of Albany, are further defined as follows:

SECTION 1. If there be no Bishop, or if he be unable to perform his duties, the Standing Committee shall be the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese, provided that whenever any duty is specially imposed upon the Clerical Members of the Committee, such duty shall be performed by them only.

SEC. 2. The record of all proceedings upon a presentment of a Clergyman shall be preserved by the Standing Committee.

SEC. 3. The Standing Committee shall make a full report of all their proceedings at every Annual Convention.

CANON XI.

Of Parish Registers and Parochial Reports.

WHEREAS, by the Canons of the General Convention,* it is made the duty of each Clergyman of this Church to "keep a Register of Baptisms, Confirmations, Communicants, Marriages, and Funerals within his Cure, agreeably to such rules as may be provided by the Convention of the Diocese where his Cure lies;" it is hereby ordered that,

SECTION 1. The Record shall specify the name and the time of the birth of the child or adult baptized, with the names of the parents, sponsors or witnesses; the names of the persons confirmed; the names of the persons married, their ages and residences, also the names and residences of at least two witnesses of each marriage; the names of the persons buried, their ages, and the place of burial; and also the time when and the Minister by whom each rite was performed. The list of Communicants shall contain the names of all connected with the Parish or Mission as nearly as can be ascertained. These records shall be made by the Minister in a book provided for that purpose, belonging to each Church; which book shall be the Parish Register, and shall be preserved as a part of the records of the Church.

SEC. 2. AND WHEREAS, by the Canons of the General Convention,† it is "ordered that every Minister of this Church, or, if the Parish be vacant, the Warden shall present, or cause to be delivered, on or before the first day of every Annual Convention, to the Bishop of the Diocese, or, where there is no Bishop, to the President of the Convention, a statement of the number of Baptisms, Confirmations, Marriages and Funerals, and of the number of Communicants in his Parish or Church; also the state and condition of the Sunday Schools in his Parish; also of the amount of the Communion alms, the contributions for Missions, Diocesan, Domestic and Foreign, for Parochial Schools, for Church purposes in general, and of all other matters that may throw light on the state of the same;" it is hereby further ordered that, in reporting the number of Communicants, he shall distinguish the additions, removals and deaths since the last report, and that, in reporting the contributions for Church purposes in general, he shall include the amount received for sittings in the Church and moneys raised for all Church and Parish purposes, other than those enumerated in this section.

SEC. 3. In every case where a Parish is without a Minister, the Parish Register shall be kept by some person appointed by the Vestry or Trustees; and the annual Parochial report shall be presented or forwarded to the Bishop by the Churchwardens or Trustees of the Parish.

CANON XII.

Of Vacant Parishes.

SECTION 1. Whenever a Parish becomes vacant, it shall be the duty of the Vestry or Trustees to give immediate notice thereof to the Bishop.

SEC. 2. The Bishop shall appoint those of the Clergy in the Diocese who can with most convenience discharge the duty, to supply such vacant Parishes as have been reported to him, at such times as may be deemed convenient and proper. And the Clergy so appointed, shall make a full report to the Bishop concerning the state of the Parishes which they have visited. It shall be the duty of the Parishes thus supplied to defray all the expenses incident to such occasional services.

* Title I, Canon 14, Sec. 5. † Title I, Canon 20, Sec. 1.

CANON XIII.

Of Offerings.

SECTION 1. Whereas it is the duty of all Christians, as faithful stewards of God, to set apart regularly a portion of their income as God's portion, "every one as God hath prospered him," to be used for the maintenance and extension of His kingdom, and the relief of His poor; this Church enjoins this duty upon all her members.

SEC. 2 It shall be the duty of every Congregation of this Diocese to contribute, at least once in each year, by weekly or monthly offerings, or in some other systematic way, to the Missions of the Diocese; the Domestic and Foreign Missions and other departments of Missionary work under the control of the General Convention; the support of the Episcopate; the expenses of the Convention; the education of young men for the Holy Ministry; the support of aged and infirm Clergymen; the relief of the widows and orphans of deceased Clergymen; and the support and education of orphan children; the offerings to be sent to the Treasurers of the funds for which they are made, and the amounts of all such contributions to form distinct items in the Annual Parochial Report.

SEC. 3. The Fund for Theological Education, provided for in section 2 of this Canon, shall be applied as directed by the Bishop of the Diocese.

SEC. 4. "The Bible and Common Prayer Book Society of Albany and its Vicinity" shall be the agent of this Diocese for the Distribution of the Bible and the Book of Common Prayer, and shall present a full report of its proceedings to each Annual Convention.

SEC. 5. The Orphan House of the Holy Saviour, at or near Cooperstown, shall be the Diocesan Orphanage, and shall make a report of its proceedings and condition to each Annual Convention.

CANON XIV.

Of the Missions of the Diocese and of Archdeaonries.

The Church in this Diocese, acknowledging her responsibility, in common with the whole Church, for the fulfilment of the charge of our Lord to preach the Gospel to every creature, and especially for the extension of the Church throughout the Diocese, declares that it is the duty of the Convention, as her representative body, to care for the Missionary work, and that every baptized Member of the Church is bound, according to his ability, to assist in carrying it on. To this end it is hereby enacted as follows:

SECTION 1. "The Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed February 16, 1870, shall be entrusted with the general charge and direction of the work of Missions within the Diocese, and particularly with the custody and management of all money or property given or acquired for that object, subject to the provisions of this Canon and to such written instructions as may from time to time be given to them by the Convention and entered upon the Journal thereof.

SEC. 2. The said Board of Missions shall consist of the Bishop, who shall be ex officio the President thereof; and of the Bishop Coadjutor, if there be one, who shall be ex officio the Vice-President thereof; and of nine other members, viz., one Clergyman and one Layman resident within the limits of each of the Archdeaonries hereinafter provided for, and nominated by said Archdeaonry, and one Layman who may be resident anywhere within the Diocese, and who shall be nominated in open Convention; all nine of whom shall be chosen annually by the Convention and by ballot unless the same be unanimously dispensed with. In case there is no Bishop Coadjutor, then, in addition to the nine members chosen in the manner above specified a tenth shall be chosen, who shall be a Clergyman resident anywhere in the Diocese, and who shall be nominated in open Convention, and shall be chosen annually by the Convention, and by ballot unless the same be unanimously dispensed with. All vacancies occurring in the Board during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the Board.

SEC. 3. The evening session of the Convention on the first day of each Annual Meeting shall be devoted to the reception and consideration of the Report of the Board of Missions and of its Treasurer, the election of the Board, and other business connected with the subject; provided that said election and other business connected with the subject may be deferred to the second day.

SEC. 4. The Board of Missions shall meet within one day after the adjournment of the Convention in each year, and elect a Secretary and a Treasurer. The Board may hold other meetings during the year, according to its own rules, and shall meet on the day preceding the Annual Convention, to audit the accounts of the Treasurer, and to adopt a report to the Convention.

SEC. 5. The Diocese shall be divided into districts called Archdeaconsries, the titles and limits of which shall be as follows: The Archdeaconry of Albany shall comprise the counties of Albany, Greene, Columbia, Schenectady, Montgomery, and Fulton, all of Hamilton, except the township of Long Lake, and all of Herkimer, except the townships of Wilmurt and Webb. The Archdeaconry of Troy shall comprise the counties of Rensselaer, Saratoga, Washington, and Warren, the townships of Mooers, Champlain, Altona, Chazy, Beekmantown, Plattsburgh, Schuyler Falls, Peru, and Ausable in Clinton county, and all of Essex county, except the townships of St. Armand, North Elba and Newcomb. The Archdeaconry of the Susquehanna shall comprise the counties of Delaware, Otsego and Schoharie. The Archdeaconry of Ogdensburgh shall comprise the counties of St. Lawrence and Franklin, the townships of Clinton, Ellenburgh, Dannemora, Saranac and Black Brook in Clinton county, the townships of St. Armand, North Elba and Newcomb in Essex county, the township of Long Lake in Hamilton county, and the townships of Wilmurt and Webb in Herkimer county.

SEC. 6. The Bishop shall be ex officio the head of each Archdeaconry. He shall, however, annually appoint an Archdeacon on the nomination of each Archdeaconry, from among the Clergy thereof, who shall be the Executive Officer of the Archdeaconry. Each Archdeaconry, moreover, shall annually elect a Secretary and Treasurer. The Archdeacon in the absence of the Bishop shall preside at all the meetings of the Archdeaconry, and may also be present without a vote at the meetings of the Board of Missions. He shall be charged with the duty of visiting the Mission Stations and vacant Parishes, and, with the consent of the Clergy in charge, the other Parishes receiving Missionary aid within the limits of his Archdeaconry, to ascertain their condition, and to give such advice as may be required, reporting the result of his inquiries and observations to the Bishop. It shall also be his duty to stir up an increased Missionary interest and zeal, and to urge more liberal offerings for the work of Church extension. And furthermore the Archdeacon and the Clerical and Lay Members of the Board of Missions from each Archdeaconry shall be an Advisory Committee of the Board, whose duty it shall be to counsel the Board as to the amount which should be expended in, and the amount which should be raised by the Archdeaconry which they represent, and to use their best efforts to secure the required amount of Missionary offerings from their Archdeaconry.

SEC. 7. Each Archdeaconry shall hold two meetings a year at such places within its boundaries as it may designate. Other meetings may be held as the Archdeaconry may order. At all meetings of the Archdeaconry every Clergyman canonically resident within its boundaries shall be entitled to a seat; also three Laymen from each Parish or Mission Station within the limits of the Archdeaconry. Each Clergyman, and each Lay Delegation shall have one vote. Any number of members present at a meeting duly called shall be competent to transact business. The meetings of Archdeaconry shall have for their main purpose the presentation of the claims of the Mission work of the Diocese and the Church. Such Missionaries as may be members shall report concerning their work, and provision may be made for especial needs of the Missionary work within the boundaries of the Archdeaconry. Contributions to local work shall not interfere with the claims of the Diocesan Board of Missions, and shall be reported to the Treasurer thereof, and included in his Annual Report to the Convention. It shall also be the object of these Archidiaconal meetings to bring the Clergy together in fraternal intercourse and to promote their spiritual and intellectual life. Each Archdeaconry shall make its own rules as to the arrangement of services.

SEC. 8. All Missionaries shall be appointed by the Board of Missions on the nomination of the Bishop, and may be removed with his approval. But in case of a vacancy in the Episcopate, or of the absence of the Bishop from the Diocese, or of his being otherwise unable to perform his duties, the Board of Missions shall have the power of appointing and removing Missionaries.

SEC. 9. It shall be the duty of every member of the Church in the Diocese to contribute as God hath prospered him, to the funds of the Board of Missions; and every Clergyman having Parochial or Missionary charge shall impress this duty upon his people, and cause one or more Offertories to be made annually for that object.

SEC. 10. The Treasurer of the Board of Missions shall include in his Annual Report all sums certified to him as expended in local Missionary work. He shall also receive, report and pay over any special contributions from Parishes or individuals in accordance with the instructions of the contributors.

SEC. 11. The travelling expenses of the members of the Board of Missions and of the Archdeacons, attending the meetings of the Board, shall be paid out of its treasury.

SEC. 12. Any Mission Station designated by the Board of Missions may be organized by the Bishop on the application of any residents in its neighbourhood. But such station shall not be established within the Parochial Cure of any other Minister or Ministers, without the consent of such Minister or of a majority of such Ministers, except on the advice and by the consent of the Standing Committee of the Diocese. The Bishop may appoint, upon the organization of the Mission, a Church warden, a Clerk, and a Treasurer, which officers shall thereafter be elected by the Congregation annually in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, in the same manner as provided for the choice of Deputies to Convention by section 2, of Canon II, of this Diocese. They shall, as far as possible, discharge the duties which belong to their respective offices in incorporated Parishes.

SEC. 13. The title of all property, real or personal, given or purchased for the use of any Mission Station, shall be vested in "The Board of Missions of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in the Diocese of Albany," or in "The Trustees of the Diocese of Albany."

CANON XV.

Of the Episcopal Fund.

SECTION 1. The fund for the support of the Episcopate in this Diocese, now provided, together with that which may be hereafter contributed or acquired, and any accumulation accruing from the investment thereof, shall be entrusted to the Corporation, entitled "The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund of the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed April 28, 1869. The Trustees composing said Corporation shall be five in number, who shall be appointed by the Convention, and shall hold their offices during the pleasure thereof.

SEC. 2. The moneys and property belonging to the said fund now held by the said Trustees or hereafter acquired by them may be conveyed by the said Trustees to such trust company organized and existing under the laws of the State of New York as may be designated by them and approved by the Convention of the Diocese, to be held by such trust company in trust for the benefit and support of the Episcopate of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany; and to be invested by said trust company in such securities as are required by the laws of the State of New York; and such trust company shall have power from time to time to change such investments. A report exhibiting the condition of such funds and securities, together with the receipts and disbursements, shall be made by such trust company, to the Convention, through said Trustees who shall submit the same at every annual meeting thereof, and at such other times as may be required by said Convention, with such recommendations as they see fit.

CANON XVI.

Of the Diocesan Fund.

SECTION 1. WHEREAS it is indispensable to provide a fund for defraying the necessary expenses of the Convention, including the expenses of those of the Clergy who may have to travel from a distance to the Convention, and also the cost of maintaining a suitable residence for the Bishop; it is hereby required of every Congregation in this Diocese to pay to the Treasurer of the Convention on or before the day of its annual meeting, a contribution at such a rate per cent upon the salary of its Clergyman as shall have been determined by the previous Convention to be required for the purposes above-mentioned.

SEC. 2. AND WHEREAS, by the Canons of the General Convention,* it is made "the duty of the several Diocesan Conventions to forward to the Treasurer of the General Convention, at or before any meeting of the General Convention, three dollars for each Clergyman within such Diocese;" therefore, it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to retain annually out of the Diocesan Fund, one dollar for each Clergyman in this Diocese, as a special fund, to be paid over to the Treasurer of the General Convention at each meeting of the same.

CANON XVII.

Of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund.

SECTION 1. The fund now existing, together with all contributions hereafter received for the support of Aged and Infirm Clergymen, shall be entrusted to the Corporation entitled "The Trustees of the Fund for the support of the Aged and Infirm Clergy of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed February 16, 1870. The said Trustees shall consist of the Bishop and the Treasurer of the Diocese, together with three Lay Trustees, who shall be appointed annually by the Convention. Vacancies occurring in the number of the Lay Trustees during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the remaining Trustees.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to receive applications for relief, and to administer it in accordance with such rules and regulations as they, with the approbation of the Convention, may from time to time adopt.

SEC. 3. The Trustees shall present a detailed report of their proceedings and of the condition of the fund to every Annual Convention.

CANON XVIII.

Of the Clergy Reserve Fund.

SECTION 1. A fund shall be established to be known as the Clergy Reserve Fund of the Diocese of Albany.

SEC. 2. The fund thus formed shall be permitted to accumulate until it shall amount to $20,000, and the income shall then be divided into annuities of $300, which shall be paid to the beneficiaries of the fund.

SEC. 3. The beneficiaries of the fund shall be the Clergy of the Diocese according to the seniority of their canonical residence.

* Title III, Canon I, Sec. 5.

SEC. 4. No Clergyman shall be a beneficiary of the fund whose salary or stipend exceeds $1,000 per annum. Nor shall any Clergyman receive the annuity who has allowed the Parish or Mission under his charge to neglect its annual contribution to the fund.

SEC. 5. The principal of the fund shall not be impaired.

SEC. 6. The trustees of the fund shall be the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rector of St. Peter's Church, Albany, the Rector of St. Paul's Church, Troy, the Archdeacons of the Diocese, and the Treasurer of the Diocese, who shall be the treasurer of the fund. And they are hereby authorized to form a corporation under the laws of the State of New York, whose object shall be to carry into effect the provisions of this Canon, and to provide for the receipt by the corporation so to be formed, of real and personal estate by gifts, purchase, devise, bequest or otherwise, for the purposes of said corporation.

CANON XIX.

Of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen.

SECTION 1. The fund now existing, together with all contributions hereafter received for the relief of widows and orphans of Deceased Clergymen shall be entrusted to the Corporation entitled "The Trustees of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Albany," incorporated by an Act of the Legislature of the State of New York, passed February 16, 1870. The said Trustees shall consist of the Bishop and the Treasurer of the Diocese, together with three Lay Trustees, who shall be appointed annually by the Convention. Vacancies occurring in the number of the Lay Trustees during the recess of the Convention may be filled by the remaining Trustees.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Trustees to receive applications for relief, and to administer it in accordance with such rules and regulations as they, with the approbation of the Convention, may from time to time adopt.

SEC. 3. The Trustees shall present a detailed report of their proceedings and of the condition of the fund to every Annual Convention.

CANON XX.

Of the Examination of Securities, &c.

SECTION 1. A Committee of three Laymen shall be appointed at each Annual Convention to examine the securities of the several funds held by The Board of Missions, The Trustees of the Diocese, The Trustees of the Episcopal Fund, The Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, The Trustees of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergy, The Trustees of the Clergy Reserve Fund and the Trustees of all other trust funds, and to report at the next Convention.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of such Committee to meet in each year at some time between the first day of November and the date of the meeting of the Annual Convention, at the place or places where the Treasurers of the above named funds reside, or where the securities in their keeping are deposited, and make an examination of such securities and of all books, papers, vouchers, etc., relating to them, and prepare a report to be presented to the Annual Convention next ensuing.

CANON XXI.

Of the Trial of a Clergyman not being a Bishop.

Whenever any Minister of this Diocese, not being a Bishop thereof, shall become "liable to presentment and trial" under the provisions of any Canon of the General or Diocesan Convention, the mode of proceeding in this Diocese shall be as follows:

SECTION 1. The trial shall be on a presentment in writing, addressed to the Bishop of the Diocese, specifying the offences of which the accused is alleged to be guilty, with reasonable certainty as to time, place and circumstances. Such presentment may be made by the major part in number of the members of the Vestry of any Church of which the accused is Minister, or by any three Presbyters of this Diocese entitled to seats in the Convention, or as hereinafter mentioned. Whenever, from public rumor or otherwise, the Bishop shall have reason to believe that any Clergyman is under the imputation of having been guilty of any offence or misconduct for which he is liable to be tried, and that the interest of the Church requires an investigation, it shall be his duty to appoint five persons, of whom three at least shall be Presbyters, to examine the case; a majority of whom may make such examination, and if there is, in their opinion, sufficient ground for presentment, they shall present the Clergyman accordingly.

SEC. 2. A presentment being made in any one of the modes above prescribed, the Bishop, if the facts charged shall not appear to him to be such as constitute an offence, may dismiss it; or if it allege facts, some of which do and some of which do not constitute an offence, he may allow it in part and dismiss the residue, or he may permit it to be amended. When it shall be allowed in whole or in part, the Bishop shall cause a copy of it to be served on the accused; and shall also nominate twelve Presbyters of this Diocese entitled to seats in the Convention, and not being parties to the presentment, and cause a list of their names to be served on the accused, who shall, within thirty days after such service, select five of them, and notify their names in writing to the Bishop; and if he shall not give such notification to the Bishop within the said thirty days, the Bishop shall select five; and the Presbyters so selected shall form a Board for the trial of the accused, and shall meet at such time and place as the Bishop shall direct, and shall have power to adjourn from time to time, and from place to place (but always within the Diocese), as they shall think proper.

SEC. 3. A written notice of the time and place of their first meeting shall be served, at least thirty days before such meeting, on the accused, and also on one of the persons making the presentment.

SEC. 4. If, at the time appointed for the first meeting of the Board of Presbyters, the whole number of five shall not attend, then those who do attend may adjourn from time to time; and if, after one adjournment or more, it shall appear to them improbable that the whole number will attend within a reasonable time, then those who do attend, not being less than three, shall constitute the board, and proceed to the trial, and a majority of them shall decide all questions.

SEC. 5. If a Clergyman presented shall confess the truth of the facts alleged in the presentment, and shall not demur thereto, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to proceed to pass sentence; and if he shall not confess them before the appointment of a Board for his trial, as before mentioned, he shall be considered as denying them.

SEC. 6. If a Clergyman presented, after having had due notice, shall not appear before the Board of Presbyters appointed for his trial, the Board may, nevertheless, proceed as if he were present, unless for good cause they shall see fit to adjourn to another day.

SEC. 7. When the Board proceed to the trial, they shall hear such evidence as shall be produced, which evidence shall be reduced to writing and signed by the witnesses, respectively; and some officer authorized by law to administer oaths may, at the desire of either party, be requested to administer an oath or affirmation to the witnesses, that they will testify the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, concerning the facts charged in the presentment. If, on or during the trial, the accused shall confess the truth of the charges, as stated in the presentment, the Board may dispense with hearing further evidence, and may proceed at once to state their opinion to the Bishop as to the sentence that ought to be pronounced.

SEC. 8. Upon the application of either party to the Bishop, and it being made satisfactorily to appear to him that any material witness cannot be procured upon the trial, the Bishop may appoint a Commissary to take the testimony of such witness. Such Commissary may be either a Clergyman or a Layman, and the party so applying shall give to the other at least six days' notice of the time and place of taking the testimony. If the person on whom the notice shall be served shall reside more than forty miles from the place of examination, notice of an additional day shall be given for every additional twenty miles of the said distance. Both parties may attend and examine the witness; and the questions and answers shall be reduced to writing and signed by the witness, and shall be certified by the Commissary, and enclosed under his seal, and transmitted to the Board, and shall be received by them as evidence. A witness examined before such Commissary may be sworn or affirmed in manner aforesaid.

SEC. 9. The Board, having deliberately considered the evidence, shall declare in a writing signed by them, or a majority of them, their decision on the charges contained in the presentment, distinctly stating whether the accused be guilty or not guilty of such charges, respectively, and also stating the sentence (if any) which, in their opinion, should be pronounced; and a copy of such decision shall be, without delay, communicated to the accused; and the original decision, together with the evidence, shall be delivered to the Bishop, who shall pronounce such canonical sentence as shall appear to him to be proper, provided the same shall not exceed in severity the sentence recommended by the Board; and such sentence shall be final. Before pronouncing any sentence, the Bishop shall summon the accused, and any three or more of the Clergy, to meet him at such time as may, in his opinion, be most convenient, in some Church to be designated by him, which shall, for that purpose, be open at the time to all persons who may choose to attend; and the sentence shall then and there be publicly pronounced by the Bishop. But the Bishop, if he shall be satisfied that justice requires it, may grant a new trial to the accused, in which case a new Board of Presbyters shall be appointed, the proceedings before whom shall be conducted as above mentioned.

SEC. 10. All notices and papers contemplated in this Canon may be served by a summoner or summoners, to be appointed for the purpose by the Bishop, and whose certificate of such service shall be evidence thereof. In case of service by any other person, the facts shall be proved by the affidavit of such person. A written notice or paper delivered to a party, or left at his last place of residence, shall be deemed a sufficient service of such notice or paper.

SEC. 11. The defendant may have the privilege of appearing by counsel; in case of the exercise of which privilege, and not otherwise, those who present shall also have the like privilege.

SEC. 12. If the Ecclesiastical Authority of any other Diocese shall, under the provisions of the Canons of the General Convention, or otherwise, make known to the Ecclesiastical Authority of this Diocese, charges against a Presbyter or Deacon thereof, such communication shall be a sufficient presentation of him for trial; and the trial shall take place as above provided. The Bishop shall appoint some competent person as Prosecutor, who shall be considered as the party making the presentment.

CANON XXII

Of Differences between Ministers and their Congregations.

SECTION 1. Whenever there shall be any serious difference between the Rector of any Church in this Diocese and the Congregation thereof, it shall be lawful for a majority of the Vestry or Trustees to make a representation to the Bishop, stating the facts in the case and agreeing, for themselves and for the Congregation which they represent, to submit to his decision in the matter, and to perform whatever he may require of them by any order which he may make under the provisions of this Canon, and shall at the same time serve a copy of the representation on the Rector.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the Bishop, at all stages of the proceeding to seek to bring them to an amicable conclusion; and in such case the agreement between the parties, signed by them and attested by the Bishop, shall have the same force as an order made under section 4 of this Canon.

SEC. 3. If the matter shall not be amicably settled within a reasonable time, the Bishop shall convene the Clerical Members of the Standing Committee and shall give notice to the parties to appear before him and present their proofs and arguments at such time and place as he may appoint; and he may adjourn and continue the hearing in the matter in his discretion.

SEC. 4. When the hearing is concluded, the Bishop shall make such an order in regard to the matter as he may think to be just and for the true interests of the Church; and such order may require the Rector to resign his Rectorship, and may require the Church to pay a sum of money to the Rector; and it shall be the duty of the Rector and of the Church and every member thereof to submit to and abide by such order as the final and conclusive determination of all matters of difference between them. Provided, that no order shall be made under this or the next succeeding section of this Canon, unless with the advice and concurrence of at least two Clerical Members of the Standing Committee, who shall have been present at the hearing.

SEC. 5. If it shall be made to appear to the Bishop that any agreement made under section 2 of this Canon, or any order made under section 4 of this Canon, or of this section, shall have been disregarded by any of the parties concerned, or if an application be made to him to modify such order, he may convene the Clerical Members of the Standing Committee, and after hearing such further proofs and arguments as may be presented to him, make such further order in the matter as he may think proper with the same effect as an order made under section 4 of this Canon.

SEC. 6. If any Church or Congregation shall persistently neglect or refuse to obey any order made under this Canon, it shall be the duty of the Bishop to exhort the members of such Congregation to submit to the authority and discipline of the Church; and if they will not do so, the Convention may proceed to dissolve the union between the Church so offending and the Convention of this Diocese, and may take such other action in the matter as it may think expedient. Provided, that no such action shall be held or taken to be a surrender of any right which either the Church in this Diocese, or such members of such Congregation as submit to the authority and discipline of the Church may have in the corporation of such Church, or in any property belonging thereto.

SEC. 7. Whenever the Standing Committee shall be acting as the Ecclesiastical Authority of the Diocese, the Clerical Members thereof shall perform the duties herein required of the Bishop; and they shall request the Bishop of some other Diocese to attend the hearing of the case, and shall make no order therein but with his advice and assistance.

CANON XXIII.

Of Amendments of the Canons.

No new Canon or amendment of a Canon shall hereafter be adopted by the Convention, unless at least one day's previous notice thereof shall have been given in open Convention; nor, unless by unanimous consent, until the same shall have been referred to, and reported upon by a Committee of at least two Presbyters and two Laymen. All propositions to amend the Canons shall be in the form of a Canon, and such sections as shall be amended shall be re-enacted in full in their amended form.

 18. Application of this chapter to churches created by special laws.

SECTION 1. Short title.— This chapter shall be known as the religious corporations law.

An incorporated church is a religious corporation created to enable its members to meet for divine worship or other religious observances.

An unincorporated church is a congregation, society, or other assemblage of persons who are accustomed to stately meet for divine worship or other religious observances, without having been incorporated for that purpose.

The term minister, includes a clergyman, pastor, rector, priest, rabbi, or other person having authority from, or in accordance with, the rules and regulations of the governing ecclesiastical body of the denomination or order, if any, to which the church belongs, or otherwise from the church, to preside over and direct the spiritual affairs of the church.

§ 3. Filing and recording certificates of incorporation of religious corporations.— The certificate of incorporation of a religious corporation shall be acknowledged or proved before an officer authorized to take the acknowledgment or proof of deeds or conveyances of real estate, to be recorded in the county in which the principal office or place of worship of said corporation is or is intended to be situated, and shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of said county. If there is not, or is not intended to be, any such office or place of worship, the certificate shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

§ 4. Property of unincorporated society transferred by its incorporation.— All the temporalities and property of an unincorporated church, or of any unincorporated religious society, body, association or congregation, shall, on the incorporation thereof, become the temporalities and property of such corporation, whether such temporalities or property be given, granted or devised directly to such unincorporated church, society, body, association or congregation, or to any other person for the use or benefit thereof.

§ 5. General powers and duties of trustees of religious corporations.— The trustees of every religious corporation shall have the custody and control of all the temporalities and property, real or personal, belonging to the corporation and of the revenues therefrom, and shall administer the same in accordance with the discipline, rules and usages of the religious denomination or ecclesiastical governing body, if any, with which the corporation is connected, and with the provisions of law relating thereto, for the support and maintenance of the corporation, or, provided the members of the corporation at a meeting thereof shall so authorize, of some religious, charitable, benevolent, or educational object conducted by said corporation, or in connection with it, or with such denomination, and they shall not use such property or revenues for any other purpose or divert the same from such uses. By-laws duly adopted at a meeting of the members of the corporation shall control the action of its trustees.

But this section does not give to the trustees of an incorporated church any control over the calling, settlement, dismissal or removal of its minister, or the fixing of his salary; or any power to fix or change the times, nature or order of the public or social worship of such church, except when they are also the spiritual officers of such church.

§ 6. Acquisition of property by religious corporations for branch institutions; management thereof.—Any religious corporation may acquire property for associate-houses, church buildings, chapels, mission-houses, school-houses for Sunday or parochial schools, or dispensaries of medicine for the poor, or property for the residence of its ministers, teachers or employees. The persons attending public worship in any such associate-house, mission-house, church building or chapel connected therewith, shall not, by reason thereof, have any rights as members of the parent corporation. The persons statedly worshipping in any such house, mission-house, church building or chapel, may with the consent of the trustees of such corporation, become separately incorporated as a church, and the parent corporation may, in pursuance of the provisions of law regulating the disposition of real property by religious corporations, rent or convey to the new corporation with or without consideration, any such associate-house, church building, chapel, mission-house, school-house or dispensary and the lot connected therewith, subject to such regulations as the trustees of the parent corporation may make.

§ 7. Acquisition of property by religious corporations for cemetery purposes; management thereof.—A religious corporation may take and hold, by purchase, grant, gift or devise, real property for the purposes of a cemetery; or such lot or lots in any cemetery connected with it, as may be conveyed or devised to it, with or without provisions limiting interments therein to particular persons or classes of persons; and may take and hold any property granted, given, devised or bequeathed to it in trust to apply the same or the income or proceeds thereof, under the direction of the trustees of the corporation, for the improvement or embellishment of such cemetery or any lot therein, including the erection, repair, preservation or removal of tombs, monuments, gravestones, fences, railings or other erections, or the planting or cultivation of trees, shrubs, plants, or flowers in or around any such cemetery or cemetery lots.

A religious corporation may erect upon any property held by it for cemetery purposes, a suitable building for religious services for the burial of the dead, or for the use of the keepers or other persons employed in connection therewith, and may sell and convey lots in such cemetery for burial purposes, subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be imposed by the instrument by which the same was acquired, or by the rules and regulations adopted by such corporation. Every such conveyance of a lot or plat for burial purposes, signed, sealed and acknowledged in the same manner as a deed to be recorded, may be recorded in like manner, and with like effect as a deed of real property.

§ 8. Removal of human remains from one cemetery of a religious corporation to another cemetery owned by it.—[Omitted.]

§ 9. Acquisition of property by two or more religious corporations for a common parsonage.—[Omitted.]

§ 10. Correction and confirmation of conveyances to religious corporations.—If, in a conveyance of real property, or in any instrument intended to operate as such, heretofore or hereafter made to a religious corporation, its corporate name is not stated or is not correctly stated, but such conveyance or instrument indicates the intention of the grantor therein to convey such property to such corporation, and such corporation has entered into possession and occupation of such property, any officer of the corporation authorized so to do by its trustees, may record in the office where such conveyance or instrument is recorded a statement, signed and acknowledged by him or proved, setting forth the date of such conveyance or instrument, the date of record and the number and page of the book of record thereof, the name of the grantor, a description of the property conveyed or intended to be conveyed, the name of the grantee as expressed in such conveyance or instrument, the correct name of such corporation, the fact of authorization by the trustees of the corporation to make and record such statement, and that the grantor in such conveyance or instrument intended thereby to convey such property to such corporation as the said officer verily believes, with the reason for such belief. Such statement, so signed and acknowledged or proved, shall be recorded with the records of deeds in such office, and indexed as a deed from the grantee as named in such instrument or in such conveyance to such corporation. The register or clerk, as the case may be, shall note the recording of such statement on the margin of the record of such conveyance, and for his services, shall be entitled to receive the fees allowed for recording deeds. Such statement so recorded shall be presumptive evidence that such matters therein stated are true, and that such corporation was the grantee in the original instrument or conveyance.

All conveyances heretofore made, or by any instrument intended to be made, to a religious corporation of real property appropriated to the use of such corporation, or entitled to be so appropriated, are hereby confirmed and declared valid and effectual, notwithstanding any defect in the form of the conveyance or the description of the grantee therein, but this section shall not affect any suit or proceeding pending on the thirty-first day of January, eighteen hundred and seventy-one.

§ 11. Sale, mortgage and lease of real property of religious corporations.— A religious corporation shall not sell or mortgage any of its real property without applying for and obtaining leave of the court therefor, pursuant to the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

The trustees of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal church shall not vote upon any resolution or proposition for the sale, mortgage or lease of its real property unless the rector of such church, if it then has a rector, shall be present, and shall not make application to the court for leave to sell or mortgage any of its real property without the consent of the bishop and standing committee of the diocese to which such church belongs; but in case the see be vacant, or the bishop be absent or unable to act, the consent of the standing committee with their certificate of the vacancy of the see or of the absence or disability of the bishop shall suffice.

The trustees of an incorporated Roman Catholic church shall not make application to the court for leave to mortgage, lease or sell any of its real property without the consent of the archbishop or bishop of the diocese to which such church belongs, or in case of their absence or inability to act, without the consent of the vicar general or administrator of such diocese.

The petition of the trustees of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal church or Roman Catholic church shall, in addition to the matters required by the Code of Civil Procedure to be set forth therein, set forth that this section has also been complied with.

But lots, plats or burial permits in a cemetery owned by a religious corporation may be sold without applying for or obtaining leave of the court.

No cemetery lands of a religious corporation shall be mortgaged while used for cemetery purposes.

§ 12. Consolidation of incorporated churches.— [Omitted.]

§ 13. Judicial investigation of amount of property of religious corporations.— [Omitted.]

§ 14. Corporations with governing authority over churches.— An unincorporated diocesan convention, presbytery, classis, synod, annual conference, or other ecclesiastical governing body having jurisdiction over several churches, may at a stated meeting thereof, determine to become incorporated by a designated name, and may by a plurality vote, elect not less than three nor more than nine persons to be the first trustees of such corporation. The presiding officer and clerk of such governing body shall execute and acknowledge a certificate stating that such proceedings were duly taken as herein provided, the name by which such corporation is to be known, and the names of such first trustees. On filing such certificate the members of such governing body and their successors shall be a corporation by the name stated in the certificate, and the persons named as trustees therein shall be the first trustees thereof.

The trustees of every incorporated governing body and their successors shall hold their offices during the pleasure of such body, which may remove them and fill vacancies in accordance with its rules and regulations. Such corporation may take, administer and dispose of property for the benefit of such governing body, or of any parish, congregation, society, church, mission, religious, benevolent, charitable or educational institution existing or acting under it.

§ 15. Property of extinct churches.— Such incorporated governing body may decide that a church, parish or society in connection with it or over which it has ecclesiastical jurisdiction, has become extinct, if it has failed for two consecutive years next prior thereto to maintain religious services according to the discipline, customs and usages of such governing body, or has had less than thirteen resident attending members paying annual pew rent or making annual contribution towards its support, and may take possession of the temporalities and property belonging to such church, parish or religious society, and manage; or may, in pursuance of the provisions of law relating to the disposition of real property by religious corporations, sell or dispose of the same and apply the proceeds thereof to any of the purposes to which the property of such governing religious body is devoted, and it shall not divert such property to any other object.

And for the purpose of obtaining a record title to the land and the church edifice, or other buildings thereon, by such incorporated governing body, the surviving trustee or trustees of said extinct church may, without a consideration being paid therefor by such incorporated governing body, convey to it said land and church edifice, or other buildings thereon, subject, however, to an order of the supreme or county court based upon a petition reciting that said church has become extinct; the names of its surviving trustee or trustees, and the names of its members, who must have given their consent to the making of said conveyance. Upon the recital of said facts in said petition the court shall have jurisdiction to grant an order allowing said conveyance to be made without a consideration. Where a proceeding is instituted under this section for the sale of the real property of an extinct religious corporation, a compliance with subdivisions four, five, seven, eight and nine of section thirty-three hundred and ninety-one of the code of civil procedure shall be unnecessary, and such proceeding shall be in all respects valid without a compliance with said subdivisions. [Two sentences in regard to the Christian denomination omitted.]

§ 16. Corporations for organizing and maintaining mission churches and Sunday schools.— [Omitted.]

§ 17. Corporations for acquiring parsonages for presiding elders and camp meeting grounds.— [Omitted.]

§ 18. Application of this chapter to churches created by special laws.— If a church be incorporated by special law, it and its trustees shall have, in addition to the powers conferred on it by such law, all the powers and privileges conferred on incorporated churches and the trustees thereof respectively by the provisions of this article, and also all the powers and privileges conferred by this chapter on churches of the same denomination or of the like character, and on the trustees thereof respectively.

§ 19. Application of this chapter to churches incorporated prior to January first, eighteen hundred and twenty-eight.— Any provision of this chapter shall not be deemed to apply to any church incorporated under any general or special law, prior to January first, eighteen hundred and twenty-eight, if such provision is inconsistent with or in derogation of any of the rights and privileges of such corporation as they existed under the law by or pursuant to which such corporation was formed, unless such corporation subsequent to such date, shall have lawfully reincorporated under a law enacted since the first day of January, eighteen hundred and twenty-eight, or unless the trustees of such corporation shall, by resolution, determine that the provisions of this chapter applying to churches of the same denomination and to the trustees thereof shall apply to such church, and unless such resolution shall be submitted to the next ensuing annual meeting of such church, and ratified by a majority of the votes of the qualified voters present and voting thereon. Notice of the adoption of such resolution and of the proposed submission thereof for ratification, shall be given with the notice of such annual meeting, and in addition thereto, mailed to each member of such church corporation at his last known post-office address, at least two weeks prior to such annual meeting, and published once a week for two successive weeks immediately preceding such meeting in a newspaper, if any, published in the city, village or town in which the principal place of worship of such corporation is located and otherwise in a newspaper published in an adjoining town. If such resolution is so ratified, the trustees of such church shall cause a certificate setting forth a copy of such resolution, its adoption by the board of trustees and its due ratification by the members of such corporation, to be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the principal place of worship of such corporation is located. Such county clerk shall cause such certificate to be recorded in the book in which certificates of incorporation of religious corporations are recorded in pursuance of law.

§ 20. Calling of a minister, and so forth. — No provision of this act authorizes the calling, settlement, dismissal or removal of a minister, or the fixing or changing of his salary, and a meeting of a church corporation for any such purpose shall be called, held, moderated, conducted, governed and notice of such meeting given and person to preside thereat ascertained and the qualification of voters thereat determined, not as required by any provision of this act but only according to the aforesaid laws and regulations, practice, discipline, rules and usages of the religious denomination or ecclesiastical governing body, if any, with which the church corporation is connected.

§ 21. Worship. — No provision of this act authorizes the fixing or changing of the times, nature or order of public or social or other worship of any church, in any other manner or by any other authority than in the manner and by the authority provided in the laws, regulations, practice, discipline, rules and usages of the religious denomination or ecclesiastical governing body, if any, with which the church corporation is connected.

§ 22. The preceding sections numbers twenty and twenty-one are not applicable to a Baptist church, a Congregational church or to any other religious corporation having a congregational form of government.

ARTICLE II.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR THE INCORPORATION AND GOVERNMENT OF PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL PARISHES OR CHURCHES.

SECTION 30. The meeting for incorporation.

31. The certificates of incorporation.

32. Corporate trustees; vestry; powers and duties thereof.

33. Annual elections.

34. Changing the number of vestrymen of parishes hereafter incorporated.

35. Changing date of annual elections, number and terms of office of vestrymen and terms of churchwardens of parishes heretofore incorporated.

36. Changing the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen.

§ 30. The meeting for incorporation. — Notice of a meeting for the purpose of incorporating an unincorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or congregation, and of electing the first churchwardens and vestrymen thereof, shall specify the object, time and place of such meeting, and shall be made public for at least two weeks prior to such meeting, either by open reading of such notice in time of divine service, at the usual place of worship of such parish or congregation, or by posting the same conspicuously on the outer door of such place of worship.

Only men of full age who have been regular attendants at the worship of such parish or congregation and contributors to the support thereof for one year next prior to such meeting, or since the establishment of such parish or congregation, shall be qualified to vote at such meeting.

The presence of at least six persons qualified to vote thereat shall be necessary to constitute a quorum of such meeting. The action of the meeting upon any matter or question shall be decided by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon, a quorum being present.

The officiating minister, or if there be none, or he shall be necessarily absent, any other person qualified to vote at the meeting, who is called to the chair, shall preside thereat. Such presiding officer shall receive the votes, be the judge of the qualifications of voters, and declare the result of the votes cast at such meeting.

The polls of the meeting shall remain open for one hour or longer in the discretion of the presiding officer, or if required, by a vote of the majority of the voters present.

The meeting shall decide whether such unincorporated parish or congregation shall become incorporated. If such decision be in favor of incorporation, such meeting shall decide upon the name of the proposed corporation; what secular day of the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, shall be the date of the regu-far annual election; whether the vestrymen thereof shall be three, six or nine; and shall elect by ballot from the persons qualified to be voters thereat, who have been baptized, one-third of the number of vestrymen so decided upon to hold office until the first annual election to be held thereafter, one-third of such number, to hold office until one year after such annual election, and one-third of such number, to hold office until two years after such annual election; and shall elect from such qualified voters who are communicants in the Protestant Episcopal church, two persons to be churchwardens thereof, one to hold office until such annual election and one to hold office until one year after such annual election.

§ 31. The certificate of incorporation.— If such meeting shall decide in favor of incorporation and comply with the next preceding section, the presiding officer of such meeting and at least two other persons present and voting thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate of incorporation setting forth :

1. The fact of the calling and holding of such meeting;
2. The name of the corporation as decided upon thereat;
3. The county, and the town, city or village, in which its principal place of worship is, or is intended to be located;
4. The day of the week commencing with the first Sunday in Advent, upon which the annual election shall be held;
5. The number of vestrymen decided upon at such meeting;
6. The names of the vestrymen elected at such meeting and the term of office of each;
7. The names of the churchwardens elected at such meeting and the term of office of each.

On filing such certificate in the office of the clerk of the county, so specified therein, the churchwardens and vestrymen so elected and their successors in office, together with the rector, when there is one, shall form a vestry and shall be the trustees of such church or congregation; and they and their successors shall thereupon, by virtue of this act, be a body corporate by the name or title expressed in such certificate, and shall have power, from time to time, to adopt by-laws for its governance.

Such corporation shall be an incorporated church, and may be termed also an incorporated parish.

§ 32. Corporate trustees; vestry; powers and duties thereof.— No meeting of the vestry or trustees of any incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church shall be held unless either all the members thereof are present, or three days' notice thereof shall be given to each member thereof, by the rector in writing either personally or by mail, or, if there be no rector or he be incapable of acting, by one of the churchwardens; except that twenty-four hours' notice of the first meeting of the vestry or trustees after an annual election shall be sufficient, provided such meeting be held within three days after the election.

To constitute a quorum of the vestry or board of trustees there must be present either:

1. The rector, at least one of the churchwardens, and a majority of the vestrymen, or
2. The rector, both churchwardens and one less than a majority of the vestrymen, or
3. If the rector be absent from the diocese and shall have been so absent for over four calendar months, or if the meeting be called by the rector and he be absent therefrom, or be incapable of acting, one churchwarden and a majority of the vestrymen, or both churchwardens and one less than a majority of the vestrymen.

* So in the original.

But if there be a rector of the parish, no measures shall be taken, in his absence, in any case, for effecting the sale or disposition of the real property of the corporation, nor for the sale or disposition of the capital or principal of the personal property of the corporation, nor shall any act be done which shall impair the rights of such rector.

The presiding officer of the vestry or trustees shall be the rector, or if there be none, or he be absent, the churchwarden who shall be called to the chair by a majority of the votes, if both the churchwardens be present; or the churchwarden present, if but one be present.

At each meeting of the vestry or trustees each member thereof shall be entitled to one vote.

The vestry shall have power to fill a vacancy occurring in the office of a churchwarden or vestryman by death, resignation or otherwise than by expiration of term, until the next annual election at which, if such vacancy would continue thereafter, it shall be filled for the remainder of the unexpired term.

If vacancies exist in the offices of churchwardens or vestrymen in such number that a quorum of the vestry or board of trustees is not in office at any time, the rector shall forthwith call a special election for the filling of such vacancies. If there be no rector the churchwarden longest in office shall call such special election. Notice of such special election shall be read by the rector, or if there be none, or he be absent, by the officiating minister or by one of the churchwardens, on the Sunday next preceding such election, in the time of divine service. If for any reason the usual place of worship of the parish be not open for divine service on such Sunday, such notice shall be posted conspicuously on the outer door of the place of worship for one week next preceding the election. Such notice shall conform to that required for an annual election. The provisions of section thirty-three of this chapter, relating to annual elections shall apply to such special election, except as inconsistent herewith. Such vacancies shall be filled at such election for the remainder of the unexpired term.

The vestry may, subject to the canons of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, and of the diocese in which the parish or church is situated, by a majority vote, elect a rector to fill a vacancy occurring in the rectorship of the parish, and may fix the salary or compensation of the rector.

§ 33. Annual elections of incorporated Protestant Episcopal parishes. — The annual election of a Protestant Episcopal parish, hereafter incorporated, shall be held on the secular day in the week commencing with the first Sunday in Advent, designated in its certificate of incorporation. The annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church heretofore incorporated shall be held on the day fixed for such annual election, by or in pursuance of law, or if no such date be so fixed, then on the Monday next after the first Sunday in Advent.

Notice of such annual election shall be read by the rector of the parish, or if there be none, or he be absent, by the officiating minister or by a churchwarden thereof, on each of the two Sundays next preceeding such election, in the time of divine service, or if, for any reason, the usual place of worship of the parish be not open for divine service, the notice shall be posted conspicuously on the outer door of the place of worship for two weeks next preceding the election.

Such notice shall specify the place, day and hour of holding the election, the name and term of office of each churchwarden and vestryman whose term of office shall then expire, or whose office shall then be vacant for any cause, and the office for which each such officer is to be then elected.

The presiding officer of such meeting shall be the rector thereof, if there be one, or if there be none, or he be absent, one of the churchwardens elected for the purpose by a majority of the duly qualified voters present, or if no churchwarden be present, a vestryman elected in like manner. Such presiding officer shall be the judge of the qualifications of the voters; shall receive the votes cast; and shall declare the result of the votes cast at such election. The presiding officer of such meeting shall enter the proceedings of the meetings in the book of the minutes of the vestry, sign his name thereto, and offer the same to as many qualified voters present as he shall think fit, to be also signed by them.

Only men of full age belonging to the parish, who have been regular attendants at its worship and contributors to its support for at least twelve months prior to such election, or since the establishment of such parish, shall be qualified voters at any such election. The action of the meeting upon any matter or question shall be decided by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon. The polls of the election shall continue open for one hour, and longer, in the discretion of the presiding officer, or, if required, by a vote of a majority of the qualified voters present and voting.

The churchwardens and vestrymen shall be elected by ballot from persons qualified to vote at such election, and no person shall be eligible for election as church warden, unless he be also a communicant in the Protestant Episcopal church, nor be eligible for election as vestryman, unless he shall have been baptized.

At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish hereafter incorporated, one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years; and one-third of the total number of the vestrymen of the parish shall be elected to hold office for three years. At each annual election of an incorporated Protestant Episcopal parish or church heretofore incorporated, two churchwardens and the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter, unless the terms of office of but one churchwarden or of but one-third of its vestrymen shall then expire, in which case one churchwarden shall be elected to hold office for two years, and one-third of the total number of its vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years. Each churchwarden and vestryman shall hold office after the expiration of his term until his successor shall be chosen.

§ 34. Changing the number of vestrymen of Protestant Episcopal parishes hereafter incorporated.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, hereafter incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the number of vestrymen of such parish be changed to either three, six or nine vestrymen, notice of such recommendation shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof, and at least two qualified voters present thereat, shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election; that the meeting had ratified the same; and the number of vestrymen so decided on. Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded, and such change in the number of vestrymen shall take effect at the time of the next annual election thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen be thereby increased then, in addition to the number of vestrymen to be elected at such next annual election, one-third of such increased number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for one year thereafter, one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for two years thereafter, and one-third of such increased number shall be elected to hold office for three years thereafter.

If the number of vestrymen by such change be reduced, such reduction shall not affect the term of office of any vestryman duly elected, and at such next annual election, and at each annual election thereafter, one-third of such reduced number of vestrymen shall be elected to hold office for three years.

§ 35. Changing date of annual election, number and terms of office of vestrymen and terms of office of churchwardens in Protestant Episcopal churches heretofore incorporated.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish, heretofore incorporated, shall, by resolution, recommend that the date of the annual election be changed to a secular day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, or that the number of vestrymen be changed to three, six or nine, and that the terms of office of the churchwardens be changed so that one warden shall be elected annually, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting, the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry; the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of the annual election; that such meeting had ratified the same; the date determined upon for the annual election of the parish; the number of vestrymen so decided on; and the fact that the meeting determined to thereafter elect churchwardens, so that the term of one warden shall expire annually.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded. If the meeting determined to change the date of the annual election, the next annual election shall be held on the day in the week beginning with the first Sunday in Advent, determined on by such meeting, and the terms of the vestrymen and churchwardens which, pursuant to law, would expire at the next annual election, shall expire and their successors shall be elected on such day.

If the meeting determine to change the number of vestrymen and manner of electing wardens and vestrymen, there shall be elected at the first annual election thereafter, one-third of the number of vestrymen so determined on, to hold office for three years; one-third thereof to hold office for two years; and one-third thereof to hold office for one year; and one churchwarden to hold office for one year, and one to hold for two years; and thereafter at the annual election there shall be elected one-third of the number of vestrymen determined on at such meeting and one churchwarden.

§ 36. Changing the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen.—If the vestry of a Protestant Episcopal parish heretofore incorporated shall by resolution recommend that the qualifications of voters and the qualifications of wardens and vestrymen be changed to conform in both cases to the requirement of section thirty-three of this statute, notice of such recommendation or recommendations shall be included in the notice of the next annual election of such parish, and be submitted to the meeting. If such recommendation or recommendations be ratified by such meeting the presiding officer thereof and at least two qualified voters present thereat shall execute and acknowledge a certificate setting forth such resolution of the vestry, the fact that notice thereof had been given with the notice of such annual election, and that the meeting had ratified the same.

Such certificate shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is filed and recorded.

FREE CHURCHES AND CHAPELS.

§ 113. Corporations; how formed; certificate to be filed.—Any seven or more persons of full age, citizens of the United States, and a majority of them being residents of this state, who shall associate themselves for the purpose of founding and continuing one or more free churches, may make, sign, and acknowledge, before any officer authorized to take the acknowledgment of deeds of land to be recorded in this state, and may file in the office of the secretary of state, and also of the clerk of the county in which any such church is to be established, a certificate in writing, in which shall be stated the name or title by which such society shall be known in the law, the purpose of its organization, and the names of seven trustees, of whom not less than five shall be persons who are not ministers of the gospel or priests of any denomination, to manage the same; but such certificate shall not be filed unless with the written consent and approbation of a justice of the supreme court of the district in which any such church shall be intended to be established, or in the city of New York, of a judge of the superior court of the said city, to be endorsed on such certificate. (§ 1 of Act of April 13, 1854, Laws, chap. 218. "An Act for the Incorporation of Societies to establish Free Churches.")

§ 114. When corporation complete.—Upon the filing of such certificate, the persons named therein as trustees and their successors, being citizens of the United States, and residents of this State, shall be a body politic and corporate, with all the rights, powers, and duties, and subject to all the restrictions and obligations, and other provisions, so far as the same may be applicable, and consistent with this act, specified and contained in the act entitled, "An Act for the Incorporation of Benevolent, Charitable, Scientific, and Missionary Societies," passed April 12, 1848, and the act amending the same passed April 7, 1849, except that the limitation in the first of said acts of the value of the real estate that may be held by any society in the city or county of New York, incorporated under this act, shall not be applicable to any church edifice erected or owned by such society, or the lot of ground on which the same may be built, and except that the provision in the first of the said acts, in relation to the personal liability of the trustees, shall be applicable only to the trustees who shall have assented to the creation of any debt. (Id. § 2.)

§ 115. Supplying vacancies among trustees; lay trustees.—Any vacancies occurring in the said board of trustees shall be supplied by the remaining trustees, at any legal meeting of the members; but there shall always be at least five members of the board who are not ministers of the gospel or priests of any denomination. (Id. § 3.)

§ 116. Seats, etc., to be free; alienation of real estate.—The seats or pews in every church building, or edifice owned or occupied by any corporation organized under this act, shall be forever free for the occupation and use, during public worship, of all persons choosing to occupy the same, and conducting themselves with propriety; and no rent, charge or exaction, shall ever be made or demanded for such occupation or use; nor shall any real estate belonging to any such corporation, be sold or mortgaged by the trustees thereof, unless by the direction of the supreme court, to be given in the same manner, and in the like cases, as provided by law in relation to religious incorporations. (Id. § 4.)

§ 117. Injury to property in house of worship, felony.—A person who wilfully and without authority, breaks, defaces or otherwise injures any house of religious worship, or any part thereof, or any appurtenances thereto, or any book, furniture, ornament, musical instrument, article of silver or plated ware, or other chattel kept therein for use in connection with religious worship, is guilty of felony. (Pen. Code, § 650.)

DIOCESE OF ALBANY.

RULES OF ORDER.

1. After the administration of the Holy Communion, the President shall take the chair, and call the Convention to order.

2. If the President ex officio is not present at the opening of the Convention, the Secretary of the last Convention shall call the Convention to order, when the Presbyter, senior by ordination, present, shall take the chair; and in such case, immediately after the organization of the Convention, a President shall be elected from among the clergy.

3. When the President takes the chair, no member shall continue standing, or shall afterward stand, unless to address the Chair.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

FIRST DAY.

4. After the Convention is called to order, the roll of the clergy and of the parishes entitled to representation shall be called by the Secretary of the last Convention; the certificates of the lay deputies, as presented, being referred to a committee consisting of the Secretary and two members appointed by the President. If a quorum of twenty clergy and a representation of twenty parishes be present, the President shall declare the Convention duly organized.

5. The first business shall be the election of a Secretary, a Treasurer, and a Registrar. The Secretary may appoint one or more Assistant Secretaries, announcing their names to the Convention.

6. Notices, resolutions, motions and other miscellaneous business shall then be in order.

7. The following committees shall be appointed by the President:

- A. On the Admission of Parishes into Union with the Convention.
- B. On the Constitution and Canons.
- C. On the Treasurer's Accounts.
- D. On the Diocesan Fund and Mileage of the Clergy.
- E. On Diocesan Missions.
- F. On the Bishop's Salary and the Episcopal Fund.
- G. On the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen.
- H. On the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund.
- I. On the General Theological Seminary.
- J. On Theological Education.
- K. On unfinished business.
- L. On non-reporting Clergy and Parishes.

8. Business for these committees shall be received in the following order:

- A. Report of the Treasurer.
- B. Report of the Board of Diocesan Missions.
- C. Report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund and of the Bishop's Salary

- D. Report of the Trustees of the Fund for the Widows and Orphans of Deceased Clergymen, and the Treasurer of the same.
- E. Report of the Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund, and the Treasurer of the same.

These reports, and those mentioned in the next rule, shall be referred to the appropriate committees, and shall not be read until such committees be ready to report upon them.

- 9. A. Report of the Committee on Applications of Parishes for Admission.
- B. Report of the Secretary of the Convention.
- C. Report of the Standing Committee of the Diocese.
- D. Report of the Registrar of the Diocese.
- E. Report of the Secretary and Treasurer of the Bible and Prayer Book Society of Albany and its Vicinity.
- F. Reports from the Orphan House of the Holy Saviour, Cooperstown.
- G. Reports of Special Committees appointed at the last Convention.
- H. Miscellaneous business.

SECOND DAY.

10. On the second and each succeeding day of the session, after Daily Morning Prayer, the order of business, which shall not be departed from without the consent of two-thirds of the members present, or a special order of the day previously voted, shall be as follows:

- A. Reading, correcting and approving the minutes of the previous day.
- B. Calling the roll of members absent on the previous day.
- C. Reports from the Regular Committees of the House, in the order of their appointment.
- D. Reports from Special Committees, in the order of their appointment.
- E. Unfinished business.
- F. Miscellaneous business.

11. The Bishop's Address is in order at any time.

12. Five minutes before twelve o'clock noon on the second day all business shall be suspended, and prayer shall be offered for Missions and for Christian Unity.

13. The annual election shall be held at noon on the second day, and continued at the order of the House until completed.

14. All reports embodying long statements of accounts shall be accompanied with a brief abstract of them, and such abstracts only shall be printed in the Journal.

GENERAL.

15. When any member is about to speak, he shall rise from his seat, and shall, with due respect, address himself in an audible tone of voice to the President, confining himself strictly to the point in debate.

16. No member shall speak more than twice in the same debate without leave of the House; nor more than once, until every other member wishing to speak shall have spoken.

17. No motion shall be considered as before the House unless it be seconded, and reduced to writing when required, and announced by the Chair.

18. The mover may withdraw a motion or resolution at any time before amendment or decision, with the consent of the Convention; in which case it shall not be entered upon the minutes.

19. When a question is under consideration, it shall be in order to move to lay it upon the table, to postpone it indefinitely, to postpone it to a time certain, to commit it, to amend it, or to divide it; and motions for any of these purposes shall have precedence in the order here named.

20. If the question under debate contains several distinct propositions, the same shall be divided at the request of any member, and a vote taken separately; except that a motion to strike out and insert shall be indivisible.

21. All amendments shall be considered in the inverse order in which they are moved. When a proposed amendment is under consideration, a motion to amend the same may be made. No after amendment to such second amendment shall be in order; but a substitute for such second amendment, or a substitute for the whole matter, may be received. No proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be received under colour of a substitute.

22. A motion to lay upon the table shall be decided without debate.

23. A motion to adjourn shall always be in order when no member is speaking; and, if unqualified, shall be decided without debate. If negatived, it shall not be renewed until some other business has intervened.

24. When a question is put by the President, it shall be determined by the sound of voices, for or against it; but any three members may require a count of the votes, and tellers for that purpose shall then be appointed by the Chair; or any five votes may require that the decision be by yeas and nays and by orders, which shall be done by calling the roll of the clerical members and parishes represented, and the votes shall be entered on the Journal.

25. When the President is putting any question, the members shall continue in their seats, and shall not hold any private discourse.

26. Every member present shall vote when a question is put, unless excused by a vote of the House.

27. A motion once determined, whether in the affirmative or the negative, shall stand as the judgment of the Convention, and shall not again be considered during the same session, unless the motion to reconsider be made by one of the majority on the first decision, and be carried by a vote of two-thirds of the members present.

28. All questions of order shall be decided by the President, subject to an appeal to the House; and on such appeal no member shall speak more than once, without leave of the Convention.

29. All committees shall be appointed by the President, unless otherwise ordered by the Convention.

30. The reports of all committees shall be in writing; and unless recommitted, shall be received of course, without motion for acceptance. They shall be entered on the minutes, unless otherwise ordered. If recommending or requiring any action or expression of opinion by the Convention, they shall be accompanied by a resolution or resolutions for its consideration.

31. No rule of order shall be suspended, unless by a vote of two-thirds of the members present; nor shall any be changed or rescinded without one day's previous notice.

32. No member shall absent himself from the session of the Convention without leave of the President.

33. Before the final adjournment of the Convention, the minutes of the last day's proceedings shall be read, corrected and approved.

34. When the Convention is about to rise, every member shall keep his seat until the President leaves the chair.

STANDING ORDER.OF THE CONDUCT OF ELECTIONS.

WHEREAS, it is expedient to provide by a standing order, for the manner of conducting all elections by ballot in the Convention of the Diocese of Albany, it is hereby ordered as follows :

1. The President of the Convention shall appoint one clergyman and one layman to be tellers of the clerical vote, and one clergyman and one layman to be tellers of the lay vote, and as many clergymen and as many laymen as he shall deem necessary to assist the tellers of each vote. Vacancies, arising from temporary absence or otherwise, shall be supplied by the President.

2. When the election is to be held, the tellers for the clerical vote shall take their places, together, on one side of the house or place of meeting, and the tellers for the lay vote, together, upon the other side; and the Secretary shall supply them with the necessary boxes, and also with lists of the clergy entitled to seats in the Convention, and of the parishes entitled to representation, on which lists, as each vote is deposited, they shall make a mark against the name of the clergyman or parish voting; and these lists, signed by the tellers, shall be returned with their reports to the Convention. The names of the clergy and of the parishes shall be called by the Secretaries, and the votes shall be received by the tellers.

3. So soon as voting shall appear to have ceased, the President shall announce that the polls are about to be closed, and not less than five minutes after such announcement, he may direct the tellers to count the votes, for which purpose they shall have leave to retire. The tellers shall then proceed to count the votes, and shall make written reports, stating the whole number of votes cast, and the number cast for each person, except that when less than five votes are cast for any one person, it shall suffice to include all such votes under the head of scattering. These reports shall be signed by the tellers respectively, and shall be entered upon the Journal, and the President shall announce the result.

4. In case of any contest arising as to the right of any person to cast a vote, the tellers shall submit the question to the Convention, and such question shall be determined by the Convention, before the closing of the polls.

5. If in regard to any office there shall not be a majority of votes, either in the clerical or in the lay order, for any one person, or if there shall not be a concurrence of the two orders, the Convention shall forthwith proceed to another ballot, for such and so many offices as have not been filled at the first ballot; and such second and all other ballots shall be conducted in the same manner as above provided. In case there shall still remain any vacancy to be supplied after such second ballot, further ballots may be held at the order of the Convention.

6. Nominations for members of the Standing Committee and for Deputies and Provisional Deputies to the General Convention shall be made on the first day of the Convention at the call of the President, under the order of "Miscellaneous Business;" and it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Convention to prepare, for the use of the Convention on the second day, ballots containing the names of all persons so nominated for these several offices, with notes indicating the whole number to be chosen for each office respectively. But in case of vacancies occurring in said offices during the Convention, at any time after such nominations shall have so been made upon the first day of the Convention, nominations for persons to fill such vacancies, as also for all other offices to be filled at the Convention, shall be in order immediately before any ballot for such election shall be taken. No speech or debate shall be allowed upon any such nomination or while the Convention is holding an election nor shall any nomination be considered as before the house until it shall have been duly seconded.
